ment from an ancestor, the estate shall descend to the next collateral relations of the person last seized, who were of the blood of such ancestor. 5. On the failure of lineal descendants, and when the inheritance has not been so transmitted or devised, or when the blood of such ancestors is extinct, the estate passes to the next collateral relations of the person last seized. 6. Collateral relations of the half blood shall inherit equally with those of the whole blood. 7. A person dying, without issue, and leaving no brother or sister, or issue of such, the father, if living, shall inherit, and if not, the mother. 8. When a person shall die leaving no heirs, the widow shall be deemed his heir. 9. Illegitimate children shall inherit from their mother. 10. Illegitimate children may inherit from each other. When an illegitimate child shall die without issue, his mother shall inherit from him. 11. The personal estate of a deceased person, in case of intestacy, shall be distributed in the following manner: 1. If not more than two children, one-third to the widow and all the residue equally among the children and such persons as legally represent such persons who may be dead. 2. If there are more than two children, the widow and all the children share alike. 3. If there be no child nor legal representative of a deceased child, then one-half of the estate to the widow and the residue equally to the next of kin to the intestate, who are of equal degree, and those who represent them. 4. If there be no widow, then equally among the children and the legal representatives of the deceased children. 5. If there be neither widow nor children nor any legal representatives of the children, then the next kin of the intestate who are in equal degree and those who legally represent them. 6. If, in the lifetime of the father, any of his children shall die intestate without wife or children, then the father shall be entitled to all of the personal property of such deceased child, but, if after the death of the father and in the lifetime of the mother, any of his children shall die intestate, without wife or children, every brother or sister, and the representatives of them, shall have an equal share with the mother of the deceased child. 7. If there be no child nor legal representative of a deceased child nor any of the next kin of the intestate, then the widow, if there be one, shall be entitled to all of the personal estate of such intestate. 8. If any married woman die intestate leaving one child and a husband, her personal estate shall be equally divided between the child and the husband. If she leave more than one child and a husband, her personal estate shall be divided in equal portions and the husband shall receive a child's part: Provided, However, that this act shall not apply where the husband of the deceased woman is father of all the children, or their descendants of his deceased wife.

Detinue. (See Claim and Delivery.)

Dower. The wife is entitled to one-third in value of all the land of which her husband was seized during coverture, including the dwelling house in which her husnand usually resided, for her lifetime. Dower, and all other rights in a husband's estate, are forfeited by elopement with an adulterer, by abandonment without just cause, and by a divorce a vinculo, or divorce a mensa et thoro granted at the suit of the husband. A wife who murders her husband forfeits her right of dower. (See Administration of Estates.)

Executions. At any time within three years after docketing of judgment, or after the issue of the last execution, judgments may be enforced by execution without application to court, by the judgment creditor, or in case of his death by his personal representative duly appointed; after three years from the docketing or date of issue of last execution, only by leave of court, upon satisfactory proof that the judgment has not been paid. Executions issuing from the superior court may issue immediately after the term at which judgment was rendered and shall be returnable to the next term of the court beginning not less than forty days after the issuing thereof. Issuing from a justice's court they are returnable in sixty days.

Exemptions. Articles of personal property not to exceed the value of $500, and real estate not to exceed $1,000 in value, to be selected by the owner thereof, and to be valued by three sworn appraisers, provided he be a resident of the State. The homestead is not exempt from liability to be sold for contract made for the purchase of the same, nor for taxes. The widow and infant children are entitled to the homestead until the youngest child reaches the age of twenty-one years. The statute of limitations shall not run against any judgment owing by the owner of a homestead or homestead interest, during the existence of such homestead or homestead interest, whether the same has been or shall hereafter be allowed, assigned, or set apart under execution or otherwise. The allotted homestead shall be exempt from levy so long as owned and occupied by the homesteader or by any one for him, but when conveyed by him in the mode authorized by the constitution (article ten, section eight), the exemption thereof ceases as to liens attaching prior to the conveyance. The homestead right being indestructible, the homesteader who has conveyed his alloted homestead, can have another allotted, and as often as may be necessary: Provided, this act shall not have any retroactive effect. The law of partition has been changed so that lands held in common may be partitioned at the instance of a judgment creditor, in order that homestead may be allotted, and mineral interests and timber interests may be partitioned separate from the land interests.

Foreign Corporations. (See Corporations.)

Fraud. Alienations, which may be contrived for fraud, shall be deemed and taken to be utterly void and of no effect. Every conveyance, of any lands or goods, if the same be made with the actual intent in fact to defraud such person as hath purchased, or shall purchase, or to defraud such as shall purchase any rent or profit out of the same, shall be deemed utterly void.

Fraudulent Sales. The sale in bulk or a large part of the whole of a stock of merchandise, otherwise than in the ordinary course of trade and in regular and usual prosecution of the seller's business, shall be prima facie evidence of fraud, and void against the creditors of the seller, unless the seller, at least seven days before the same make an inventory showing the quantity and, so far as possible, the cost price to the seller of such articles included in the sale, and shall within said time notify the creditors of the proposed sale, and the price, terms and conditions thereof, provided, that if the owner or owners of said stock of goods shall at any time before the said sale execute a good and sufficent bond to a trustee therein named, in an amount equal to the actual cash value of said stock of goods, and conditional that the seller of said stock of goods will apply the proceeds of said sale, subject to the right of the owner or owners to retain therefrom the personal property exemption or exemptions as are allowed by law, so far as it will go in payment of debts actually owing by said owner or owners, then the provisions of this act shall not apply.

Fraudulent Trading. That if any person or persons shall transact business as a trader or merchant, with the addition of the words "factor," "agent," "and company" or "and Co." or shall conduct such business under any name of style other than his own, except in case of corporation, and fail to disclose the names of his principal or partner by a sign placed conspicicuously at the place wherein such business is conducted, or if any married woman shall conduct such business through her husband or any other agent, or if any husband or agent of any married woman shall conduct such business for her without displaying the Christian name of such married woman, and the fact that she is a feme convert, by a sign placed conspicuously at the place wherein such business is conducted, then all the property stock of goods and merchandise and choses in action purchased, used and contracted in the court of such business shall, as to creditors, be liable for the debts contracted in the course of such business by the person in charge of same. Any married woman conducting business as aforesaid without complying with the above shall for all purposes be deemed and treated to all debts contracted in the course of such business as a free-trader. No business can be legally conducted or transacted in this State by any person or persons under any assumed name, or under any designation, name or style other than the real name or names of the individual or individuals owning, conducting or transacting the same, unless such person or persons shall file in the office of the clerk of the superior court of the county or counties in which such business is conducted a certificate duly acknowledged setting forth the name under which such business is to be conducted or transacted, and the true and real name or names of the person or persons owning, conducting or carrying on the same, with the home and post office address or addresses of said person or persons; but the foregoing shall not apply to the selling of goods by sample or through traveling agents or salesmen, or by orders forwarded by purchasers through the mails. Failure to comply is a misdemeanor.

Frauds, Statute of. No action shall be brought whereby to charge an executor or administrator upon a special promise to answer damages out of his own estate or to charge any defendant upon a special promise to answer the debt, default,for miscarriage, of another person unless the agreement upon which such action shall be brought or some memorandum or note thereof shall be in writing and signed by the party charged therewith, or some other person thereunto by him lawfully authorized. All contracts for the sale of land, and all leases and contracts for leasing land for the purposes of digging gold or other minerals, or for mining generally, of whatever duration, and all other leases and contracts for leasing lands, exceeding in duration three years from the making thereof, shall be void unless put into writing and signed by the party to be charged therewith, or by some person by him lawfully authorized thereto. No acknowledgment or promise shall be received as evidence of a new or continuing contract, whereby to take the case out of the operation of the statute of limitations, unless the same be contained in some writing signed by the party to be charged thereby. But this shall not alter the effect of any payment of principal or interest.

Garnishee Process. Process may issue upon judgment and in attachment to hold, and where a third party may owe or have belonging to debtor.

Holidays. January 1, January 19, February 22, April 12, May 10, May 20, July 4, first Monday in September and a day appointed by the governor as a day of thanksgiving, Tuesday after first Monday of November when a general election is held, and December 25. And whenever any such holiday shall fall on Sunday, the Monday following shall be the public holiday. When the day of maturity of a note falls on Sunday or a holiday, the note is payable on the next succeeding business day. (See Bills of Exchange and Promissory Notes.)

Homestead. (See Exemptions.)

Husband and Wife. (See Married Women.)

Interest. The legal rate of interest is 6 per cent. Taking, receiving, or charging a greater rate, either before or after the interest may accrue, when knowingly done, shall cause a forfeiture of the entire interest. The person or corporation by whom it is paid may recover back twice the amount of interest paid in the nature of an action for debt, commenced within two years after payment. In any action brought to recover upon the note or other evidence of debt, the defendant may plead by way of counterclaim twice the amount of interest paid, and also the forfeiture of the entire interest. No person shall recover any costs who may endeavor to recover upon a usurious contract.

Judgments. Judgments of the superior court are liens upon the lands and interests of a debtor within the county from the date of docketing the same for the space of ten years. If three years shall elapse since the date of the last execution the judgment becomes dormant, and execution shall only be issued thereon by leave of the court upon motion, with personal notice to the adverse party, and after satisfactory proof that the judgment or some part thereof remains unsatisfied. Transcripts of judgments obtained from a justice of the peace may be docketed in the superior court, and from that time the judgment shall be a judgment of the superior court in all respects. All judgments rendered at a term of the superior court bear date as of the first day of the term, and there is no priority between them in the county of their rendition. A transcript of a docketed judgment properly certified by the clerk, may be filed in the clerk's office of any other county, when it becomes a lien upon the debtor's real estate in that county from the date of the docketing in such county. Judgments of the supreme court may be docketed in the superior court of any county of the State, and when so docketed their lien shall be the same as judgments of the superior court. Judgments of no court constitute a lien upon the personal property before levy.

Limitations. Within ten years: 1. An action upon a judgment or decree of any court of this State, or of the United States, or of any state or territory thereof, from the date of rendition of said judgment or decree. But no such action shall be brought more than once, nor have the effect to continue the lien of the original judgment. 2. An action upon a sealed instrument against the principal there to. Within seven years: 1. An action on a judgment rendered by a justice of the peace, from the date thereof. 2. By any creditor of a deceased person against his personal or real representative, within seven years net next after the qualification of the executor or administrator, and his making the advertisement required by law for creditors of the deceased to present their claims, where no personal service of such notice in writing is made upon the creditor, and the creditor, thus barred of a recovery against the representative of any principal debtor shall also be barred of a recovery against any surety of such debt. Within six years: 1. An action upon the official bond of any public officer. 2. An action against any executor, administrator, collector, or guardian on his official bond, within six years after the auditing of his final accounts, by the proper officer, and the filing of such audited accounts as required by law. Within three years: 1. An action upon a contract, obligation, or liability arising out of a contract, express or implied, except those mentioned in the preceding sections.

Married Women. A married woman may hold property, both real and personal, free from the debts, obligations, or engagements of her husband. A married woman is authorized to contract and deal so as to affect her real and personal property in the same manner and with the same effect as if she were unmarried, but no conveyance of her real estate shall be valid unless made with the written assent of her husband as provided by section six of article 10 of the Constitution, and her privy examination as to the execution of the same taken and certified as now required by law. The real or personal property of any female in this state, acquired either before or after marriage, shall remain the sole and separate property of such female, and may be devised or bequeathed, and, with the written consent of her husband, may be conveyed her as if she were unmarried. No man, by marriage, shall incur any liability for any debts owing or contracts made, or for wrong done, by his wife before the marriage. Married men whose wives are lunatics may sell their real estate. The deed made under it conveys merely the right of the husband, reserving to the insane wife her right of dower, but apparently not her homestead. Married women may confess judgment. The earnings of a married woman by virtue of any contract for her personal services, and any damages for personal injuries, or other tort sustained by her can be recovered by her suing alone, and such earnings or recovery shall be her sole and separate property as fully as if she had remained unmarried.

Mortgages. Mortgages and deeds of trust are required to be registered, and are only valid as against creditors or purchasers for a valuable consideration from the date of registration, but a mortgage is valid against the maker without registration. Mortgages of incorporate companies upon their property or earnings, whether in bonds or otherwise, hereafter issued, shall not have power to exempt the property or earnings of such corporations, from execution for the satisfaction of any judgment obtained in courts of the State against such corporation, for labor performed nor for costs committed by such corporation, its agents or employees, whereby any person is killed or any person or property injured. When there are two or more mortgagees or trustees the survivor is authorized to execute power of sale in the mortgage or deed of trust, and so is the executor or administrator of a deceased mortgage. When the mortgage or deed of trust contains a power of sale, it may be exercised after the death of the mortgagor. In case of sale of real estate in deed of trust or mortgage the premises must be described in the notice of sale subsequently as they are described in the deed of trust or mortgage, and the sale may be made through an agent or attorney for that purpose, appointed orally or in writing, whether the mortgagee or trustee be present or not. Deeds of trust, mortgages, and similar sales shall be regulated as to time of advertisement and costs of the same, by the same statute which regulates sales under execution.

Negotiable Instruments. (See Bills of Exchange.)

Partnership. A partnership doing business under an assumed name must file with the Clerk of the Superior Court the names of the partners.

Powers of Attorney. Powers of attorney authorizing the execution of deeds or other acts requiring a seal must be under a seal. It should be recorded along with the deed.

Stay of Execution. Judgment in a justice's court only may be stayed upon security given, if asked for at the trial, as follows: For any sum not exceeding twenty-five dollars, one month; for any sum above twenty-five and not exceeding fifty dollars, three months; for any sum over fifty dollars and not exceeding one hundred dollars, four months; for any sum above one hundred dollars, six months. No stay is allowed upon a suit upon a former judgment

Supplementary Proceedings. Upon an affidavit showing: 1. The return of the execution in whole or in part. 2. The want of known property liable to execution. 3. The existence of property belonging to the judgment debtor unaffected by any lien and incapable of levy. 4. The existence of property, choses in action, and things in value (belonging to the judgment debtor) unaffected by any lien, and incapable of levy, an order may be obtained for the examination of the judgment debtor concerning his property. Supplementary proceeding may likewise be instituted before the return of the execution upon an affidavit showing the foregoing facts, and also that the judgment debtor has property which he unjustly refuses to apply to the satisfaction of the judgment. Third parties may also be examined, if it appears by affidavit that they owe the defendant more than $10. Witnesses may be examined. Property discovered may be applied to the execution. A receiver may be appointed, and transfers by debtors enjoined.

Taxes. The lien of the State, county, and municipal taxes, levied for all purposes in each year attaches to all property subject to such taxes on the 1st day of June annually. All personal property subject to taxation shall be liable to be seized and sold for taxes. All taxes are due on the first Monday of September in each year. If the party charged has personal property of the value to the tax charged against him, the sheriff or tax collector shall seize and sell the same as he is required to sell other property under execution. If the party charged has not personal property to be found in the county, of sufficient value, the real estate of the delinquent shall be levied upon and sold.

Wills. No last will or testament shall be good or sufficient in law to convey or give an estate, real or personal, unless such last will shall have been written in the testator's lifetime, and signed by him, or by some other person in his presence and by his direction. All wills must be subscribed in his presence by two witnesses at least. No one of them shall be interested in the devise or bequest of the said estate, except as hereinafter provided. Or, unless, such last will and testament be found among the valuable papers and effects of any deceased person, or shall have been lodged in the hands of a person for safe keeping, and the same shall be in the handwriting of such deceased person, with his name subscribed thereto, or inserted in some part of such will; and if such handwriting shall be proved by three credible witnesses, who verily believe such will and every part thereof is in the handwriting of the person whose will it appears to be, then such will shall be sufficient to give and convey real and personal estate. No person shall be capable of disposing of real or personal estate by will, nor be allowed to qualify as executor of a will until he shall have attained the age of twenty-one years. A married woman owning real or personal property may dispose of the same by will.

THE LAWS OF NORTH DAKOTA

Revised by PIERCE, TENNESON AND CUPLER, Attorneys at Law, Fargo. (See Card in Attorneys' List.)

Acknowledgments of deeds or other instruments may be made at any place within this State before a justice or a clerk of the supreme court, or a notary public; and within district in this State for which an officer is appointed or elected before a judge or clerk of a court of record, a mayor of city, registrar of deeds, a justice of the peace, a U. S. circuit or district court commissioner, or a county auditor, and without the State, but within the United States and within the jurisdiction of the officer, before a justice, judge, or clerk of any court of record of the United States, or clerk of any court of record of any state or territory, a notary public, any other officer of the State or territory where made authorized by its laws to take acknowledgments, a commissioner appointed for the purpose by the governor of this State; without the United States, before a minister, commissioner, or charge d'affaires of the United States resident and accredited in the country where made, secretary of legation, a consul, vice-consul, or consular agent of the United States resident where made, a judge, clerk registrar or commissioner of a court of record of the country where made, or a notary public of such country, or an officer authorized by laws where proof or acknowledgment is taken, to take such; any deputy of these officers in name of principal as deputy, or by such deputy as deputy. Certificate must be authenticated by name and official designation and seal of officer. The form is statutory, and is substantially as follows:

Actions. Actions in courts of record are commenced by service of summons on the defendant, requiring him to answer within thirty days, and if no appearance is made within that time, the plaintiff may take judgment by default upon the expiration of the thirty days. When property of defendant is attached, and in actions affecting real property, and for divorced, summons may be served by publication when defendant is a non-resident or cannot be found. Personal service outside the State is equivalent to service by publication and service is complete at the expiration of fifteen days after such personal service. Judgment by default may be taken at the expiration of sixty-six days after the first publications of summons, forty-five days after personal service outside the State, and thirty days after personal service in the State.

Administration of Decedent's Estate. Administration is granted: 1, to surviving husband or wife or some competent person whom he or she may request to have appointed; 2, his heirs; 3, his creditors; 4, any person legally competent, for lack of any other classes. An executor or administrator must be over twenty-one years of age. An administrator cannot be a surviving partner. A married woman cannot be appointed administratrix. Bond must be given in such sum as the court requires. Debts are paid as follows: 1, expenses of administration; 2, last sickness and funeral; 3, allowance of family in excess of exempt property; 4, debts having preference under the laws of the United States; 5, debts which are liens upon specific property, in the order of their priority, to the extent of the property subject to the lien; 6, all other demands, which includes deficiency on secured debts not paid by sale of the property held as security. Notice must be given of the time of presenting claims, which must be presented within six months after notice if the estate exceeds $5,000, and four months when it does not. Exempt property is set apart to the family.

Affidavits. An affidavit may be made before any person authorized to administer an oath.

Aliens may acquire, hold, and transfer real estate same as citizens.

Arbitration. Parties may submit controversies to arbitration under statutory provision.

Arrest. No person can be imprisoned for debt unless upon refusal to deliver up his estate for the benefit of his creditors in such manner as shall be provided by law, or in cases of tort, or where there is a strong presumption of fraud. No female can be arrested except for injury to person, property, or character. An order of arrest may be granted by the order of the court in which the action is brought, when it appears by affidavit that the case is one of those in which arrest is provided for.

Attachment. In actions for recovery of money only, and for the wrongful conversion of personal property, and for damages arising out of contract, or otherwise, attachment may issue against the property of the defendant, in cases provided by law. An action may be commenced before the claim is due, and property of the defendant attached when he has assigned or disposed of his property with intent to defraud his creditors, or is about to do so. In an action to recover purchase money for personal property sold to the defendant an attachment may be issued and levied upon such property. (See Garnishment.)

Banks. Associations for carrying on the business of banking may be formed by any number of natural persons not less than three, two-thirds of whom shall be residents of the State.

The persons uniting to form such an organization shall, under their hands, make an organization certificate, specifying:

1. The name assumed by such association, which shall not be that of any other bank in the State.
2. The place where the business of discount and deposit is to be carried on.
3. The amount of capital stock and the amount into which its shares are to be divided.
4. The names and places of residence of the shareholders and the number of shares held by each of them.
5. The period at which such bank shall commence and terminate business.

The organization certificate must be acknowledged and recorded in the office of the register of deeds in the county where such bank may be established, and transmitted to the secretary of state, who must record and preserve the same.

Upon making and filing said articles and certificate the association shall become a body corporate and have power:

1. To adopt and have a corporate seal.
2. To have succession for a period of twenty-five years.
3. To make contracts.
4. To sue and be sued, complain and defend in any court of law or equity.
5. To elect or appoint directors, two-thirds of whom shall be residents of this State. By its board of directors to appoint a president and vice-president, members of said board, a cashier and other assistants, and define their duties.
6. To prescribe, by its board of directors, by-laws, and regulate its business.
7. To exercise, by its board of directors, all powers necessary to carry on its business of banking.
8. It cannot carry among assets at any one time loans wholly upon real estate security (and then only on first mortgage) exceeding 25 per cent of its total loans and discounts and must not guaranty payment or collection thereof.

Such banking association shall have power to purchase, hold, and convey real estate only for the following purposes:

1. Such as may be necessary for its immediate accommodation, not exceeding 30 per cent of its capital.
2. Such as shall be mortgaged to it as security for debts previously contracted, or as security for loans made.
3. Such as shall be conveyed to it in satisfaction of debts previously contracted.
4. Such as shall be purchased by it at sales under judgments, decrees, or mortgages held by it or to secure debts held by it, but such real estate shall not be held longer than five years.

Capital Limit. The minimum of capital required depends on the population of the town in which the bank is situated, and cannot be less in any case than $10,000. Fifty per cent must be paid in before commencing business; the balance in monthly installments of 10 per cent each. The organization certificate and authorization of the secretary of state must be published.

Shares may be sold for non-payment of installments.

Shares shall be $100 each, shall be deemed personal property, and may be transferable on the books as prescribed by the by-laws, and transfer is only valid between parties when not transferred on books.

No transfer of stock is valid against the bank or any creditor thereof as long as registered holder is liable for any past due indebtedness, and no dividends can be paid on such stock as long as such liability continues. Every transferee of stock becomes, in proportion to his shares, responsible for liabilities of prior holders thereof.

The articles of association may provide for increase of capital. No increase shall be valid until all is paid in cash and certified under oath to secretary of state, and until approved by the State banking board.

Dividends may be declared semi-annually, but one-tenth of net profits must be carried to the surplus fund until same amounts to 20 per cent of capital.

Qualifications of Directors. Every director must own at least ten shares, unpledged and in his own right, must be sworn, and oath filed with public examiner.

Reports. At least five reports shall be made each year to the public examiner and published, and the examiner is empowered to call for special reports at any time. Penalty of $200 for not making same.

Reserve Fund. Association shall at all times have on hand in available funds an amount equal to 20 per cent of its deposits. Whenever such funds get below 20 per cent of deposits, liabilities must not be increased. Examiner may require reserve fund to be made good, and failure so to do for thirty days subjects to a penalty of not less than $100 nor over $500, to be imposed by public examiner.

Responsibility of Shareholders. Each shareholder shall be individually responsible, equally and ratably, for all contracts and debts to the extent of his stock and unpaid installments, in addition to the amount invested in such shares. Such liability continues one year after any transfer.

Security. No loans shall be made on security of shares of its own stock. Association cannot purchase or hold such stock except to prevent loss, and shall not have or carry among its assets loans dependent wholly upon real estate security.

Total Loan to One Concern. Not to exceed 15 per cent of capital paid in may be loaned to any one borrower, including the individual members of a company or firm. The limit of bank loans to one concern not to exceed 15 per cent of the capital or the surplus stock actually paid in may be loaned to any one borrower, including the individual members of a bank or firm; but the discount of bills of exchange drawn in good faith against actual existing value or loans upon produce in transit or actually in stock as collateral security is allowed above 15 per cent.

No banking business can be done otherwise than under this law.

Violations of the provisions of the act, and false entries and the receipt of deposits when insolvent, are punished by fine and imprisonment.

Public examiner is ex-officio superintendent of banks.

Insolvency. The State banking board, in case of violation of law or by insolvency of any banking association, takes charge of insolvent bank and appoints a temporary receiver, pending action of the courts.

Other Business. No bank shall as principal employ any of its assets in trade or commerce, or invest them in stock, corporation, bank partnership or firm, nor in speculative margins or other commodities.

Banking Board. The governor, secretary of state, and attorney-general constitute the State banking board, and have charge and control of all state banking organizations and make rules for their government, examine all reports and approve or disapprove the same.

The law gives Banking Board power to refuse a charter.

The law known as the negotiable instrument act, recently enacted in several states is now in full force here.

Chattel Mortgages. A mortgage of personal property must be signed by the mortgagor in the presence of two witnesses who must sign the same as witnesses thereto, or acknowledge the execution of the same before some official qualified to take acknowledgments. And every mortgagee must surrender to the mortgagor at the time of the execution of the mortgage a correct copy of the original mortgage so signed, with witnesses or acknowledgement shown thereon. And the mortgagor must surrender to the mortgagee a receipt which shall be attached to the original mortgage showing that the mortgagee has surrendered to him a copy of such mortgage, and said receipt must accompany the mortgage when presented to the register or deeds and filed therewith.

Collaterals. Collateral note may provide for a sale of securities pledged, in which case the sale may be made on 10 days notice without court proceedings, but the pledgee cannot legally purchase at the sale unless authorized by the collateral note.

Contracts. The civil code contains a codification of the law on the subject of contracts, not materially different from the rules of the common law. Contracts for sale of real property must be in writing, signed by vendor or by his agent thereunto authorized in writing.

Conveyances. Conveyances of real estate or mortgages thereof, must be by an instrument in writing, subscribed by the party disposing of the same, or by his agent having written authority. To entitle such conveyance to be recorded, it must be acknowledged as provided by law. (See Acknowledgments.) Witnesses or seals are not required. Instrument must be recorded to make it valid as against subsequent purchasers or incumbrancers in good faith for value where conveyances are first duly recorded, and as against judgments and attachments. Husband need not sign conveyance of wife's property, nor wife that of husband's, unless it is a homestead.

Corporations. Corporations may be formed for any purpose for which persons may lawfully associate, and, except railroads and insurance companies, may be formed by the association of three persons, and the proper filing of articles of incorporation. Transfers of stock must be made upon the books of a corporation, and are only valid as between the parties unless so made. A creditor of a corporation having secured judgment, issued execution against the corporation thereon, may, when the same is returned unsatisfied, have a receiver appointed for the property of the corporation, and the district court is then empowered to distribute the property of the corporation among its creditors, and a settlement of the judgment, which is the basis of the proceedings, does not prevent the continuance of the action, which may be continued by any creditor. Corporations may also be dissolved by action on the part of the State, or in case the attorney-general fails to commence action after proper application, by action on the part of the creditor or stockholder. Domestic corporations must file a report during the month of July in each year with the secretary of state, and failure to do so forfeits the charter. Foreign corporations are prohibited from transacting any business in this State, acquiring, holding, or disposing of any property, real or personal, until they have filed in the office of the secretary of State a copy of their articles of incorporation, together with a power of attorney, appointing the secretary of state and his successors their attorney, on whom process may be served. Insurance corporations must file such power of attorney and articles in the office of the insurance commissioner. All contracts made by a corporation or its agent, while it is in default in the filing of such papers, are wholly void as to the corporation, but may be enforced against it, and the directors and stockholders are personally liable on such contracts. These provisions do not apply to corporations created for religious or charitable purposes only, nor to the holding and disposing of real estate acquired only by foreclosure or otherwise, in liquidation of mortgages or other securities. Insurance companies must have $100,000 capital paid in cash. Conveyances or other instruments affecting real estate may be executed by any officer authorized by the by-laws of the corporation, and in the absence of such by-laws, the president or secretary of such corporation, or the president, secretary, or cashier of any banking house, or trust company, may acknowledge and execute such instrument, who must sign the corporate name by himself as such officer, and it must be attested by the seal and signature of the secretary.

Costs. Costs are allowed to the prevailing party in suits.

Courts. There are twelve judicial districts. The district courts have exclusive jurisdiction in equity and at common law above $200 and where the title or boundary of real property is in question, except in a few counties where county courts have concurrent jurisdiction with district courts in civil actions where amount in controversy does not exceed $1,000. Two terms of district court are held each year in all organized counties and oftener in a few counties. Each organized county has a county court, and the county courts have exclusive probate jurisdiction. In some counties, the county courts have jurisdiction of actions at law, where claim does not exceed $1,000. Justices' jurisdiction is $200.

Creditors' Bills. Creditors' bills are permissible.

Days of Grace are not allowed.

Deeds. Deeds must be subscribed by the grantor or by his agent thereunto authorized in writing. To entitle them to record they must be acknowledged. No seal or witnesses are necessary. Can be recorded on proof by witness if not acknowledged; one member of partnership may execute.

Depositions. Depositions may be taken upon commission issued by a court of record, or upon notice, which latter is the usual method. The deposition must be written by the officer or in his presence by the witness, or some disinterested person, and must be subscribed by the witness. The officer taking the deposition must annex thereto his certificate showing: 1. That the witness was sworn to testify the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth. 2. That the deposition was reduced to writing by some proper person, naming him. 3. That the deposition was written and subscribed in the presence of the officer certifying thereto. 4. That the deposition was taken at the time and place specified in the notice. The deposition so taken must be sealed, endorsed with the title of the cause, with the name of the officer taking the same, and by him addressed and transmitted to the clerk of the district court where action or proceeding is pending. When taken outside the State on notice they can be taken by a judge, justice or chancelor or clerk of any court of record, a justice of the peace, notary or mayor, or a commissioner of the State.

Descent and Distribution of Property. 1. If a decedent leave a surviving husband or wife, and only one child, or the lawful issue of one child, in equal shares to the surviving husband or wife and child, or issue of such child. If the decedent leave a surviving husband or wife, and more than one child living, or one child living, and the lawful issue of one or more deceased children, one-third to the surviving husband or wife, and the remainder in equal shares to his children, and to the lawful issue of any deceased child, by right of representation; but if there be no child of the decedent living at his death, the remainder goes to all of his lineal descendants; and if all the descendants are in the same degree of kindred to the decedent, they share equally, otherwise they take according to the right of representation. If the decedent leave no surviving husband or wife, but leaves issue, the whole estate goes to such issue, and if such issue consists of more than one child living, or one child living and the lawful issue of one or more deceased children, then the estate goes in equal shares to the children living, or to the children living and the issue of the deceased child or children by right of representation. 2. If the decedent leave no issue, and the estate does not exceed in value the sum of $15,000, ll the estate goes to the surviving husband or wife, and all the property in excess of $15,000 in value, one-half thereof goes to the surviving husband or wife, and the other one-half goes to decedent's father and mother in equal shares and if either be dead, to the survivor, and if both father and mother are dead and the decedent leaves no issue, and estate does not exceed $25,000, the whole thereof goes to the surviving husband or wife and the excess is divided one-half to the surviving husband or wife and one-half in equal shares to the brothers and sisters of decedent and to the children of any deceased brother or sister by right of representation. If the decedent leave no issue, nor husband, nor wife, the estate must go to the father and mother in equal shares and if either is dead, to the survivor. If the decedent leave a surviving husband or wife, and no issue, and no father nor mother, nor brother, nor sister, nor children of a deceased brother or sister, the whole estate goes to the surviving husband or wife. 3. If there be no issue, nor husband, nor wife, nor father, nor mother, then in equal shares to the brothers and sisters of the decedent, and to the children of any deceased brother or sister by right of representation. 4. If the decedent leave no issue, nor husband, nor wife, nor father, and no brother or sister is living at the time of his death, the estate goes to his mother to the exclusion of the issue, if any, of deceased brothers or sisters. 5. If the decedent leave no issue, nor husband, nor wife, and no father, nor mother, nor brother, nor sister, the estate must go to the next of kin, in equal degree, excepting that when there are two or more collateral kindred, in equal degree, but claiming through different ancestors those who claim through nearest ancestors must be preferred to those claiming through an ancestor more remote. However, if the decedent leave several children, or one child and the issue of one or more children, and any such surviving child dies under age, and not having been married, all the estate that came to the deceased child by inheritance from such decedent, descends in equal shares to the other children of the same parent, and to the issue of any such other children who are dead, by right of representation. 6. If, at the death of such child, who dies under age, not having been married, all the other children of the parents are also dead, and any of them have left issue, the estate that came to such child by inheritance from his parents descends to the issue of all other children of the same parent; and if all issue are in the same degree of kindred to the child, they share the estate equally, otherwise they take according to the right of representation. 7. If the decedent leaves no husband, wife, or kindred, the estate escheats to the State for the support of the common schools. 8. If deceased be infant, and leaves no heirs, whole estate goes to foster parent who supports infant.

Dower. Dower is abolished. Surviving spouse has homestead rights to extent of $5,000 in value.

Evidence. Evidence may be given in court orally or by deposition taken in accordance with law. (See Depositions.)

Executions. Judgment creditor may take out execution at any time within ten years after entry of judgment. Real property sold on execution may be redeemed within one year.

Exemptions. Absolute exemptions are family pictures, pew in house of worship, a lot or lots in burial ground, family bible and school books used by the family and other books used as a part of the family library, and not exceeding $100 in value, all wearing apparel and clothing of debtor and his family, one year's necessary supply of provisions for debtor and family, provided or growing, or both, and one year's fuel, and the homestead, not exceeding $5,000 in value, except against mechanics' or laborers' liens thereon, debts secured by mortgage thereon, debts for purchase money thereof, and taxes thereon. Husband and wife must join in conveyance of homestead of either. In addition to said absolute exemptions, if a head of a family may select from all other of his personal property, goods, chattels, merchandise, money or other personal property up to $500. No personal property, except absolute exemptions, is exempt from execution for laborers or mechanics' wages, or physician's, nurse's, or hospital bills, or bills for wearing apparel, groceries and provisions, or for property obtained under false pretenses. No property is exempt from execution for the purchase money thereof.

Fraud. Contracts exempting from responsibility for fraud are declared by statute to be void.

Foreign Corporations. No foreign corporation except an insurance company can transact any business within this State, or acquire, hold, or dispose of property, real or personal, within the State until it shall have filed in the office of the secretary of State a duly authenticated copy of its charter or articles of incorporation, and shall have appointed the secretary of State and his successors its true and lawful attorney upon whom all process in any action or proceedings against it may be served, and therein agrees that any process that may be served upon said attorney shall be of the same force and validity as if served upon it personally in this State, and that such appointment shall continue in force irrevocable so long as any liability remains outstanding in this State. The secretary of State is required to mail forthwith copy of process served to such corporation at its principle place of business, or if it is a corporation of a foreign country, to its resident manager in the United States, or to such other person as may have been previously designated by written notice filed in the office of the secretary of State. Failing to comply with these provisions renders every officer, agent or stockholder of such corporation jointly and severally liable on any and all contracts of such corporations made within this State during the time it is in default, and every such contract made without complying with these provisions, is wholly void on behalf of such corporations and its assigns but may be enforced against it. They must file with the secretary of state between July 1st and August 1st of each year, a report showing the location of the principal office in this city, names of officers with their residence and post office address, date, expiration of their terms of office, whether or not they are pursuing active business under charter and kind of business engaged in, and must show paid up capital stock of at least $100,000 in available cash assets over and above all liabilities for losses reported, expenses, taxes and re-insurance of all outstanding risks.

Garnishment. A creditor may proceed by garnishment. No judgment can be rendered against a garnishee on: 1. Upon a negotiable note, bill, draft, note or other security. 2. By reason of money collected by him as sheriff or other officer. 3. By reason of money in his hands as a public officer, for which he must account to the defendant as a public officer. 4. By reason of money, or other thing, owing from him to the defendant which shall not have become absolutely due, but judgment may be rendered for any money or other thing owing to the defendant after it shall have become due absolutely. Public corporations may be made defendants when owing or holding property belonging to the debtor.

Holidays. Holidays are every Sunday, January 1st, February 12th, February 22d, May 30th, July 4th, December 25th, the first Monday in September, every day on which an election is held throughout the State, and every day appointed by the president of the United States, or by the governor of the State, for a public fast, thanksgiving, or holiday. If January 1st, February 22d, July 4th, or December 25th, falls upon Sunday, the Monday following is a holiday. All other days are business days, and any act of a secular nature appointed by law or contract to be performed upon a particular day, which day falls upon a holiday, may be performed upon the next business day, with the same force and effect as if it had been performed upon the day appointed.

Interest. Usury. The legal rate of interest is 7 per cent per annum unless a different rate, not exceeding 12 per cent, is contracted for in writing, and contracts shall bear the same rate after as before due, unless otherwise expressed. It is usury to take more than 12 per cent per annum. A contract for usury forfeits all interest. If usury has been paid, twice the amount of interest and usury may be recovered back by action commenced within two years.

Judgments of courts of record are a lien on all real estate of the judgment debtor, except the homestead, for ten years from time such judgment is docketed in the clerk's office of the county where the land is situated, and may be renewed by affidavit within ninety days before expiration of the ten years.

Jurisdiction. Courts of the State consist of the supreme court, district courts, county courts, courts of justices of the peace, and such other courts as may be created by law for cities, incorporated towns and villages. Supreme, district, and county courts are courts of record. The supreme court has appellate jurisdiction only, except that it may exercise original jurisdiction to issue writs of habeas corpus, mandamus, quo warranto, certiorari, and such original and remedial writs as are necessary to the proper exercise of its jurisdiction. But it issues writs of habeas corpus only in case of strictly public concern involving questions affecting sovereign rights of the State, or its franchises or privileges. District courts have general jurisdiction. County courts have original jurisdiction in all probate matters, and in certain counties have concurrent jurisdiction—in civil actions where amount in controversy does not exceed $1,000, and in criminal actions below felony. Courts of justice of the peace have concurrent jurisdiction with the district court in civil actions when amount in controversy does not exceed $200, but have no jurisdiction in cases when the boundaries of, or title to real estate comes in question.

Liens. Mechanics, laborers, and furnishers of material, machinery, or fixtures for improvement of real estate, have a lien therefor and must file a verified account of the claim, within ninety days from the date of the last item, in the office of the clerk of the district court. Owner must sign written consent that lien may be filed if account not paid, and this consent and a notice of intention to claim a lien must be filed in the clerk's office by the contractor or material-man; if not filed, deeds and mortgages first recorded will be prior to the lien.

Limitations. An action by the State of North Dakota respecting real property must be commenced within forty years. An action for the recovery of real property or the possession thereof must be commenced within twenty years. Actions other than for the recovery of real property can only be commenced within the following periods after the cause of action shall have accrued: 1. Within ten years: an action upon a judgment or decree of any court in the United States, or of any state or territory within the United States, or on contract contained in conveyance or mortgage of real property. 2. Within six years: (a) actions upon a contract, obligation or liability, express or implied; (b) action upon a liability created by statute; (c) action for trespass upon real property; (d) action for taking, detaining or injuring any goods or chatteis; (e) action for criminal conversion; (f) action for relief on ground of fraud; (g) action for foreclosure of mechanic's lien. 3. Within three years: an action against an officer for breach of official duty; an action for a penalty (three years;) action for death by injury; (two years.) 4. Within one year; all actions against a sheriff or other officer for the escape of a prisoner arrested or imprisoned on civil process. 5. All other actions for relief in ten years. No acknowledgment or promise is sufficient evidence of a new or continued contract whereby to take the case out of the operation of the statute of limitation, unless the same be in writing, signed by the party to be charged thereby; but this does not alter the effect any of payment of principal or interest.

Married Women retain their own real and personal property, and may make contracts, sue and be sued as if sole. Neither husband nor wife has an interest in the property of the other except under the statute relating to the homestead; but neither can be excluded from the other's dwelling. They may enter into any engagement or transaction with each other, subject to the general rules which control the actions of persons occupying confidential relations with each other. Dower and curtesy are abolished. Neither husband nor wife, as such, is answerable for the acts of the other. The earnings of the wife are not liable for the debts of the husband. The separate property of the husband is not liable for wife's debts contracted before marriage; nor separate property of wife for husband's debts, but is liable for her own debts contracted before or after marriage. Husband and wife are both liable for necessities while living together. Women may be notaries public.

Mortgages of real property must be in writing, and executed as required in case of a grant of real property. Neither husband nor wife need join the other in mortgage except of homestead. If containing power of sale, mortgage of real property may be foreclosed by advertisement. If no power of sale in the mortgage, it must be foreclosed by action. Mortgagor may redeem from foreclosure sale within one year on payment of the sum for which the property is sold, with 12 per cent interest thereon from date of sale, and also all taxes paid by the purchaser and interest thereon at 12 per cent. Possession of real property sold upon foreclosure not delivered to purchaser until end of year of redemption, but purchaser may collect rents from tenant in possession during year of redemption. (See Chattel Mortgages.) Real estate mortgage cannot be foreclosed by agent or attorney, without power of attorney authorizing foreclosure. Agents and attorneys must have power of attorney to foreclose, which power must be filed with register of deeds and pleaded when foreclosure is by action and before statutory attorney's fees are allowed attorney must file with register of deeds before sale, his affidavit that all said fees go solely to him, etc., and that he is a bona fide resident of North Dakota. (See also Chattel Mortgages.)

Negotiable Instruments. The law known as the negotiable instrument law, adopted in several States, is in effect.

Notes and Negotiable Instruments. Law of notes and negotiable instruments is substantially what is called the negotiable instrument law adopted by many States. Notes taken for patent rights, stallions, jackasses, lightning rods, patent medicines, or for cure of diseases must have written in red ink or stamped across face, "given for a lightning rod" or "given for a stallion," or other purposes as the case may be, and are non-negotiable.

Powers of Attorney. Powers of attorney to convey real estate must be acknowledged and recorded, and can only be revoked by an instrument in writing acknowledged and recorded in the same office in which the power of attorney is recorded.

Probate Law. (See Administration of Estates, Descent and Distribution of Property.) The county court has exclusive original jurisdiction of all probate matters. A special administrator may be appointed to preserve and collect the property of the estate when there is delay in the appointment of an executor or administrator. Claims must be presented within the time fixed by law, which is six months after notice if the estate exceeds $5,000, and four months if it does not, and all claims not properly presented and filed in the county court for adjustment are barred, but the court may, for good cause shown, allow a claim to be filed after the expiration of the time stated in the notice. The provision barring claims does not prevent the foreclosure of a mortgage or other lien on specific property by civil action, and does not prevent the foreclosure of the real estate mortgage by advertisement prior to the time the county court obtains jurisdiction of the estate of the mortgagor. If a claim is rejected, the claimant may bring suit in proper court according to amount within four months after date of rejection if then due or within three months after it becomes due, otherwise it is barred forever. No claim barred by the statute of limitation can be allowed. An executor or administrator, unless otherwise provided in the will, must give bond. Real and personal property is equally liable for the payment of the debts. The executor or administrator must take into his possession all the property of the decedent, real and personal, except the homestead and personal property not assets. Time for probating will, within six years after testator's death, or if not made known within that time, within one year after its discovery.

Protest. Notice of dishonor of a foreign bill of exchange can be given only by notice of protest. An inland bill of exchange is one drawn and payable within this State; all others are foreign. Notice of protest must be made by an instrument in writing, giving a literal copy of the bill of exchange with all that is written thereon, or annexing the original, stating the presentment and the manner in which it was made, the presence or absence of the drawee or acceptor, as the case may be; the refusal to accept or to pay, or the inability of the drawee to give a binding acceptance; and in case of refusal, the reason assigned, if any, and finally protesting against all parties to be charged. Protest must be made by a notary public, if with reasonable diligence one can be obtained, and if not, then by any reputable person in the presence of two witnesses. A protest for non-acceptance must be made in the city or town in which the bill is presented for acceptance, and a protest for non-payment in the city or town in which it is presented for payment. A protest must be noted on the day of the presentment, or on the next business day, but it may be written out at any time thereafter. Notice of protest must be made and given by the notary who makes the protest. If a foreign bill of exchange on its face waives protest, notice of dishonor may be given to any party thereto, except that if any indorser of such a bill expressly requires protest to be made, by a direction written on the bill at or before the indorsement, protest must be made, and notice thereof given to him and all subsequent indorsers. An irregular indorser is not considered joint maker and must be given notice of protest to be held.

Redemption. The period of redemption from mortgage foreclosure and judgment sales of real estate is one year, and from foreclosure of chattel mortgages five days, if notice of intention is given at the sale.

Replevin. Personal property may be replevied at the time the summons is issued, or at any time before answer. An undertaking approved by the sheriff must be given in double the value of the property.

Revision. The latest revision of the laws of the State is contained in the compiled Laws of 1913.

Service. (See Actions.)

Suits. (See Actions.)

Taxes become due and payable on the first day of December in each year. All unpaid taxes on real property become delinquent March 1st of each year. Unpaid taxes on personal property become due December 1st of each year and delinquent on the first day of March following. Personal property taxes draw interest at the rate of 1 per cent per month after they become delinquent. A penalty of 5 per cent attaches to personal property taxes as soon as they become delinquent. A penalty of 3 per cent is added to taxes on real property when they become delinquent, and also if unpaid an additional penalty of 3 per cent on the first day of April following, an additional penalty of 3 per cent on the first day of June following, and a further penalty of 5 per cent on the first day of November following. The county treasurer sells lands for unpaid taxes on the first Tuesday in December in each year. Lands sold for taxes may be redeemed within three years or at any time before execution of the deed of conveyance, by paying the amount mentioned in the certificate of sale, and interests thereon at the rate bid by purchaser at sale, together with a penalty of 5 per cent and all other taxes paid subsequent to said sale, and interest thereon at the rate of 2 per cent per month. Taxes and special assessments become a lien as between grantor and grantee on the first day of December in the year levied. No deed of land can be recorded without county auditor's certificate thereon that all taxes are paid.

Testimony. (See Evidence.)

Transfer of Corporate Stocks. (See Corporations.)

Transfers of Capital Stock. Certificates of stock may be transferred by indorsement, by the signature of the holder or his attorney or legal representative, and delivery of the certificate, but is not valid except between the parties thereto until entered upon the books of the corporation.

Trust Companies. (See Guaranty Companies.)

Wills. Every person over the age of eighteen years, of sound mind, may, by last will, dispose of all his estate, real and personal. An holographic will is one entirely written, dated, and signed by the hand of the testator himself. It is subject to no other form, and may be made in or out of this State, and need not be witnessed. Every will, other than a nuncupative will, must be in writing. The words "writing" and "written" include "printing" and "printed," except in case of signatures, and where the words are used by way of contrast to printing. Writing may be made in any manner, except that when a person entitled to require the execution of a writing demands that it be made with ink, it must be so made. This applies to all instruments and papers. Every will, other than an holographic will and nuncupative will, must be executed and attested as follows: It must be subscribed at the end thereof by the testator himself, or some person in his presence, and by his direction must subscribe his name thereto; the subscription must be made in the presence of the attesting witnesses, or be acknowledged by the testator to them to have been made by him or by his authority. The testator must, at the time of subscribing or acknowledging the same, declare to the attesting witnesses that the instrument is his will; and there must be two attesting witnesses, each of whom must sign his name as a witness at the end of the will, at the testator's request and in his presence. A witness to a written will must write, with his name, the place of residence; and a person who subscribes the testator's name, by his direction, must write his own name as a witness to the will. But a violation of this section does not affect the validity of the will. A will of real or personal property, or both, or a revocation thereof, made out of this State by a person not having his domicile in this State, is as valid, when executed according to the law of the place in which the same was made, or in which the testator was at the time domiciled, as if it were made in this State and according to the provisions of the laws of this State. No provisions made for proof of wills made out of the State different from those made within. A married woman may dispose of all her separate estate by will, without the consent of her husband, and may alter or revoke the will in like manner as if she were single. Her will must be executed and proved in like manner as other wills. A will executed by an unmarried woman is revoked by her subsequent marriage, and is not revived by the death of her husband. A foreign will may be admitted to probate, upon the production of a copy of the same, and the probate thereof duly authenticated with a petition for letters, by the executor, or any other person interested in the will, to the county judge, and the same proceedings must be had for the settlement of the estate as in the probate of a domestic will.

THE LAWS OF OHIO

Revised by Messrs. Stearns, Chamberlain & Royon, Counselors at Law, Cleveland. (See Card in Attorneys' List.)

Acknowledgments. A deed, mortgage, a power of attorney for conveyance or mortgage, or lease for more than three years, of any estate or interest in real property, shall be signed by the grantor, mortgagor, or lessor, and such signing shall be acknowledged by the grantor, mortgagor, or lessor, in the presence of two witnesses, who shall attest the signing and subscribe their names to the attestation and such signing shall also be acknowledged by the grantor, mortgagor, or lessor before a judge of a court of record in this State, or clerk thereof, a county auditor, county surveyor, notary public, mayor, or justice of the peace. No separate examination of wife required. When the officer has a seal, same must be affixed. A notary public is required to have a seal. The acknowledgment must be written or printed on the instrument to be acknowledged, and not on a separate piece of paper, pasted on or attached to it. When executed, acknowledged, and proved out of this State, in accordance with the laws of the place where executed, as valid as if executed in this State.

Actions. There is but one form of action, known as a civil action. An action must be prosecuted in the name of the real party in interest except one acting in the position of a trustee or a person in whose name a contract is made for the benefit of another, may sue in his own name. If plaintiff or defendant other than an Ohio partnership, individual names must be given.

Administration of Decedent's Estates. The probate court has exclusive jurisdiction. Administration shall be granted by the probate court of the county where decedent was resident at the time of his death. If non-resident, in any county where there is an estate to be administered. If decedent dies intestate, administration granted, first, to husband or widow; second, next of kin, or if above renounce; third, to a creditor; or, fourth, such person as the court may deem competent. Executors and administrators required to give bond in such sum as the court shall order. Executors may be excused from giving bond where will so directs unless interested parties object. Inventory and appraisal of decedent's estate shall be filed in the probate court within thirty days after appointment. Claims against the estate of the deceased person must be filed with the administrator or executor for allowance, verified by the oath of claimant that the same is justly due, and that no off-sets exist against the same. (See Proof of Claims.) Claims should be filed within six (6) months from the appointment of the administrator or executor. Appraisers should make allowance to widow and children under fifteen years for a year's support. Debts are paid in the following order: 1. Expenses of funeral, of last sickness, and of administration. 2. Allowance to widow and children for year's support. 3. Debts given a preference under the laws of the United States. 4. Taxes, etc. 5. Wages due manual laborers accruing within previous twelve months, not exceeding $150. 6. All other debts pro rata. Executors and administrators must file an account within twelve (12) months after appointment, and every twelve months thereafter.

Affidavits. (See Oaths, etc.)

Aliens. An alien can hold and possess real estate as fully as a citizen. No person shall be deprived of inheriting by reason of ancestors being aliens.

Arbitration. Any controversy, except as to possession or title of land, may be arbitrated under bond to abide award. Legal process may issue to compel attendance, oath being administered by judge or justice. The award is written and signed by arbitrators or a majority and filed in court named in bond or in common pleas of county At next term after filing judgment may be entered on award. Award for other relief than money is enforceable by contempt. Award may be set aside for fraud, corruption, etc. Controversies before justices may be arbitrated, likewise trade disputes and disputes as to value of stock of dissenting stockholders in railroad companies when property sold or leased to another company.

Assignments. Voluntary assignments for the benefit of creditors may be made and are administered in the insolvency court, or probate court. Assignee must give bond, make inventory and appraisement and give notice. Creditors must file proved claims six months after notice, and if rejected must file suit thereon within 30 days. Assignee reports at expiration of eight months. Assignment to prefer creditor operates for benefit of all. Assignment with intent to hinder, etc., creditors void and operates for benefit of all. Preferred claims are taxes and labor.

Attachment in a civil action for the recovery of money may be had when defendant is a non-resident or a foreign corporation, excepting such foreign corporations as by compliance with the law therefor are exempted from attachment as such, or has absconded or concealed himself, or is about to remove, convert or assign, or has concealed his property with intent to defraud creditors, or where the debt was fraudulently or criminally contracted, that the claim is for work, or labor, or necessities. Plaintiff must give bond in double the amount at issue, except where defendant is a non-resident or a foreign corporation, when a bond is not required. An attachment against a non-resident or a foreign corporation shall not be granted, on a claim other than a demand arising out of contract, judgment or decree, or for causing death, or personal injury by a negligent or wrongful act. Garnishee process may be had in aid of attachment against any debtor of the defendant. If the answer of the garnishee is not satisfactory, the plaintiff may proceed against him in a civil action. A citizen of this State may be enjoined from prosecuting an attachment in another state against a citizen of this State, to subject to the payment of his claim the earnings of the debtor, which by the laws of this State are exempt from being applied to the payment of such claim. Attachment before debt due. A creditor may bring an action on his claim before it is due and have an attachment against the property of his debtor: 1. When a debtor has sold, conveyed, or otherwise disposed of his property with the fraudulent intent to cheat or defraud his creditors, or to hinder or delay them in the collection of their debts. 2. Is about to make such sale, conveyance or disposition of his property with such fraudulent intent. 3. Is about to remove his property, or a material part thereof, with the intent to cheat and defraud his creditors, or to hinder and delay them in the collection of their debts. The plaintiff must give bond as in other cases of attachment, and must by himself, his agent or attorney, before the action is brought or attachment issued, make an oath in writing, showing the nature and amount of his claim; that it is just, when it will become due, and the existence of any of the grounds above mentioned.

Banks. Under the State constitution the legislature cannot authorize banks of issue. Savings and loans associations, and trust companies are provided for by statute. Each such bank must report to the auditor of the State on oath semi-annually, which report must be published. Banking institutions may invest in. (a) Commercial Banks. 1. Personal or collateral securities. 2. Bonds of the United States or those for which the faith of the United States is pledged to provide payment of the interest and principal, including bonds of the District of Columbia; also bonds or other interest bearing obligations of any foreign government. 3. Bonds of interest bearing obligations of this or any other state of the United States. 4. Legally issued bonds or interest bearing obligations of any city, village, county, township, school district, or other district, or political subdivision of this or any other state or territory of the United States or Canada. 5. Mortgage bonds or collateral trust bonds of any regularly incorporated company which has paid for at least four years dividends at the rate of at least four per cent on their capital stock. Such loan shall not exceed 80 per cent of the market or actual value of such bonds, the purchase of which has first been authorized by the directors. 6. Notes secured by mortgage on real estate, where the amount loaned thereon, inclusive of prior encumbrances, does no exceed 40 per cent of the value of the real estate if unimproved and if improved 60 per cent of its value including improvements, which shall be kept adequately insured. Not more than 50 per cent of the amount of paid in capital, surplus and deposit of such bank, at any time, shall be invested in such real estate securities.

(b) Savings Banks may invest in: 1. Any of the investments that can be made by Commercial Banks, except that they may loan 75 per cent of the amount of paid in capital, surplus and deposits on notes secured by mortgage on real estate. But all loans made upon personal security shall be upon notes with two or more signors or one or more endorsers, payable and to be paid at a time not exceeding six months from date. In the aggregate not exceeding 30 per cent of the capital, surplus and deposit shall be so invested. 2. Stocks which have paid dividends for five consecutive years next prior to the investment, bonds and promissory notes of corporations, when this is authorized by affirmative vote of board of directors or execution committee. No purchase or investment shall be made in stock of any other corporations organized or doing business under the same banking statutes of this state. 3. Promissory notes of individuals, firms or corporations when secured by a sufficient pledge of collateral, approved by the directors, provided such loan shall not exceed 20 per cent of its paid in capital stock and surplus.

If a bank combines business of a commercial and savings bank, it may loan up to 60 per cent of its capital, surplus and deposit upon real estate security, after the adoption of a general resolution authorizing it by a two-thirds vote of the board of directors. Such loans shall be upon real estate situated in this state or in states immediately adjacent thereto.

Chattel Mortgages. Unless possession is given chattel mortgage is void as to creditors unless filed with county recorder. Oath of mortgagee must be attached showing amount due and that same was executed in good faith. Mortgage must be re-filed within thirty days before expiration of three years of original filing with new affidavit. It is a criminal offense to sell, secrete, or remove mortgaged property.

Conditional Sales. Where personal property is sold to be paid for in installments or rented to be paid for in installments, or delivered under conditional sale, purchase is void as to creditors unless instrument is executed, verified and filed as required of chattel mortgage. Vendor cannot maintain possessory action without returning at least 50 per cent of amount paid where it exceeds 25 per cent of the contract price, anything in the contract to the contrary notwithstanding and whether such condition be expressed in the contract or not unless such property has been broken or actually damaged, when a reasonable compensation for such breakage or damage is allowed. Where property consists of machinery, equipment and supplies for railroads and contractors, for manufacturing brick, cement, and tiling, and for quarrying and mining purposes, no sums need be returned.

Consignments. A carrier, warehouse man, factor, storage, forwarding or commission merchant, or his clerk, agent, or employe, who, with intent to defraud, in any way disposes or converts to his own use any bill of lading, custom-house permit, or warehouse keeper's receipt entrusted to or possessed by him, or any property entrusted or consigned to him, or the proceeds of the sale of such property, or the profits, product, or result thereof, shall be imprisoned in the penitentiary.

Corporations. (Domestic.) Domestic corporations are formed under general laws and for any purpose except professional business. Each stockholder is liable on his stock for any amount unpaid thereon and stockholders in corporations authorized to receive deposits are also liable for a further amount equal to the par value of the stock held by them. Articles are filed with secretary of state and must show name, location and purpose of corporation, amount of capital stock, number of shares, must be signed by five or more persons, three of whom are residents of Ohio, must be acknowledged before officer whose official character is certified to by clerk of common pleas court. Corporations are for profit or not for profit. If for profit, must have not less than five or more than fifteen directors, of whom the majority must be citizens of this state and each a holder of stock. Stock is personal property. Capital stock may be increased or diminished. Fee for incorporation one-tenth of one per cent of stock, but not less than ten dollars. Trustees of corporation not for profit are personally liable for debts. Insurance and certain other companies are incorporated under special laws. Reports must be made to secretary of state annually in May, and fee of three-twentieths of one per cent on outstanding capital be paid, in no case less than $10.

Foreign Corporations. Foreign corporations owning or using a part or all of its capital or plant in Ohio, except for banking or insurance must have certificates from secretary of state before doing business. To get certificate corporation must file sworn copy of charter, state amount of capital stock, business, and purposes of corporation, and fix place in Ohio for its office and designate person upon whom process can be served. Fee varies from $15 to $50 according to capital stock. Failure to get certificate bars suit. Foreign corporations having principal place of business in Ohio shall file statement with secretary of state showing amount of capital stock, and shall pay annual fee of one-tenth of one per cent upon the proportion of its authorized capital stock represented by property owned and used and business transacted in this state, but not less than $10 in any case. Non-compliance bars suit and subjects corporations to penalties. Upon compliance corporations are not subject to attachment for non-residence. Annually in July foreign corporations shall report to the secretary of state and pay fee of three-twentieths of one per cent upon capital stock represented by its property in Ohio, in no case less than $10. Foreign corporations may hold title to land proper for their corporate uses.

Costs. No costs allowed to successful party as and for attorney's fees.

Courts. Supreme Court.—Court of last resort. A court of error except in cases where judgment of court of appeals is final. Has original jurisdiction in habeas corpus, mandamus, and quo warranto. Court of Appeals.—State is divided into eight districts. Like original jurisdiction as supreme court and appellate jurisdiction and jurisdiction in error from the common pleas court. Common Pleas Court.—Original jurisdiction in all civil cases where amount in dispute is more than $100, and actions involving title to real estate. Appellate jurisdiction from inferior courts and county commissioners in proper county. Probate Courts.—Original jurisdiction in control of estates of insolvents, deceased persons, minors, lunatics, imbeciles, and habitual drunkards; probating wills and settlement of estates; original jurisdiction in all matters of guardianship, inquest of lunacy; concurrent jurisdiction with common pleas court in appropriation proceedings. Justices of the Peace.—Exclusive original jurisdiction in amounts less than $100; concurrent jurisdiction with common pleas court in amount from $100 to $300, except in cases involving title to real estate.

Municipal courts for Cleveland, Cincinnati, Columbus, Dayton, Hamilton, and Youngstown have jurisdiction in their respective cities concurrent with justice courts and in certain cases concurrent with common pleas courts. Designed to supersede justice courts and relieve common pleas of controversies of $1,000 and less, the amount varying in the different cities.

Deeds, Mortgages, etc. All deeds or instruments conveying an interest in real property shall be signed by the grantor in the presence of two witnesses, and such signing shall be acknowledged before a judge of a court of record of this State, or a clerk thereof, a county auditor, county surveyor, notary public, mayor, or justice of the peace, who shall certify the acknowledgment on the same sheet of paper, subscribe his name thereto, and affix his official seal if he have one. No separate examination of the wife is required. Deeds and instruments conveying an interest in real estate must be recorded in the office of the recorder of the county where the land is located, and until so recorded or filed for record, are deemed fraudulent, as to bona fide purchasers without notice. Mortgages on real estate take effect from time of delivery for record. Mortgage first presented must be first recorded. Private seals have been abolished in this State.

Depositions. Depositions can only be used in the following cases 1. When the witness is absent from, or is a non-resident of the county. 2. When witness is deceased, or unable to attend the trial. 3. Testimony upon a motion, where oral examination is not required. As soon as service is had in a case, either party may begin taking depositions. Written notice of the intention to take depositions must be given the opposite party, specifying the court, parties, time and place of taking, and if the testimony of a party is to be taken, the notice must so specify. Sufficient time must be given the adverse party to reach the place of taking by the usual routes, and also one day for preparation, exclusive of the day of service. The taking of depositions must be continued from one business day to the next. The deposition should be written in the presence of the officer taking the same, and when completed, must be read over by the witness, and by him subscribed, and the officer should then conclude the deposition by the following certificate:

State of ..... } ss.
.....County. }
....., a ..... in and for the county and State above named, duly commissioned and qualified, do hereby certify that the above named ..... was by me first severally sworn ..... to testify the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, and that the deposition by ..... subscribed as above set forth, w .. reduced to writing by ....., and w .. subscribed by the said witness ..... respectively in my presence, and w .. continued from day to day, as above set forth, that said deposition w .. taken at the time and place specified in the notice hereto attached, and that I am not counsel, attorney, or relative of either party, or otherwise interested in the event of this suit.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and official seal, this ..... day of ....., A. D. 19...

[Seal.] (Signature and official title.)

Depositions out of the State may be taken before a judge, justice, or chancellor of any court of record, justice of the peace, notary public, mayor, or chief magistrate of any city or town corporate, a commissioner appointed by the governor of the State, or any person authorized by special commission.

Descent and Distribution. Any real estate which came to decedent by descent or devise or deed of gift from any ancestor descends as follows: 1. To the children or legal representatives. 2. If no such children or legal representatives, then to husband and wife for life. 3. If no husband or wife, to the brothers and sisters of the blood of the ancestor from whom the estate came. 4. If no such brothers and sisters, and the estate came by deed of gift from an ancestor who is living, the estate shall ascend to such ancestor. 5. If ancestor be deceased, then to his children; if no children, then to the relict of such ancestor if a parent of the decedent; if none such, then to the brothers and sisters of such ancestor; if none such, then to the brothers and sisters of the half-blood of intestate. 6. If no half-brothers of intestate, then to the next of kin of the intestate of the blood of the ancestor. When the relict of a deceased husband or wife shall die intestate, and without issue, possessed of any real estate or personal property which came by purchase or from any former deceased husband or wife by deed or gift, devise, or by bequest, then such estate shall pass to and vest in the children of said deceased husband or wife, or their legal representatives. If there are no children, then such estate shall pass one-half to the brothers and sisters of such intestate, and one-half to the brothers and sisters of such deceased husband or wife from which such estate came. If the estate came not by descent, devise, or deed of gift, it descends as follows: 1. To children. 2. If no children, to husband or wife. 3. If no husband or wife, then to brothers and sisters of the whole blood. 4. If none such, then to brothers and sisters of the half-blood. 5. If none such, then to the father, if living; if not, then to the mother. 6. If these be dead, then to the next of kin. The personal property of a deceased intestate shall be distributed as in the case of an estate coming not by descent, except such right as the widow or widower may have.

Dower. A widow or widower who has not relinquished or been barred of the same, shall be endowed of an estate for life in one-third of all the real property of which the deceased consort was seized a an estate of inheritance at any time during the marriage, and in one-third of all the real property of which the deceased consort, at decease, held the fee simple in reversion or remainder; and also one-third of all the title or interest that the deceased consort had, at decease, in any real property held by article, bond, or other evidence of claim; and the widow or widower may remain in the mansion house of the deceased consort, free of charge, for one year, if dower is not sooner assigned; but dower shall not be assigned to any widow or widower in any real property of which the deceased consort, at decease, held the fee simple in reversion or remainder, until the termination of the prior estate.

Executions issue from the court of common pleas to any county. Execution against the person will only issue when the judge of one of the superior courts is satisfied of the existence of cause—such as concealment of property by the debtor—or where debtor was arrested before judgment and not discharged under the law. Lands levied on must be appraised by three disinterested free-holders, and cannot be sold for less than two-thirds of such appraisement. There is no redemption of lands after sale; and stay of execution is allowed in any case taken to higher court. Executions are stayed before justices, by entering into a bond to adverse party within ten days after rendition of judgment, on judgments for $5 and under, sixty days; $5 and under $20, ninety days; $20 and under $50, 150 days; $50 and upward, 240 days. No stay on judgment in favor of any person for wages due for manual labor performed.

Exemptions. Every head of family and widow may hold exempt from execution, attachments or sale, wearing apparel, beds and furniture, certain cattle, certain religious books, family provisions, sewing machines, tools and implements worth $100, personal earnings for three months, previous to issuing of attachment or rendition of judgment. Every unmarried woman may hold exempt wearing apparel, sewing and knitting machines, religious books and beneficiary funds not exceeding $50.00.

Regalia, etc., of benevolent societies is exempt. Property of municipality or fire companies for extinguishing fires is exempt, but owner may mortgage. Husband and wife living together or widower living with unmarried daughter or minor son, and every unmarried female having custody of minor child, if resident of Ohio and not owner of homestead, may hold on selection $500 worth of personal property exempt in lieu of homestead in addition to special exemptions, excepting lien of a vendor for purchase money.

Guarantee Companies. The law provides that guarantee companies complying by deposit of securities are accepted on statutory bonds.

Holidays. Every Sunday and the first Monday in September are holidays for all purposes, the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November from 12 o'clock noon to 5.30 o'clock P. M.; also, every Saturday afternoon from twelve o'clock noon except as to notes, checks, etc. For holidays as to presenting, etc., of commercial paper, see Notes and Bills.

Homestead. Husband and wife living together, widow or widower living with unmarried daughter, or unmarried minor son may hold exempt family homestead not exceeding $1,000 in value. Wife may make demand if husband refuses, but neither can demand if other has a homestead. Where a homestead is sold for lien, owner may exempt $500 out of excess in lieu of homestead.

Interest. The legal rate is 6 per cent. Parties may contract in writing for 8 per cent. No penalty is attached for the violation of the law. If a contract is made for a higher rate than 8 per cent, the contract as to interest is void, and the recovery is limited to the principal sum and 6 per cent. Interest is computed upon judgments and decrees at the rate specified in the instrument upon which said judgment or decree is rendered. Interest is not recoverable on open running accounts, when there are no circumstances from which an agreement to allow interest can be inferred, and there has been no vexatious delay of payment. Open accounts draw interest after statement is made and account rendered. Interest from and after maturity may be allowed on items of wages or salary, payable monthly.

Judgments are a lien on real property of defendant within the county, which lien continues for five years. If execution be not levied within one year from the rendition of the judgment, said judgment shall not operate to the prejudice of any other bona fide judgment creditor. Unless execution is issued within five years, the judgment becomes dormant and ceases to operate as a lien. A dormant judgment may be revived on motion, or by action within twenty-one years.

Liens. Every person who does work or labor, or furnishes machinery, material or fuel, for constructing, altering or repairing a boat, vessel or other water craft, or for erecting, altering, repairing or removing a house, mill, manufactory, or any furnace or furnace material therein, or other building, appurtenances, fixture, bridge or other structure, or for digging, drilling, boring, etc., any oil, gas or other well, or for altering, repairing or constructing any oil derrick, oil tank, oil or gas pipe line, or furnishing tile for the drainage of any lot or land, by virtue of a contract, express or implied, with the owner, part owner, or lessee, of any interest in real estate, or the authorized agent of the owner, and every person who shall, as subcontractor, laborer or material man perform any labor or furnish machinery, materials or fuel to either original or principal contractor, or any subcontractor in the carrying forward, performing or completing such contract, shall have a lien upon the structure, etc., and upon the land whereon the same is located, upon filing in the office of the Recorder in the county in which said labor was performed, or material was furnished an affidavit showing the amount due over and above all legal off-sets, a description of the property to be charged with the lien, the name of the person for whom such machinery, etc., were furnished and labor performed, and of the owner, part owner or lessee, if known. Said affidavit must be filed within sixty days from the date on which the last machinery, etc., shall have been furnished, or the last labor performed.

The original contractor shall, whenever any payment of money becomes due from the owner, or whenever he desires to draw any money from the owner, under such contract, or upon written demand of any mortgagee, make out and give to such owner, etc., a statement under oath showing the name of every subcontractor or laborer in his employ, and of every person furnishing machinery, labor, material, etc., which statement shall be accompanied by a certificate signed by every person furnishing machinery, material or fuel to him., and shall also deliver to such owner, etc., similar sworn statements from every subcontractor accompanied by like certificates. Until such statements are furnished the owner, contractor, subcontractor, etc. shall have no right of action against the owner or lien, and any payments made by the owner, before such statements are made, or without retaining sufficient money to pay such subcontractors, etc., as shown by said statements, shall be considered illegal and made in violation of the rights of the person intended to be benefited, and the rights of such material men, etc., to a lien shall not be effected thereby.

The liens of subcontractors shall be superior to any already taken by the principal contractor, but have no priority among themselves, except liens filed by persons performing manual labor shall have priority to the extent of the labor performed during the thirty days immediately preceding the date of the performance of the last labor.

The owner, part owner, etc. shall not be liable to the subcontractor, material men or laborers for any greater amount than he contracted to pay the original contractor, and shall be entitled to set off any damages which he may sustain by reason of any failure or omission in the performance of such contract.

Said lien shall remain six years from and after the date of the filing thereof, but if action is brought within that time to enforce the lien, the same shall continue in force until final adjudication.

Liens are also given to persons who furnish material for the construction of roads, sidewalks, ditches, drains, etc.

Limitations. Within twenty-one years: An action for the recovery of the title or possession of real estate or on a judgment. Within fifteen years: An action upon an agreement or promise in writing. Within ten years: An action upon an official bond or undertaking of an assignee, trustee, or administrator. Within six years: An action upon a contract not in writing either express or implied. Within four years: Actions for trespass, recovery of personal property and relief on the ground of fraud. Within one year: Actions for libel, slander, assault, battery, malicious prosecution, false imprisonment or malpractice; actions upon a statute for penalty or forfeiture. An action may be taken out of the statute by part payment or an acknowledgment or promise in writing.

Married Women. Feme covert may sue and be sued as if sole, and husband shall join only when cause of action is joint. Like proceedings shall be had and judgment rendered as though she were sole. Any interests, legal or equitable, in realty or personalty belonging to women at marriage, or which are acquired by her during coverture becomes her separate property under her sole control, not to be taken for debts of husband or conveyed or incumbered by him, and to be conveyed by her as if sole, (except as to dower of husband). Neither husband nor wife, as such, is answerable for the actions of the other.

Minors. The age of majority for males is twenty-one years; females eighteen years.

Mortgages must be executed as deeds, and the first mortgage recorded has the preference. Are foreclosed by suit in the court of common pleas, and there is no redemption of lands sold under foreclosure after confirmation of sale by the court. (See Chattel Mortgages.)

Notes and Bills of Exchange. All bonds, notes, bills, and checks payable at a day or after sight, are due and payable on the day mentioned without days of grace. When the day of maturity falls upon Sunday or a legal holiday, the instrument is payable on the next succeeding business day. Instruments falling due on Saturday are to be presented for payment on the next succeeding business day, except that instrument payable on demand may, at the option of the holder, be presented for payment before 12 o'clock noon on Saturday when that entire day is not a holiday. The 1st day of January, the 4th day of July, the 25th day of December, the 22d day of February, the 30th day of May, first Monday of September of each year, the 12th day of October, and fast or thanksgiving days or any day which may hereafter be made a legal holiday, shall as to payment, presentment, or protest be considered as the first days of the week. When holidays fall on Sunday the following Monday shall be considered as the first day of the week.

Oaths. An oath required by law may be taken before the following officers: Within State—A judge or clerk of supreme court or court of common pleas a probate judge, justice of the peace, notary public, mayor. Without the State—By any officer authorized by law to take a deposition in such State.

Powers of Attorney. A power of attorney for the conveyance, mortgage, or lease of any estate or interest in real property, shall be signed, attested, acknowledged, and certified in the same manner as deeds, mortgages, and leases.

Practice. Practice is regulated by the code of civil procedure.

Proof of Claims. All claims against an assignee or administrator must be verified by oath of the claimant, his agent or attorney that the same is just and lawful, and that the said amount is now due and unpaid; that there are no set-offs or counter claims, and what if any security the claimant holds. A default judgment may be taken before a justice of the peace on an account thus verified.

Replevin. An order for the delivery of specific personal property shall be issued upon the filing of an affidavit of plaintiff, his agent or attorney, showing: 1. A description of the property claimed. 2. That the plaintiff is the owner of the property, or has an interest therein, stating the facts. 3. That the property is wrongfully detained by the defendant. 4. That it was not taken on process issued against the plaintiff, or if so taken, that it is exempt from execution. An order for the delivery shall thereupon issue, commanding the officer to take possession of the property. The sheriff shall then take the property, and cause the same to be appraised. The sheriff shall deliver the property so taken to plaintiff after the expiration of five days, upon plaintiff's executing an undertaking to the defendant in double the value of the property taken; that plaintiff will duly prosecute the action and return the property, or pay the value so appraised; provided, however, that the defendant may at any time within five days execute an undertaking to the plaintiff that he shall return the property, or pay the value so appraised, together with costs, etc., whereupon the property shall be returned to the defendant by the officer. If the property replevined consists of heir-looms, personal keepsakes, or other articles of like nature, the sheriff shall retain and safely keep the same, subject to the order of the court, if the defendant within ten days serve written notice that he will demand the return of the same upon final hearing of the case. The action of replevin may be maintained before a justice of the peace under proceedings, as above stated, when the appraised, value of the property is $300 or less. If the appraised value of the property exceed $300, he shall then certify his proceedings to the court of common pleas.

Sales of Goods. Sales Code.

Sales in Bulk. Sales in bulk, otherwise than in the ordinary course of trade, shall be void as against creditors of the seller unless the purchaser demands and receives from the seller a written list, certified under oath, containing the names, addresses and amounts due each of the seller's creditors and unless the purchaser shall at least five days before taking possession of said goods or paying therefor notify personally or by registered mail, every creditor whose name appears on said list or of whom the purchaser has knowledge, of the proposed sale, the price, terms and conditions thereof. Any purchaser not conforming to these terms shall at any time within ninety days after such sale, upon application of any of the creditors of the seller, become a trustee and be held accountable to such creditors for all such goods.

Service. Service may be made by publication for non-residents of State.

Stay of Execution. No stay of execution is allowed, except on judgments rendered by justices of the peace, and where cases are taken from a lower to a higher court. For stay of executions in justice courts, see Executions.

Supplementary Proceedings. Such proceedings in this State are known by the name of proceedings in aid of execution, wherein a debtor, as well as persons supposed to be indebted to him, may be summoned before a referee, and an examination had as to his property and rights in action, which if found may be subjected to the plaintiff's claim.

Taxes. Taxes on real estate become a lien on the day preceding the first Monday in April. Taxes are due on December 20th, of each year, but the party charged, may, at his option pay one-half on that date and the remainder on or before June 20th, next. If any delinquent tax of the previous year, and half of the current year's tax is not paid on or before December 20th, the property is advertised by the county treasurer and sold to the person who will pay all the taxes and penalty then due. The owner can redeem within two years after such sale by paying the amount for which the property was sold, all subsequent taxes, with interest and a penalty of 15 per cent, if redeemed within one year, or a penalty of 25 per cent if not redeemed until the second year. Land offered for sale and not sold is forfeited to the State, and is offered each two years until sold. If all the taxes and penalties are paid before the sale, the State relinquishes its claim. If sold, the owner may redeem at any time within six months after sale, by paying the amount of sale and costs, together with 50 per cent penalty thereon. There is a direct and collateral succession tax.

Warehouse Receipts. Same as other states.

Wills. Every last will and testament (except nuncupative wills) shall be in writing, and signed at the end thereof by the party making the same, or by some other person in his presence and by his express direction, and shall be attested and subscribed in the presence of such party by two or more competent witnesses who saw the testator subscribe, or heard him acknowledge the same. No legatee or devisee under the will should be a witness. Verbal wills made in the last sickness will be valid in respect to personal estate if reduced to writing and subscribed by two competent disinterested witnesses within ten days after the speaking of the testamentary words, and offered for probate within six months after the death of the testator. Contests of wills must be begun within one year after probate, except by infants and persons of unsound mind or in captivity, and as to such a like period exists after the respective disabilities are removed. Every will when admitted to probate must be filed in the office of the probate judge. Wills executed, proved, and allowed out of the State may be admitted to record in this State under proper proceedings in the probate court.

THE LAWS OF OKLAHOMA

Revised by GUSTAVE A. ERIXON, Attorney at Law, Oklahoma City, Okla.

Accounts. In all civil actions allegations of the correctness of any account, duly verified by the affidavit of the party, his agent or attorney, shall be taken as true, unless the denial of the same be verified by the affidavit of the party, his agent or attorney.

Acknowledgments. Within the State instruments may be acknowledged before any justice of the peace, notary public, county clerk, clerk of the district court or county judge. Outside of the State, and within United States, before a notary public, clerk of a court of record, commissioner of deeds duly appointed by the governor of the State for the county, state or territory where the same is taken. Without the United States, before any court of record or clerk of such court or before any consul of the United States.

Administration of Estates. County judge has exclusive jurisdiction. (See Wills.) Notice to creditors to present claims must be given by posting in three public places in county and by publication in a newspaper for two weeks. Claims not presented within four months from date of notice are barred. The debts of the estate must be paid in the following order: 1. Funeral expenses. 2. Expenses of last sickness. 3. Capital stock cannot be increased until original capital is fully paid in. Bank may be dissolved by proceeding in district court. Board of directors shall be not less than three, nor more than thirteen in number. Officers of bank selected by board of directors. All officers required to give good and sufficient bond, to be approved by board. Board must meet twice each year to examine books, securities, etc., and must forward certified copy of report to bank commissioner within ten days. Shareholders additionally liable for amount of stock owned, and no more. Banks must have on hand available funds as follows: In towns of less than 2,500 population 20 per cent of deposits. In towns over 2,500 population 25 per cent. Must not borrow in excess of 20 per cent of capital stock paid in. Must report to bank commissioner four times a year, or oftener.

Commissioner may revoke authority of any bank refusing investigation. Cannot hold real estate except for place of business, or when taken in satisfaction of debt, in which case must not be held for more than five years. Shares of stock deemed personal property, but cannot be transferred on books while registered holder indebted to bank. Cannot loan to stockholders on stock, but may receive same as additional security for prior debt. Making false report deemed perjury.

The law provides for a depositor's guarantee fund in substance as follows: There is levied against the capital stock of each state bank, an annual assessment equal to one-fifth of one per cent of its average daily deposits. The banking board is authorized to make an additional special assessment of one-fifth of one per cent during the fiscal years, ending June 30, 1914, 1915, 1916. The fund thus created must be used solely for the purpose of liquidating deposits of failed banks and retiring warrants provided for in the act. The assessment is due and payable on the 11th of March of each year, and is based upon the average deposits for the proceeding year. Assessments are payable by cashiers checks, which are held by the banking board until it is necessary to collect them. When the fund amounts to as much as 2 per cent of the average daily deposits of all the banks over and above all certificates of indebtedness or other obligation chargeable against the fund, the assessments shall cease, but it is made the duty of the banking board to maintain the fund to the amount of 2 per cent, as aforesaid, by making assessments from time to time as may be necessary, not exceeding one-fifth of one per cent at any one time. If at any time the fund is not sufficient to pay depositors of failed banks or other indebtedness chargable against the fund, the banking board is authorized to issue guarantee fund warrants, bearing 6 per cent interest, and constituting a first lien upon the fund when collected, also, a lien upon the capital stock, surplus, and undivided profits of each bank to the extent of the liability of any such bank to the fund. The banking board is authorized to dispose of such warrants at not less than par value. Warrants are payable serially in the order of their issuance. No corporation doing a trust business is liable for assessments to create or maintain the depositor's guarantee fund.

Contracts may be made by all persons except minors, persons of unsound mind, and persons deprived of civil rights. There is no distinction between sealed and unsealed instruments. Minors are males under twenty-one, and females under eighteen years of age. Provisions of the statute of frauds are in force. (See Holidays, Judgments.)

Conveyances. Husband and wife may own and convey property separately without the other joining, except homestead. In case of conveyance or mortgage of, or contract relating to homestead, the same may be avoided by one not joining in instrument. Conveyance valid between parties without being recorded, but no deed, mortgage, contract, bond, or lease (for more than one year) is valid against third persons unless recorded, except in case of actual notice. Deed intended as security is a mortgage, and must be recorded and foreclosed as such. Power of attorney must be executed and acknowledged same as deed, and also recorded. To admit to record, acknowledgment indispensable, in case of instruments affecting real estate. Statute prescribes forms of deeds and mortgages and acknowledgments, which should be complied with in word or substance. (For sales of merchandise, see Sales.)

Corporations may be public or private, and formed by filing articles of incorporation with the secretary of state, and compliance with statute. Each stockholder is individually liable for the debts of the corporation to the extent of the amount that is unpaid upon the stock held by him at the time action is commenced against him, and in mining, manufacturing, and industrial corporations they are jointly and severally liable for labor debts. Capital stock may be increased by compliance with law, but excess of stock over charter limit is invalid. No corporation of any other state or territory may transact business, or hold and dispose of property in this State without appointing an agent upon whom service of legal process may be made, and an authenticated copy of such commission shall be filed and recorded in the office of the secretary of state, and of the register of deeds of the county where such agent resides. Agent must reside at State capital. It shall also file a copy of charter or articles of incorporation with the secretary of state and the agent referred to shall reside in the capital of the State of Oklahoma. Must also file with corporation commission list of officers and stockholders with addresses and amount of stock held by each, and name of agent for service.

All corporations, foreign or domestic, doing business in State are required to file in office of corporation commissioner list of stockholders, officers and directors, with residence and post-office address, and amount of stock held by each, and must designate an agent residing in State upon whom process may be served. Mining and public service corporations required to submit all labor differences to arbitration. (See Mines.)

Corporations (except mining) must pay annual license tax as follows: Domestic corporations, 50 cents for each $1,000 of its authorized capital. Foreign corporations, $1.00 on each $1,000 of its capital employed in business in State. License obtained from State Corporation Commission. Statement of business done, condition, etc., must be filed annually with Corporation Commission. Mining corporations pay annual gross revenue tax upon output of one-half of 1 per cent upon quarterly statements in lieu of above: Oil and gas corporations required to pay three-fourths of 1 per cent.

Courts. The courts of the State are: Supreme, district, superior, county, and justice of the peace. Supreme court has appellate jurisdiction. Justice of the peace has jurisdiction of civil actions arising upon contract involving amount not in excess of $200, exclusive of interest, attorney's fees and costs. County court has jurisdiction of all probate matters, and civil actions, up to $1,000. But neither the county nor justice's court has jurisdiction of actions upon real estate contracts, libel and slander, misconduct in office, or malicious prosecution. The district court and the superior court have general jurisdiction. Terms of the district court are fixed by the supreme court. County court has a regular term every three months, commencing first Monday in January, April, July and October in each year. Justice court is always in session.

Days of Grace. No days of grace on negotiable instruments. (See Notes and Bills of Exchange.)

Deeds. (See Conveyances.)

Depositions may be taken at any time after service upon defendant, before a judge, a clerk of court of record, county clerk, justice of the peace, notary public, mayor or chief magistrate of any city or town corporate, etc. Officer must not be a relative or attorney of either party, or otherwise interested. May be taken upon written notice, specifying the action, or proceeding the name of the court in which it is to be used, and the time and place of taking the same, which notice shall be served upon the adverse party, or his attorney. The notice must be served so as to allow the adverse party sufficient time, by the usual route of travel to attend, and one day for preparation, exclusive of Sunday and the day of service; and the examination may, if so stated in the notice, be adjourned from day to day. Deposition, after taken, must be sealed, indorsed with the title of the case and the name of the officer taking same, and addressed to the clerk of the court where the action is pending, and must be on file at least one day before the day of trial.

Descent and Distribution of Property. (See Wills.) Property, not disposed of by will, descends as follows: 1. If decedent leave a surviving husband or wife, and one child, in equal shares to surviving husband or wife, and child, or issue of child; if more than one child, then one-third to surviving husband or wife, and in equal shares to children, or issue. But if there be no child of the decedent living at his death, the remainder goes to all his lineal descendants. If decedent leave no surviving husband or wife, but leaves issue, the whole estate descends equally to children, or issue thereof. 2. If decedent leave no issue, estate goes in equal shares to surviving husband or wife, and to decedent's father; if no father, then one-half goes in equal shares to brothers and sisters of decedent or their children. If he leave a mother, also, she takes an equal share with brothers and sisters. If decedent leave no issue, nor husband nor wife, the estate must go to the father. 3. If there be no issue, nor husband, nor wife, nor father, nor mother, then in equal shares to brothers and sisters, or their children; if a mother survive, she takes an equal share with the brothers and sisters. 4. If decedent leave no issue, nor husband, nor wife, nor father, and no brother or sister is living at the time of his death, the estate goes to his mother, to the exclusion of the issue, if any, of deceased brothers and sisters. 5. Other more remote descents particularly set forth. Dower and curtesy are abolished. Aliens may take in all cases, by succession as well as citizens. If no one capable of succeeding to estate, same escheats to the State.

Executions. All real estate not bound by the lien of the judgment, as well as goods and chattels of the debtor, are bound from the time seized in execution. When two or more writs are sued out against same debtor during the term in which judgment is rendered, or within ten days thereafter no preference is allowed to either; and if the proceeds fail to satisfy all such executions, they must be distributed among all creditors; but these provisions do not affect any preferable lien under judgment on the land of the debtor. Writ must be returnable in sixty days, except before justices of the peace, where it must be returned in thirty days. First levy to be made upon goods and chattels, but, if none found, then upon lands and tenements. Statutory provisions for subjecting debtor's property by proceedings supplemental to execution.

Exemptions. To the head of a family, not exceeding 160 acres in one or more parcels to be selected by the owner, including improvements; in city or town, not more than one acre in one continuous tract, not exceeding $5,000 in value; all household and kitchen furniture, lot in cemetery, all implements of husbandry; tools, apparatus, and books used in trade or profession; family library, portraits and wearing apparel; five milk cows and their calves; one yoke of oxen, with yokes and chains; two horses or mules; a wagon, or cart, or dray; one carriage, or buggy; gun; ten hogs, twenty sheep; saddles, bridles, and harness for use of family; provisions; forage on hand or growing for home consumption and for use of exempt stock for one year 75 per cent of current wages and earnings for personal and professional services within last ninety days. If any creditor endeavor to hold on garnishment more than 25 per cent of a person's wages the entire debt will be forfeited. The foregoing are not allowed to a corporation for profit, to a non-resident, to a debtor who is in the act of removing his family from the State, or who has absconded, taking with him his family. To a single person: Lots or lot in cemetery held for sepulcher; all wearing apparel, tools, apparatus, and books belonging to any trade or profession; one horse, bridle, and saddle; one yoke of oxen, 75 per cent of current wages for personal services.* The homestead is not exempt where debt is due for purchase money or part of same, for taxes, for work and material used in the construction of improvements thereon, or for liens given by the owner. Personal property is not exempt from execution or attachment for wages of clerk, mechanic, laborer, or servant. All pension money is exempt.

*Same provision regarding forfeiture of debt.

Foreign Corporations. Before they shall transact business, they must appoint an agent who is a resident of the capital of the State, on whom process may be served and file a copy of appointment with the Secretary of State. Copy of articles must also be recorded with the Secretary. Must file statement with corporation commission showing stock holders, officers, amount of business done, etc. Suit may be brought in county in which the cause of action arose. Contracts of corporations are void as to corporation, if law not complied with and no suit can be maintained in the state courts by a corporation which has not complied with the law. For issuing license to a foreign corporation the State charges a fee of one-tenth of 1 per cent of the amount of capital stock. There is also an annual license fee of $1.00 on each $1,000.00 of the capital stock employed in business in the State. This fee must be paid on or before the first of August. In July, each corporation must file with the Corporation Commission, statement, under oath, giving detailed information on blanks furnished by the Commission. Penalty of $100 per day for failure or refusal to file statement and pay fees. Such corporations are required, upon the order of any court where action is pending, to appear at a time and place fixed, for examination of its officers and agents, and inspection of its books, etc.

Mining companies are required to pay an annual gross revenue tax of one-half of 1 per cent of the gross receipts except oil and natural gas companies upon which tax is three-fourths of 1 per cent. Companies required to pay gross revenue tax are not required to pay the annual license tax, one being in lieu of the other.

Foreign Judgments. They are basis of suit as elsewhere, but limitation statute is one year.

Garnishment. May issue at the time of the issuing of the summons or at any time thereafter, before final judgment, in any action to recover damages founded upon contract, express or implied, or upon judgment or decree, or at any time after the issuance, in case of an execution against property, and before the time when it is returnable, before order will issue, statutory undertaking must be given, except in cases against non-residents. Bond is required in District, Superior and County Courts but not in Justice courts.

Holidays. Holidays are every Sunday, first day of January, twenty-second day of February, fourth day of July, twenty-fifth day of December, thirtieth day of May, days upon which elections are held throughout State, and days appointed by president, or governor of state for a public fast, thanksgiving, or holiday. If first day of January, twenty-second day of February, fourth day of July, or twenty-fifth day of December falls upon a Sunday, the following Monday is a holiday. Acts of a secular nature, appointed by law or contract to be performed on a holiday, may be performed on the next business day, with full effect.

Interest. Maximum rate is 10 per cent. Usury forfeits all interest, and if usurious interest be paid, double the amount so paid may be recovered by suit inside of two years. In absence of stipulation, legal rate is 6 per cent from maturity.

Judgments. Judgments are liens against real estate for five years from time entered on docket. If rendered before a justice of the peace, or probate judge, they become liens upon the filing of a certified copy with the clerk of the district court. If execution shall not be sued out within five years from the date of any judgment that now is or may hereafter be rendered in any court of record in this State, or if five years shall have intervened between the date of the last execution issued on such judgment and the time of suing out another writ of execution thereon, such judgment shall become dormant, and shall cease to operate as a lien on the estate of the judgment debtor. Judgment may be revived upon proper application, and after notice, within one year after becoming dormant. Interest on judgments is 6 per cent per annum, but in case of contract, rate is same as contract, up to 10 per cent.

Liens. (See Mortgages.) Also allowed in case of labor upon personal property, but dependent upon possession; and to vendors of real estate for unpaid purchase price. Mechanics' liens allowed. In case of contractor, statement must be filed in four months, subcontractors, sixty days. Suit must be commenced in one year from time of filing statement, or from maturity of note given for the debt.

Limitations. Civil actions, other than for the recovery of real property, can only be brought within the following periods, after the cause of action shall have accrued, and not afterwards: 1. Within five years: An action upon any contract, agreement, or promise in writing. 2. Within three years: An action upon a contract not in writing, express or implied; an action upon a liability created by statute other than a forfeiture or penalty. 3. Within two years: An action for trespass upon real property; an action for taking, detaining, or injuring personal property, including actions for the specific recovery of personal property; an action for injury to the rights of another, not arising on contract, and not hereinafter enumerated; an action for relief on the ground of fraud—the cause of action in such case shall not be deemed to have accrued until the discovery of the fraud. 4. Within one year: An action on a foreign judgment; an action for libel, slander, assault, battery, malicious prosecution, or false imprisonment; an action upon a statute for penalty or forfeiture, except where the statute imposing it prescribes a different limitation. 5. An action upon the official bond or undertaking of an executor, administrator, guardian, sheriff, or any other officer, or upon the bond or undertaking given in attachment, injunction, arrest, or in any case whatever required by the statute, can only be brought within five years after the cause of action shall have accrued. 6. An action for relief, not hereinbefore provided for, can only be brought within five years after the cause of action shall have accrued.

Married Women retain the same legal existence and personality after marriage as before marriage, and receive the same protection of all their rights as women which their husbands do as men; and for an injury sustained to their reputation, person, property, character, or natural rights have the same right to appeal in their own names to courts of law or equity for redress and protection that their husbands have in their own names.

Mortgages. Mortgages of personal property must be signed by the mortgagor and acknowledged before notary public, or attested by two witnesses, who must sign their names, and no further proof or acknowledgment is necessary. They may be foreclosed by action in court, or by public notice for ten days, and public sale. Chattels covered by mortgage may be levied upon by attachment or execution, if the officer pays or tenders to the mortgagee the amount of the mortgage debt and interest. The mortgage, or an authenticated copy thereof, must be filed with the register of deeds, and if not so filed, it is void as against creditors or subsequent purchasers and incumbrancers in good faith and for value. It becomes invalid after three years as against other creditors, subsequent purchasers or incumbrancers in good faith, but it may be renewed for an additional three years by filing an affidavit of renewal within thirty days before the expiration of the first three years. Real estate mortgages must be executed the same as a grant of real property, and can only be foreclosed by action in court.

Notes and Bills of Exchange. Negotiable instruments are defined by Chapter sixty-nine (69) of Snyders compiled laws of Oklahoma, uniform negotiable instrument law is in force. Form of Negotiable Instrument. An instrument to be negotiable must conform to the following requirements: 1. It must be in writing and signed by the maker or drawer; 2. Must contain an unconditional promise or order to pay a sum certain in money; 3. Must be payable on demand, or at a fixed or determinable future time; 4. Must be payable to order, or to bearer; and 5, where the instrument is addressed to a drawee, he must be named or otherwise indicated therein with reasonable certainty. Its negotiability is not affected by a provision which authorizes the sale of collateral securities in case the instrument be not paid at maturity, or authorizes a confession of judgment if the instrument be not paid at maturity; or waives the benefit of any law intended for the advantage or the protection of the obligor; or gives the holder an election to require something to be done in lieu of payment of money. It is not necessary that paper should be made payable at a bank or any fixed place. To charge indorser, notice of non-payment must at once be given to him. The time of maturity is regulated as follows; Time of Maturity. Every negotiable instrument is payable at the time fixed therein without grace. When the day of maturity falls upon Sunday, or a holiday, the instrument is payable on the next succeeding business day. Instruments falling due or becoming payable on Saturday are to be presented for payment on the next succeeding business day, except that instruments payable on demand may at the option of the holder, be presented for payment before 12 o'clock, noon, on Saturday, when that entire day is not a holiday." (See Holidays.)

Partnership. May be general or special. If names not disclosed in style, certificate must be filed and advertisement made. Special regulations concerning special partnership limiting liability to amount of contribution to company, except in case of violation of statute.

Power of Attorney. The power of attorney in fact, for the conveyance of real estate, shall be executed and acknowledged same as acknowledgment of other conveyances of real estate. No deed, executed by virtue of such power, shall be received for record unless the power of attorney under which it is executed is, or has been, filed for record in the same office.

Protest. (See Notes and Bills of Exchange.)

Records kept by clerks of all courts of proceedings therein. County clerk keeps record of all instruments affecting real and personal property.

Redemption. No redemption after sale of real estate by sheriff, pursuant to decree of court. In case of tax sale, two years are allowed from time of sale, after which tax deed issues. Limitation of action to set aside tax deed, one year.

Replevin. Plaintiff must file statutory affidavit and bond in not less than double value of property. Defendant in twenty-four hours may give bond and retain possession.

Sales. Sales of stocks of merchandise other than in the ordinary course of trade are presumed fraudulent and void as against creditors. Such presumption can only be rebutted by showing that 10 days before sale, the purchaser received from seller a list of his creditors, their addresses and amounts due them, sworn to by seller as being a correct list, and 10 days before sale, creditors were notified personally or by registered mail. Purchaser must show that purchase was made in good faith for a valuable consideration, actually paid. These regulations do not apply to sales by executors, administrators, receivers or public officers.

Suits. (See Courts.)

Taxes. Due on 1st day of December; delinquent if first half not paid by January 1st, and draw penalty of 18 per cent; second half due June 15th. Are perpetual lien on real estate. Personal taxes become lien on real estate after two years.

Testimony. (See Evidence.)

Transfer of Corporation Stock. Subject to regulation of corporation, except in case of non-resident owner, affidavit or bond may be required by officers for protection.

Trust Companies. Provision for organization by three or more persons. General authority conferred to hold and administer funds, to perform official acts, make guaranties, loan money, negotiable bonds, etc. Amount of capital stock must be not less than $200,000, one-half of which must be paid in cash when articles are filed, and balance within six months. Regulated as trust companies, and must make a deposit as security, and obtain certificates and authority to act in same manner.

Wills. Married women may make same as if unmarried. To make nuncupative will valid the estate bequeathed must not exceed $1,000, must be proved by two witnesses who were present at the making thereof, one of whom was at the time asked by the testator to bear witness, or the decedent must, at time, have been in actual military service in the field or at sea, and in actual contemplation, fear, or peril of death. Olographic wills are valid without witnesses. Other wills must be signed by testator, or in his presence, at his direction, and he must, at the time of signing, declare to the attesting witnesses that the instrument is his will, and there must be two attesting witnesses who sign at testator's request and in his presence. No married man can bequeath more than two-thirds of his property away from his wife, and no married woman can bequeath more than two-thirds of her property from her husband. A will is revoked by a subsequent marriage, unless provision is made for wife by marriage contract or will.

THE LAWS OF OREGON

Revised by Messrs. BEACH, SIMON AND NELSON, Attorneys at Law, Portland. (See Card in Attorneys' List.)

Accounts. In an action brought to recover a balance due upon a mutual, open, and current account where there have been reciprocal demands between the parties, the cause of action shall be deemed have accrued from the time of the last item proved in the account on either side; but whenever a period of more than one year shall elapse between any of a series of items or demands, they are not to be deemed such an account. Accounts are assignable and the assignee may sue thereon in his own name. (See Actions.)

Acknowledgments. May be taken in the State by any judge of the supreme court, county judge, justice of the peace, clerk of the supreme court, county clerk, or notary public. In any other state, territory, or district of the United States, according to the laws of such state, territory, or district; or of this State, before the judge of a court of record, justice of the peace, notary public, or other officer authorized by the laws of such state, territory, or district, or before any commissioner appointed by the governor of this State for that purpose. Foreign countries: Deeds may be acknowledged according to the law of such country, or of this State before any notary public therein, minister plenipotentiary, minister extraordinary, minister resident, charge d'affaires, commissioner, counsel, vice-counsel or counsel general of the United States, appointed to reside therein.

Actions. Every action shall be brought in the name of the real party in interest but an executor or administrator, a trustee of an express trust, or a person expressly authorized by statute, may sue without joining with him the person for whom the action is prosecuted. The complaint, answer, and reply must be veri.. .. A defendant must appear, plead, or answer within ten days from service of summons, if served in the county where the action is brought; within twenty days if served elsewhere in the State, and if served by publication by the last day of the time prescribed in the order for publication of summons which must be published once a week for not less than six consecutive weeks.

Administration of Estates. The county court of the county in which the deceased died has exclusive jurisdiction in the first instance. Letters shall be issued as follows: 1. To the widow, husband, or next of kin, or both, in the discretion of the court. 2. To one or more of the principal creditors. 3. To any other suitable person whom the court may select, but a non-resident is not qualified to act as executor or administrator. An action may be commenced against an executor or administrator any time after the expiration of six months and the granting of letters prior to the final settlement of the estate. Presentation of the plaintiff's claim to the executor or administrator and disallowance by him is a condition precedent to the bringing of action. Upon proper showing to the county court, executor or administrator may borrow money upon any property belonging to estate to facilitate the settlement of the estate, and upon proper showing to the county court, executor or administrator may execute deeds of conveyance to fulfill bonds or contracts to convey real property, made by the deceased. Executor or administrator must publish notice of his appointment, and make and file an inventory of the estate which must be appraised by three competent persons appointed by the court.

Affidavits. An affidavit is a written declaration under oath, made without notice to the adverse party. The affiant must speak in the first person. An affidavit taken in another state of the United States or territory, or the District of Columbia, or in a foreign country, otherwise than upon commission, must be authenticated as follows before it can be used in this State: First:—It must be certified by a commissioner appointed by the governor of this State to take affidavits, or it must be certified by a judge of a court having a clerk and a seal, to have been taken and subscribed to before him at the time and place therein specified, and the existence of the court, the fact that such judge is a member thereof, and the genuineness of his signature shall be certified by the clerk of the court under the seal thereof, or before a notary public having a seal and acting as such by authority of any state or territory of United States or District of Columbia. The seal must be affixed together with the expiration of the notarial commission. Can not be used as testimony on a trial upon the merits against objections. The usual form and function of affidavits are that of proving service of a summons, notice, and facts in ex parte proceedings to obtain provisional remedies.

Age of Majority. Males, twenty-one years; females, eighteen years.

Aliens. Aliens have the same right with reference to holding property in this State as citizens of the State. A wife is not barred of her dower by reason of alienage. A foreign corporation not prohibited by the laws of this State and having complied with our law with reference to doing business here, may hold property and convey the same as freely as domestic corporations.

Appeals. An appeal from the Justice and District Courts may be taken within thirty days, and from the Circuit Court to the Supreme Court by serving and filing the notice of appeal and bond at any time within thirty days from the date of the judgment or decree appealed from. Time may be enlarged by order of Supreme Court secured before the thirty days has expired, but shall not extend beyond the term of Appellate Court next following the appeal.

Arrest. Arrest in civil cases is allowed in certain cases, but is a remedy very rarely resorted to.

Attachment process may be had in actions upon contracts, express or implied, for the direct payment of money, if the contract is not secured by mortgage, lien or pledge upon real or personal property, or, if so secured, the security has been rendered nugatory by the act of the defendant; also in actions upon contract against a defendant not residing in this State. An affidavit must be made showing the existence of the facts, and a bond given equal to the amount of the judgment demanded. Debts owing the defendant may be garnisheed. An attachment is dissolved by an assignment before judgment.

Banks. The constitution of the State prohibits the incorporation of any bank or banking company, or moneyed institution for the purpose of issuing or putting into circulation any bill, check, certificate, promissory note, or other paper, or the paper of any bank, company, or person, to circulate as money.

The state banking act provides that any person, firm, or corporation (except national banks) having a place of business within this State, where credits are opened by the deposit or collection of money or currency or negotiable paper subject to be paid or remitted upon draft, receipt, check, or order, shall be regarded as a bank or banker, and as doing a banking business under the provisions of said act. The word bank includes the banking or savings department of any trust company doing banking or savings business. Not more than 25 per cent of the assets of any bank, under state supervision, shall be invested in the stock of corporations.

Foreign banks and bankers shall be subject to the act.

Banking corporations may be formed under Chapter 171 of the Laws of 1911 by any number of persons, not less than three, citizens of the United States and residents of Oregon, associating together, and must have a capital stock as follows:

In cities, villages, and communities having a population of 1,000 inhabitants or less, $15,000; population over 1,000, and not over 3,000, $25,000; population over 3,000, and not over 20,000, $50,000; population over 20,000 and upwards, $100,000. These provisions do not apply to banks in existence before 1911. And where cities have a population of 50,000 or more, banks may be organized with a minimum capital of $50,000, when located at least two miles from central post-office of such city. Loans to one debtor limited to 20 per cent of capital paid in, and surplus, certain discounts of commercial paper not being included in the 20 per cent limit.

Any bank may loan not to exceed 50 per cent of its capital, surplus and commercial deposits, upon notes secured by mortgages or other real estate security, but no single loan to exceed 50 per cent of market value of the real estate security given. No officer, director or employee can borrow from the bank, except by approval of directors, and such approval must be a matter of record. Reserve required in cash or funds payable on demand deposited in banks, approved by superintendent of banks, one-third of which reserve must be in actual cash on hand, in cities of 50,000 or less, at least 15 per cent of deposit; in cities exceeding 50,000, and in all reserve banks, not less than 25 per cent of its commercial deposits, and not less than 15 per cent of its time and savings deposits.

Every director must be the owner of at least $500 worth of stock, par value. Board of directors shall meet once every three months and examine report of cashier. If approved, it must be signed by all directors present and made a part of the record. A committee of stockholders must make semi-annual examination. Superintendent of Banks shall periodically call for sworn reports showing bank's condition, abstract of which banks must publish. If Superintendent shall be of opinion that any bank is insolvent he may, in his discretion, take immediate possession, and a receiver may be appointed. Stock or shareholders of every corporation bank shall be assessed and taxed on the value of their shares.

Chattel Mortgages. (See Mortgages.)

Claims for Collection. In sending claim for collection, if owned by a partnership, the individual name of each partner and the firm name should be stated, and if a corporation, in what state incorporated. The claim should be accompanied by an itemized statement, verified by the owner or his agent, or his attorney, if within the personal knowledge, to the effect that he believes it to be true, and that there are no just offsets, or counterclaims to the same, except as stated. (See Accounts.)

All claims to be filed with administrators or executors, assignees or receivers should be likewise verified.

Collaterals. No statutory provisions. Usual rules of law govern.

Conditional Sales. Conditional sales of personal property that thereafter becomes attached to real property so as to become a fixture, must be recorded within ten (10) days in order to bind purchasers and mortgages of the real property. (Laws 1909.)

Conveyances. (See Deeds, Acknowledgments, Mortgages.)

Contracts. Contracts not to be performed within a year, contracts to answer for the debt, default, or miscarriage of another, contracts by an executor or administrator to pay the debts of his testator or intestate out of his own estate, contracts made upon consideration of marriage, other than a mutual promise to marry, contracts for the sale of personal property at a price, not less than $50, unless the buyer at the time receive part or pay part, contracts for the leasing for more than one year, or for the sale of real property or any interest therein, contracts entered into subsequent to May 20, 1909, authorizing an agent or broker to sell or purchase real estate for compensation or commission, are void unless the same or some note or memorandum thereof, expressing the consideration, be in writing and subscribed by the party to be charged.

Corporations. The articles of incorporation, or a certified copy of the ones filed with the secretary of the state or with the county clerk, shall be prima facie evidence of the existence of such corporation and its right to do the business mentioned in said articles without any further evidence thereof.

A sale, lease, assignment or transfer of business, franchise and property as a whole of any corporation now existing or hereafter formed in this State, may be made with the consent of the stockholders, holding of record as much as two-thirds of the capital stock of such corporation, provided such consent be expressed (at a regular or special meeting of the stockholders of such corporation, called for that purpose), and the conveyance be in consideration of lawful money of the United States.

Private corporations may be formed under a general law by three or more persons, and organization may be perfected after half or more of the capital stock has been subscribed. Organization fee to State depends on capital, ranging from $10 up.

Articles of incorporation must be executed in triplicate and acknowledged and one filed with the secretary of state, one with the clerk of the county court where the business of the corporation is to be carried on, and the third retained by the corporation.

A director must be a stockholder in the corporation and a majority must be resident of the State of Oregon, except that in mining corporations and common carrier railroads a majority of the directors may reside out of the State.

The stockholders are liable for the indebtedness of the corporation to the amount of their stock subscribed and unpaid for, and no more, excepting that the stockholders of corporations or joint stock companies conducting the business of banking shall be individually liable equally and ratably and not one for another, for the benefit of the depositors of said bank, to the amount of their stock at the par value thereof, in addition to the par value of such shares.

Foreign corporations may do business in this State as freely as domestic corporations, upon complying with the laws of this State. Are required to have an attorney in fact resident within the State and file declaration of intention to engage in business within the State, accompanied by certified copy of the charter, and pay an initial fee of $50.

Failure of foreign corporations, other than educational, to pay any license fee shall render void its right to transact business in Oregon.

Public service corporations doing business in the State shall establish and maintain at some fixed point within the State a principal office, and shall maintain thereat a secretary or managing agent.

Both domestic and foreign corporations, excepting only those hereinafter mentioned, and those organized for any educational, literary, scientific, religious or charitable purpose, pay a graduated annual license fee based on their authorized capital stock as shown by annual report required. The following is the statutory form of acknowledgment:

State of Oregon, County of..... SS:

On this.....day of....., 19.., before me appeared ....., to me personally known, who, being duly sworn (or affirmed), did say that he is the president (or other officer, officers or agent of the corporation) of (describing the corporation), and that the seal affixed to said instrument is the corporate seal of said corporation, and that said instrument was signed and sealed in behalf of said corporation by authority of its board of directors, and said .....acknowledged said instrument to be the free act and deed of said corporation.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed my official seal this the day and year first in this, my certificate, written.

.....(Title of officer taking acknowledgment.)

Costs. If plaintiff is a non-resident of the county, in a justice court, the justice may require him to give an undertaking for costs. Costs follow the judgment in justice's court irrespective of the amount recovered. In courts of record, if plaintiff recovers, he is entitled to cost in actions involving open mutual accounts where the total of both parties exceed $150; in other actions for the recovery of money or damages if he recovers $50 or more.

In courts of equity, costs are discretionary with the judge.

Attorneys representing non-resident clients are responsible for costs.

Courts. The District court has limited criminal jurisdiction and civil jurisdiction up to $300. These courts are always open. Their process can not reach land. A county court in each county has exclusive probate jurisdiction and civil jurisdiction up to $500.

Creditors' Bills. General rules of equity govern.

Curtesy. The widower of every deceased person shall be entitled to the use, during his natural life, of one-half part of the lands his wife was seized of an estate of inheritance at any time during the marriage, although no issue born; all other laws of this State applicable to dower shall be applicable in like effect to estate by the curtesy. No action or suit shall be brought after ten years from death of a decedent, to recover or reduce to possession curtesy or dower by the surviving spouse of such decedent.

Days of Grace. (See Notes and Bills of Exchange.)

Deeds. Deeds must be sealed and executed in the presence of two witnesses, who subscribed their names to the same as such, and the execution acknowledged before an officer authorized to administer oaths. (See Acknowledgments.) If executed in any other state, territory, or district of the United States, or foreign country, shall be executed and acknowledged according to the laws of such state, territory, district or foreign country, or according to the laws of this State.

Unless recorded, a conveyance is void against a subsequent purchaser in good faith and for a valuable consideration whose conveyance is first recorded.

Conveyances, transfers, or liens executed by either husband or wife, to, or in favor of the other, are valid to the same extent as between other persons. A conveyance to husband and wife, jointly, creates an estate by entireties.

Depositions. In all affidavits and depositions the witness must be made to speak in the first person. Depositions shall be taken in the forms of questions and answers, unless the parties agree to a different mode. (L. O. L., Sec. 829.) Depositions of witnesses outside of the State may be taken upon a commission issued by the court or the clerk thereof, on the application of either party, upon five days' previous notice to the other. It shall be issued to a person agreed upon by the parties, or if they do not agree to judge, justice of the peace, notary public, or clerk of a court selected by the officer issuing it. (L. O. L., Sec. 840.) Such interrogatories, direct and cross, as the respective parties may prepare, may be annexed to the commission, or, when the parties agree to that mode, the examination may be without written interrogatories. (L. O. L., Sec. 841.) Either party may take the deposition of a witness in this State, before any person authorized to administer oaths, upon giving the adverse party three days' previous notice, and one day's additional notice for every twenty-five miles the witness resides from the place of trial, of the time and place of examination, the name of the officer and of the witness. The depositions shall be written by the officer taking the same or by the witness, or by some disinterested person, in the presence and under the direction of such officer. When completed it shall be read to or by the witness and subscribed by him. (L. O. L., Secs. 846–7–8.) The officer taking the deposition shall append thereto his certificate, under the seal of his office, if there be a seal to the effect that the deposition was taken before him, at a place mentioned, between certain hours of a day or days mentioned, and reduced to writing by a person therein named; that before proceeding to the examination the witness was duly sworn to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth; that the deposition was read to or by the witness, and then by him subscribed. The deposition should then be securely sealed, and addressed to the court of the county issuing the commission.

Descent and Distribution of Property. Real property descends as follows: 1. In equal shares to his or her children, and to the issue of any deceased child by right of representation; and if there be no child of the intestate living at the time of his or her death, such real property shall descend to all his or her other lineal descendants; and if all such descendants are in the same degree of kindred to the intestate, they shall take such real property equally, or otherwise they shall take according to the right of representation. 2. If the intestate shall leave no lineal descendants, such real property shall descend to his wife, or if the intestate be a married woman, and leave no lineal descendants, then such real property shall descend to her husband; and if the intestate leave no wife or husband then such real property shall descend in equal proportions to his or her father and mother. 3. If the intestate shall leave no lineal descendants, neither husband, nor wife, nor father, such real property shall descend to his or her mother; if the intestate shall leave no lineal descendants, neither husband, nor wife, not mother, such real property shall descend to his or her father; if the intestate shall leave no lineal descendants, neither husband, nor wife, nor father, nor mother, such real property shall descend in equal shares to the brothers and sisters of the intestate, and to the issue of any deceased brother or sister by right of representation. 4. If the intestate shall leave no lineal descendants, neither husband nor wife, nor father, mother, brother, nor sister, such real property shall descend to his or her next of kin in equal degree, excepting that when there are two or more collateral kindred in equal degree but claiming through different ancestors, those who claim through the nearest ancestor shall be preferred to those claiming through a more remote ancestor. 5. When any child shall die under the age of twenty-one years and leave no husband nor wife nor children, any real estate which descended to such child shall descend to the heirs of the ancestor from whom such real property descended the same as if such child died before the death of such ancestor. 6. If the intestate shall leave no lineal descendants or kindred, such real property shall escheat to the State of Oregon. Personal property descends the same as realty, except that husband surviving takes half wife's personalty, the wife surviving takes half husband's personalty, and survivor takes all in the absence of issue.

Dower. The widow of every deceased is entitled to dower during her natural life of one-half part of all the lands whereof her husband was seized during marriage, unless she is lawfully barred thereof. Where a husband purchases land during coverture, and mortgages the same to secure payment of the purchase money, his widow is not entitled to dower as against the mortgagee, although she shall not have united in the mortgage. A woman is not barred of her dower by reason of being an alien.

Equity of Redemption. (See Executions.)

Executions. The party in whose favor judgment is given may at any time thereafter within ten years, have execution issued to enforce payment. After ten years from the entry of judgment the lien thereof shall expire, provided the judgment is not renewed within the ten-year period, which may be dome and repeated until satisfied. Execution may issue against the person or judgment debtor, against his property, or for the delivery of real or of personal property. The sale of property upon execution shall be made by auction. Property sold on execution, when subject to redemption, may be redeemed by the following persons: First—The judgment debtor or his successors in interest. Second—A creditor having a lien by judgment decree or mortgage on any portion of the property. A lien creditor may redeem within sixty days after confirmation of sale by the court. The judgment debtor may redeem within one year after confirmation. (L. O. L., Secs. 245–6–7–8.)

Exemptions. Homestead exempted from judicial sale. Must be actual abode of, and owned by family, and not exceed 160 acres, or one block if in city, or $1,500 in value. Personal property exempt includes books, pictures, and musical instruments to the value of $75; wearing apparel to the value of $100, and if a householder, to the value of $50 for each member of the family; tools, implements, apparatus, team, vehicle, harness, or library when necessary in the occupation or profession of a judgment debtor, to the amount of $400; if the judgment debtor be a householder, ten sheep with one year's fleece, two cows, five swine, household goods, furniture and utensils to the value of $300; the seat or pew occupied by a householder or his family in a place of public worship; all property of the State in any county, incorporated city, town, or village therein, or of any other public or municipal corporation. No article of property is exempt from execution issued upon a judgment for the purchase price. The judgment debtor must select and reserve such property as he claims as exempt at the time of levy. Earnings of judgment debtor for personal services for thirty days exempt up to $75 when necessary for the family supported wholly or in part by judgment debtor, except when the debt is incurred for family expenses, 50 per cent of such earnings shall be subject to attachment, garnishment, or execution.

Foreign Corporations. (See Corporations.)

Foreign Judgments may be basis of action, but must be pleaded and proved.

Frauds. Every conveyance or assignment in writing or otherwise of any estate or interest in lands or personal property, and every charge upon lands, goods, things in action, or upon the rents or profits thereof, made with the intent to hinder, delay or defraud creditors or other persons shall be void. Every grant or assignment of every existing trust in lands, goods, or things in action, unless the same shall be in writing, subscribed by the party making the same, or by his agent, lawfully authorized, shall be void. The question of fraudulent intent shall be deemed a question of fact, and not of law.

Statute of Frauds. See Contracts.

Garnishment. Attachment or execution may be levied upon personal property of the defendant in the hands of third persons, or on debts due defendant, by leaving a certified copy of the writ with the debtor, and such debtor or third person shall furnish the sheriff a certificate, showing property in his possession belonging to defendant. If the certificate is unsatisfactory, the garnishee may be examined under oath.

Holidays. (See Holiday Map, opposite P. 13.)

Injunction allowed as a provisional remedy, upon giving bond in cases where right thereto is shown.

Interest. Legal rate, 6 per cent; contracts may be made in writing for 10 per cent. Usury works forfeiture of principal and interest; but judgment will be rendered against defendant for the principal of the debt to be paid into the common school fund of the county in which suit was commenced.

Judgments are a lien from the date of docketing on all defendant's real property within the county or counties where same is docketed, and on all which he may subsequently acquire during the life of the judgment. If ten years are allowed to elapse without issuance of execution on the judgment the lien ceases, provided that before the expiration of the ten years, the circuit court may upon motion extend the time another ten years, and then another, etc.

Jurisdiction. (See Courts.)

Liens. Person furnishing material or performing labor in building or repairing any structure or superstructure has a lien on the same and sufficient land for its enjoyment.

Hotel and boarding house keepers have a lien on guests' baggage.

Common carriers and warehousemen have a lien for charges.

Various statutes provide for laborers' liens in certain cases.

Limitations of Suits. On contracts not under seal, express or implied, six years; on judgments or decrees of any court and sealed instruments, ten years; recovery real property, ten years. Revivor: Part payment or new promise in writing.

Married Women retain their real and personal estate owned by them at time of marriage or afterwards acquired, free from the debts and control of their husbands. A married woman may make contracts in her own name, buy goods, and give notes in settlement, and her real and personal property may be sold to satisfy the same. She may dispose of her real estate by will, subject to any rights which her husband may have as tenant by the curtesy. Wife may manage, sell, convey or devise by will to same extent and in same manner as her husband can. She is entitled to receive and hold the wages of her personal labor, and sue therefor in her own name, and she can prosecute and defend all actions for the preservation or protection of her property and rights as if unmarried. The expenses of the family and education of the children are chargeable upon the property of both husband and wife or either of them, and in relation thereto they may be sued jointly or separately. All laws imposing or recognizing civil disabilities upon the wife not imposed or recognized upon the husband have been repealed. The wife's dower and the husband's curtesy in real property are preserved.

Mines and Mining. Any person being a citizen of the United States, or having declared his intention to become such, discovering a vein or lode of mineral bearing rock, may locate claim by posting notice, and thirty days thereafter marking the boundaries with six substantial posts, and making the improvements provided by statute within sixty days after the posting of notices, and within said sixty days, and after the required improvements have been made, file for record with the recorder of conveyances copy of such notices. All mining claims in this State are deemed real estate, and subject to all the provisions as to transfer, mortgage, etc., except that redemption from execution sale must be made within sixty days. Abandoned claims may be taken up under the provision of the act without reference to any work previously done thereon. Ditches and mining flumes permanently affixed to the soil are considered real estate, provided that non-user for five years or removal from the State will forfeit all title or interest. Grub stake contracts must be in writing and recorded in the county where locations thereunder are made. Any person may hold one claim by location and as many by purchase as the laws of the district where the claims are located will allow, but the discoverer of any new lead or vein not previously located upon may take one additional claim for discovery.

Mortgages of real or personal property and assignments thereof are executed and recorded in the same manner as deeds, and foreclosed by suit in equity. A satisfaction of a mortgage by the person appearing on the record as the owner thereof releases the land from the lien of said mortgage. A chattel mortgage, where the mortgagor is allowed to remain in possession and dispose of the property in the usual course of his business, is void as to purchasers and attaching creditors unless recorded. Every transfer of an interest in real property, no matter what its form, is deemed a mortgage if made as security. A mortgage does not entitle a mortgagee to possession of the property or bind the mortgagor personally to perform the act for the performance of which it is security, unless there is an express covenant to that effect. Mortgage upon real estate shall not be a lien or incumbrance after ten years from its execution or if otherwise disclosed ten years from date of maturity of the principal indebtedness.

Notaries. Appointed by governor for two years and give bond of $500.

Notes and Bills of Exchange. The negotiable instrument law, as prepared by the American Bar Association, has been adopted by this State and is the law governing bills, notes, etc.

Power of Attorney. Powers of attorney for conveyances of real estate, or whereby real estate is affected must be executed and acknowledged with the same formality that deeds to such property are made. A husband or wife may constitute the other his attorney to make conveyances of and dispose of his or her property, subject to revocation, the same as any other power of attorney.

Probate Law. (See Administration of Estates.)

Protest. (See Notes and Bills of Exchange.)

Records. Public records are notice to the world of their content when duly recorded.

Redemption. Lands sold on execution may be redeemed within one year from confirmation of sale by the judgment debtor or his successor in interest by paying purchase money, interest at 10 per cent per annum, and taxes paid by purchaser. A lien creditor may redeem from sale within sixty days from date of order of confirmation. (See also Taxes.)

Replevin. In an action to recover possession of personal property, the plaintiff may, at any time after the action is commenced, and before judgment, claim the immediate delivery of such property, by filing an affidavit and undertaking as required by statute.

Surety Companies. Foreign surety companies with a paid-up capital of $250,000 and having assets of $300,000, or domestic companies with a paid-up capital of $100,000, may be accepted as sole sureties on all bonds, undertakings, recognizances, and obligations required or permitted by law. The foreign corporations must appoint a resident agent to do business for the company and upon whom legal service may be made. A tax of 2 per cent is payable upon net premiums and may be collected by distraint. The secretary of state issues a certificate and the insurance commissioner grants a license allowing such company to do business from year to year.

Taxes. Taxes on real property are delinquent after first day in April, except when one-half is paid on or before first day in April; balance may be paid on or before first day in September. Owner may redeem at any time before tax deed is issued by paying the tax collector, for benefit of holder of certificate of delinquency, the amount paid for certificate, cost and interest thereon at 15 per cent.

Personal property may be sold for taxes, or taxes due on personal property may be made a lien on real property.

Transfer of Corporation Stock must be on the books of the corporation.

Usury. (See Interest.)

Warehouse Receipts. Transfer of receipt transfers commodity.

Wills. Every person twenty-one years of age, of sound mind, may make a will of all his estate. Every person over eighteen years of age, of sound mind, may dispose of his goods and chattels. Every will shall be in writing, signed by the testator, or some other person under his direction, in his presence and shall be attested by two or more competent witnesses subscribing their names to the will, in the presence of the testator. A will which fails to mention or provide for a living child is inoperative as to such child. A widow's dower can not be cut off by will. A legacy or devise to an attesting witness is void and such person shall be admitted as a witness to the execution of such will.

THE LAWS OF PENNSYLVANIA

Revised by MORRIS, WALKER AND ALLEN, Attorneys at Law, Pittsburgh. (See Card in Attorneys' List

Acknowledgments of deeds of land in Pennsylvania should be made in the United States before an officer in any state authorized by laws of said state to take acknowledgments, the authority to be proved by certificate of clerk of any court of record, under seal of court.

A married woman may make acknowledgment in the same manner and form as a femme sole.

Actions. Torts are sued in trespass; all other claims in assumpsit, common pleas courts have equity powers. Assumpsit to $300, cognizable by justices of the peace. Common pleas has original jurisdiction in all civil actions. By Act of 1911, and supplements, a county court was established for Allegheny county, having jurisdiction in assumpsit and trespass to $1,500, also has jurisdiction in desertion and non-support, and in juvenile court cases. Hears appeals from justices and aldermen. Appeal lies to common Pleas Court.

The municipal court of Philadelphia county, created by Act of 1911, and supplements, is very similar to the Allegheny county court.

Administration of Estates. Administrators must file an inventory and appraisement of the personal estate within thirty days, and settle an account in one year from the date of their appointment. A widow is entitled to retain personal property to the amount of $300. A decedent's debts must be paid in the following order: 1. Funeral expenses, medicine and medical attendance during last illness of the decedent, and servants' wages not exceeding one year. 2. Rents not exceeding one year. 3. All other debts, without regard to the quality of the same, except debts due the commonwealth, which shall be last paid.

Appeals may be taken within six months to the superior or supreme court, according to the nature of the question or amount involved; but such appeal does not supersede an execution issued or distribution ordered, unless taken and perfected, and bail entered within three weeks from such entry. An appeal may be taken to the county court from a judgment before a justice of the peace at any time within twenty days from date of judgment. A corporation appellant must in all cases of appeal from justices' judgment give bond for debt, interest and costs. (See Courts.)

Arrest in civil cases, under capias, issued instead of summons to begin an action, may occur in certain cases of assumpsit and in tort actions on affidavit filed. A defendant may be arrested, after suit brought by summons, upon proof that he is about to remove his property to defraud his creditors, or has done so, or that he fraudulently conceals his property, or that he fraudulently contracted the debt.

In civil cases, where the defendant is arrested on a bench warrant in a suit based on the allegation that the debt was fraudulently contracted, the defendant cannot secure his discharge from arrest and confinement (if directed by the court) by going into bankruptcy; since a discharge from bankruptcy does not discharge the bankrupt from debts fraudulently contracted.

Assignments and Insolvency. A debtor may make a voluntary assignment in trust for the benefit of all creditors, which must be recorded in thirty days. The assignment does not relieve the debtor from the debt. Insolvency Act of 1901 is similar to the United States bankruptcy law and has been decided to be suspended while the United States bankruptcy law is in force, as to cases to which the latter applies.

Attachment Before Judgment. Property of resident debtors may be attached, when debtor is about to remove his property out of the jurisdiction of the court in which the attachment is applied for, with intent to defraud his creditors; when he has property which he fraudulently conceals; when he has disposed of or is about to dispose of his property, with intent to defraud his creditors; when he has fraudulently contracted the debt or incurred the obligation for which the claim is made. Attachment can also be had to seize and hold property of non-resident. Judgment pursuant to foreign attachment binds the attached property only, unless the defendant appears.

Banks. Any association of persons, not less than five, may organize banks of discount, deposit and circulation, with a capital of not less than $50,000 nor more than $1,000,000. Whenever a person or association desires to establish a bank, or increase the capital, a certificate to that effect must be made and advertised for at least six months in at least three newspapers, one published at the seat of government and the other two in the city or county where such a bank is located. When a copy of this certificate containing the name, place of business, amount of capital stock, with the number of shares into which the same shall be divided, is certified by the attorney general, it is recorded after the manner of deeds, and the governor, upon a certified copy of such certificate being produced before him, causes letters patent to be issued.

Every person or corporation to whom letters patent may be granted, is authorized to carry on business for twenty years from the date of patent. The auditor general is required to report annually to the legislature, within three days of the commencement of the session, a summary of the condition of every incorporated bank, with an abstract of the amount of banking capital returned by them. The capital stock of each bank is divided into shares of $50 each. It is the duty of every cashier to publish in the newspapers a statement giving the amount of assets and liabilities, circulation, deposits, gold, and silver, with all evidences of debt, with the personal and real property of the bank; and semi-annual reports are required. The auditor general is to require quarterly statements from cashiers of the condition of banks, and one of the statements shall be made in November. Stockholders are individually liable for the notes issued by the bank, and in case of insolvency are liable for assessment to the par value of their stock. Under the general laws a savings bank can invest in any good bonds or securities; but nearly all savings banks have special charters, and the regulations as to investments in them differ. By an act passed by the legislature of 1889, the organization of savings banks is facilitated, and their management carefully controlled. All banks, trust companies, and building associations are now under the control of the banking department created by act of February 11, 1895. Under act of 1907, private banks are subject to supervision of state commissioner of banking. Under act of 1907, state banks and trust companies must maintain reserve of 15 per cent of checking accounts and 7 1-2 per cent on savings accounts and time deposits.

Trust companies are organized under the general corporation law for the purpose of insuring titles capital in any amount, and acquire trust company powers by accepting certain laws and paying up $125,000 capital, at least. No double liability.

Bills of Lading. A bill of lading may be transferred by endorsement and delivery unless the words "not negotiable" are plainly written or stamped on their face. The endorsee is taken to be the owner of the goods.

Chattel Mortgages. Allowed in iron, steel, and certain other articles. Must be recorded.

Contracts may be specifically enforced in equity where there is no adequate remedy at law, or damages for the breach be recovered at law. Contracts for an interest in real estate, except leases for not exceeding three years and contracts to hold an executor or administrator individually, and to hold a guarantor or surety, must be in writing, unless the amount involved be less than $20.

Corporations. A corporation may be formed for any single lawful purpose. Two or more corporations for the same or different purposes may be consolidated. Corporations for profit are chartered by the governor; others by the court of common pleas of the proper county. The former pay a charter bonus of one-third of 1 per cent on the authorized capital; annual tax 4 mills on appraised value of capital stock. Foreign corporations are subject to the same bonus and the same tax on the capital employed in this State. Foreign corporations doing business here must register and comply carefully with the State law under severe penalties and risk of avoidance of contracts. Manufacturing corporations are exempt from taxation, if capital is invested in strictly manufacturing pursuits.

Days of Grace are abolished

Deeds and Mortgages. Deeds and mortgages should be under seal and duly acknowledged. Scroll seal is sufficient. Acknowledgments taken out of the State are usually taken before a notary, whose authority should be evidenced by certificate of clerk of court. Husband must join in wife's deed or mortgage. Wife must join in husband's deed, not in his mortgage. The wife need not acknowledge separate and apart from husband. By statute, the words "grant and convey" import all usual covenants except warranty. Covenants of warranty are added by the words "will warrant generally the property hereby conveyed," or, "will warrant specially the property hereby conveyed," as the case may be. Essential words of quitclaim deeds are "release and quitclaim." (For forms see Act 1909, page 91.) A mortgage is in form a conveyance, usually reciting a bond which it secures, and containing a clause of defeasance.

Descent and Distribution of Property. Estates of intestates are distributed as follows: 1. When intestate leaves a widow and issue, the widow takes one-third of the real estate for life and one-third of the personal estate absolutely. 2. When intestate leaves a widow and collateral heirs but no issue, the widow takes the real or personal estate, or both, to the aggregate value of $5,000, in addition to the widow's exemption as allowed by law; and if such estate shall exceed in value the sum $5,000, the widow takes the sum of $5,000, absolutely, to be chosen by her from the real or personal estate, or both; and in addition thereto, shall be entitled to one-half part of the remaining real estate for the term of her life, and to one-half part of the remaining personal estate, absolutely. 3. When intestate leaves a husband, he takes the whole of the personal estate and a life interest in the whole of the real estate. Subject to the above estates, real and personal property descends as follows: 1. To children equally where there are children and no issue of deceased children. 2. To grandchildren equally where there are grandchildren and no children or issue of deceased grandchildren. 3. To descendants in any degree of consanguinity, so long as they are all in the same degree. 4. To descendants in different degrees as follows: (1) To each child of the intestate such share as such child would have received if all the children who have died leaving issue had been living at the death of the intestate. (2) If there be no children, each grandchild shall inherit in like manner as in the last case. (3) The issue of a deceased child, grandchild, or other descendant take by representation the share of their parent. In default of issue and subject to the estates of the widow or surviving husband, real estate goes to the father and mother of the intestate during their joint lives and the life of the survivor, and the personal estate to them absolutely. In default of issue and subject to the estates and interests of the widow or surviving husband, father and mother, the real estate descends as follows: 1. To brothers and sisters of the whole blood and the children of deceased brothers and sisters of the whole blood, who take the shares of their parents. 2. In default of brothers and sisters of the whole blood, to the children of such brothers and sisters. 3. To next of kin, being descendants of brothers and sisters of the whole blood. Personal estate descends in the same way without distinction of blood; and in default of the above classes, real estate descends to brothers and sisters of the half blood and their descendants, in the same way. In default of all persons hereinbefore described, real and personal estate descends to and is distributed among the next of kin of the intestate. In default of known heirs or kindred, the real estate vests absolutely in the widow or surviving husband; and the widow takes all of the personal property. Regularly adopted children inherit under same rules as above. Illegitimates inherit from mother, but not from father.

Dower. (See Descent.)

Executions may be issued as soon as judgment is obtained. The writ of execution is made returnable to the first Monday of the following term; but it is the duty of the sheriff to make his levy at once, and he may proceed to sell personal property upon six days' notice, and distribute the proceeds. Stay of execution upon suits in court can be taken, by giving security, or under claim of freehold, on all sums of $200 and under, six months; between $200 and $500, nine months; over $500, twelve months. In suits before justices of the peace on sums between $5.33 and $20, three months; between $20 and $60, six months; and over $60, twelve months. The stay is computed from the first day of the term on which the action was commenced.

Exemptions. No homestead law. Real or personal property to the value of $300, in addition to wearing apparel, Bibles, and school books, and a sewing machine, are exempt, but the privilege is personal only and can be waived at any time. Type-writing machines, pianos, organs and soda fountains, leased or hired, are exempt from sale on execution or distress for rent, provided notice of such leasing has been given to the landlord.

Fraud. (See Attachment.)

Garnishment may be had by attachment execution upon any existing judgment of any stock, debts, or deposits of money, or of goods and chattels pawned or pledged. Wages exempt except for board.

Holidays. (See Notes and Bills.)

Interest. The legal rate is 6 per cent; usurious interest can not be collected, and if paid may be recovered back, provided suit is brought therefor within six months after final payment of the debt. It is not usury for a borrower to contract to pay the taxes upon the money lent, nor to pay a reasonable attorney's fee in case suit is brought for its collection.

Judgments of record bind all the interest of defendant in real estate within the county where the judgment was entered. The lien is against only real estate then owned in the county by the defendant. After-acquired real estate is not affected by the verdict or judgment; but a lien may be acquired on such after-acquired real estate by revival of the judgment as against it; and in the interim, by execution issued against such after-acquired real estate, and indexed in the judgment dockets. Lien exists for five years, and may be continued by revival of the judgment. Justice's judgments become liens by filing transcripts in the court of common pleas.

Limitations of Suits. Contracts, notes, and instruments not under seal, trespass, detinue, replevin, six years; action for trespass, to person, two years; for death, one year; for slander, one year; judgments, mortgages, and sealed instruments will be presumed to be paid after twenty years, but this presumption may be rebutted. Revivor: Acknowledgment, coupled with promise to pay; promise may be implied, if acknowledgment is plain, express, and nothing to negative such implication.

Married Women have all the legal rights and capacity of an unmarried person except that they cannot convey or mortgage real estate without joinder of husband, and cannot become accommodation makers, endorsers or sureties, or guarantors. (See Deeds.)

Mechanics' Claims. The rights of parties furnishing labor or materials to buildings, bridges, pipe lines, railways, etc., as to filing liens, are defined and regulated by act of 1901.

In the case of tenancies, leaseholds, alterations and repairs, the claim must be filed in court within three months after the claimant's contract or agreement is completed; and in all other cases, within six months thereafter.

Any sub-contractor (one who furnishes labor or material by agreement with the contractor or his agent) must give to the owner written notice of his intention to file his claim, together with a sworn statement setting forth the contract, amount, items and date of last work done or materials furnished. Such notice must be served at least one month before the claim is filed and within three months after the last of his work was done or materials furnished if he has six months within which to file his claim, otherwise within forty-five days thereafter.

Mortgages are executed and acknowledged same as deeds, and lien inheres from time of recording except where given for purchase money, when the mortgage is a lien from its date, if recorded within thirty days. By Act of 1915. (See Deeds.)

Notes and Bills of Exchange. The substantive law is codified in the Negotiable Instruments Law of 1901.

Supplementary Proceedings. Where the Sheriff makes a return that property of debtor cannot be found sufficient to satisfy an execution, the plaintiff may by application to the Court compel the debtor to submit to an oral examination for the purpose of discovering whether he has property which may be made subject to execution on the judgment.

Warehouse Receipts. Receipts complying in substance with act of 1909 are negotiable if stating that the goods will be delivered to bearer or to order of a named person.

Wills. Every will shall be in writing, and unless the person making the same shall be prevented by the extremity of his last sickness shall be signed by him at the end thereof, or by some person in his presence and by his express direction; and in all cases shall be proved by the oaths or affirmations of two or more competent witnesses, otherwise such will shall be of no effect. Provided, That personal estate may be bequeathed by a nuncupative will, under the following restrictions: 1. Such will shall in all cases be made during the last sickness of the testator, and in the house of his habitation or dwelling, or where he has resided for the space of ten days or more next before the making of such will, except where such person shall be surprised by sickness, being away from his own house, and shall die before returning thereto. 2. Where the sum or value bequeathed shall exceed the sum of $100, it shall be proved that the testator, at the time of pronouncing the bequest, did bid the persons present, or some one of them, to bear witness that such was his will, or to that effect; and in all cases the foregoing requisites shall be proved by two or more witnesses, who were present at the time of making of such will. A devise or bequest by a husband to his wife of any portion of his estate or property shall be deemed and taken to be in lieu and bar of her dower in the estate of such testator, in like manner as if it were so expressed in the will, unless such testator shall in his will declare otherwise. A devise or bequest in trust for any religious or charitable use, made within one calendar month prior to testator's death, is void.

SYNOPSIS AND NOTES AS TO DIGEST OF THE LAWS OF PHILIPPINE ISLANDS

Prepared by WOLFSON & WOLFSON, Attorneys at Law, Manila. (See Card in Attorneys' List.)

Judgments carry interest at rate of 7 per cent, but there being no usury laws, any interest contracted for can be recovered.

Our justice of the peace in the city of Manila has jurisdiction from one cent to $300. United States currency. For $300 (United States currency) or over suit must be filed in our court of first instance, which court has concurrent jurisdiction with the justice of the peace from $50, United States currency to $300, United States currency. Appeals can be taken to the supreme court of the Philippine Islands for any amount over which the court of first instance has jurisdiction. Special laws relating to land.

The cost of filing in the justice court, inclusive of sheriff's fees, is about $3.00, United States currency. The cost of filing suit in the court of first instance, inclusive of sheriff's fees, is about $10 United States currency. The cost for filing a suit in the supreme court is $12, United States currency. If facts are to be reviewed, all pleadings must be printed. Cost $1.00 per page. All costs are payable in advance of filing the cause.

A cause is appealed to the supreme court of these islands by preparing and having approved a bill of exceptions by the court of first instance, which bill of exceptions contains the pleadings. The evidence and testimony goes to the supreme court from the court of first instance in its original form as filed below. Briefs, of course, are paid for by the respective parties and cannot be recovered as costs. There are statutory fees allowed the winning party.

Sections 412 and 424 of the code of civil procedure give the causes which justify an attachment.

A chattel mortgage law has been enacted by the commission, thus enabling a person to secure loans on any movable property, except on general stock of merchandise in a going store. Specific merchandise in the store may be mortgaged, but not a general stock.

A corporation law is now in effect in the Philippine Islands.

The divorce laws have been suspended by our laws (code) of civil procedure. However, our courts will grant judicial separations without granting absolute divorce.

Garnishment of a debtor is allowed, as well as supplemental proceedings.

Our supreme court has decided that the judgment having oldest date takes first privilege over proceeds regardless of first execution, no matter how vigilant the subsequent judgment creditor.

There is no settled jurisprudence regarding the lien and privilege of a judgment debtor, nor have we any recognized or settled jurisprudences regarding mechanic's liens, as well as a furnisher of supplies.

The civil code treats fully the rights of married women.

We have several classes of mortgages, which are fully treated in the civil code. The form most in vogue here is the "venta pacto de retro," which is a conditional sale. The non-payment of the debt at the time mentioned in the mortgage, forfeits the property to the mortgagee. The uniform "Negotiable Instruments Law" is now in force here.

A claim sent for collection may be proved by deposition or by oral examination in court. If a claim is presented by an attorney, and the amount acknowledged as due and owing by the debtor, his evidence will be accepted as proof of admission of the claim.

All bank checks must be endorsed with name of payee.

Real estate sold under execution is redeemable by the judgment debtor, or any party in interest, within twelve months from the date of sale, upon the payment of all costs and expenses and one per cent per month interest. Personal property may be replevined upon complying with the condition prescribed by the code.

Service of summons is made by the civil sheriff in the city of Manila, and by sheriffs who are duly appointed in the provinces, otherwise by the governor of the province, who is the ex-officio officer (sheriff.)

Under the head of wills, our law relative thereto is exceedingly simple.

A bankruptcy law, practically the same as the national bankruptcy bill of the United States, was passed at the 1909 session of our legislature. A merchant may be put into bankruptcy upon the petition of three or more local creditors whose claims have remained unpaid for thirty days, provided their claims aggregate $500 United States currency or more.

We have the "Torrens Title" system of registering title to lands. This system has been in force since 1902 and has worked splendidly. Cadastral surveys are now being made in many parts of the islands.

Our mining laws are set forth in the Act of Congress of July 1, 1902. A few amendments have been made. Patents to mining claims are easily obtained at comparatively small expense.

THE LAWS OF RHODE ISLAND

Prepared and Revised by WILSON, GARDNER & CHURCHILL, Attorneys at Law, Providence.

Accounts. (See Proof of Claims.)

Acknowledgment of any instrument required by any statute of this State to be acknowledged shall be made, within this State, before any state senator, judge, justice of the peace, mayor, notary public, town clerk or recorder of deeds; without this State, and within the United States, before any judge or justice of a court of record or other court, justice of the peace, mayor or notary public of the state, district of Columbia, or territory in which such acknowledgment is made, or before any commissioner appointed by the governor of this State; without the limits of the United States, before any ambassador, minister, charge d'affaires, consul-general, vice-consul-general, consul, vice-consul, consular agent, or commercial agent of the United States, or before any commissioner appointed by the governor of this State in the country in which such acknowledgment is made. (See Deeds.)

Actions and Suits. All actions and suits which concern realty must be brought in the county, or district, if in a district court, in which the land lies; all other actions and suits, either in the county or district where the plaintiff or defendant or some one of the parties plaintiff or defendant shall dwell, or in which the defendant or one of the defendants shall be found. (See Courts.)

Administration of Decedent's Estate. In grants of administration the widower or widow is preferred; after them the next of kin. If these neglect within thirty days to apply any person interested in the estate may petition for the appointment of some suitable person. Non-residents are not appointed by reason of any right to such trust but may be appointed in discretion of the court. Foreign executors and administrators must appoint local agent for acceptance of service of process. Bonds shall be given in such amounts and with such sureties as the court shall direct. Executors and administrators shall file accounts within two years after qualification and thereafter annually. The probate court may allow widow or minor children such household effects and property exempt from attachment as it deems necessary and shall also make reasonable allowance for the support of the family not exceeding six months from the date of decease.

Affidavits may be taken by any magistrate within the State and before any commissioner appointed by the governor within the State or county described in the commission. Affidavits to be used in this State may usually be taken outside of Rhode Island, before magistrates authorized to take depositions. No particular form is prescribed.

Aliens may take, hold, convey, and transmit title to real estate, and may sue for and recover possession of the same in the same way and with the same effect as if they were native-born citizens of the United States.

Appeals may be taken from decree or order of a probate court or town council to the superior court within forty days after the decree or order. If no appeal is taken by reason of accident, mistake or unforeseen cause, a right to appeal may be granted by the supreme court upon petition filed within one year. In all cases where an executor, administrator or guardian is directed by law to obtain the advice and direction of the probate court before acting, there is no appeal from such advice or direction; and the same is conclusive, and all parties acting thereon are protected thereunder. Appeals from a district court to the superior court may be taken in any criminal case within five days after conviction; and in any civil case by claim of jury trial within two days after decision; except that in cases for possession of tenements, etc., the claim must be made within six hours after decision.

Arbitration. Controversies or claims relating to estates in the hands of trustees, executors, administrators, and other fiduciaries may be settled by arbitration and award, under authority of the court. There are especial statutory provisions regarding proceedings upon arbitration.

Arrest. Writ of arrest may issue in contract suits, where defendant has committed fraud in fact, or is about to leave the State, and in all tort actions.

Assignments. Every person making an assignment at common law for the benefit of creditors shall file with his assignee a sworn, itemized schedule of all his assets, showing the amount and kind of his property, where located, and the cash value thereof, to the best of his knowledge and belief, and a list of his creditors stating their names, residences, and the amounts due each of them, and the evidences thereof and securities therefor, if any, held by them. Such deed and assignment must be recorded, and the assignee must give public notice of his qualification to all creditors to present claims and to all debtors to make payments to such assignee, in some newspaper published in the county in which such assignor resides or is located, and such assignee shall also notify creditors in like manner by mail. One-fifth in amount of the creditors of the assignor, by petition to the superior court, may require assignee to give bond to the superior court, with good surety, in the amount of the total value of all property conveyed by the deed of assignment, conditioned on the faithful performance of his duties. Such assignee may be required to make an itemized, sworn report in writing to the superior court of all his doings under his trust.

Attachment lies in assumpsit. Writs may issue to attach real or personal estate of a debtor when the plaintiff, his agent or attorney, shall make affidavit, to be endorsed on the writ or annexed thereto, that the plaintiff has a just claim against the defendant that is due, on which he expects to recover a sum sufficient to give jurisdiction to the court to which the writ is returnable.

The property of a non-resident defendant may be attached in tort actions upon like affidavit stating also the fact of his non-residence.

Banks and Trust Companies. The bank commissioner, the general treasurer, and the attorney-general constitute the board of bank incorporation. Fifteen or more persons, citizens and residents of this State, may associate themselves by agreement in writing for the purpose of forming either a bank, a savings bank, or a trust company, and become a corporation, with all the powers, rights, and privileges, and subject to all the duties, restrictions, and liabilities set forth in title XXII of the General Laws of Rhode Island, 1909, and amendments and additions thereto. The bank commissioner shall at least twice in each year visit and examine each bank, savings bank, or trust company incorporated in this State, and he shall annually report to the general assembly the condition of all institutions examined by him, with such recommendations as he may deem proper. Every bank and trust company, whenever required by the bank commissioner, but at least five times within any calendar year, shall make a full and detailed report to the bank commissioner, over the signatures and oaths of its president or vice-president and secretary or treasurer, or cashier, or auditor, and attested by at least three of its board of directors, showing accurately the condition of such corporation at the close of business on any past day by him specified; and every savings bank, upon request of the bank commissioner, but at least twice within any calendar year, shall make a report to said bank commissioner, signed and sworn to by its president or treasurer, showing accurately the condition of such corporation at the close of business on any past day by him specified. In case any such corporation appears to be insolvent, the bank commissioner, with the approval and consent in writing of at least one other member of the board of bank incorporation, shall immediately take possession of said corporation and its assets, and may apply to the superior court for the appointment of himself or a deputy or both, as receiver or receivers thereof. Investments by and reserve funds of such corporations are prescribed and limited by the provisions of said title, and amendments thereto.

Bills of Exchange. (See Notes and Bills of Exchange.)

Bills of Lading. Every bill of lading must embody within its written or printed terms, the date of its issue, the name of the person from whom the goods have been received, the place where the goods have been received, the place to which the goods are to be transported, a statement whether the goods received will be delivered to a specified person, or to the order of a specified person, description of the goods or of the packages containing them, which may, however, be in such general terms as are referred to in section 23, and the signature of the carrier. (The Uniform Bills of Lading Act went into effect in April, 1914.)

Chattel Mortgages are executed in the same manner as mortgages of real estate, and may cover any kind of personal property.

To be valid against third parties, they must be recorded where the mortgagor resides, if he be a resident of the State; if a non-resident the record must be in the town where the property is at the time of making the mortgage. Or the mortgagee may take possession of the mortgaged property and will be protected as a pledgee in possession against third parties. But, the mortgage must be recorded or possession must be taken within five days of the date of signing, otherwise it is void except as to the parties and those having actual notice of it.

Foreclosure is usually effected by sale under power in the mortgage. Mortgagor may redeem at any time within sixty days after condition is broken, unless the property shall have been sold pursuant to the contract between the parties.

Claims against Estates of Deceased Persons. All claims must be filed in the office of the probate clerk, within six months from the date of the first advertisement of the notice of his qualification, or within any longer period not exceeding one year from such date. No claims other than those presented as aforesaid can be enforced against said estate, unless claimant can show same was not duly filed by reason of accident or mistake or unforseen cause. Debts due to the United States, the necessary funeral charges of the deceased, the charges for medical attendance and nursing, specially employed, and medicines used in the last illness, debts due to this State, and all state and town taxes, are to be first paid, and in the order in which they are named. If a commission on either solvent or insolvent estates be requested, such commission shall be appointed by the court at once, and shall report on the contested claims within a period of three months, unless further time be allowed for cause shown. Such commissioners shall give due notice of the times and places of their meetings to hear the creditors on their claims, and they or either of them may administer oaths to and compel the attendance of witnesses. Any person whose claim is not allowed in the whole by the commission shall have the right to appeal to the superior court.

Collaterals. No person holding stock in any manufacturing corporation as collateral security, shall be personally liable, by virtue of such stock, to any liabilities as a stockholder of such company. There is no statutory provision as to the method of foreclosure of collateral

Contracts. All contracts, except for necessaries, made by any person under guardianship shall be void. Assignments of wages to be earned in the future will be void unless recorded in the form prescribed by statute. Contracts for the sale of lands, or the lease thereof for more than one year; contracts made upon consideration of marriage; contracts not to be performed within one year from the making thereof; and contracts to sell or a sale of goods or choses in action of $500.00 or more, unless the buyer shall accept part of the goods or choses in action and actually receive the same, or gives something in earnest to bind the contract, or in part payment, must be in writing and signed by the party to be charged or his lawfully authorized agent.

Conveyances. (See Deeds.)

Corporations. Under the provisions of chapter 212, general laws 1909, any three or more persons of lawful age may associate for the purpose of organizing any ordinary business corporation, and upon filing proper articles of association with the secretary of state and payment of incorporation fee, secure perpetual charter. (Corporations which shall need to exercise right of eminent domain, insurance companies, banks and corporations to trade in bonds, stocks, etc., are otherwise organized.) Organization fee is one hundred dollars for any corporation the capital stock of which does not exceed one hundred thousand dollars; in excess of that amount one-tenth of one per cent. Corporation must have place of business within the State and a statutory clerk, treasurer or other agent. If treasurer is a non-resident there must be some competent person resident attorney to accept service of process. Records of transfers of stock shall be kept within the State. No statutory requirements that meetings of stockholders or directors shall be held within the State. Liability of stockholders "shall be limited to the shares of such members in such corporation paid up to the par value thereof."

Costs. In civil actions at law, the party prevailing shall recover costs, except when otherwise specially provided, or as justice may require in the discretion of the court. No allowance is made to pay the expenses of litigation or attorneys' fees. Every non-resident plaintiff, upon motion of the defendant, shall give some sufficient person residing within the State, or some surety company authorized to do business therein as surety for costs.

Courts. Terms and Jurisdiction. The supreme court has general supervision of all inferior courts and has jurisdiction of petitions for new trials, bills of exceptions and appeals. Its principal session is held at Providence from the first Monday in October to the second Monday in July in the following year. The superior court has original jurisdiction of suits in equity, petitions for divorce, all actions at law where the debt or damages laid in the writ shall exceed $500, of probate appealed cases and claims for jury trials from district courts. District courts have jurisdiction in civil cases limited to $500.00 and are in session throughout the year. Each town and city has its own probate court. The superior court is in continuous session from the third Monday in September to the second Monday in July the following year.

Deeds. Every conveyance of lands, tenements, or hereditaments absolutely, by way of mortgage, or on condition, use, or trust, for any term longer than one year, shall be void unless made in writing, duly signed, acknowledged, delivered, and recorded in the records of land-evidence in the town or city where the said lands, tenements or hereditaments are situated: Provided, however, that the same, if delivered, as between the party and their heirs, and as against those taking by gift or devise, or those having notice thereof, shall be valid and binding, though not acknowledged or recorded. Such instrument may be referred to as, and shall be, a deed, though no seal be affixed thereto. Acknowledgment of any deed must be by all the parties grantors, including married women, even through releasing dower only. (See Acknowledgment.)

Depositions. Except in equity cases, any justice of the supreme court, justice of the peace, or notary public, may take the depositions of any witness, to be used in the trial of any civil suit, action, petition, or proceeding, in which he is not interested, nor counsel, nor the attorney of either party, and which shall then be commenced or pending in this State, or in any other state, or in the District of Columbia, or in any territory, government or country. Previous to the taking of any deposition as aforesaid within this State the official authorized to take the same shall, in all cases, cause the adverse party, or his attorney of record, to be notified of the time and place appointed for taking such deposition, so that he may attend and put interrogatories to the deponent if he think fit. Depositions taken without this State to be used in the tribunals thereof, may be taken by such person and in the manner and with the formalities required by the law of the State, District of Columbia, territory or country in which the same shall be taken. Every person, before deposing, shall be sworn to testify the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, and shall subscribe his name to such deposition in the presence of the official before whom the same was taken. The deposition, so taken, shall be retained by such magistrate, officer, or commissioner, until he deliver the same with his own hand to the court for which it is taken, or shall, together with a certificate of its having been duly taken, be, by said magistrate, officer, or commissioner, sealed up and directed to such court, and remain so sealed until opened by order of the court, or of some justice thereof, or by the clerk, by the consent of the parties; and any person may be compelled to appear and depose as aforesaid within this State, in the same manner as to appear and testify in court.

Instructions for Taking Depositions. The magistrate, officer, or commissioner authorized to take depositions, in his notification to the adverse party, should state the time and place appointed, and the names of witnesses to be examined, which must be served by a proper officer or by any impartial or disinterested person, who must make oath to his return. The depositions, when taken, will be returned under seal to the court in which the suit is pending with a certificate, indorsed by the magistrate, of the contents and name of the case.

Descent and Distribution. Real estate of an intestate descends in the following course: 1. To children or their descendents. 2. To the parents in equal shares or to the surviving parent. 3. To the brothers and sisters and their descendants. In default of these, in equal moities to the paternal and maternal kindred, each in the following course: 1. To the grandparents, in equal shares. 2. To the uncles and aunts, or their descendants by representation. 3. To the greatgrandparents, in equal shares. 4. To the great-uncles and great-aunts, or their descendants by representation, and so on, in other cases, without end, passing to the nearest lineal ancestors and their descendants. But if the title of the intestate came "by descent, gift or devise from the parent or other kindred of the intestate, and such intestate die without children, such estate shall go to the kin next to the intestate of the blood of the person from whom such estate came or descended, if any there be." Dower and curtesy exist substantially as at common law. Personal estate, not bequeathed, is distributed as follows, viz.: 1. One-half to the widow of person dying without issue. 2. One-third to widow when there is issue. 3. The remainder is distributed in the manner provided for the descent or real estate, but without regard to the blood of the person from whom such personal estate came or descended. Upon the decease of a married woman the entire personal estate goes to her surviving husband.

Dower. (See Descent and Distribution.)

Employers' Liability. A Workmen's Compensation Act providing for payments to employees for personal injuries received in the course of their employment applies to employees except in domestic service, agriculture and any other lines where five or less workmen or operatives are regularly employed. Employers to whom the act applies may elect whether or not to accept its provisions, but those who do not are deprived by the act of the defenses of assumption of risk, contributory negligence and negligence of a fellow servant in actions brought against them by their employees. Employees electing to become subject to provisions of said act are held to have waived rights of action at common law unless notice in writing is given to employers, claiming such rights within a specified time. For injuries resulting in death of employees or in incapacity for labor for a period of more than two weeks, certain fixed amounts must be paid by employers to those dependent upon the employees or to the employees themselves for specified periods of time, the same to be full compensation for said injuries.

Evidence. No man shall be compelled to give evidence criminating himself. The parties to suits may testify. Husband and wife of either party are competent witnesses in any civil case, but neither can give evidence tending to criminate the other, nor disclose communications made during marriage, except in divorce causes. Either party to a divorce case may testify.

Executions. Execution issues after twenty-four hours immediately following the entry of judgment; returnable three months after date thereof in district court, and in six months in other courts; can only be stayed by order of the court. There is no redemption of property sold under execution. In default of goods and chattels or real estate on which to levy, execution may issue against the body of the debtor in cases where fraud is alleged, and for recovery of costs in actions of trespass and ejectment.

Exemptions. No homestead law. Necessary wearing apparel of debtor and his family; working tools of a debtor, not exceeding $200, including the professional library of any professional man in actual practice, and household furniture and family stores $300, are exempt from attachment and execution, where the debtor is a householder.

Foreign Corporations. Every foreign corporation, other than national banking associations and foreign insurance companies, shall appoint by written power some competent person, resident in this State, as its attorney, with authority to accept service of all process against such corporation in this State.

Foreign Judgments. There is no statutory provision as to foreign judgments.

Garnishment. Personal estate of the defendant in the hands of any person, co-partnership, or corporation may be attached. The debtor of the defendant should file an affidavit setting forth his liability etc.

Guaranty Companies. (See Surety Companies.)

Holidays. (See Notes and Bills of Exchange.)

Husband and Wife. (See Married Women.)

Injunctions either temporary or permanent may be granted by the superior court after hearing.

Insolvency. Any inhabitant of this State owing debts in this State to the amount of $300 or more, and who shall be insolvent, may prefer his voluntary petition under oath for relief as an insolvent; and such person shall be adjudged insolvent if he has within four months prior to the filing of a petition in insolvency against him, procured or suffered to remain for forty days, any attachment of or levy upon his property, with intent to give or suffer a preference, or, being insolvent, has suffered judgment to be entered against him in this State or elsewhere,or has made a conveyance, gift or transfer with intent to hinder, delay or defraud his creditors; or has made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors, or has secreted his property, with intent to hinder, defraud or delay his creditors, or has, within four months next prior to the filing of a petition against him, knowingly in writing made a false statement involving his financial condition, property, or ability to pay, or has done or omitted other things prescribed by Chapter 339 of the general laws, 1909. Proofs of claim shall be made in writing under oath by the creditor or his agent, and filed with the clerk of the superior court, unless the matter has been sent to a register, in which event they shall be filed with the register. (See also title Assignments.)

Insurance Companies are controlled by the insurance commissioner, who may examine any of their officers or agents under oath, and to whom they must transmit true statements of their condition and business in the month of January in each year.

Interest. No person, partnership or corporation, except duly licensed pawnbrokers, shall charge or take interest on any loan, whether before or after maturity, at such a rate, including compensation for services or expenses incidental to the making, negotiation or collection of such loans, that total of one year's interest shall exceed thirty per centum of the amount actually received by the borrower, on all amounts exceeding fifty dollars, whether in one or more loans, and on all amounts not exceeding fifty dollars, five per centum per month for the first six months; and thereafter two and one-half per centum per month of the amount actually received by the borrower.

Judgments are not a lien on real estate. Foreign judgments are proved in accordance with act of Congress. There is no statute or rule of court on the subject.

Jurisdiction. (See Courts.)

Licenses. No license by commercial travelers is required in this State. Peddlers of merchandise must obtain a license from the State treasurer.

Liens. Persons doing work for, or furnishing materials to be used in the construction, erection, or reparation of any building, canal, turnpike, railroad, or other improvement of the owner of the land on which same is situated, by contract with such owner, or with the husband of such owner with the consent of his wife in writing, has a lien thereon for such work and materials, subject to the encumbrances on land at time of the commencement of work or delivery of the materials. A sub-contractor has such lien, provided he gives written notice to the owner of the property affected thereby within forty days after doing such work, and sixty days after materials are placed upon the land, that he will claim such lien. (See General Laws, 1909, Chap. 257.)

Limitations of Actions. Actions for words spoken shall be commenced and sued within one year next after the words spoken. Actions for injuries to the person shall be commenced and sued within two years next after the cause of action shall accrue. Actions of trespass, except for injuries to the person, shall be commenced and sued within four years next after the cause of action shall accrue. All actions of account, except on such accounts as concern trade or merchandise between merchant and merchant, their factors and servants, all actions of the case except for words spoken and for injuries to the person, all actions of debt founded upon any contract without specialty or brought for arrearages of rents, and all actions of detinue and replevin, shall be commenced and sued within six years next after the cause of action shall accrue. All actions of debt other than those in the preceding sections specified, and all actions of covenant, shall be commenced and sued within twenty years next after the cause of action shall accrue. No executor or administrator may (except in certain cases, for which special provision is made by statute) be sued at law or in equity, by a creditor of the deceased, within six months from the date of the first publication of the notice of the qualification of the first executor or administrator. No executor or administrator shall be held to answer to the suit of a creditor of the deceased, except to a suit on his bond or as is otherwise provided, unless such suit is commenced within two years from the date of the said first publication and before any order of distribution has been made on the estate of the deceased.

Married Women. The property of a married woman is secured to her separate use, and is not liable for debts of her husband. She can transact business as a trader as though single and unmarried. Bond executed by her is legal and binding. She may make any contract whatsoever, the same as if she were single and unmarried, and with the same rights and liabilities. Property secured to her shall be liable to attachment and levy for her debts and liabilities under the same circumstances and with the same effect as if she had continued sole and unmarried. (See Deeds.)

Mortgages must be executed in the same manner as deeds, and recorded (see ante). Foreclosure is usually enforced by sale under power in the mortgage, which in most cases enables the mortgagee to sell after prescribed notice thereof published in newspaper, after default. Mortgages may be discharged by release on the face of the record, or upon original mortgage deed, or by separate deed of discharge and release. Mortgages are usually given to secure promissory note of the mortgagor to the mortgagee's order, described in the mortgage. There is no redemption period.

Notaries Public are appointed by the governor in June to serve three years. They have the power to administer oaths, take acknowlments to deeds and other instruments, take depositions and protest bills of exchange, notes and checks.

Notes and Bills of Exchange are governed by the provisions of Title XIX of the General Laws, 1909, entitled "Of Negotiable Instruments." Every negotiable instrument except sight drafts is payable at the time fixed therein without grace. When the day of maturity falls upon Sunday, or a holiday, the instrument is payable on the next succeeding business day. Legal holidays are the first day of January, the 22d day of February, the first Wednesday of April, the 30th day of May, the 4th day of July, the first Monday of September, the 25th day of December, and each of said days in every year, such day as the governor of this State shall appoint as Arbor Day in every year, the Tuesday next after the first Monday of November in the year 1896, and in every second year thereafter, or when either of the said days falls on the first day of the week, then the day following it, the first day of every week, and such other days as the governor or general assembly of this State, or the president, or the Congress of the United States, shall appoint as holidays for any purpose, days of thanksgiving or days of solemn fast, and Saturdays after 12 o'clock A. M. Holidays (other than Sunday) falling on Sunday, are observed on Monday following. Indorsers of commercial paper are holden on notice from notary public, in accordance with the usages of commercial law. Uniform Negotiable Instrument law has been in force in this State since 1899.

Partnership, Limited, may be formed for mercantile, mechanical, or manufacturing business, but cannot transact insurance nor become banks of issue and circulation. The persons forming any such partnership shall make and severally sign a certificate, which shall set forth: 1. The name of the partnership. 2. The names and respective places of residence of all the general and special partners, distinguishing who are general and who are special partners. 3. The amount of the capital which each special partner has contributed. 4. The general nature of the business to be transacted. 5. The time when the partnership is to commence and when it is to terminate. This certificate must be acknowledged by all and recorded in the office of the town or city clerk in the town or city in which the partnership's principal place of business is located. (See Chapter 186 of the General Laws, 1909, as to the liability of the partners.)

Probate Law. (See Administration of Decedent's Estate.)

Proof of Claims. The proof of claims by affidavit is not required, except in insolvency. An affidavit drawn in compliance with the law as mentioned under title Attachment, or Arrest, should be sent with the claim when suit is to be brought. Claims must be filed with assignees within six months from the date of the published notice of the assignment. If disallowed the assignee gives notice in writing to creditor, who must sue within sixty days. Non-resident plaintiffs may always be required to give security for costs after a suit is entered in court, and other plaintiffs in the discretion of the court.

Protest. Notes, bills of exchange, and drafts are protested by notary public.

Records, deeds, mortgages, and other writings required to be recorded are entered in the office of the town or city clerks, except in the city of Providence, where they are recorded in the office of the recorder of deeds.

Redemption. Property sold under execution, or foreclosed and sold under power of sale in a mortgage, cannot be redeemed. Real estate sold for taxes thereon may be redeemed within one year upon repayment to the purchaser of the amount of the tax with expenses and 20 per cent additional.

Replevin. Any personal estate may be replevied by the owner unless he be defendant in a suit in which such property has been attached. Bond in double the value of the property replevied, with sufficient sureties, is required.

Revision. The last revision of the Rhode Island statutes went into effect January 1, 1910, and is termed "General Laws of Rhode Island, 1909."

Sale of Goods. A contract to sell or a sale of goods of the value of $500 or upwards shall not be enforcible by action unless the buyer shall accept part of the goods so contracted to be sold or sold, and actually receive the same, or give something in earnest to bind the contract, or in part payment, or unless some note or memorandum in writing of the contract or sale be signed by the party to be charged or his agent in that behalf. This applies to every such contract or sale, whether the goods may be intended to be delivered at some future time, or may not at the time of such contract or sale be actually made, procured, or provided, or fit or ready for delivery. Uniform Bill of Sales Act is in force in this State.

The transfer of the major part in value of the whole of a stock of merchandise and fixtures, or merchandise, or fixtures, otherwise than in the ordinary course of trade and in the regular and usual prosecution of the transferrer's business, whether in one or more parcels or to one or more persons, provided the transfer is all part of substantially one transaction or proceeding or occurs substantially at one time, shall be fraudulent and void as against all creditors of the transferrer unless the transferee demands and receives from the transferrer a written list of the names and addresses of the creditors of the transferrer and certified by him, under oath, to be, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a full, accurate, and complete list of his creditors; and unless the transferee shall, at least five days before such transfer, notify personally, or by registered mail, every creditor whose name and address are stated in said list of the proposed transfer.

Service. Superior court writs are returnable not less than ten nor more than sixty days from the date of service; district court writs not less than six nor more than twenty days from the date of service.

Surety Companies must have a paid-up capital of $250,000. Foreign surety companies must appoint, by written power, the insurance commissioner of this State to be their true and lawful attorney in and for this State. Such companies, complying with the law of this State, may become sureties on any bond.

Taxes. All corporations doing business within the State are taxed upon the corporate excess. Stock in all such corporations is exempt from taxation in the hands of resident stockholders. There is a uniform tax throughout the State on intangible personal property of forty cents on the hundred. The tax upon real estate and tangible personal property is fixed by each town or city. Individual tax payers are not obliged to make returns, but are without recourse if such returns are not made. If returns are made tax payer is entitled to an appeal to the superior court in the event of over-taxation. There is no inheritance tax. Taxes are a lien on real estate and land may be sold for taxes after proper assessment and levy. Owner, his heirs or assigns, may redeem within one year by paying purchase money with twenty per centum in addition.

Testimony. (See Evidence.)

Transfer of Corporation Stock shall be made agreeable to the provisions of Chapter 840 of the Public Laws of the State of Rhode Island, 1912, commonly known as Uniform Stock Transfer Act.

Trust Deeds are executed the same as other deeds.

Warehouse Receipts must embody within its written or printed terms, location of the warehouse where the goods are stored, date of issue of the receipt, its consecutive number, a statement whether the goods received will be delivered to the bearer, a specified person or a specified person or his order, the rate of storage charges, a description of goods or the packages containing them, the signature of the warehouseman or his agent. Uniform Warehouse Receipt Act is in force in this State. (See also General Laws, 1909, Ch. 267.)

Wills. All wills of lands, tenements, and hereditaments, and bequests of personal estate, shall be in writing and signed by the party devising and bequeathing the same, or by some person in his presence and by his express direction; and shall be attested and subscribed in his presence by at least two witnesses, or else shall be void and of no effect. No form of proof is required, but the subscribing witnesses should appear at probate of the will, if living in the State. Non-residents may be executors of wills. Every person being upwards of eighteen years of age may dispose of personal estate and every person of twenty-one years or above may dispose of real estate by last will and testament. The will of a married woman shall not impair the rights of her husband upon her death, as tenant by the curtesy. Wills are recorded in the town clerk's office of the town where the testator lived. (General Statutes, 1909, Chapter 254.)

THE LAWS OF SOUTH CAROLINA

Prepared and Revised by Messrs. MORDECAI & GADSDEN & RUTLEDGE, Attorneys at Law, Charleston. (See Card in Attorneys' List.)

Accounts and Claims. Accounts shall be itemized and contain a statement of all payments and credits. Full names of creditors and residence should be sent. If partnership, firm name and full name of each partner. If corporation, its name and under the laws of what state incorporated. Claims should be verified by a member of the firm or officer of the corporation before a notary public having a seal, or a commissioner of deeds for South Carolina.

Acknowledgments. All deeds for the conveyance of real estate must be signed and sealed by the grantor in the presence of two witnesses, and recorded within the county in which the land lies within ten days from the time of delivery. Before any deed or other instrument in writing can be recorded in the proper office within the State, the execution thereof shall first be proved by the affidavit, in writing, of a subscribing witness to such instrument, taken before some officer within the State competent to administer an oath, or before a commissioner or commissioners appointed by dedimus, issued from the court of common pleas of the county in which the instrument is to be recorded; or, if taken without the limits of the State, and within the United States, before a commissioner of deeds of the State, or before a clerk of a court of record, who shall certify the same under his official seal, or before a notary public, who shall affix thereto his official seal, or, if taken without the United States, before a consul or vice-consul or consular agent of the United States of America. All vertifications of pleadings, affidavits, and proofs of claims made before notaries public in other states have the same force and effect as if sworn to before a commissioner of deeds, provided notary shall use his official seal.

Actions. Suits in the court of common pleas are begun by issuing a summons and filing complaint. The complaint must be signed by the party or his attorney, and may or may not be verified. All distinctions between actions at law and suits in equity have been abolished.

Administration of Estates. Letters testimentary are granted after the probate of any last will and testament in due form of law, by and before the proper judge of probate. The filing of a bond by executors is not required, unless such executor be a non-resident. (Act of 1902.) In case any person die intestate, the judge of probate of the county where such person was last a resident and died shall grant administration of the goods, chattels, rights, credits of such person deceased to his or her relations in the order following: 1. To the husband or wife of the deceased. 2. The children or their legal representatives. 3. In default of them, then to the father or mother of the deceased. 4. To the brothers or sisters. 5. In default of them, to such of the next of kindred of the deceased, at the discretion of the judge of probate, as shall be entitled to a distributive share of the intestate estate. 6. Next to the largest creditor or such other person as the court shall appoint.

Affidavits. All affidavits should be made before a commissioner of deeds for South Carolina, or before a notary public having an official seal. The affidavit used for the purpose of proving the execution of deeds when taken without the limits of this State, but within the United States, must be made before a commissioner of deeds for this State, or before the clerk of a court of record, who must use his official seal, or before a notary public, who must also use his official seal. If taken without the United States it must be made before a consul, vice-consul, or consular agent of the United States.

Aliens. No alien person, either in his own right in severalty, or as tenant in common, in fee or for a term of years, or as trustee, cestui qui trust, or agent, shall own or control within the limits of this State more than 500 acres of land, provided this section does not apply to land purchased under proceedings to foreclose mortgage held by foreign corporations purchasing the same, but in such case such foreign corporation shall not be entitled to hold said excess of land more than five years without sale of the same, unless the comptroller-general shall certify that a sale during that time would be detrimental to the interest of such corporation, in which case said land may be held for five years longer upon same conditions. This article does not apply to lands already owned or controlled by the persons or corporations referred to in this article, nor to lands already mortgaged to such persons or corporations. Alien widows are entitled to dower and descent can be traced through aliens. It seems as if alien heirs at law and devisees cannot own more than 500 acres of land in this State.

Arbitration. Sworn arbitrators may be appointed to settle differences, the parties giving bond to abide result, with right of appeal to circuit court.

Arrest. Persons guilty of fraud in the contraction of a debt, or in disposing of or concealing property, may be arrested and held to bail.

Assignments and Insolvency. Insolvents may assign for benefit of creditors, without making preferences, and creditors may appoint agent to act with assignee. Debtor can require creditors to release. All transfers within ninety days of assignment are void.

Attachments will issue in an action arising on contract for the recovery of money, or in an action for the wrongful conversion of personal property, or for the recovery of property, whether real or personal, and damages for the wrongful conversion and detention of personal property or in an action for injury done to either person or property, or against corporation created by or under the laws of any other state, government or country, or against a debtor who has absconded or concealed himself, or whenever any person or corporation is about to remove any of his or its property from the State, or has assigned, disposed of, or secreted, or is about to assign, dispose of, or secrete any of his or its property, with intent to defraud creditors the creditor, at the time of issuing the summons, or at any time thereafter, may have the property of such debtor or corporation attached as a security for the satisfaction of such judgment as the creditor may recover. Proceedings in case of attachment are prescribed by the code. Attachment may issue to secured purchase money of property real or personal.

Banks. Sec. 2633. The president, directors and company of any incorporated bank in this State are authorized to make loans on negotiable paper for any period not exceeding twelve months ; and also to open an account and give a credit to any other bank or banks in any of the sister states.

Sec. 2634. Such corporations shall have the power to vest, from time to time, such part of their capital, not exceeding (with the amount of stock any such bank may hold) one-half of the amount originally subscribed to such bank, in the stock of this State or United States.

Sec. 2635. Banks forfeit $500 a week, if bank notes issued and in circulation exceed for more than four successive weeks three times the amount of gold and silver coin and bullion held by the bank.

Sec. 2636. The amount of such notes to be certified to comptroller-general each week, together with amount of such gold and silver coin and bullion.

Sec. 2637. Failure in these matters forfeits $100 a day to be recovered at the suit of the State.

Sec. 2638. Felony for officer to receive deposits or trusts, after he shall become aware of insolvency. Parties injured may also recover civilly against such officer.

Sec. 2639. Banks not compelled to pay notes or bills torn in half without production of both halves or bond of indemnity.

Sec. 2640. Defines "bank notes."

Sec. 2642. Banks must publish quarterly statements in newspapers, sworn to by three directors.

Sec. 2661. The liability to a bank of any person other than a director or officer, shall not exceed 10 per cent of the capital. This debt not to include bills of exchange drawn against values and commercial and business paper. Two-thirds of directors can increase 10 per cent limit.

Sec. 2662. Directors and other officers shall only borrow on security to be approved by two-thirds of directors in writing. Directors can not endorse for each other. Companies and firms of which directors are officers or members shall not borrow more than 10 per cent of capital. Officers violating subject to criminal prosecution.

How Incorporated under General Laws. Under the code of 1912, Section 2634, there is no distinction in the incorporation of banks from the incorporation of any other corporation. All corporations (except railroad, railway, turnpike, and canal companies) are organized under a general law. (See Corporations.)

Banking. Any person who draws upon a bank, person, firm or corporation any check, draft or order, not having sufficient funds on deposit with such person, to meet the same, and shall thereby obtain money or any other thing of value, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to fine and imprisonment, thirty days being allowed within which to make good to the drawee, in which case prosecution ends.

Banks. Banks are required annually to set aside not less than one-tenth of the annual net earnings until the surplus is equal to twenty-five per cent of the capital stock, and it is made the duty of a bank examiner to enforce this law.

State banks which have branches in more than one county in this State have recently been made subject to the same law which applies to textile manufacturers, fertilizer companies, etc., as to the returns upon their property and making them subject to the board of equallzation of the State.

Any bank officer who issues to the comptroller general or any of his clerks or agents a false certificate of the amount of cash on deposit to the credit of any public officer for use in settlement with such public officer shall be guilty of a misdemeanor

Bank Examiner. Code 1912, Sec. 2643. The governor of the State shall appoint a competent person to examine, from time to time as hereinafter provided, into the affairs and the condition of all banks and banking institutions conducted by corporations or persons in this State. That in the selection of said bank examiner the governor may advise with the executive committee of the South Carolina Bankers' Association.

Sec. 2644. His duties shall be to examine fully and carefully and report the condition of all banks in the State.

Sec. 2645. Fixes compensation and terms of office.

Sec. 2646. Fixes time for examination, and mode of payment of salary and expenses by the banks.

Sec. 2647. Bank Examiner shall examine all Branch banks at least once a year. All such banks shall indicate on their stationery, checks, notes, advertisements, etc., the fact that they are branch banks and the name and place of business of the parent bank.

Sec. 2648. Upon discovery that such institution is insolvent or fraudulently or dishonestly conducted, the examiner may obtain order of court and take charge of and administer assets.

Sec. 2649. To make special examination upon petition of stockholders.

Sec. 2650. Examiner to be expert accountant and practical bank officer.

Sec. 2651 and 2652. Statements to be published when called for by examiner and at least once in each quarter.

Criminal code Sec. 209. Provides punishment for interference with examiner.

Sec. 2653. Nothing contained in the Act shall apply to any national bank.

Sec. 2654. That all Acts and parts of Acts relating to the subject of bank examiner heretofore enacted in this State are hereby repealed.

Bills and Notes. (See Notes and Bills of Exchange.)

Bills of Lading. The usual principles of mercantile law are applicable to bills of lading in this State.

Chattel Mortgages. The law in regard to chattel mortgages provides that in case the condition is broken the mortgagee appoints an agent with authority to foreclose, who immediately takes possession of the property and advertises the same for sale at a given date. Mortgagor has right to redeem property at any time before sale by paying debt and all costs. Chattel mortgages must be recorded within ten days in order to take effect from the day of their execution, but if recorded after such time they take effect as to third parties without notice only from the date of the record.

Claim and Delivery. The plaintiff in an action to recover the possession of personal property may at the time of issuing the summons or at any time before answer claim the immediate delivery of such property by making the necessary affidavit and executing bond in double the value of the property, and defendant may require redelivery of property by executing a like bond.

Collaterals. Collateral loans are allowed in this State, and collateral notes are commonly used.

Contracts. Every agreement whereby the vendor or bailor reserves any interest in personal property, must be recorded in the same manner as mortgages. This is not applicable to livery-stable keepers and inn keepers.

Conveyances. All conveyances of real estate must be signed and sealed by the grantor in the presence of two subscribing witnesses and recorded within ten days. If recorded after 10 days then they take effect as to third parties only from the date of record. If the grantor be married his wife must renounce her dower in a peculiar form prescribed by statute.

Corporations. Two or more persons desiring to form themselves into a corporation for any purpose whatsoever except railroad, railway, tramway, turnpike and canal corporations, and except also for municipal purposes, or one or more combined of any character whatsoever, may file with the secretary of state a written declaration signed by themselves, setting forth: First, the name and residences of the petitioners; second, name of the proposed corporation; third, place at which it proposes to have its principal place of business; fourth, the general nature of the business which it proposes to do; fifth, the amount of capital stock; sixth, the number of shares into which it is to be divided, stating the par value of each share; seventh, any other matter which it may be desirable to set forth. Upon the filing of the petition as above, and the payment of a fee of three dollars for recording of said petition, the secretary of state shall issue to the parties a commission constituting them a board of corporators and giving them authority to open books of subscription after public notice not exceeding ten days. A corporation can not be organized until 50 per cent of the proposed capital stock has been subscribed. Upon the completion of the organization and payment to the treasurer of the corporation of at least 20 per cent of the aggregate amount of the capital subscribed, the board of corporators or a majority of them shall, over their signatures, certify to the secretary of state that the requirements of this act have been complied with. The board of corporators on making their return shall pay to the secretary of state a charter fee: "When the said Charter is issued or renewed, the sum of one mill upon each dollar of the capital stock authorized up to and including $100,000; the sum of one-half of a mill upon each dollar of the capital stock exceeding $100,000 and up to and including $1,000,000; and the sum of one-fourth of a mill upon each dollar of the capital stock exceeding $1,000,000; for recording each declaration, petition or return precedent to the granting of any commission of corporators, charter, amendment of charter or increase, or decrease of capital stock, or renewal of charter, required by law to be recorded in said office, the sum of $2.50 for each paper so recorded; for filing each declaration or other paper, by any foreign corporation, $5.00; for filing each charter granted in another State and by-laws adopted thereunder, or either required by law to be filed, $5.00: Provided, That nothing herein contained shall be construed to apply to municipal charters: Provided, further, that nothing herein contained shall be construed to increase the fees for churches, lodges, colleges, schools or other eleemosynary organizations." No fee less than $5.00 in addition to the recording fee. Upon the filing of return and the receipt of the recording fee of three dollars and the charter fee hereinbefore specified the secretary of state shall issue to the board of coporators a certificate to be known as the charter, which must be recorded in the office of the register of mesne conveyance of each county where such corporation shall have a business office. Provided, that in cases when by the terms of the declaration the capital stock is to be paid in in installments, the charter may be issued when 50 per cent of the first installment has been paid in and the provisions of this are in other respects complied with. There is no stock liability in corporations organized under the constitution of 1895 and the of code of 1912 except in the case of banking corporations which has already been stated. The legislature is prohibited from passing any special charter for banking corporations, and all corporations must be organized under this act, except those enumerated above. As to dissolution of corporations, see Code 1912, 2812 to 2821.

Corporations. Unlawful discrimination for the purpose of destroying the business of any competitor in any locality by selling at a lower rate in one section than another is prohibited, and any person thus discriminating is subject to a penalty of not less than $500 or more than $5,000. In case of a corporation breaching this act, it becomes the duty of the secretary of the state to immediately revoke the permit of the corporation to do business in this State.

Corporations become subject to a penalty of not less than $500 if they pay any dividends unless actually earned.

Any officer of a corporation who wilfully uses the name of such corporation or his connection with it as officer thereof to obtain any credit or anything of value without authority from the corporation, shall be punished by imprisonment in the state penitentiary for not more than ten years.

The president or other officer who has the custody of the funds of any domestic corporation in this state shall annually make a report to each and every stockholder of such corporation who asks for it and a general itemized statement showing the actual assets and liabilities of the corporation and is guilty of a misdemeanor if he fails to comply with the request.

The act does not apply to railroads, banking or building and loan corporations.

Costs. Costs are allowed and follow the result of the action and are entered up in the judgment against the losing party.

Courts. Terms and Jurisdiction. Courts of common pleas are held three times a year in each county, and have jurisdiction in all civil cases not cognizable by the magistrates. There is a probate court in each county, holding monthly sessions and possessing the usual powers. Magistrate's jurisdiction, $100. Actions to be tried in the county where land lies or in which the defendant resides.

Creditors' Bills. (See Suits.)

Days of Grace. Days of grace are not allowed in this State on any paper.

Deeds of Trust. Deeds of trust are sometimes used within this State, but the usual form is by way of mortgage, whether the same concerns either real or personal property, and a deed of trust for the purpose of securing a creditor would be construed by the courts to be a mortgage.

Depositions. Testimony of any witness may be taken in any civil action depending in the court of common pleas for any county in this State, by deposition de bene esse—when the witness lives without the county in which such cause is to be tried, or more than 100 miles from the place of trial, or is bound on a voyage to sea, or is about to go out of the State or county in which the cause is to be tried or when he is aged or infirm. The deposition may be taken before any circuit judge of this State, or any of the circuit courts, or any trial justice, notary public, chancellor, judge or justice of the supreme court, or chief magistrate of a city in any of the United States. Notice not less than ten days must be given to the opposite party, stating the time, place and name of witness.

Descent and Distribution of Intestate's Property. Property of person dying intestate shall be distributed as follows: Leaving a widow and children, one-third to the widow, remainder to the children; when he leaves no child, but a widow, father or mother, brother or sister of the whole blood, the widow is entitled to one moiety, and the other moiety goes to father, mother, brother or sister, children of a deceased brother or sister to represent parents; to take the share they would have been entitled to if living. When the intestate leaves no child or other lineal descendant, father, mother, brother or sister of the whole blood, but leaves a widow and brothers and sisters of the half blood and a child of a brother or sister of the whole blood, the widow takes one moiety and the other moiety is equally divided between the brothers and sisters of the half blood and the children of the brothers and sisters of the whole blood. If intestate leaves no child or lineal descendant, father, brother, mother or sister, the widow takes one moiety and the lineal ancestor the other. If intestate leaves no child or lineal descendants, father, mother, brother or lineal ancestor, the widow takes two-thirds of the estate and remainder goes to next of kin.

Descent and Distribution. Illegitimate children shall be heirs at law of the mother, so far as her property is concerned. The mother shall inherit from such child or children as if the child had been legitimate. In case of wrongful death of such child, or mother of such child, by negligent act of another such child or such mother shall have the same rights and remedies in regard to such wrongful death or negligent act as though the child had been born in lawful wedlock.

Dower. Widow is entitled to one-third for life, of the lands which her deceased husband was seized in fee at any time during their marriage.

Dower may be renounced by the wife, if she be without this State, by dedimus or before any minister, ambassador, consul general, consul, vice-consul, deputy consul, consular agent, commercial agent of the United States or any other officer appointed by the United States in foreign countries with the power to administer oaths and having an official seal, or a clerk of a court of record or before a notary public, who must each append to the certificate the official seal used by him.

Evidence. (See Depositions.)

Executions may issue five days after the adjournment of each court, and are returnable within sixty days. Stay is only granted on appeal given. Executions may issue at any time within ten years from date of judgment. The clerk shall not, without special leave of the court, enter any judgment until the expiration of five days after the court has adjourned for the term.

Fidelity and Surety Bonds. Fidelity and surety companies are accepted as surety on all bonds of every description in this State, including stipulations and other bonds required in judicial proceedings, provided such foreign surety companies comply with the law governing foreign insurance companies.

Fire Insurance Companies are required in case of total loss to pay the full amount of insurance provided for in the policy, and a proportionate amount in case of partial loss. No statement in the application shall be held to prevent a recovery before a jury in case of partial or total loss, and after the expiration of sixty days the insurer is estopped to deny the truth of the statement in the application except for fraud.

Foreign Building and Loan Associations. Mortgages on lands in this state are subject to usury laws of this state. No greater rate than 8 per cent can be charged.

Foreign Corporations. All foreign corporations within sixty days from acquiring property or commencing business in this State, are required to file in the office of the secretary of state a written declaration designating some place within the State as principal place of business, at which all legal papers can be served, and also some authorized agent within the State upon whom process can be served to bind the corporation. A number of other requirements exist concerning the filing with the secretary of state of copies of the charter and by-laws and other matters of detail. The act is very mandatory in its provisions, and a fine of $500 is imposed for non-compliance.

Foreign Judgments. Foreign judgments may be sued on in this State and do not constitute a lien till judgment is recovered in this jurisdiction.

Fraud. The statute of frauds and perjuries, commonly known as "the Statute of Elizabeth," is of force in this State.

Garnishment. No garnishment law in this State. (See Attachment.)

Guaranty Companies. (See Fidelity and Surety Bonds.)

Holidays. National thanksgiving days and all general election days, the 1st day of January, the 19th of January, the 22d of February, 4th of July, 25th of December, first Monday in September, the 10th of May, and the 3d day of June of each year shall be legal holidays. In Charleston and Richland County every Saturday from 12 noon to 12 midnight is a legal half-holiday so far as regards commercial paper. Thursday in fair week in county in which State fair is held. No date fixed; usually in November, in Richland County.

Homestead. Real property of the value of $1,000 and personal property of the value of $500 shall be exempt from levy and sale.

Husband and Wife. (See Married Women.)

Injunctions. Writs of injunction may issue according to the principles and course of the common law not inconsistent with the constitution, subject on motion of either party to re-examination, affirmation, or reversal and final adjudication by the proper jurisdiction.

Insolvency. (See Assignments and Insolvency.)

Insurance Companies. Recent act enacts that all suits brought against any and all fire, life or other insurance companies doing business in this State may be brought in the county where the loss occurred; providing further for a change of venue on certain conditions.

Interest. No greater rate of interest than 7 per cent per annum can be charged upon any contract arising in the State, except upon written contracts, wherein by express agreement, a rate of interest not exceeding 8 per cent may be charged. Any person or corporation receiving a greater rate of interest than 8 per cent shall not only forfeit the interest, but also double the sum so usuriously received, to be collected by a separate action or allowed as a counter-claim to any action brought to recover the principal. By act of 1898 the borrower, his heirs, devisees, legatees, personal representative, or any creditor can plead the benefit of this statute.

Investment Companies: Investment Companies, before selling or offering for sale any securities of its own issue, shall file in the office of the Insurance Commissioner a detailed plan of how it proposes to transact its business, a copy of all contracts, etc., which it proposes to make or sell with its contributors or customers, a copy of the prospectus and advertisement, the names of its officers, and an itemized account of its financial condition. If it is a foreign investment Company, it shall also file a copy of the laws under which it is incorporated and of its Charter and of its Constitution and Bylaws, and shall pay a filing fee of one-tenth of one per cent upon the face value of the securities for the sale of which application is made. The Insurance Commissioner shall be made the party upon whom process shall be served.

The Commissioner is authorized to investigate and upon the information to issue a license, and it is unlawful to advertise or offer securities without the Commissioner's certificate; and on or before the 1st day of April in each year a statement must be filed with the Commissioner showing the condition at the close of business on the preceding December 31st.

Judgments are a lien on lands within the county for ten years from the time of entry and may be renewed by process before expiration of ten years for ten years more, which lien may be extended to other counties by filing transcript.

Jurisdictions. (See Courts.)

License. Licenses are regulated by the municipal authorities.

Liens. Special liens are created by statute. There is a landlord's lien for his rent, the lien for agricultural advances, the mechanic's lien on buildings, the special statutory lien given both to the State, county, and certain of the cities for taxes. All employes in factories, mines, mills, distilleries, and all other manufacturing establishments, have a lien by statute upon all the output of such manufacturing establishments to the extent of their salary or wages, such lien to take precedence over all other liens except for taxes. Landlord's lien for rent extended to "his assigns."

Limitations of Suits. Upon contracts not under seal, sealed notes or personal bonds, six years; judgments or decrees of any court, and upon sealed instruments (except as above), twenty years; to recover real property, ten years; actions for libel, slander, assault, battery, or false imprisonment, and actions upon a statute for a forfeiture or penalty to the State, two years.

Married Women. Article 17, section 9, of the constitution provides the real and personal property of a woman held at the time of her marriage, or that which she may thereafter acquire, whether by gift, grant, inheritance, devise or otherwise, shall be her separate property, and she shall have the rights incident to the same to which an unmarried woman or a man is entitled. She shall have the power to contract and be contracted with in the same manner as if she were unmarried.

Merchants. It shall be unlawful for any merchant or corporation engaged in buying and selling merchandise, while he or it is indebted to sell the entire stock of merchandise in bulk, or the major portion thereof otherwise than in the ordinary course of trade without his making a full and complete inventory, the values therein being set at the ruling wholesale prices thereof, and making also a full schedule of all persons, etc., to whom indebted, giving the postoffice address of each creditor and the amount owing. This to be done under oath. Seller to deliver said inventory and schedule to the proposed purchaser and they each to preserve such papers for six months after such sale and purchase, open to inspection of creditors. Ten days before conclusion of sale, seller and purchaser shall give written or printed notice of such sale and purchase to creditors named in said schedule. Such notice shall state aggregate value of merchandise, consideration and the time of making payment.

In failing to carry out these provisions such sale shall prima facie be presumed to be fraudulent and void as against creditors of the seller, and the merchandise wherever found shall be liable to such creditors, and if any of the merchandise be withdrawn by said purchaser, the purchaser shall be liable to said creditors personally to the extent of the value of the merchandise withdrawn. Notice sent by registered mail shall be conclusively presumed notice to the creditors to whom named.

Mines and Mining. Mines and mining of phosphate rock is regulated by the State by which a royalty is paid to the State on every ton so mined, to be paid by parties licensed to mine.

Mortgages. All mortgages, whether of real estate or chattels, must be recorded within ten days. Mortgages of realty are foreclosed by ordinary suit of complaint and summons, and chattel mortgages are enforced by mortgagee taking possession of the goods and selling them. Different books must be provided by clerks and registers of mesne conveyances of the several counties, for the recording of chattel mortgages and mortgages on real estate. Renunciation of dower by a married minor valid. Chattel mortgages after breach of condition and before sale may be discharged by payment or tender of payment.

Lands can not be sold under power contained in mortgage unless the mortgagor agrees in writing on the face of the mortgage to the amount due thereupon within twelve months.

Negotiable Instruments Law. The Negotiable Instruments Law as of force in most of the States was made of force in South Carolina, in April, 1914.

Notaries. Notaries are appointed by the governor and their term of office continues during the pleasure of the governor.

Notes and Bills of Exchange. Bills of exchange and promissory notes, drawn in the usual form, are recognized as commercial paper. There is no law requiring the payment of commercial paper at a bank or other fixed place in the State. No protest is needed on an inland bill. On all bills of exchange drawn on persons resident within the United States, and without this State, and returned protested, the damage on such protested bill shall be 10 per cent on the sum drawn for. On all bills drawn on persons resident in any other part of North America or in the West India Islands, and protested, the damages shall be 12 1-2 per cent. On all bills drawn on persons in any other part of the world, and protested, the damages shall be 15 per cent. Paper falling due on Sunday or legal holiday to be paid the next day thereafter. Instruments falling due on Saturday are to be presented for payment on the next succeeding business day except that instruments payable on demand may at the option of the holder be presented for payment before 12.00 o'clock noon on Saturday when that entire day is not a holiday." (Limited to Charleston and Richland County.) (See Holidays.)

Partnership, Limited and Special. Partnerships are formed; general partners only are authorized to transact business and sign for and bind the partnership. Special partners are not liable for the debts of the partnership beyond the funds so contributed to the capital.

Powers of Attorney. Powers of attorney to be effective in this State, if executed within the State, must be witnessed by at least one witness, and acknowledged before some officer qualified to administer an oath. If without the State, they must be witnessed by a commissioner of deeds of this State, or before a notary public having a seal of office whose official character is certified to by the clerk of a court of record, or before a clerk of a court of record with seal attached, the fact that he is the clerk of the court of record appearing on the certificate.

Probate Law. (See Wills.)

Protest. (See Notes and Bills.)

Recording Laws. (See Acknowledgments.) Registers of Mesne Conveyance are required to keep a file book in which shall be filed all conveyances, mortgages, liens, contracts and papers relating to real and personal property, by entering therein the names of the granter and grantee, mortgagor and mortgagee, obligor and obligee, date of filing, and nature of the instrument, immediately upon its lodgment for record; and such filing shall be notice to all persons sufficient to put them upon inquiry of the purport of the instrument so filed and the property affected thereby (Counties of Clarendon, Colleton and Sumter excepted).

A justice of the peace "who must append to the certificate his official seal" can now take probates without the limits of the State as well as within.

Contracts for conditional sales of personalty title being reserved in the vendor must, in order to protect as against subsequent creditors both lien creditors or simple contract creditors, be put upon record in the same manner as mortgages. Act not applying to livery stable people or persons renting out or hiring property for temporary use, or any personal property deposited as a pledge or collateral to a loan.

Records. The county and state officers are required to keep records in connection with their different offices. Attested copies of such records are good evidence in the courts of this State. Exemplifications of records of other states also allowed if allowed in the states from which copies are exemplified.

Redemption. (See Chattel Mortgages.)

Replevin. (See Claim and Delivery.)

Revision. The laws of this State are revised every ten years under the supervision of a code commissioner elected by the legislature.

Service. Service of process may be made by the sheriff or other disinterested person. A non-resident is served by publication.

Stockholders' Liability. Article 9, section 18, of State constitution provides that stockholders in banks or banking institutions shall be liable to depositors therein in a sum equal in amount to their stock over and above the face value of the same. Under A A of 22d of February, 1905, the stockholders of all insolvent banks and banking institutions, whether heretofore or hereafter incorporated, under act of assembly of this State, either general or special, shall be individually liable to the creditors thereof, other than depositors, only to the extent of the amount remaining due to the corporation upon the stock owned by them; provided, that stockholders in all such banks and banking institutions shall be liable to depositors therein in a sum equal in amount to their stock over and above the face value of the same.

Suits. All distinctions between actions at law and suits in equity have been abolished, and the code of procedure is almost identical with that of New York. Actions relating to real property or for the recovery of specific personal property are brought within the county where the land or property is situated. In all other cases in the county of the defendant's residence; and, if he resides out of the State, then in any county.

Taxes for state purposes are a lien from January 1st of each year, and payable by 31st December of the following year. Immediately upon the expiration of the time allowed by law for the payment of taxes in any year, the county treasurer of each county shall issue in the name of the State an execution against each defaulting taxpayer in his county, under which sufficient personal or real property shall be sold to pay said taxes, the sheriff's deed under such sale shall be prima facie evidence of good title in the purchaser. No action for the recovery of land so sold shall be maintained unless brought within two years from date of said sale. All lands not sold are forfeited to the State. The tax is in all cases a first lien as against the estates of all deceased persons; of bankrupts and insolvents; of all persons making assignments for the benefit of creditors; as against all trust estates; as against all personalty had on chattel mortgage or pledge; as against all personal property held in fraud of creditors; and as against all stocks in trade, etc., of merchants and manufacturers. Property must be listed for taxation between January 1st and February 20th of each year.

Testimony. (See Depositions.)

Transfer of Corporation Stock. Corporation stock is transferred on the books of the company by the owner of the stock or his duly appointed attorney.

Trust Companies. Trusts and combinations made with a view to lessen, or which tend to lessen full and free competition in the importation, sale, or manufacture of articles, or that may lessen or affect in any manner full and free competition in any tariff rates, tolls, premiums, or prices, or seek to control them in any way, in any branch of trade, business, or commerce, are prohibited under penalties.

Warehouse Receipts. Warehouse receipts are negotiable unless otherwise specified on their face.

Wills. All wills of real and personal property must be signed by the testator or some one for him in his presence and by his express request, and be attested and subscribed in the presence of the testator and of each other by three or more credible witnesses. Exemplifications of wills regularly proved in foreign courts may be admitted to probate on certificate of judge of such court.

Typewriting is authorized by the statute.

THE LAWS OF SOUTH DAKOTA

Prepared and Revised by Messrs. BAILEY & VOORHEES, Attorneys at Law, Sioux Falls. (See Card in Attorneys' List.)

Acknowledgments. The official should certify that before him "personally appeared ....., known to me to be the person who is described in and who executed the within instrument, and acknowledged to me that he executed the same;" and in the case of a corporation, that before me personally appeared ....., known to me to be the president (or secretary) of the corporation that is described in and that executed the within instrument, and acknowledged to me that such corporation executed the same.

Actions. South Dakota is a code state and all distinctions between actions at law and suits in equity, as to the forms of such actions and suits, are abolished. A non-resident plaintiff must give security for costs upon order of the court made upon application of the defendant.

Administration of Estates is had in the county court. Notice for proving claims must be given by publication for four weeks. In all estates under $5,000 in value claims must be presented within four months from the first publication of the notice; in estates exceeding $5,000 in value, within six months from such publication. There is no public administrator.

Affidavits. An affidavit may be made in and out of this State before anyone authorized to administer an oath, and must be authenticated in the same way.

Aliens. Any person, whether citizen or alien, may take, hold, and dispose of property, real or personal, within this State.

Arbitration. There is no provision in the code for arbitration. An agreement to submit a controversy to arbitration can not be specifically enforced.

Arrest. In certain classes of civil actions chiefly those in which fraud enters, the defendant may be arrested. This remedy is seldom used and the procedure is technical. A bond must be given by the plaintiff before the arrest can be made.

Assignments and Insolvency. A law providing for assignments for the benefit of creditors is in force. The assignee acts under the direction of the circuit court. The operation of the law has been practically suspended by the National Bankruptcy Act.

Attachment process issues at the time of issuing the summons or at any time afterward in all actions against a foreign corporation which has not complied with the laws of this State relative to the appointment of agents upon whom service of process may be made (see Corporations, Foreign, post), or non-resident defendant, or when defendant has absconded or concealed himself, or whenever any person or corporation is about to remove any of his or its property from this State, or has assigned, disposed of, or secreted any of his or its property, or is about to do so with intent to defraud creditors. Plaintiff must make affidavit and furnish bond in not less than $250, and at least the amount claimed in circuit courts, and at least $50 and not exceeding $300 in justice's courts. Real and personal property, debts, moneys, credits, and bank-notes may be attached or levied on under execution or attachment.

Banks. Banking associations may be formed to do general banking except issuing bills as money. Capital required is graded: Towns of 1,500 or less, at least $15,000; towns of over 1,500 and not more than 2,500, at least $20,000; towns of over 2,500 and not less than 5,000, at least $25,000; and in towns of over 5,000, at least $50,000. Shares of stock must be $100 each. Each director must own at least five shares of stock. Each shareholder is individually responsible, equally and ratably and not one for the other, for the benefit of creditors of the bank to the amount of their stock, at par value thereof, in addition to the amount invested in said stock.

Collaterals. There are no statutory provisions concerning them. The common law governs.

Conditional Sales. All sales of personal property where the possession is delivered to the vendee on condition that the title shall remain in the vendor until the purchase money is paid shall vest such title in the vendee as to third persons without notice of such conditions, unless such contract is in writing and filed with the register of deeds of the county where the vendee resides.

Consignments. There are no penal provisions regarding consignments.

Conveyances. Conveyances of real estate or mortgages thereof must be by an instrument in writing, subscribed by the party disposing of the same, or by his agent having written authority. To entitle such conveyance to be recorded, it must be acknowledged as provided by law. (See Acknowledgments.) The seal of a grantor or mortgagor is not required, and its absence does not invalidate or in any manner impair a conveyance. Every conveyance of real estate other than a lease for a term not exceeding one year, is void as against any subsequent purchaser or encumbrancer, including an assignee of a mortgage or lease, in good faith and for a valuable consideration, whose conveyance is first duly recorded. The word "conveyance" embraces every instrument in writing by which any estate or interest in real property is mortgaged, aliened, or encumbered, or by which the title to any real property may be affected, except wills, executory contracts of sale and powers of attorney. An instrument containing a power to convey, or to execute instruments affecting real property, can not be revoked except by an instrument in writing, properly acknowledged and recorded in the same office in which the instrument containing the power was recorded. Real estate may be conveyed or mortgaged by the owner thereof alone, unless the same is a homestead, when both the husband and wife must join in the conveyance or incumbrance. A conveyance need not be witnessed. The only instruments which need be witnessed in this State are chattel mortgages, satisfactions thereof, and wills, which must have two witnesses. Quitclaim deeds, unless otherwise stated therein, have substantially the same effect as special warranty deeds. Deeds executed subsequently to June 30, 1911, to be entitled to record, must contain the postoffice address of the grantee.

Corporations. Corporations are formed under general laws, and can be formed by the association of three or more persons for the following purposes: Mining, manufacturing, and other industrial pursuits, and for any other lawful business; the construction or operation of railroads, wagon roads, irrigating ditches; for colleges, seminaries, churches, libraries, benevolent, charitable, and scientific associations; for conducting the business of insurance, banks of discount and deposit, and for loan, trust, and guarantee associations. The articles of incorporation must show the name of the corporation, the purpose for which it is formed, the place where its principal business is to be transacted, the term for which it is to exist, the number of its directors, and the names and residence of such of them who are to serve until the election of such officers; the amount of its capital stock and the number of shares into which it is divided. The articles of incorporation of any railroad or wagon road must also state the kind of road intended to be constructed, the place from and to which it is intended to be run, the counties through which it is intended to be run, and the estimated length of the road. The articles must be subscribed by three or more persons, one-third of whom must be residents of the State and acknowledged before some competent officer. The articles must be filed with the secretary of state, and can be amended at any regular annual meeting of the stockholders, or at a special meeting called for that purpose. Each stockholder is individually and personally liable for the debts of the corporation to the extent of the amount that is unpaid upon the stock that is held by him.

Corporations, Foreign. No foreign corporation, unless it be created for religious and charitable purposes only, or unless its business in the State consists exclusively in loaning money on real estate security, shall transact any business within this State (except such as comes within the commerce clause of the Federal Constitution, not affecting the police powers of the state) or acquire, hold and dispose of property, real, personal or mixed, within this State, or sue or maintain any action at law or otherwise, in any of the courts of this State, until such corporation shall have filed in the office of the secretary of state a duly authenticated copy of its charter or articles of incorporation, and shall have appointed some resident of this State as its agent for the service of process in any action in this State in which said corporation may be a party. Said appointment must be filed in the office of the secretary of state and in the office of the register of deeds of the county wherein said agent resides.

Courts. Terms and Jurisdiction. Circuit courts, except in the cases hereinafter stated in which their jurisdiction is concurrent with the county and municipal courts, have exclusive chancery and common law jurisdiction above $100, and where title to real property is concerned. Courts sit twice a year in nearly all the counties. County courts hold two terms a year and are always open for business. They have exclusive probate jurisdiction, and in counties of a population of 10,000 civil jurisdiction concurrent with the circuit courts to $1,000; they have no civil jurisdiction in counties of a less population. Justice's jurisdiction, $100. Circuit courts also have concurrent jurisdiction with justices' courts for sums less than $100. Municipal Courts, which exist in a few cities, have concurrent jurisdiction with the Circuit Court throughout the county in which the city is located, in civil cases in which the amount involved is five hundred dollars or less.

Depositions may be taken when witness does not reside in the county where the action is brought, or is absent therefrom; or when from age, infirmity, or imprisonment witness is unable to attend court; either party may commence taking at any time after service, and may be taken in the State before judge or clerk of the supreme court, or circuit court; or before a justice of the peace, notary public, United States, district court commissioner, or any person empowered by special commission. May be taken out of the State by a judge, justice, or chancellor, or clerk of any court of record, justice of the peace, notary public, mayor of any city, a commissioner appointed by the governor to take depositions, or any person authorized by the special commission from any court of this State. The officer before whom taken must not be interested, or relative, or attorney of either party. Are taken upon notice, signed by attorney, and the adverse party must be given sufficient time to travel to the place of taking by the usual route, and one day for preparation, exclusive of Sundays and day of service; and may be adjourned from day to day. Must be written by the officer or in his presence by the witness, or some disinterested person, and subscribed to by the witness. When taken must be sealed up, indorsed with title of the cause, name of officer taking the same, and by him addressed and transmitted to the clerk of the court where action is pending; must be filed at least one day before trial.

Descent and Distribution of Property. The property both real and personal, of one who dies without disposing of it by will, passes to the heirs of the intestate, subject to the control of the probate court, and to the possession of any administrator appointed by that court for the purpose of administration; and descends, and must be distributed, in the following manner: If the decedent leave a surviving husband or wife, and only one child, or the lawful issue of one child, in equal shares to the surviving husband or wife, and child or issue of such child; if the decedent leave a surviving husband or wife and more than one child living, or one child living and the lawful issue of one or more deceased children, one-third to the surviving husband or wife, and the remainder in equal shares to his children, and to the lawful issue of any deceased child; if the decedent leave no surviving husband or wife, but leaves issue, the whole estates comes to such issue; if the deceased leaves no issue and the estate does not exceed $5,000, all the estate goes to the surviving husband or wife; if the estate exceeds $5,000, the first $5,000 goes to the survivor, and of the excess, one-half goes to the survivor and the other half to the decedent's father and mother in equal shares, and if either is dead, the whole of such other half goes to the other, but if neither such father nor mother survive, such other half goes in equal shares to the brothers and sisters of the decedent, and to the children of any deceased brother or sister. If decedent leave no issue, nor husband, nor wife, the estate comes to the father and mother in equal shares, or if either is dead, then to the other; if there be no issue, husband, wife, father, nor mother, then in equal shares to the brothers and sisters of decedent, and the children of any deceased brother or sister, by right of representation. If the decedent leave a surviving husband or wife and no issue, and no father mother brother, or sister, the whole estate goes to the surviving husband or wife. If the decedent leave no husband, wife, or kindred, the estate escheats to the State for the support of common schools. Kindred of half blood inherit equally with those of whole blood in the same degree, unless the inheritance came to the intestate by descent, devise, or gift of some one of his ancestors, in which case persons not of the blood of such ancestor are excluded.

Dower. Dower and curtesy are abolished.

Executions issue as of course at any time within five years after judgment, and must be returned within sixty days. Lands levied on need not be appraised, but notice of sale must be given. Same provisions apply in justice's courts as to levy, etc., on personal property. There is no stay law, and execution can only be stayed by order of the court for irregularity, by injunction, or by appeal with security given. Real estate sold under execution may be redeemed within one year.

Exemptions allowed are a homestead not exceeding one acre in area, if within a town plat, or 160 acres if not. The homestead exemption is limited to $5,000 in value. Certain personal property is absolutely exempt, such as family pictures, school books, lot in a family burying ground, etc. Additional personal property exemptions to the amount of $750 are allowed and may be claimed to the head of a family, and to a single person to the value of $300. In lieu of the same certain specific articles may be selected and held as exempt

Garnishment. This remedy lies in all courts, upon affidavit for in showing indebtedness, and that some person or corporation within the State has property, money, or credits in his hands or under his control belonging to the defendant. No undertaking is required. Property must be delivered and money paid into court or undertaking given to the plaintiff, with sureties, that the judgment if recovered will be paid. The garnishee may defend for himself.

Husband and Wife. (See Married Women, post.)

Interest. Legal rate, 7 per cent; but parties may contract in writing for 12 per cent, except that in real estate loans the rate shall not exceed 10 per cent including commissions. Usury forfeits all interest. Interest on open accounts runs from date of last item charged, whether debit or credit. Legal rate allowed on judgments is 7 per cent from date and after property sold on execution during the year of redemption, 7 per cent.

Judgments of courts of record are a lien on all real estate in the county where the judgment was recovered and in the counties to which it is transcripted, except the homestead for ten years from time such judgment is docketed in the clerk's office of the county where the judgment was entered and are good for twenty years. In courts of record judgment may be obtained within thirty days after service of summons and complaint; in justices' courts, four days, where no defense is interposed.

Liens. Mechanics, laborers, and furnishers of material, machinery, or fixtures, by virtue of any contract with the owner, his agent, trustee, contractor or sub-contractor, for any building, erection, or other improvements upon land, have for labor done or material, machinery, or fixtures furnished, a lien upon such building, erection, or improvement, and upon the land belonging to such owner on which the same is situated, to secure the payment of such labor, materials, material machinery, or fixtures furnished. A verified account of the amount of the lien claimed must be filed in the office of the register of deeds of the county wherein the property is located within ninety days after such materials shall have been furnished and labor performed, as against some classes of public service corporations the account or claim is to be filed in the office of the secretary of state. No person is entitled to mechanic's lien who has taken collateral security upon the same contract. Any person owning and operating a threshing machine may have a lien upon the grain threshed by the machine for the threshing thereof.

Limitations. Personal actions, two years; on contracts or obligations, six years: on sealed instruments and action affecting real property, twenty years, and on judgments, or decrees of any court other than the courts of this State, ten years: of the courts of this State, twenty years.

Married Women retain their own real and personal property, and may make contracts, sue and be sued, as if sole. Neither husband nor wife has any interest in the property of the other. Dower and curtesy are abolished. Married women retain the same legal existence and personality after as before marriage, and shall receive the same protection of all rights as a woman which her husband does as a man, and has the same right to sue in her own name as her husband has in his.

Mortgages on real property are executed same as deeds. The execution of a mortgage upon a homestead, even though if be for part of the purchase price, by both husband and wife is necessary to its validity. Mortgages containing a power of sale may be foreclosed by advertisement. Chattel mortgages must be executed in the presence of two witnesses and it must appear from the mortgage that duplicate of it has been received by the mortgagee. The mortgage is void as against creditors and subsequent purchasers and encumbrancers in good faith and for value unless it is filed in the office of the register of deeds of the county where the mortgaged property is situated. The mortgage outlaws unless within thirty days next preceding the expiration of three years from the time of filing an affidavit for renewal showing the amount then due, is filed in the office of the register of deeds. This renews the mortgage for three years. Chattel mortgages may be foreclosed by advertisements. Real estate mortgages and assignments thereof, to be entitled to record, must contain the postoffice address of the mortgagee or assignee, as the case may be.

Notes and Bills of Exchange. The uniform Negotiable Instruments Law has been in force since July 1, 1913.

Powers of Attorney. A power of attorney to convey or mortgage real property must be acknowledged and recorded in the office of the register of deeds of the county in which the property is situated and can only be revoked by an instrument in writing acknowledged and recorded in the same office. (See Acknowledgments and Conveyances.)

Probate Law. (See Administration, Descent and Distribution, and Wills.)

Protest. (See Notes and Bills of Exchange.)

Redemption. A judgment debtor or his successor in interest or a creditor having a subsequent lien by mortgage or judgment may redeem from the sale of real property under execution or foreclosure within twelve months from the date of sale. Successive redemption may be made by such creditors within sixty days after the preceeding redemption. There is no right of redemption in case of a sale of personal property.

Replevin. Personal property wrongfully taken or detained may be replevined by the owner or party entitled to possession. A replevin bond in double the value of the property must be furnished.

Sales in Bulk. A bulk sales law is in force.

Sales of Securities. A law regulating the sale of certain classes of securities, commonly spoken of as a blue-sky law, is in force.

Taxes become due and payable on the first day of January, and delinquent on the first day of April, following and draw 12 per cent interest thereafter until paid, or the land is sold as hereinafter stated, the interest being added on the first day of each month. Lands are sold on the first Monday of December following, and may be redeemed within two years by payment of purchase money and interest at the rate of 15 per cent per annum (sometimes less, depending on the terms of the sale) and all taxes subsequently paid. Taxes become a lien on real property as between vendor and vendee on the first day of January, and if personal property taxes are not paid by the first day of July the county treasurer, who is the tax collector, may proceed to enforce the collection of them by distress and sale. An inheritance tax law went into effect July 1, 1905. The tax depends upon the value of the property and the degree of relationship.

Warehouse Receipts. The uniform Warehouse Receipts Law has been in force since July 1, 1913.

Wills. Every person over the age of eighteen years, of sound mind, may, by last will, dispose of all his or her estate, real and personal. A married woman may dispose of all her separate estate by will, without the consent of her husband. A will must be subscribed at the end thereof by the testator himself, or some person in his presence, and by his direction, must subscribe his name thereto. Unless the will be an holographic will, the subscription must be made in the presence of the attesting witnesses, or be acknowledged by the testator to them, to have been made by him, or by his attorney. The testator must at the time declare to the attesting witnesses that it is his will. There must be two attesting witnesses who must sign their names to the end of the will, at the testator's request and in his presence. Nuncupative wills are valid when the estate bequeathed does not exceed in value $1,000. Must be proved by two witnesses. The decedent must, at the time of making, have been in military service, in the field or at sea, or at the time in expectation of immediate death from injury received the same day.

THE LAWS OF TENNESSEE

Prepared and Revised by WALTER STOKES, Attorney at Law, Nashville. (See Card in Attorney's List.)

Acknowledgments within the State must be taken before a chancellor or judge of any court of record, or clerk of a county court, or his deputy, or a notary public. In other States, before any judge or clerk of a court of record, notary public, or commissioner of Tennessee. The certificate of a notary public or a commissioner, under his seal of office, is sufficient proof of his official character, and this must state when such officer's commission expires. If before a judge of a court of record, his official character must be certified to by the clerk of his court, under his official seal, or private seal, if there is no official seal, or by the governor of his State, under the great seal of said State. If before a clerk of a court of record, and certified by him under his seal of office, the judge, chief justice, or presiding magistrate shall certify to the clerk's official character. If made out of the United States, must be under seal before a commissioner of Tennessee, notary public, or an ambassador, minister, or consul of the United States.

Actions. All contracts may be sued on in the same form of action The common law forms and pleadings modified by statute are used. Non-residents must in all cases give bond.

Administration. Letters of administration ar granted: 1. To the husband or widow; 2. To the next of kin; 3. To the largest creditor; 4. To the public administrator, if no one applies in six months. All property, real and personal, except what is exempted and what widow takes, are assets for payment of debts. Preferred debts are, funeral expenses, expense of administration, and debts due the State. (For widows' rights, see Husband and Wife.) Insolvent estates, not exceeding the value of $1,000, may be administered in county courts. Of such estates of greater value, county and chancery court have concurrent jurisdiction. Executor or administrator makes suggestion of insolvency to county court; clerk thereupon requires executor or administrator to give notice in a newspaper published in the State and at court house door of the county for creditors to file their claims, by a day fixed in said notice, which day shall not be less than three, nor more than six months after day of said notice, and any claim not filed on or before said day, or before a distribution of the funds is made, is forever barred in both law and equity. The assets of insolvent estates, after preferred debts above enumerated and exempt articles are deducted and widow's rights are allowed, are divided ratably among the creditors, whose claims have been properly filed. (For claims against executors or administrators of other estates, see Limitations of Suits.)

Affidavits may be taken in another State of the Union, or foreign country, for use in this State, before a commissioner of Tennessee. Answers and other pleadings in chancery, may be sworn to before a commissioner of Tennessee, notary public, justice of the peace, judge of a court of record, or clerks of such court, or special commissioner appointed by Tennessee court or clerk. The certificate of the commissioner, notary public, and clerk must be under seal of office. The certificate of the judge or justice of the peace must be authenticated by the certificate of the clerk of the court wherein the judge or justice presides.

Aliens. An alien, resident or non-resident, may take and hold property, real or personal, in this State, either by purchase, descent, or devise and dispose of and transmit same by sale, descent, or devise, as a native citizen.

Assignments. The Act of 1895 regulating general assignment was declared unconstitutional by the supreme court and the Act of 1881 goes back into effect. Under this act, preferences in general assignment are not allowed but special assignments are made with preferences, and under these the act of 1881 as to general assignments is practically rendered nugatory.

Attachment process will issue when the debtor resides out of the State; is about to remove, or has removed himself or property out of the State; has removed or is removing himself from the county privately; is concealing himself, so that the ordinary process of law cannot be served upon him; absconds or is absconding or concealing himself or property; has fraudulently disposed of, or is about fraudulently to dispose of his property; or when any person, liable for any debts, residing out of the State, dies, leaving property in the State. Attachment will also issue on demands not due, in all the above cases except the first; also in above cases at suit of surety, as accommodation endorser on paper due and not due. When debtor and creditor are non-residents of this State, and are residents of the same State, the creditor shall not attach, unless the property has been fraudulently removed to evade process in said State. Debts due and owing to the defendant, and property of the defendant of any kind in the hands of a third person, are subject to garnishment. Statutory liens on personal property, when no method of enforcing same has been provided by the statute creating them, may be enforced by original attachment levied on property on which lien exists, whether in hands of creditor, owner, or other party not an innocent purchaser. A foreign corporation, having complied with law of Tennessee, and doing business therein, and having no agent in county in which suit is brought upon whom process can be served, may be proceeded against by attachment.

Banks. All persons and partnerships paying taxes for the use of money, as money dealers, may receive deposits, issue checks or bills of exchange, or discount bills, notes, etc., but shall not be allowed to charge on bills a greater discount than legal interest and exchange.

Any company incorporated under the laws of Tennessee, having, by its charter, the right to receive money in trust or otherwise, has the power to receive deposits and loan same, and its capital on any kind of commercial or business paper or real estate, buy and sell exchange, and all kinds of public or private securities and commercial paper. State banks may be chartered at any time in same manner as other private corporations, and, if they so choose, may couple with the usual banking business, a safe deposit and trust company. They may do all acts usually performed by banks. Allow 3 per cent interest on deposits, advance money on real and personal property, and sell same; and, if the safe deposit and trust feature is added, may take on deposit jewelry and other valuables and guarantee the preservation and delivery of same; guarantee the titles to real estate and the payment of bonds and mortgages; execute trusts of every description; and own a vault, and rent out boxes for the keeping of valuables, but shall not be liable for loss by fire, theft, or other cause. Stockholders not liable, except for payment of stock subscribed by each. There is no law regulating the class of bonds in which savings banks may invest.

The Legislature of 1913 passed an act creating a Banking Department to regulate, examine, control and supervise banks (see Chapter 20, Senate Bill 174, Acts of Tennessee, 1913). Under this act every corporation doing a banking business under the laws of the State of Tennessee, whether private or incorporated, shall be subject to the supervision and inspection of the Superintendent of Banks, who shall examine every banking concern in the State at least twice each year. The word "bank" or "banker" means every trust company, loan company, mortgage security company, safe deposit company, receiving money on deposit and every individual, firm or corporation doing a banking, loan or discount business and receiving money on deposit and performing the functions of a bank. The Superintendent of Banks shall also have the power to examine every agency of any foreign bank located in the State. If the Superintendent of Banks finds upon examination that a bank is in an unsafe condition or is insolvent or unable to meet its obligations in the ordinary course of business, he shall require the bank or its officers or directors to execute a good solvent bond in an amount sufficient to protect its depositors and other unsecured creditors. In case the bank refuses or fails to thus protect its despositors, the Superintendent of Banks shall file a petition in the Chancery Court, requiring the bank to show cause within five days why it should not be adjudged insolvent. Pending the hearing or the preparation of bond, the Superintendent of Banks shall take charge of the affairs of the bank and hold them in status quo. No "bank" shall reduce its cash on hand below 10 per cent of its demand deposits, although the bank may include in its cash the amount of money on deposit on demand with other responsible banks. Every bank must make, on the call of the Superintendent, two reports each year, according to the form and at the time prescribed by the Superintendent, one of these calls shall be in the first half of the year and the other in the latter half of the year. The expenses of the Banking Department are to be defrayed by the banks of the State in proportion to each bank's combined capital, surplus and undivided profits, the amount per bank ranging from $10 per year for a bank with $10,000 capital, surplus and undivided profits to $500 per year for a bank whose capital, surplus and undivided profits are $1,000,000 or more.

Bills and Notes. By act of legislature, passed April 6 1899, chapter 94 of laws of 1899, a general law relating to negotiable instruments was passed, "Being an act to establish a law uniform with the laws of other states on that subject." An instrument to be negotiable must conform to the following requirements: 1. It must be in writing, and signed by the maker or drawer. 2. Must contain an unconditional promise or order to pay a certain sum in money. 3. Must be payable on demand, or at a fixed or determinable future time. 4. Must be payable to order or bearer. 5. Where the instrument is addressed to a drawee, he must be named or otherwise indicated therein with reasonable certainty. Negotiability is not affected by a provision authorizing sale of collateral securities, or confession of judgment, or which waives benefit of any law intended for the protection of the obligor, or gives the holder an election to require something to be done in lieu of payment of money. Every negotiable instrument is payable at the time fixed therein, without grace. When the day of maturity falls upon Sunday, or a holiday, the instrument is payable on the next succeeding business day. Instruments falling due on Saturday are to be presented for payment on the next succeeding business day, except that instruments payable on demand may, at the option of the holder, be presented for payment before 12 o'clock noon on Saturday, when that entire day is not a holiday. Notice of non-payment must be given to the drawer and to each indorser. For details of the law of bills and notes, reference is made to chapter 94, of the laws of Tennessee, 1899.

Conveyances. A fee simple estate is presumed to pass by grant of real property, unless it appears from the grant that a less estate was intended; and word "heirs" not necessary to create fee simple estate. Wife must join to convey homestead. Private seals are abolished. No attesting witnesses required by law. Deed should contain covenant of seizin. (See Acknowledgments.)

Corporations. Private corporations, for a variety of purposes embracing every industry, may be formed by five or more persons over the age of twenty-one, copying the form of charter adapted to the purpose, and appending an application to the State of Tenessee for such charter, and acknowledging and registering the same in the county where the principal office is to be situated, and in the office of the secretary of state, and then registering in said county the certificate of registration given by the secretary of state, and a facsimile of the State seal. The amount of capital stock cannot be less than $1,000, and may be changed and new powers added by the board of directors under resolution of stockholders authorizing the proposed amendment, and signing an application therefor to the State of Tennessee, and acknowledging and registering the same in the same way as provided for charters. The general powers of such corporation shall be to sue and be sued, to have and use a common seal, to hold, in addition to personal property real estate necessary for corporate business, and real estate in payment of debts, and to sell realty for corporate purposes, and to establish by-laws, etc., not inconsistent with the laws and constitution, to appoint officers and agents, to designate name of office and officers and compensation of officers, to borrow money and issue notes and stock upon corporate property, and secure same by mortgage.

Foreign Corporations. Every foreign corporation desiring to carry on business in Tennessee shall first file in the office of the secretary of state a copy of its charter, and shall file for record in the register's office of each county where said corporation purposes to do business an abstract of its charter. It is unlawful for such corporation to do business in Tennessee without having first complied with this provision, and a failure to do so subjects the offender to a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $500.

By the acts of 1907, chapter 434, it is provided that all corporations, both foreign and domestic, doing business in Tennessee, shall, in addition to the foregoing, on or before the first day of July, in each year, file with the secretary of state a written statement signed by its president, or vice-president, attested by its secretary, and sworn to by either, which shall state the name and style of the corporation, its principal office or place of business in the State of its creation, and also in the State of Tennessee, the amount of its capital stock authorized by its charter, the amount of capital stock issued and outstanding, and the names of its principal officers, viz: The president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer, and a list of its board of directors, and the nature and character of the business in which it is engaged. A penalty is provided for a refusal to comply with the above.

Courts. Terms and Jurisdiction. Circuit courts hold three terms annually, and have general common law jurisdiction in all cases involving over $50. Chancery courts, holding two terms annually, have full equity jurisdiction above $50, and concurrent jurisdiction with the circuit courts of all civil causes, except actions for injuries to person, property, or character, involving unliquidated damages. Justices of the peace have jurisdiction in equity up to $50; on all unsettled accounts, obligations, contracts, etc., to and for recovery of property, and for damages, except for libel and slander, up to $500; upon all notes and upon indorsement of negotiable paper where demand and notice are expressly waived in the instrument, up to $1,000.

Days of Grace. (See Bills and Notes.)

Deeds. Until registered, deeds are not good, except between parties and privies. Lands held by unregistered deeds are subject to debts of both vendor and vendee. Wife must join in deed to convey homestead.

Depositions. May be taken by any judge, notary public, commissioner of Tennessee, justice of the peace, mayor or chief magistrate of a town or city, the clerk of any court, or other person properly commissioned or appointed by the court or clerk, not being interested, or counsel, or related to either of the parties within the sixth degree, computing by the civil law. When taken by a notary public in another state his certificate shall show the date of the commencement and expiration of his commission. The depositions, when complete, shall be enveloped, together with the commission, if any, and all documents which may have been deposed to, sealed, with the commissioner's name written across the seal, and directed to the clerk of the court where the cause is pending, with the title of the cause indorsed thereon, and may be sent by mail, express, or private conveyance. Form of Caption: A. B. vs. C. D. In the....Court,.... county, Tennessee. Deposition of....., witness for plaintiff, (or defendant) in the above case, taken upon notice, (or interrogatories on the....day of...., 18..(giving date specified in the notice), at (place specified in the notice), in the presence of plaintiff and defendant (show the fact). The said witness,.....aged...., being duly sworn deposed as follows: (here follows deposition). Closing certificate: The foregoing deposition was taken before me, as stated in the caption, and reduced to writing by me. (or by witness). And I certify that I am not interested in the cause, nor of kin or counsel to either of the parties, and that I sealed them up and delivered them to (or put them in the post-office or express office) without being out of my possession, or altered after they were taken. Given under my hand, this ....day of ....A. D. 18... (Signature and title.)

Descent and Distribution. Real estate, real property, and lands, include lands, tenements and hereditaments, and all rights thereto, and interest therein, equitable as well as legal. The land of intestate owner is inherited in the following manner: Without reference to source of intestate's title, by all the sons and daughters of deceased, to be divided among them equally. And if any child of said intestate shall have died in his lifetime, his lineal descendants shall represent their parent and be entitled to same portion of the estate of the deceased as their parent would have been entitled to if living. If there be no issue or brothers or sisters, nor their issue, and either parent be living, then by such parent. If the estate was acquired by the intestate, and he died without issue, his land shall be inherited by his brothers and sisters of the whole and half blood born before his death or afterward, to be divided among them equally. And if any such brother or sister died in the intestate's lifetime leaving issue, said issue shall represent their deceased parent, and be entitled to the same part of the estate of the uncle or aunt, as their father or mother would have been entitled to, if living. In default of brothers and sisters and their issue, the land shall be inherited by the father and mother of the intestate as tenants in common. If both be dead, in equal moities by the heirs of the father and mother in equal degree, or representing those in equal degree of relationship to the intestate; but if such heirs, or those they represent, do not stand in equal degree of relationship to the intestate, then the heirs nearest in blood, or representing those who are nearest in blood, to the intestate shall take in preference to others more remote.

Where the land came to the intestate by gift, devise, or descent from a parent, or the ancestor of a parent, and he die without issue: (a) If he have brothers or sisters of the paternal line of the half blood, and brothers or sisters of the maternal line also of the half blood, then the land shall be inherited by such brothers and sisters on part of the parent from whom the estate came, in the same manner as by brothers and sisters of the whole blood, until the line of such parent is exhausted of the half blood, to the exclusion of the other line. (b) If he have no brothers or sisters, then it shall be inherited by the parent if living, from whom or whose ancestors it came, in preference to the other parent. (c) If both parents be dead, then by the heirs of the parent from whom or whose ancestor it came. The personal estate as to which any person dies intestate, after the payment of the debts and charges against the estate, shall be distributed as follows: 1. To the widow and children, or the descendants of children representing them equally, the widow taking a child's share. 2. To the widow altogether, if there are no children or descendants of children. 3. To the children or the descendants, in equal parts if there is no widow; the descendants taking in equal parts the share of their deceased parents. 4. If no children to the father. 5. If no father to the mother, and brothers and sisters, representing them equally; the mother taking an equal share with each brother and sister. 6. If no brothers or sisters or their children, exclusively to the mother; if no mother, exclusively to the brothers and sisters or their children representing them. 7. If no mother, brother or sister, or their children, to any of the next of kin of the intestate, who are in equal degrees, equally. There is no representation among collaterals after the brother's and sister's children.

Dower. (See Married Women.)

Executions may issue from Justice of the Peace Court afetr two days and from County Court after ten days, and from all other courts after thirty days from rendition of judgment. Executions from Justice of Peace returnable in thirty days, from Circuit and Chancery Courts to the first day of the next term. Stay of eight months may be had in judgments of a justice by furnishing security. Debtor has two years in which to redeem realty sold under execution.

Exemptions. Homestead, $1,000. Personal property consisting of household goods, supplies, tools and stock, etc., amounting in all to about $1,200.

Homestead of value $1,000 in real estate, legal or equitable, is reserved to the head of a family, exempt from sale under legal process during his life. At a husband's death it inures to the benefit of his wife and children, free from the claims of creditors. It may be sold by joint consent of husband and wife, when that relation exists, evidenced by conveyance, duly executed as required by law for married women. It is liable for taxes and purchase money, or money paid for improvement thereon.

Husband and Wife. Husband is not liable for ante-nuptial debts of his wife, but his marital rights do not so attach to her property as to defeat the collection of same. Wife's personalty cannot be subjected to the payment of husband's antenuptial debts. Wife can hold real and personal property separate from the husband and not liable for his debts. Rents and profits of wife's, and not subject to husband's debts, nor can the husband's marital interest in wife's land be sold during her life. Wife can dispose of her separate estate by deed or will unless the power so to do is expressly withheld in the instrument creating it. Husband has curtesy, as at common law. Wife has dower, which is one third or life of real estate, both legal and equitable, of which her husband died seized and possessed. At husband's death, homestead inures to benefit of wife and children. Widow of intestate entitled to year's support, and exempt personal property of husband for benefit of herself and children. Life insurance effected on life of husband, by either husband or wife, this death inures to the benefit of his widow and children, free from claims of his creditors. Married women are under no disability on account of coverture; they can acquire, hold, use and dispose of property, real and personal, contract in reference to it, bind themselves personally and can sue and be sued just as if they were not married.

Interest. Legal rate, 6 per cent. Contract for more is void as to excess, and an instrument showing usury on its face cannot be sued on.

Judgments. From court of record are a lien from date of rendition for one year on all lands then owned by defendant, and on after-acquired lands for one year after acquirement.

Limitation of Suits. Upon bonds, notes, accounts, and contracts generally, six years; judgments or decrees of courts of record and other cases not expressly provided for, ten years. Revivor: Acknowledgment, expressed willingness to pay or promise; part payment not in itself sufficient. All demands against administrators and executors must be presented and sued on in two years, if a resident, and three years if a non-resident after qualification, but no suit can be brought within six months after such qualification. Continuous adverse possession of real estate for seven years, under color of title, makes a title.

Mechanics' Lien for one year upon any ground upon which a house is constructed or repaired, or fixtures, etc., put in, in favor of the person doing the work. Covers the lands of married women. Benefit extends to any workman or furnisher of material giving notice to owner within thirty days after the completion of building, or his discharge, or the completion of his contract, Railroad contractor, sub-contractor, furnisher of material, and every one who does any valuable service, manual or professional, for railroad, shall have lien for one year; if within ninety days after work done or material furnished, written notice is given railroad company or owners. No mortgage or contract with construction company shall be superior to this lien.

Mortgages and deeds of trust take effect as to third parties only from registration. Can be foreclosed without intervention of court when power of sale is conferred in the instrument. Chattel mortgages are good as to the contracting parties without registration, but not as against purchasers without actual notice, and creditors. It is a felony for maker of registered mortgage of personal property to dispose of same with purpose of depriving beneficiary of same. Railroad cannot make a mortgage which shall be superior to judgments for timbers furnished, or labor, or for damages done to persons or property in operation of road. Equity of redemption may be waived, in deed of trust, and on default realty may be sold thereunder by trustee, free therefrom, for cash or otherwise, due advertisement having been made. When mortgages foreclosed in court, property may be sold if equity of redemption not waived on credit of not less than six months nor more than two years, and in bar of all equity of redemption, personal security being required of vendee and lien being retained on land to secure purchase money. Otherwise mortgagor has two years to redeem.

Partnership. Limited partnership may be formed for transaction of any mercantile, mechanical, manufacturing, agricultural, or mining business in this State; but not for carrying on business of banking and insurance. The articles of co-partnership must specify the name of the firm, and of each individual partner, and his place of residence, general nature of the business, amount of capital each partner has contributed to common stock, and the period at which partnership is to commence and terminate. Articles must be acknowledged by each partner and registered in every county where firm has a place of business. Terms of partnership must be published for six weeks, immediately after registration, in a newspaper, to be designated by register. At time of filing original articles for registration, an affidavit of a general partner must be filed in same office, stating that the sums specified in the articles to have been contributed by each partner to common stock, were actually and in good faith contributed and in cash. If all formalities are not complied with, or are violated, the special or limited partner will be liable as a general partner.

Power of Attorney. All powers of attorney authorizing the sale, conveyance, and transfer of real estate must be registered. Other powers of attorney may be registered. Cannot be made by married women.

Protest. (See Bills and Notes.)

Taxes are a lien on the real estate on which they are levied, and as between vendor and vendee they are a lien from January 10th of the year for which they are assessed; as between the State, county, city and the owner, they are a lien for six years from January 10th of year for which they accrued, after which they are barred. Payable first Monday in October of the year they are assessed. After first Tuesday in February following, taxes bear interest, and distress warrants are issued for collection. Under the act of 1907, after the first Monday in July of the year after that for which the taxes are assessed, all real estate upon which taxes have not been paid may be sold at public auction to the highest bidder after advertisement by the county trustee of the county in which the land lies. The delinquent taxpayer has two years from the date of sale in which to redeem the property by paying taxes, interest, cost and penalties.

Wills. No will can convey an estate in lands unless written in testator's lifetime and signed by him, or by some person in his presence by his direction, and subscribed in his presence by two witnesses at least neither of whom is interested in the devise of said lands; but a paper writing purporting to be the will of the deceased person, written by him, having his name subscribed to it or inserted in some part of it, and found after his death among his valuable papers, or lodged in the hand of another for safe-keeping, shall be good and sufficient to give and convey lands, if the hand-writing is generally known by his acquaintances, and it is proved by at least three credible witnesses that they verily believe the writing, and that every part of it to be in his hand. Every devise shall convey the entire estate of the testator in lands unless the contrary plainly appears from the context.

THE LAWS OF TEXAS

Revised by Messrs. COCKRELL, GRAY & MCBRIDE, Attorneys at Law, Dallas, Texas. (See Card in Attorneys' List.)

Accounts, How Sworn To. Open accounts, for purposes of suit, should have attached the affidavit of the plaintiff, his agent or attorney, that such account is, within the knowledge of affiant, just and true, that it is due, and that all just and lawful offsets, payments, and credits have been allowed. If made by agent or attorney, the affidavit should allege the fact. Such affidavit is prima-facie evidence in all commercial accounts, unless denied under oath, but not in an isolated transaction based on special contract

Acknowledgments of instruments for record may be made out of the State, but within the United States, or territories, before clerk of some court or record having a seal, commissioner of deeds, for Texas, notary public; without the United States, before a minister, commissioner, or chargé d'affaires, consul general, consul, vice-consul, commercial agent, vice-commercial agent, deputy consul, or consular agent of the United States, notary public; within the State, before a clerk of the district court, a judge or clerk of the county court, a notary public, in the county for which appointed. Acknowledgment should state:

Before me ..... (giving name and character of officer) on this day personally appeared ..... known to me to be the person whose name is subscribed to the foregoing instrument, and * he (or she) acknowledged to me that he (or she) executed the same for the purposes and consideration therein expressed.

Given under my hand and seal of office this .... day of .... 18..

[Seal.] [Name of officer and official character.]

For a married woman's acknowledgment proceed after * as follows: and known to me to be the wife of .....; and having been examined by me privily and apart from her said husband, and having the same fully explained to her, she, the said ..... acknowledged such instrument to be her act and deed, and declared that she had willingly signed the same for the purposes and consideration therein expressed, and that she did not wish to retract it. Care should be taken to see that matters certified to in a married woman's acknowledgment are strictly followed as a proper acknowledgment and certificate are necessary to render her conveyances valid.

Given, etc. (as above).

Actions. The distinction between law and equity proceedings does not exist in Texas. All forms of action are abolished. To compel defendant to appear at any term of the court he must have been cited ten days before the term begins. Service by publication not good except in proceedings in rem., which by statute are made to include suits to determine the title to, or incumbrances upon, property within this State.

Administration of Estates. Letters testamentary or of administration may be granted within four years after the death of a party. They issue to persons who are qualified to act in the following order. 1. To the executor named in the will. 2. Surviving husband or wife. 3. Principal devisee or legatee. 4. Any other devisee or legatee. 5. Next of kin. 6. Creditor. 7. Person of good character residing in the county. The county court acts as a court of probate in all matters pertaining to estates of decedents, testate or intestate, and, unless the will dispenses with such supervision, administrators must furnish bond in double the amount of the estate. Surviving husband or wife qualifying as such must give bond in a sum equal to the value of the estate. Wills may by express provision dispense with administration, other than probating the will and filing of inventory and appraisement, and confer independent administration on the executor. Foreign executors, administrators or guardians are not recognized by the Court of Texas and as such may not transact business in Texas.

Affidavits, within this State, may be made before a clerk of the district court, or judge or clerk of the county court, or a notary public, in the county for which appointed; without this State, and within the United States, before a clerk of a court of record having a seal, a notary public, commissioner of deeds for Texas; without the United States, before a notary public, minister, commissioner or chargé d'affaires, consul-general, consul, vice-consul, commercial agent, vice commercial agent, deputy consul, or consular agent of the United States.

Aliens who become residents of Texas, and have declared their intention to become citizens of the United States, have all the property rights of citizens. Aliens who owned real estate prior to July 12, 1892, have the same property rights as are accorded to citizens of the United States by the laws or treaties of the nation of which the alien is a citizen; this is also the case as to lands acquired since July 12, 1892, which are situated in an incorporated or platted city, town, or village.

Aliens who are bona-fide residents of Texas may, during such residence, own lands the same as citizens.

Non-resident aliens who, since July 12, 1892, acquire lands by purchase or inheritance not in an incorporated or platted city, town, or village, must bona fide dispose of the same within ten years from their acquisition; if this is not done the lands are subject to escheat to the State.

Aliens may acquire title to lands, or an interest therein, in the ordinary course of justice, or acquire and enforce liens, or lend money upon real estate.

Appeals. (See Courts.)

Arbitration. The statutes provide for arbitration, the award made in such cases, if the proceeding was in compliance with the statute, becomes the judgment of the court in which it is filed.

Arrest. The Texas laws do not authorize an arrest in civil matters, except for contempt of court.

Assignments and Insolvency. (See Insolvent and Assignment Laws.)

Attachments. Debtors' property can be attached on certain statutory grounds of fraud alleged under oath of creditor and bond in double the amount of the debt. Attachment, now, may also issue upon unliquidated demands when the defendant is a non-resident. Bankruptcy has practically suspended use of writs of attachment.

Banks. The constitution of 1876, that prohibited incorporating for state banks, has been amended and legislature of 1895 passed a banking act that authorizes incorporating in Texas, for banking and discounting powers and privileges, to which may be added trust company, surety company, fidelity and guaranty company powers and privileges, as defined in the act and with power to act as executor, administrator, guardian, receiver, assignee, trustee, depository, and other fiduciary relations as therein defined. The law also provides for savings banks which are not to have discount privileges, and also prohibits any banks other than national banks, incorporated out of Texas, to do business in the state, and requires private individuals doing a banking business, to use the word "unincorporated," and provides for penalties for any breach of any provision of the act. Also provides for supervision by state by inspection of all corporations under the act. Laws have recently been enacted to encourage State Banks to become members of Federal Reserve Bank System, giving them powers somewhat similar to those given National Banks by such Act.

Bills of Exchange. (See Days of Grace, Notes and Bills of Exchange, Protest.)

Bills of Lading. Common carriers are required, when they receive goods for transportation, to give the shipper, when it is demanded, a bill of lading stating the quantity, character, order, and condition of the goods; and such goods shall be delivered in the manner provided by common law in like order and condition to the consignee. Liability as at common law for damages. Bill of lading is prima-facie evidence of ownership of goods in transit by the consignee. Carriers can not restrict their common law liability by any general or special notice, or by inserting exceptions in a bill of lading; and this rule is applied to a through bill. Bills of lading are negotiable paper.

Chattel Mortgages and Deeds of Trust of Personal Property, to be valid as to creditors, and as to purchasers without notice, must be accompanied by immediate delivery, followed by actual and continued change of possession of property, unless the same, or a true copy thereof, is filed in the county clerk's office of county where mortgagor resides, or if he is a non-resident of the State, then in the county where the property is situated. And all reservations of the title to chattels as security for the purchase money thereof are held to be chattel mortgages, and are, when possession is delivered to the vendee, void as to creditors and bona-fide purchasers, unless such reservation be in writing, and filed as required for chattel mortgages. Mortgages are held to be mere security for the debt, and must be enforced by sale of property, either through a decree of foreclosure or power of sale given in the mortgage; sale of property, upon death of mortgagor, must be enforced through probate court. Any lien attempted to be given on a stock of goods exposed to daily sale in the regular course of business, and contemplating continued possession and sale of the goods by the owner, is fraudulent and void. Chattel mortgage given to secure creditors is invalid against such creditors as do not accept under it.

Collaterals. Holder of claims as collateral security who fails to use due diligence to collect is liable for loss. Is not affected by limitation against the debt. After the death of the debtor the creditor may still collect the collaterals. Surety on principal debt is subrogated to rights of creditors as to collaterals. If, by negligence or design, the creditor loses the collateral, the surety on the principal debt is to that extent discharged. Note pledged as collateral can be held for no other debt. Taking collateral security does not extinguish original contract.

Contracts. No seal is required to be affixed to written contracts. An agreement to answer for the debt, default or miscarriage of another, or for the sale of real estate or the lease thereof for more than a year, or which is not to be performed within a year from the making thereof, must be in writing and signed by the person to be charged therewith.

Conveyances. The husband alone can convey his separate and the community real estate, not the homestead. Husband and wife must join in the conveyance of the wife's separate real estate or of the homestead, whether the separate property of the husband or community, and the wife must, privily from her husband, acknowledge the execution of the instrument before a proper officer in the manner pointed out by statute. No special form required for a deed in Texas; any words of transfer conveys fee simple, unless a less estate is expressly limited. No warranty required, but any provisions of general warranty may be embodied by agreement. Conveyance of a greater estate than grantor has passes what he has. Estate in futuro can be made by deed or conveyance as well as by will. A married woman may by decree of Court authorize to convey, etc., where husband refuses to join. (See Acknowledgments.)

Corporations. The general incorporation law of Texas provides for organization of Texas corporations. The purposes for which they can be organized cover almost the entire range of business enterprise, the exception is corporations cannot be organized to acquire real estate for sale, except for sale and subdivision in towns, and their suburbs. (See Foreign Corporations.)

Costs. Bond or deposit for cost required on filing suit. Execution for costs may issue against the party incurring the cost at the close of each term.

Courts. The federal courts of Texas are district courts with circuit court powers; there are four of these districts in Texas and each holds two sessions of court a year, in from four to five places in each district designated by statute—Austin, Waco, San Antonio, El Paso, Delrio, Dallas, Fort Worth, Abilene, San Angelo, Amarillo; and Galveston, Houston, Laredo, Brownsville, Victoria; and Tyler, Jefferson, Sherman, Paris, Beaumont, Texarkana. State courts with civil jurisdiction are justice courts in each precinct, jurisdiction $200 or less. No appeal in cases of $20 or less; above that, appeal to county court. County court in each county has general probate jurisdiction and exclusive jurisdiction from $200 to $500; above *500 to $1,000, concurrent jurisdiction with the district court. Appeals in probate matters to the district court; in all other civil appeals to the court of civil appeals. District court has concurrent jurisdiction with the county court over amounts above $500 to $1,000, exclusive jurisdiction over amounts above latter sum, and also of all suits involving title to land, and slander and libel, irrespective of amounts. Appeal in civil matters to court of civil appeals. There are eight courts of civil appeals, each in separate districts, to which all civil appeals from the district and county courts are taken. There is one supreme court sitting at Austin to which certain characters of cases can be brought from the courts of civil appeals by writ of error granted by the supreme court. In each county there must be as many as two terms of the district court each year, and in a number of more populous counties there are from four to seven terms each year. At least four sessions of the county court in each county must be held each year. In a number of the sparsely settled counties the civil jurisdiction of the county courts, except as to probate matters, has been transferred to the district court. Justices of the peace and clerks of the courts are required to file and docket all suits tendered, but can not be compelled to take any further action unless the costs are secured.

Creditors' Bills superseded in Texas by statutory proceeding of garnishment. (See Garnishment.)

Days of Grace. Three are allowed on all bills of exchange and promissory notes assignable or negotiable by law. Note payable on demand is not entitled to days of grace. When a note is payable so many months after date, the note will become due on the day of the month corresponding with the day of the date; that is, if it be dated on the tenth day of the month it will become due on the tenth, to which the days of grace are to be added. When a bill or note is payable a certain number of days after date, after demand, or sight, the day of its date, etc., is excluded in computing time. Limitation does not commence to run on commercial paper until the expiration of three full days after the day of maturity.

Deeds. (See Conveyances.)

Depositions. All witnesses' depositions may be taken. The deposition of a party to a suit, except where either party is a corporation, may be taken by the adverse party, ex parte, and without notice. To take the deposition of any other witness, it is necessary that the opposite party, or his attorney of record, shall be served with notice, stating name and residence of witness, together with copy of interrogatories, five days before the commission will issue. Officer taking deposition must subpœna witness not less than five days before taking deposition, giving notice also of time and place of taking to each of the parties or their attorney of record, and written interrogatories must be propounded sereatim and witness not allowed to be advised of contents of interrogatory until so propounded.

Under "Depositions," there is to be added after the sentence ending "witness not allowed to be advised of contents of interrogatory until so propounded" the following:

The testimony of witnesses may be taken orally, provided they be within one hundred miles of the court in which the suit is pending. Also, they may be taken orally at points more distant than one hundred miles when the Court may upon application so order it. In taking the deposition, the officer will make a caption stating the number and style of the case, the residence of the witness, the official title of the officer, etc. as is usual, and after swearing the witness, will proceed to take his answers to the several interrogatories and cross interrogatories separately. When the same have been so reduced to writing, they shall be signed by the witness, and the officer shall affix his jurat showing that they were sworn to and subscribed before the officer by the witness. In addition, the officer shall attach a certificate under his seal and official signature, showing that the answers of the witness as made were signed and sworn to by the witness before him and that said answers were reduced to writing by him or under his direction. The deposition with the commission and interrogatories must be sealed in an envelope, and the officer's name must be written officially across the seal. The envelope shall be addressed to the Clerk of the Court from which the commission issued, and should have on it the amount of the fee, the number and style of the suit and the name of the witness, and a certificate by the officer, under the seal of his office, stating that he in person deposited the same in the U. S. Mail (giving the postoffice) for transmission on the ..... day of ...., 19..

Descent and Distribution of Property. Separate, real, personal, or mixed property, when deceased leaves no husband or wife, descends: To his children and their descendants; if none such exist, then to father and mother in equal portions; if only father or mother survive, then such survivor takes one-half, and the other half goes to the brothers and sisters of deceased and their descendants; if none of the latter survive, the parent then living takes the whole; if neither parents, nor sisters or brothers or their descendants survive, then the estate goes in equal moieties to the paternal and maternal kindred, i. e., to grandfather and grandmother of each side and their descendants; if one be dead and have no descendants, then the whole moiety to the survivor, and so on to the nearest lineal ancestors and their descendants. When deceased leaves husband or wife, the estate descends, when there are children, one-third of personal property and life estate in one-third of real estate to husband or wife, balance of personal and real estate, as well as remainder to child or children. If deceased leaves no child or children, husband or wife takes all personal and one-half of real estate, the other half goes to the father and mother, etc., under the general rule above as to descent, but surviving husband or wife takes all, in case neither father or mother, nor sister or brothers or their descendants survive. Community property goes entirely to surviving husband or wife, when there are no children or their descendants, but if there are such, the property goes one-half to surviving spouse and the other half to the children and their descendants.

Dower. The right of dower does not exist in Texas.

Evidence. Parties can testify in their own behalf but not as to transactions with or statements by a deceased party in suits to which heirs as such or executors, administrators or guardians in their official capacity are parties. (See Depositions.)

Executions from district and county courts issue after adjournment, and may, on application of successful party, issue twenty days after judgment, if no supersedeas bond has been filed and approved; from justices' court, on the eleventh day after judgment; in all, upon plaintiff, his agent or attorney, making affidavit to certain facts, shall issue forthwith. No redemption of land sold under execution. "The time and place of making sale of real estate in execution shall be publicly advertised by the officer for at least twenty days successively next before the day of sale, by posting up written or printed notices thereof at three public places in the county, one of which shall be at the door of the courthouse of the county, and by delivering to the defendant in execution one copy of said notice of sale, whenever he resides in the county where the land is situated, and shall mail a similar notice to the attorney of record, if any, for such defendant in every case; and if such defendant resides out of the county where the land is situated, the officer shall mail to him a similar notice, directed to him at his postoffice, if known to such officer, and if his residence is not known and he has no attorney of record, the posting of the first three notices shall be sufficient; provided, that whenever real property shall be levied on by virtue of an execution, or shall be the subject of any order of sale or venditioni exponas, if the defendant shall, at any time prior to and not later than five days after receiving notice of the levy of any execution or issuance of order of sale or venditioni exponas, request the clerk or justice of the peace issuing such execution, order of sale or venditioni exponas, or the officer making the levy or holding the process, that notice of the sale be published in a newspaper, the same shall be so published, if there be a newspaper published in the county that will publish the same for the compensation allowed herein; when said request is filed the officer shall, under the provisions of this article, publish notice of the sale in a newspaper published in the county for three consecutive weeks. Said notice shall contain a statement of the authority by virtue of which the sale is to be made; the time of levy and the time and place of sale; it shall also contain a brief description of the property to be sold, and shall give the numper of acres, original survey, locality in the county, and the name by which the land is most generally known, but it shall not be necessary for it to contain field notes." Judgment becomes dormant if execution be not issued thereon within twelve months. If execution do issue within twelve months another may be issued at any time within ten years, and by so issuing within each succeeding ten years from date of last issuance, a judgment may be continued alive.

Exemptions. By the constitution of 1876, the homestead of a family not in a town or city consists of 200 acres of land, which may be in one or more parcels, with improvements thereon. In a city, town, or village it consists of a lot or lots not to exceed $5,000 in value at the time of their designation as the homestead, exclusive of improvements, provided the same be used as a home, or as a place to exercise the calling or business of the head of a family The homestead is protected from forced sale or incumbrance except for taxes, or for the purchase money, or for improvements thereon, and in this last case, only when the work and materials are contracted for in writing in advance, with the consent of the wife, given in same manner as required in making a sale of homestead. In case of death of the husband, the widow and children have one year's support from the estate, allowance therefor in no case to exceed $1,000, and if the property exempt by law does not exist in kind, a sufficiency of the estate may be sold for cash, to raise allowance for homestead, not to exceed $5,000, and for other exempt property not to exceed $500. All household and kitchen furniture, all implements of husbandry, all tools and apparatus belonging to any trade or profession, all books, five milch-cows and calves, two yoke of work oxen, two horses and one wagon, one carriage or buggy, twenty hogs, twenty sheep, all provisions and forage on hand for home consumption, current wages for personal services, and sundry other articles, are also exempt property for every family. And to every citizen not the head of a family one horse, bridle and saddle; all wearing apparel; any lot or lots in a cemetery for sepulture; all tools, apparatus, and books belonging to his trade, profession, or private library. Current wages for personal services are not subject to garnishment. Exempt personal property may be made subject to valid liens, by contract.

Foreign Corporations, except railroads, can file their charter in office of secretary of state at Austin, Texas, and on payment of fee get a ten-year permit to do business in Texas. Foreign corporations doing a strictly interstate and commerce business in Texas do not have to file charter or get permit. Should a foreign corporation, without procuring permit, do other than interstate business in Texas, it will be denied the right to file suits in State Courts. (See Corporations.)

Foreign Judgments can be sued on in Texas.

Fraud. Every gift, conveyance, assignment, transfer of, or charge upon any real or personal property, or suit commenced, decree, judgment, or execution suffered or obtained, and every bond or other writing given with intent to delay, hinder, or defraud creditors, purchasers, etc., is void as to them, excepting as against innocent purchasers for value without notice. Gifts, conveyances, etc., not upon valuable consideration, are void as to then existing creditors, unless debtor had then enough additional property subject to execution to pay his debts existing at that time.

Futures, Dealings in, with no intention of actual delivery, made a misdemeanor. No contract can be enforced for or growing out of future contracts where there was no intention of actual delivery of the article.

Garnishment. May issue either before or after judgment to attach moneys due by garnisher to debtor or effects of debtor in hands of garnishee. Except after judgment a bond in double amount of debt must be given.

Guarantee Companies must have at least $100,000 paid-up capital, must deposit at least $100.000 with some state officer in some state of the United States, must deposit $50,000 good securities with treasurer of State of Texas, must designate to commissioner of insurance of Texas some one on whom service of legal process can be made, can make statutory bonds in Texas.

Holidays. January 1st, February 22d, March 2d, April 21st, June 3d, July 4th, first Monday in September, October 12th, December 25th, all days appointed by the president of the United States or governor of Texas as days of fasting or thanksgiving, and the days on which an election is held throughout the State are holidays, which shall be treated as Sundays for the purpose of presenting for payment or acceptance, and protesting and giving notice of dishonor of negotiable paper instituting suits and serving process in civil cases, except in attachments. If any of said days falls on Sunday, the next day thereafter is holiday. No civil suit shall be commenced, nor shall any process be issued or served on Sunday or any legal holiday, except in cases of injunction, attachment, garnishment, sequestration, or distress proceeding.

Husband and Wife. All property, real or personal, of either spouse owned or claimed before marriage and that acquired afterwards by gift, devise or descent, shall constitute the separate property of such spouse. All property acquired during coverture by either spouse, except property acquired by gift, devise or descent, is community property. The income from the separate property of either spouse is community. During marriage the husband shall have the sole management, control and disposition of his separate property, and the wife the sole management, control and disposition of her separate property, except, however, that the joinder of her husband in any encumbrance or conveyance of the wife's land shall be necessary and the joint signature of the husband and wife shall be necessary to transfer stocks and bonds belonging to her. The husband shall have control of the community property except the personal earnings of the wife, rents from the wife's real estate, interest on bonds and notes belonging to her, and dividends on stocks owned by her, which shall be subject to the control, management and disposition of the wife as aforesaid. Funds deposited in any bank or banking institution in the name of either the husband or the wife shall be regarded as belonging to and subject to the control of the party in whose name deposited, regardless of who shall have made the deposit. Neither separate property of the wife nor the rents from the wife's real estate nor interest on bonds and notes belonging to her, nor dividends on stocks owned by her nor her personal earnings shall be subject to the payment of debts contracted by the husband.

Injunctions, statute as to, is almost entirely declaratory of equity rules and practice.

Insolvent and Assignment Laws. The statute provides for a general assignment by an insolvent debtor. The assignee must, within thirty days, give notice to all the creditors. Creditors to share in the benefits must accept within four months, and file with the assignee verified statement of their claims within six months. Moneys must be distributed by the assignee whenever he has as much as 10 per cent of all properly proven claims on hand after paying expenses. Assignee must file sworn report with the county clerk, and any opposition to this report must be filed within twelve months after filing. Preferences not allowed. No discharge of debtor unless the estate pays as much as 33 1-3 per cent to all accepting creditors. As a general assignment is an act of bankruptcy, the bankrupt act has practically done away with the State assignment law.

Insurance Companies. Apply to commissioner of insurance for copy of the law, as it can not be condensed.

Interest. Legal, 6 per cent; conventional up to 10 per cent. Open accounts, no rate agreed upon, legal interest from January 1st thereafter. Judgments bear rate stipulated in contract sued upon, and 6 per cent when none stipulated for. Usury forfeits all interest. Where usurious interest has been paid, double the amount may be recovered by suit within two years.

Judgment Lien. In federal, district, county, and justice courts a judgment is a lien on debtor's real estate in any county where an abstract of judgment shall be filed and recorded in a book kept for that purpose, in the office of county court clerk and properly indexed and cross-indexed in the name of each plaintiff and defendant. Lien takes effect from date of record and index of abstract, and continues for ten years, unless plaintiff fails to have execution issued within twelve months after judgment. A transfer of a judgment when acknowledged, as required for deeds, filed with the clerk of court in which recovered and by him noted in the minute book of the court, is constructive notice to, and valid and binding on, all persons subsequently dealing with reference to the cause of action or judgment.

Jurisdiction. (See Administration of Estates, Courts, Divorce, Notes and Bills of Exchange.)

Liens. Exempt property, excepting homestead, and all other property is subject to lien by contract, saving a stock of goods daily exposed to sale where change of possession is not contemplated. The homestead is subject, however, to lien for taxes, vendor's lien, and mechanic's lien, if the latter is fixed by prior contract and wife's separate acknowledgment thereof. The statutes provide further for mechanic's liens, for liens in favor of hotel and boarding-house keepers, and for liens on vessels.

Limitation to Suits. Written contracts, four years; accounts, other than open accounts between merchant and merchant, their factors and agents, two years. Mortgage lien barred with the debt, but new promise which revives debt, and which must be in writing, revives mortgage. Renewals of mortgages or other liens affecting real estate must be recorded to be effective. Limitation must be pleaded. Does not run during period of absence of debtor from State, nor against minors, married women, and persons non compos mentis.

Married Women. By an Act of the Legislature which went into effect July 1, 1913, married women are given certain rights to contract. Previous to this Act, they had no right to contract save for necessaries for themselves or children and for the benefit of their separate estate. This Act of the Legislature has not yet been considered by the courts and the exact extent of married women's right to contract is not yet known. Contracts made by a married woman may not be enforced against the separate property of the husband nor against the community property other than the personal earnings of the wife and the income, rents and revenues from her separate property, save when the contracts are for necessaries furnished her or her children. A married woman shall never be a joint maker of a note or surety on any bond or obligation of another without the joinder of her husband with her in making such contract. (See also Husband and Wife.)

Mines and Mining. There are statutory provisions as to mineral lands of the State, but too lengthy for this compendium.

Mortgages. No mortgage or other voluntary ncumbrance of the homestead, except for labor or material used in its improvement (as to which see exemptions and liens supra), is valid.

Notaries appointed by the governor and approved by senate; hold office for two years and have seal of office.

Notes and Bills of Exchange. Commercial paper is anything that is recognized as such by the law merchant, and it is not required that it shall be payable at a bank or any fixed place in the State. Unless otherwise provided in the paper, it will be considered payable at the residence of the maker or acceptor, or other person bound. The liability of any drawer or indorser may be fixed by instituting suit against the acceptor or maker, before first term of district or county court, to which suit can be brought, or before second term, showing good cause why not brought at first term; within jurisdiction of justice, suit must be brought within sixty days. Protest: Such liability may also be fixed by protest, according to the custom of merchants. The holder of a protested draft or bill, drawn by a merchant in this State, upon his agent or factor without the State, may recover 10 per cent damages thereon, besides interest and costs. Days of grace (three) allowed on all negotiable instruments, except paper payable on demand. Attorney's fees may be stipulated for in note and recovered in case of suit. If Monday be a holiday, negotiable paper may be presented for payment or acceptance on the Saturday preceding such holiday. Paper falling due on Sunday, or a holiday, must be presented for payment or acceptance on Saturday or the day preceding such holiday. When third day of grace falls on Sunday or a legal holiday, the paper is due on the preceding day.

Partnerships, Limited. Statutory provisions for record of certificate by which the special partner is limited in his liability to the capital named as amount to be contributed.

Powers of Attorney, if intended to effect title to real property, should be acknowledged and recorded like a deed to real estate. Revocation should be made in the same way.

Private Seals. Abolished February 2, 1858, except as to private corporations.

Promissory Notes. (See Notes and Bills of Exchange.)

Protest. The holder of any bill of exchange or promissory note assignable or negotiable by the law merchant, may also secure and fix the liability of any drawer or endorser of such bill of exchange or promissory note for the payment thereof, without suit against the acceptor, drawer, or maker, by procuring such bill or note to be regularly protested by a notary public for non-acceptance or non-payment, and giving notice of such protest to such drawer or indorser according to the usage and custom of merchants. No legal advantage in protesting negotiable paper where there is no one secondarily liable.

Records. Deeds, mortgages, and other liens must be recorded. (See Acknowledgments, Chattel Mortgages.)

Redemption. None allowed as against forced sales.

Service. Citations must be served ten days before first day of term of court to require appearance and answer to that term.

Suits, Where Brought. The rule is that a resident of the State should be sued in the county in which he may reside, but there are numerous exceptions, among them being suits brought on written contracts, providing where they are to be performed—which may be brought either in the county of the defendant's residence or where the performance is agreed to be made. Thus, a note payable at Austin may be sued on in Travis county, though defendant reside in another county. This enables parties to concentrate their collections.

Taxes. Non-residents may pay state and county taxes to the comptroller of the State, at Austin, on or before December 31st next after assessment. Taxes are a lien upon land until paid. Taxes become delinquent, and forced collections of same begin on and after 1st day of January next succeeding the year for which they are assessed. Owner has two years within which to redeem land sold for taxes, by paying to purchaser double the amount paid for the land.

Testimony. (See Depositions.)

Transfer of Corporation Stocks. Such stock is transferable only on the books of the corporation in such manner as the by-laws may direct.

Trust Companies may assume banking privileges; can act as trustees, executors and agents.

Warehouse Receipts. In the Fall of 1914, the State was authorized to establish emergency warehouses. This law continues for one year when a permanent warehouse system is to be established. Warehouses may also be established by individuals upon complying with certain statutory requirements as a private enterprise. The law authorizes the issuance of negotiable and non-negotiable receipts, and provides that the character of receipt shall be plainly placed upon the same. Negotiable receipts are transferable like other negotiable instruments and the property is not to be delivered save upon surrender of the receipt. Such receipt shall also show the fact with respect to whether there is any mortgage or other lien upon the property so warehoused. Caution should be exercised in accepting warehouse receipts without inquiry with respect to whether the warehouse company issuing same has in all respects complied with the law.

Wills. All adult persons of sound mind may dispose of their property, real and personal, as they choose. A will must be signed by the testator himself, or in his presence, by his direction, and, unless wholly written by himself, signed by two witnesses in his presence. Application for the probate of a will must be made to the county court of the proper county within four years from the date of the death of the person making it. A will which has been probated in another state or country can be probated here. A duly certified copy of such will may be filed and recorded, and have the same effect as the original will, if probated here. Real estate can not be devised by a nuncupative will.

THE LAWS OF UTAH

Prepared and Revised by Messrs. BOOTH LEE, BADGER, and RICH, Attorneys at Law, Salt Lake City. (See Card in Attorneys' List.)

Actions. There is but one form of civil action and that is prescribed by statute. When required by defendant non-resident plaintiff must give bond for costs.

Administration of Decedents' Estates is had in the district courts. Creditors have four months in which to present claims in estates less than $10,000, in larger estates, ten months. Non-resident creditors may present claims after the expiration of said time and before the estate is closed, providing they can show that they had no notice or knowledge of said time limit. Letters testamentary and of administration are granted by the district court of the proper county. Applicants for letters of administration are entitled thereto, other things being equal, in the following order: 1. The surviving husband or wife, or some competent person whom he or she may request to have appointed. 2. The children. 3. The father or mother. 4. Brothers or sisters. 5. The grandchildren. 6. The next of kin. 7. The creditors. 8. Any other competent person. A surviving partner cannot be appointed administrator of his deceased partner's estate.

Affidavits may be taken before any notary public, judge, or clerk of a court of record having a seal. When an affidavit is taken before a judge or clerk out of the State, the existence of the court, and the fact that such judge is a member thereof, must be certified by the clerk of the court under the seal thereof.

Aliens have same property rights as citizens.

Arbitration. In all cases except where the title to real property is involved, may be had in the manner provided for by the code and the ward may be entered as a judgment.

Arrest. A judgment creditor may obtain the arrest of an absconding debtor by making the proper showing to the court and furnishing a bond of not less than $500.

Assignments. Any insolvent debtor may make an assignment for the benefit of his creditors and may be with or without preferences, which assignments are administered by the district courts. Amounts owing for rent or wages are preferred by law. Assignment is void for fraud or if it gives a preference upon any condition or contingency.

Attachment may issue on any day in an action upon a contract or judgment which is not secured by mortgage, lien, or pledge, upon real or personal property situated in this State, or if so secured, after the security has, without any act of the plaintiff or the person to whom the security was given, become valueless, against a non-resident defendant, or against a defendant who has departed or is about to depart from the State to the injury of his creditors, or who stands in defiance of an officer or conceals himself so that process cannot be served on him, or has disposed of, or is about to dispose of his property with intent to defraud his creditors, or who has fraudulently contracted the debt or incurred the obligation respecting which the action is brought.
Process issued by clerk on receipt of affidavit made by or on behalf of plaintiff, and on the filing of an undertaking on the part of the plaintiff with sufficient securities in a sum not less than $200 in district court and $50 in justice court and not less than the claim.

Banks.—Corporations to conduct commercial and savings banks, or banks having departments for both classes of business, may be formed by any number of persons, not less than five at least one of whom shall be a resident of this state.

The capital stock shall not exceed $1,000,000.00. The subscribed capital stock shall not be less than $20,000.00. In cities having from 5,000 to 25,000 inhabitants, not less than $50,000.00, and in cities having from 25,000 to 50,000 inhabitants, not less than $75 000.00, and cities having more than 50,000 inhabitants, not less than $100,000, nor shall the certificate of incorporation be issued, unless it shall appear by affidavit of at least three of the incorporators, that the proposed corporation has the requisite amount of subscribed capital stock, and that at least 50 per cent of the capital stock has been paid in cash. And it must also appear by affidavit that at least 25 per cent of any increased capital has actually been paid in cash, provided that when deposits exceed $5,000,000, the capital and surplus of any bank shall not be less than $500,000.00. Unpaid subscriptions shall be paid in instalments of not less than 10 per cent per month.

Loans to officers and directors in excess of 15 per cent of the capital stock and surplus are prohibited, and the capital stock of the bank shall not be taken as security for such loans. All loans to officers must be secured in double the amount of the loan and must be approved by a two-thirds vote of the directors or executive committee, on which vote, the officer or director securing the loan shall not participate.

The total liabilities of any bank to any person, company, corporation or firm for money borrowed, shall not exceed 15 per cent of the capital stock and surplus.

Stockholders are liable in double the amount of their stock for all debts.

Savings banks are prohibited from borrowing money (except public moneys) or pledging securities, except to meet immediate demands of depositors, and then only upon a resolution adopted by a majority of the board of directors or executive committee, duly entered in their minutes with the ayes and nays recorded.

The establishment or maintenance of private or partnership banks are prohibited and all such banks now in operation are required to retire or incorporate within five years from March 9, 1911.

Foreign banks are required to comply with all provisions of law relating to private corporations and domestic banks, including the payment of capital stock in this state.

Commercial banks are required to maintain a reserve fund equal to 15 per cent of deposit and demand liabilities, one-eighth in lawful money of the United States on hand and the balance in credits in solvent banks, other than savings banks.

In cities having a population of 50,000 or more, the reserves shall be not less than 20 per cert.

Savings banks must carry in cash or equivalent, 10 per cent of its deposit liabilities, one-fourth of which must be in lawfu money, and the remainder in credits in solvent banks other than savings banks.

Banks having both commercial and savings departments are required to maintain reserves for each department.

A director must own stock of the par value of at least $200.00 in his own right. In cities of the first and second class, the stock owned by directors must be of the par value of $500.00.

The board of directors or a committee thereof of not less than three members shall at least once in three months examine the loans and investments made since the last meeting.

A thorough yearly examination of the affairs of the bank with a special view to ascertaining the value and security of loans, discounts and overdrafts is required, and a report made to the state bank examiner.

One-tenth of net profits shall be carried to a surplus fund until such fund amounts to 20 per cent of the capital stock.

Bank commissioner may make application for receiver if he is satisfied bank has violated the law and pending application may take possession of the books and assets of the bank.

Upon payment of creditors, and the expenses of receivership and the making good of the impairment of the capital stock, the property of the bank shall be returned to the bank or to the stockholders, and the receiver shall be discharged. Not less than four reports each year shall be made to the bank commissioner, which said reports shall be published. Special reports may be called for. Penalty of $50 for each day's delay in transmitting a report is imposed.

The bank commissioner shall approve of articles for the incorporation of banks.

Collateral. There are no statutory provisions peculiar to this subject.

Collection Agencies are required to give bond for faithful performance of contracts.

Competition (Unfair). Unfair competition, i. e., cutting of prices to destroy competitor is prohibited.

Conditional Sales. There is no statute on the subject. The supreme court has held that a conditional sale is good and valid as well against third persons as against parties to the transaction, and that such bailee of personal property or conditional purchaser cannot convey the title or subject it to execution for his own debts until the condition on which the agreement to sell was made has been performed.

Consignments. There is no statutory law regulating.

Contracts. A statute provides that contracts by telegraph are deemed written. The power to contract inheres in the same persons substantially as in common law, except that married women may contract as if sole.

Conveyances. The statute gives the following forms:

WARRANTY DEED

A. B., grantor (here insert name or names and place of residence) hereby conveys and warrants to C. D., grantee (here insert name or names and place of residence), for the sum of.....dollars, the following described tract.....of land in.....County, Utah (here describe the premises).

Witness the hand of said grantor this.....day of..... A. D. 19....

Such deed has the effect of a conveyance in fee simple to the grantee, his heirs, and assigns, of the premises therein named, together with all the appurtenances, rights, and privileges thereto belonging, with covenants from the grantor, his heirs, and personal representatives, that he is lawfully seized of the premises; that he has good right to convey the same; that he guarantees the grantee, his heirs, and assigns in the quiet possession thereof; that the premises are free from all incumbrances; and that the grantor, his heirs, and personal representatives will forever warrant and defend the title thereof in the grantee, his heirs, and assigns, against all lawful claims whatsoever. Any exceptions to such covenants may be briefly inserted in such deed following the description of the land.

QUIT-CLAIM LAND

B. acknowledged to me that said corporation executed the same.

To operate as notice to third parties, a deed must be recorded at the office of the county recorder in which the property is situated; but is binding between the parties and to all others who have notice without record.

Powers of attorney affecting real property must be acknowledged and recorded as deeds, and revocation, to be effectual, must be recorded.

The use of a private seal is unnecessary.

Witnesses are not required.

Corporations may be formed by any number of persons, not less than five, one of whom must be a resident of this State. They shall enter into an agreement in writing, which agreement must contain certain statutory provisions and such other matters as may be agreed upon by the incorporators. At least three of the incorporators must subscribe to an affidavit before a notary public of the county wherein they intend to establish their principal place of business, to the effect that they intend to carry on the business mentioned in the agreement and that each party has paid or is able to pay the amount of his subscription. At least 10 per cent of the stock must be paid for before incorporation. The stock can be paid for in property, in which case the property must be described in the agreement, and except in case of corporation organized for mining or irrigating purposes shall be supplemented by the affidavits of three persons to the effect that they are acquainted with said property and that it is reasonably worth the amount for which it was accepted by the corporation. The agreement and oath must be filed with the clerk of the county in which the general business is to be carried on and a copy must be filed with the secretary of state. The officers must subscribe to an oath of office which must be filed with the county clerk. Corporations so formed have general powers. A corporation is allowed to continue its existence the period provided in the charter for the purpose of winding up its business.

A corporation license tax is levied on capital stock, graduated from a minimum tax of $5.00 for an authorized capital stock of $10,000 or less, to a maximum tax of $250.00 for an authorized capital stock of over $4,000,000.00.

The foregoing tax is due on the 15th day of November of each year. If not paid before the 15th day of December following, the corporation is in default and a penalty of $10 is imposed; if the tax and penalty is not paid on or before the first Monday in April following, the right to do business within the State of Utah is forfeited. On or before the 1st day of July following the first Monday in April the governor may reinstate any defaulting corporation paying all back taxes, penalties and expenses.

Corporations, Foreign, doing business in this State are required to file with the secretary of state and with the county clerk of the county wherein their principal office in the State is situated, certified copies of their articles and certificate of incorporation and by-laws, and shall by resolution of the board of directors accept the provisions of the constitution of this State, and shall also designate some person residing in the county in which its principal place of business in this State is situated, upon whom process may be served, which designation shall be filed with the county clerk of said county and the secretary of state; service of summons upon such agent shall be deemed service upon the corporation. Any corporation failing to comply with these provisions shall not be entitled to the benefits of the laws of this State relating to corporations, and shall not sue, prosecute, or maintain any action, suit, counterclaim, cross-complaint, or proceeding in any of the courts of this State; on any claim, interest or demand arising, or growing out of or founded on any contract, agreement or transaction made or entered into in this State by such corporation or by its assignor, or by any person from, through or under whom it derives its interest or title or any part thereof; and shall not take, acquire or hold title, possession or ownership of property, real, personal or mixed, within this State; and every contract, agreement and transaction whatsoever, made or entered into by or on behalf of any such corporation, within this State, or to be executed or performed within this State, shall be wholly void on behalf of such corporation and its assignees and every person deriving any interest or title therefrom, but shall be valid and enforcible against such corporation, assignee and person. Any agent acting for a foreign corporation which has not complied with these provisions is guilty of a misdemeanor and is personally liable on contracts made by him for it. Foreign corporations are granted powers of eminent domain on same conditions as domestic corporations. (See Corporations for License Tax.)

Costs. Non-resident plaintiffs may be required to give security for costs.

Courts. District courts have original jurisdiction in all matters of law and equity and in all matters of probate, and hold three or more terms a year in each county. Provision is made for city courts in the larger cities, and in Salt Lake City the city court has civil jurisdiction in cases where the amount involved does not exceed $500. Justice of the peace courts have jurisdiction where the amount involved is less than $300.

Depositions may be taken upon oral interrogatories upon written notice to the adverse party, specifying the time and place of taking such depositions, the name and official character of the person before whom such depositions are to be taken, the names of the witnesses to be examined. Said notice must be served at least ten days previous to the day of taking such depositions, with one day added for each 200 miles intervening between the place of trial and the place of taking such depositions. The statute also provides a method of taking depositions on written interrogatories and commission issued out of the court.

Descent and Distribution. (See Succession.)

[Note.—In lieu of the common law designation "Descent and Distribution" the civil law title of "Succession" is used in the Utah statutes.]

Dower is abolished. In lieu thereof the law provides that one-third in value of all the legal and equitable estates in real property possessed by the husband at any time during marriage, and of which the wife had made no relinquishment of her rights, shall be set apart as her property in fee simple if she survive him; provided, that the wife shall not be entitled to any interest in any such estate of which the husband has made a conveyance when the wife, at the time of the conveyance, is not, and never has been, a resident of Utah. Property so distributed is free from debts of the husband, except mechanic's lien for improvements on the same, lien for the purchase thereof and for taxes. The value of the widow's share of the homestead is deducted from her distributive share. (See Succession.)

Executions. (See Exemptions and Judgments.) Execution may be issued immediately on entry of judgment. There is no stay, except by appeal. There is no right of redemption of personal property sold on execution. There can be a redemption of real estate sold on execution within six months.

Exemptions. The following personal property of any judgment debtor shall be exempt from levy and sale on execution: Chairs, tables, desk, to the value of $200; library belonging to the judgment debtor; musical instruments in actual use in the family; also necessary household table and kitchen furniture belonging to the judgment debtor to the value of $300; one sewing machine, all family hanging pictures, oil paintings, and drawings, portraits and their necessary frames; all carpets in use; provisions actually provided for individual or family use sufficient for three months; two cows, with their sucking calves; two hogs, with all sucking pigs; all wearing apparel of every person or family; also all beds and bedding of every person or family. Provided, that if the judgment debtor be the head of a family consisting of five or more members, there shall be a further exemption of two cows and their sucking calves. The farming utensils or implements of husbandry of a farmer not exceeding in value the sum of $300; also two oxen or two horses, or two mules and their harness, one cart or wagon, and food for such oxen, horses, cows or mules for six months; also all seed, grain, or vegetables actually provided, reserved, or on hand for the purpose of planting or sowing at any time within the ensuing six months, not exceeding in value the sum of $200; crops, whether growing or harvested, and the proceeds thereof not exceeding in value $200. The tools, tool chest, and implements of a mechanic or artisan necessary to carry on his trade, not exceeding in value the sum of $500; the notarial seal and records of a notary public; the instruments and chests of a surgeon, physician, surveyor and dentist necessary to the exercise of their profession with their scientific and professional libraries, and law professional libraries and office furniture of attorneys, counsellors, and judges, and the libraries of ministers of the gospel, and the typewriting machine of a stenographer, writist, copyist, and reporter. The cabin or dwelling of a miner not exceeding in value the sum of $500; also his sluices, pipes, hose, windlass, derricks, pumps, cars, and tools not exceeding in value $500; two oxen, two horses or two mules and their harness, and a cart or wagon or dray or truck, by the use of which a cartman, drayman, truckman, huckster, peddler, hackman teamster, or other laborer habitually earns his living; and one horse, with vehicle and harness or other equipment used by a physician, surgeon, or minister of the gospel in making his professional visits, with hay and grain sufficient for such horse for six months. One-half of the earnings of the judgment debtor for his personal services, rendered at any time within thirty days next preceding the levy of execution; provided, that when the earnings are $2.00 a day or less, such married man or head of family shall be entitled to an exemption of $30 per month; provided, that in no case shall the judgment debtor be taxed with the costs of any proceeding to obtain by levy of execution or otherwise, any part of the earnings of such judgment debtor, for personal services rendered within thirty days next preceeding the levy of such execution. All public property with the fixtures, furniture, books, papers appertaining thereto. No property is exempt from execution upon a judgment recovered for its purchase price, or on foreclosure of mortgage or mechanic's lien or laborer's lien, or exempt from sale for taxes. Non-residents have no exemptions. All real and personal estate belonging to a married woman in her own right, and all the rents and profits thereof, and all compensation for her personal services, are exempt from execution against her husband. All moneys growing out of life insurance on the life of judgment debtor, if the annual premium does not exceed $500. If the debtor be the head of a family, he is entitled also to a homestead of the value of $1,500 for himself and the further sum of $500 for his wife (if he has one), and $250 additional for each other member of his family.

False Statements for Credit. False statements to procure credit are made misdemeanor.

Fraud. An action for relief on the ground of fraud can be brought within three years after discovery of the fraud. (See Statute of Frauds.)

Garnishment issuable with attachment or afterward. The writ of garnishment with interrogatories attached requires the garnishee to answer within ten days after service if in the county, twenty days if outside. Names of any number of garnishees may be inserted in one writ. Garnishee must answer in writing under oath. He is released by delivering the property or money to an officer. A default may be entered and judgment taken against him upon proof of his liability. If he answer denying liability, the plaintiff may join issue by reply. Such issue is tried and judgment rendered as upon other issues. Discharge of the garnishee does not bar action against him by the defendant for the same demand. Garnishment may be had after judgment, the procedure being substantially the same as the foregoing. New trials and appeals may be taken as in any other civil action.

Husband and Wife. If sued together, she may defend for her own right, and if either neglect the other may defend for both. If he desert her, she may prosecute or defend in her name. She may convey and make contracts in regard to her separate property the same as if unmarried. Either may act as attorney in fact for the other and conveyances from one to the other are valid. She may maintain an action for wages in her own name. They may be sued jointly for the expenses of the family and for the education of the children.

Inheritance Tax. There is an inheritance tax of 3 per cent on all property in excess of $10,000 and not exceeding $25,000, and 5 per cent in excess of $25,000.

Interest. Legal rate, 8 per cent. Maximum rate, 12 per cent. On sums of $100 or less $1.00 may be charged the first month, but no higher rate than 12 per cent thereafter. The debtor, or his representative, can recover all sums paid as principal or interest on usurious loans, if suit is brought within one year. The county superintendent of schools can recover within three years, after the expiration of the first year of the period of limitation, for the use of the schools, all amounts paid as principal or interest on usurious loans.

Judgment rendered in district court becomes a lien on all the real property of debtor within the county from time of docketing, and so continues for eight years therefrom. Lien may be extended to counties of other districts by filing transcript of judgment with county recorder of such counties. Judgments may be revived by suit brought in eight years.

Liens. In all cases where the property of any company, corporation, or firm, seized by process of execution or attachment, and when business is suspended by action of creditors and put into the hands of a receiver or trustee, then the debts owing to laborers for work or labor performed within five months next preceding such seizure and transfer and not exceeding the sum of $400 shall be treated as preferred, and such laborers and employes shall have a lien upon the property for the amount of such debt. This preference does not apply to any officer or general manager of a corporation or any member of any partnership or association. Lessor shall have a lien for rent due for six months only next preceding upon the property of the lessees not exempt from execution as long as the lessee shall occupy the leased premises and for thirty days thereafter, which lien has priority over all others, excepting taxes, mortgages for purchase money, and liens of employes for services for six months next prior to the sale. It is enforced by attachment. Mechanics, material men, etc., performing labor upon or furnishing materials, etc., to be used in construction, alteration, etc., of any building, bridge, etc., have a lien thereof attaching to the interest of the owner or lessee in the land, etc., which lien takes precedence of every other incumbrance or lien attaching after the commencement of the work. Notice of intention to hold and claim lien must be filed in the office of the county recorder within sixty days after the completion of the contract in the case of original contractor; in every other case, within forty days after furnishing the last material or performing the last labor. Liens may be enforced within twelve months after completion of the original contract or suspension of work thereunder for thirty days. Persons entering into contracts for the construction or repair of public buildings, public work or improvement, are required to give a bond for the protection of persons furnishing labor and material.

Limitation of Actions. Within four years, an action upon a contract, obligation, or liability not founded upon an instrument of writing; also, on an open account for goods, wares and merchandise, and for any article charged in a store account, and after the last charge is made or the last payment is received. Within 6 years, contracts or obligations founded in writing. Within eight years, judgment or decree of any court of the United States, state, or territory. Money deposited in bank no limitation for its recovery.

Mines and Mining. The general principles of the mining laws which prevails in the Pacific Coast region, as embodied in the revised statutes of the United States, and interpreted by the supreme court of the United States and other federal courts, obtains in this State; There is very little local statutory enactment to supplement this general system.

Mortgages (see Chattel Mortgages. For form Real Property mortgage see Conveyances) of real estate must be acknowledged as deeds, and must be foreclosed by proceedings in equity. Every mortgage of personal property is void as against creditors or subsequent purchasers unless accompanied by an actual and continued change of possession to the mortgagee, or unless the mortgage provide that the property may remain in possession of mortgagor, and be accompanied by affidavit of the parties that it is made in good faith to secure the amount named therein, and without any design to hinder or delay creditors. A short statutory form is provided.

Notes and Bills of Exchange are governed by statute. Chapter 83 of the laws of 1899, effective July 1, 1899, is the act recommended by the American bar association to secure a uniform law on this subject. All other acts are repealed. The law merchant governs in cases not provided for. This statute of 1899 is substantially the same as the act of New York relating to negotiable instruments. (See Holidays.) Issuing check without funds or credit is a misdemeanor.

Partnership (assumed name). Persons conducting business under assumed name are required to file affidavit with the county clerk giving true names of persons interested.

Power of Attorney. Every power of attorney, or other instrument in writing containing the power to convey any real estate as agent or attorney for the owner thereof, to execute as agent or attorney for another any conveyance whereby any real estate is conveyed or may be effected, must be acknowledged, and certified, and recorded as other conveyances whereby real estate is conveyed or effected are required to be acknowledged, approved, certified, and recorded. Power of attorney can only be revoked by written revocation recorded in the same office as the power of attorney is recorded.

Replevin. Personal property may be replevined by the owner or other persons entitled to the possession of it. The necessary affidavit and complaint must be made and filed and also bond in double the value of the property claimed. The defendant can retain possession by giving like security.

Statute of Frauds. The following agreements are void unless the agreement or some note or memorandum thereof be in writing and subscribed by the party to be charged therewith:

1. Every agreement that by its terms is not to be performed within one year from the making thereof.

2. Every promise to answer for the debt, default, or miscarriage of another.

3. Every agreement, promise, or undertaking, made upon consideration of marriage, except mutual promises to marry.

4. Every special promise made by an executor or administrator to answer damages or to pay the debts of the testator or intestate out of his own estate.

5. Every agreement authorizing or employing an agent or broker to purchase or sell real estate for compensation or a commission.

Succession. An intestate's estate goes, if there survive: 1. Husband or wife and one child, one-half to each; if more than one child, one-third to the husband or wife, the rest equally to the children. 2. If issue alone, all to the issue. 3. If no issue, all to the husband or wife up to $5,000, the excess one-half to husband or wife, the other half to the parents, and if both are dead, to brothers and sisters equally. 4. If neither issue, spouse, nor parents, to brothers and sisters. 5. If no issue, parents, brothers or sisters, all to the husband or wife. 6. If neither issue, spouse, parent, brother or sister, to the next of kin in equal degree, and if no kin then to the State for the school fund. Issue of children take according to right of representation except in certain cases. Illegitimate children inherit from the mother, and from the father when he acknowledges paternity. Issue of marriages null in law are legitimate. Children of bigamous or polygamous marriages born on or before January 4, 1896, are legitimate. Curtesy and dower are abolished, but the husband of wife surviving takes one-third of the estate of the other in fee.

Suits. (See Actions.)

Taxes are levied as of the second Monday of January; due on the first Monday of September and become delinquent on the 15th day of November. If taxes on real property are not paid, such property may be sold on or after the third Monday of December and may be redeemed at any time within four years.

Warehouse Receipts. The uniform warehouse receipts Act recommended by the national commission on uniform legislation, was adopted by the legislative session of 1911.

Wills. Any person over the age of 18, of sound mind, may dispose of his or her property, personal and real, by will. A will must be in writing, subscribed by the testator at the end thereof, in the presence of two witnesses, and the testator must, at the time of subscribing, declare to the witnesses that the instrument is his will, and must be attested by two witnesses, each of whom must sign his name as a witness at the end of the will at the testator's request in his presence, and in the presence of each other. By express enactment of statute the word "writing" includes printing. All wills executed according to the law of the State or country where made, or where testator was at the time domiciled, or in conformity to the laws of Utah, may be admitted to probate hereafter, being duly proved and allowed in any other state, territory, or foreign state or country. Nuncupative wills are good, provided the estate bequeathed does not exceed in value the sum of $1,000, and provided the will be proved within six months after decedent's death by two witnesses who were present, one of whom was asked by testator to bear witness that such was his will, or to that effect Such wills are only good in cases where testator was in expectation of immediate death from an injury or casualty happening within twenty-four hours previous to the making of he will. An holographic will, defined as one that is entirely written, dated and signed by the hand of the testator himself, need not be witnessed, and may be proved in the same way as other private writings.

THE LAWS OF VERMONT

Prepared and Revised by THERIAULT & HUNT, Attorneys at Law, Montpelier. (See Card in Attorneys' List.)

Acknowledgments. All deeds must be signed and sealed in the presence of two witnesses. The seal shall consist of a wafer, wax, paper or other adhesive substance affixed thereto, or the word "seal" or the letters "L. S." opposite the signature. They may be acknowledged in this State before a justice of the peace, notary public, or master in chancery. Outside the State, before a justice, notary public, or commissioner for Vermont, or any other officer authorized by the laws of such other state to take acknowledgments of deeds.

Actions. Are such as are recognized by the common law. Suits before a justice must be served at least six days and not more than sixty days before the return day, except when served in another county, then at least twelve days prior to return day; if defendant is properly notified, judgment may be rendered on the return day, if no defense is interposed. If there is no personal service there must be one continuance for notice. Suits before a justice must ordinarily be brought in the town where one of the parties resides; if neither lives in the State, then in any town. Suits before the supreme or county courts must be brought in the county in which one of the parties resides, if either lives in the State; if neither resides in the State, then in any county, but actions of ejectment and trespass on the freehold must be brought in the county where the land lies. Replevin is to be brought in the county where the goods are detained. Every writ and process returnable before the supreme or county courts, except as otherwise provided, shall be served within twenty-one days from the date of issuing the same, including the day of service, and excluding the day of issuing. The party suing out any process shall cause the same to be entered and docketed in the county clerk's office on or before the expiration of said twenty-one days, or the process shall be of no avail. The defendant shall cause his appearance therein to be entered with the clerk within forty-two days from the date of process. Process served by an officer shall be returned by him to the court or judge to which, or the place where, it is made returnable, within the time allowed by law for serving the same. Suits are commenced by writs of summons or attachment, as the plaintiff prefers. There is no distinction between residents and non-residents, either plaintiff or defendant, in respect to the right of, or liability to, an attachment of property on mesne process. The declaration is contained in the writ. Security for costs to the defendants must be given by way of recognizance by some other person than the plaintiff and must be minuted upon every writ.

Administration of estates is conducted in the probate courts in the several probate districts.

Affidavits may be taken and oaths administered out of the State by commissioners appointed by the governor.

Appeals. (See Courts.)

Arrest. In actions ex delicto the defendant may be arrested for want of attachable property. In actions ex contractu no woman can be arrested. Nor can a resident citizen of any of the United States be arrested in an action ex contractu except upon the affidavit of the plaintiff, his agent or attorney, "that he has good reason to believe, and does believe, that the defendant is about to abscond or remove from the State, and has secreted property to an amount exceeding twenty dollars or sufficient to satisfy the demand upon which he is to be arrested," or upon the affidavit of the plaintiff "that the defendant is the receiver of money of the plaintiff in a fiduciary capacity which the defendant has not paid on demand, and that his action is instituted to recover the same."

Assignments and Insolvency. There is an insolvent law. The probate courts have jurisdiction in insolvency. All assignments must be for the benefit of all creditors. Non-resident creditors can prove their claims and take their dividends; but the discharge does not disturb the unproved claim of a non-resident creditor.

Attachment. The defendant's property, not exempt, may be attached on mesne process in serving the writ, and trustee process will reach goods, effects, or credits of defendant in the hands of a third party, but workmen's wages are exempt up to the amount of $10.

Banks. Savings Banks, Savings Institutions, and Trust Companies are organized under special charters granted by the general assembly, and under the general incorporation act, but are regulated largely by general law. Savings banks have no capital stock, while the trust companies, though receiving savings deposits and usually denominated savings banks and trust companies, have a capital fixed by their charters, and the stockholders are individually liable, equally and ratably, for the companies' liabilities to the amount of the par value of their stock in addition to the amount invested in such stock. The treasurer of a bank, before entering upon the duties of his office, shall execute to such corporation a bond approved by a majority of the trustees and the bank commissioner, conditioned for the faithful discharge of his duties. Such bond shall not be less than $10,000; and when the deposits of such corporation, including its capital, if any, and surplus, exceed the sum of $100,000, the penal sum of such bond shall be increased $2,000 for each additional sum of $100,000 or fractional part thereof, but shall not exceed $100,000.

The investment of banks are regulated by laws which are explicit and comprehensive.

A bank may deposit on call in banking associations or trust companies, approved by the bank commissioner of this State and under the supervision of the state or federal authority, in this State or in the cities of New York, Boston, Chicago, Albany, Philadelphia, or Concord, New Hampshire, or in any other bank designated as a depository under the laws of the United States or in National banks in the cities of St. Paul, Minneapolis, and Kansas City, with or without interest as may be agreed upon, sums not exceeding in the aggregate 20 per cent of the assets of such depositing banks.

A national bank may act in all trust capacities in the same manner and subject to the same control by the court having jurisdiction, as a natural person legally qualified.

Every bank shall annually, on or before the 15th day of July, make a report to the bank commissioner, showing accurately the condition thereof as it was at the close of business on the 30th day of June preceding; and such report shall embrace the following particulars: Name of corporation; place where located; amount of deposits; amount of individual deposits in excess of $2,000; total number of depositors; number of depositors resident in this State and the total amount of their deposits; number of depositors not resident in this State and the total amount of their deposits; amount of capital, if any; amount of each item of other liability; public funds, including United States, state, county, town and other municipal bonds, stating each particular kind, the par value, estimated market value, and amount invested in each; bank stock, stating name and location of bank, number of shares, par value, estimated market value, and amount invested in each; railroad bonds, stating name of railroad, par value, estimated market value, and amount invested in each; other stocks, stating the amount of each; estimated value, date acquired, description and location of real estate, and amount invested in each property; loans on mortgages of real estate, stating amount in each State, with average rate of interest thereon by States where loans are made bearing more than 6 per cent interest and with special description of each loan in foreclosure or on which there is interest more than one year overdue, giving date of each such loan, date due, amount of principal unpaid, rate of interest, amount of interest due and accrued, value of land mortgaged and of buildings, amount of insurance held by bank; loans to counties, cities, towns, villages, or school districts; loans on personal security; loans on collateral security; cash on deposit in banks or trust companies, with the name thereof and the amount deposited in each; cash on hand: the rate and amount of each semi-annual interest payment on deposits and dividends on stock for the past year; the amount of the treasurer's bond; the amount of taxes paid during the past year to the United States and to this State; the salaries paid officers, trustees, and employees; the other expenses of the past year; with such other information as the bank commissioner may require to obtain an accurate exhibit of the condition, affairs, and transactions of the bank.

The treasurer of each bank shall, on or before the 15th day of February, 1912, and every sixth year thereafter, return to the bank commissioner, under oath, a list of depositors who have not made a deposit therein or withdrawn any part of their deposits or of the interest thereon, for a period of ten years next preceding; and the treasurer of such an institution shall further give notice by publishing a list of such depositors in one or more newspapers published in or near the town where such institution is located, three weeks successively.

The preceding section shall not apply to deposits which, with the accumulation, shall be less than $25, or to a deposit made by or in the name of any person known by the officers of the bank to be living.

The bank commissioner shall semi-annually, without previous notice, visit and examine the condition and affairs of every bank, and oftener if he deems it necessary or believes the interest and safety of the depositors or creditors require. He shall be given access to all the files, books, accounts, securities, and assets of the bank, and shall be afforded every reasonable facility for making an examination of its affairs. He may examine, upon oath, the officers, agents, and servants of such bank, or any other person, in relation to the affairs and condition of such institution, and may administer oaths for that purpose. In addition to the examinations required to be made by law, said commissioner shall make such examinations when ordered so to do by a court of competent jurisdiction. Said commissioner may cause an examination of a bank to be made by an expert under his direction but at the expense of such bank.

When the treasurer of a bank is an officer of a national bank or banking association, or the business of a bank is carried on in the same office or building with a national banking association, said commissioner shall, at least once in each year, visit and inspect the condition of such bank, at the same time that the United States bank examiner visits and examines such national banking association.

Every bank shall at all times carry as a reserve 15 per cent of its commercial deposits and 3 per cent of its savings deposits.

Not less than three-fifths of such reserve shall be in cash on hand and in balances payable on demand in banks and national banking associations in which banks of this State are authorized by law to make deposits; and at least one-third of said three-fifths shall be in cash on hand, but balances payable on demand in banks or national banking associations in the same county will be accepted as and in lieu of cash to the amount of one-half of such cash requirement.

Two-fifths of such reserve may be in United States or state bonds or in the bonds of any city of the United States of at least 200,000 inhabitants, according to the last preceding United States census.

No new loans may be made when a bank's reserve is not in accord with the requirements of this section.

The trustees shall have the general management of the affairs of the bank, but they may act through committees of investment, examination, and audit, subject to their general supervision and control.

A regular meeting of the board of trustees of a bank shall be held at least once each month to receive the report of its treasurer and for the transaction of other business. A majority of the trustees shall constitute a quorum, but a less number may adjourn from time to time or until the next regular meeting.

A trustee or other officer of a bank who intentionally violates a provision of this act shall be imprisoned not more than ten years or fined not more than $10,000, or both; and the state's attorney for the county in which such corporation is located shall prosecute such violation on complaint thereof by the bank commissioner.

A trustee or officer of a savings bank shall not, directly or indirectly, either for himself or as the partner of others, borrow or use its funds or deposits, or sign any note, as surety, upon which any of such deposits are loaned.

A savings bank shall, immediately before making each interest payment to savings depositors, reserve from the net profits accumulated since the preceding interest payment, not less than one-eighth of one per cent of the average amount of deposits during such period, as a surplus fund until such fund amounts to 10 per cent of the amount of deposits and other liabilities except surplus. The accumulation toward such fund shall be set aside and held intact and, when the fund amounts to said 10 per cent, it shall thereafter be maintained and held to meet losses in its business from depreciation and securities or otherwise; and, if at any time it falls below said 10 per cent, reservations from net profits shall in like manner be renewed until such fund again reaches the 10 per cent requirement.

A savings bank may pay interest on deposits not to exceed one and three-fourths per cent semi-annually until one-half of the 10 per cent fund described in the preceding section shall be accumulated, after which, so long as said accumulation does not fall below one-half of said 10 per cent fund, the rate may be not to exceed 2 per cent semi-annually until said 10 per cent fund is accumulated. The trustees, so long only as said surplus fund equals or exceeds said 10 per cent, may declare and pay such interest on deposits as in their judgment the earnings and resources of the corporation, above such surplus fund, warrant.

In determining the per cent of surplus fund held by a bank, its interest or dividend paying stocks and bonds, and its real estate shall be estimated at their market value, and its notes and mortgages shall be estimated at their face.

No loan shall be made to an officer, director, or employee of any trust company without the written consent of a majority of the directors; and such loan shall not at any one time, directly or indirectly, exceed 5 per cent of the capital stock actually paid in, but the discount of bona fide bills of exchange drawn against existing values, and the discount of commercial or business paper actually owned by such director, officer, or employee negotiating the same to an amount not exceeding $10,000 or a loan upon the pledge of any of the securities which are legal investments and subject to the restrictions thereof to an amount not exceeding the same sum, shall not be prohibited by this section, but no loan shall be made by such corporation upon its own stock as collateral, and no officers, director or employee of a trust company shall become surety on any note held by such trust company.

Bills and Notes. On February 13, 1913, the Uniform Negotiable Instruments law went into effect.

Chattel Mortgages. All personal property is subject to mortgage. A mortgage on personal property shall not be valid either between the parties or otherwise unless in writing and recorded within 30 days from its execution in the office of the town clerk of the town in which the mortgagor resides, or if he resides out of the State, in the town in which the property is situated. When the condition of a chattel mortgage has been fulfilled, the mortgagee shall within thirty days thereafter cause said mortgage to be discharged of record and if he refuses or neglects to do so shall be fined not more than fifty nor less than five dollars. Mortgagor and mortgagee are required to subscribe to an affidavit that the debt secured is a just one and if such a mortgage is given to indemnify the mortgagee against liability assumed, or to secure the fulfillment of an agreement other than the payment of a debt due from the mortgagor to the mortgagee, or if such mortgage is given to a trustee to secure bonds issued or to be issued thereunder, such liability, agreement or obligation shall be stated specifically in the condition of the mortgage, and the affidavit shall be so varied as to verify the validity and justice of such liability, agreement or obligation.

Contracts. (See Actions.) Contracts based upon an illegal or immoral consideration are void.

Conveyances of real estate are to be by deed and recorded in the clerk's office in the town in which the land is situated. (See Acknowledgments.)

Corporations may be formed by three or more persons, by application to the secretary of state, for any purpose not repugnant to the laws of this state except (1) any business subject to regulation by the Public Service Commission; (2) the business of a bank, or trust company or savings bank, or any business contemplating the receipt or holding of money on deposit, or letting, loaning or managing money deposited; and (3) the business of insurance. Not less than twenty-five persons, a majority being inhabitants of the State, may form a railroad corporation under the general law. Any corporation, by a two-thirds vote of all its stockholders, or, if it has no capital stock, by a two-thirds vote of all members present, or, if such corporation has not been organized, by a two-thirds vote of the surviving signers of the articles of association, at a meeting duly called for the purpose, may alter, add to or change the business for the transaction of which it was incorporated. (See Sec. 21 of Gen. Ins. Act.)

Charter fees—If incorporated by act of legislature and no capital stock is provided for, or if capital stock does not exceed $10,000, $25; if capital stock exceeds $10,000 but does not exceed $50,000, $50; if exceeds $50,000 but does not exceed $200,000, $100; if exceeds $200,000 but does not exceed $500,000, $200; if exceeds $500,000, but does not exceed $1,000,000, $300; if exceeds $1,000,000, $500; if incorporated by voluntary association and no capital stock is provided for, $25; if capital stock does not exceed $5,000, $10; if exceeds $5,000 and is not over $10,000, $25; if exceeds $10,000 then the fees specified above. Charter fee must be paid with application for charter, and if charter is refused money is refunded.

A corporation may own shares of stock in any domestic corporation provided that the principal business of such domestic corporation is ancillary and auxiliary to its business or that it holds such stock for purposes ancillary and auxiliary to its business. A corporation may also own shares of stock in any corporation organized under the laws of any other jurisdiction, if the principal business of such foreign corporation is to handle and develop in that jurisdiction the business of the domestic corporation. Any charitable, religious or educational corporation may accept and hold shares of stock in any corporation given to it by will or otherwise.

No corporation whose business is primarily to hold shares of stock in other corporations, commonly called "a holding company," shall be permitted to acquire or hold such stock in other corporations. A violation of this provision shall be a cause for the dissolution of the corporation.

Courts. The supreme court has appellate jurisdiction, and sits as a court of error in suits in chancery; it has exclusive jurisdiction of certain statutory petitions not triable by jury; it may issue and determine writs of error, certiorari, mandamus, prohibition, and quo warranto; and may try and determine questions of law removed from the county court upon bills of exceptions. Court of chancery has general chancery jurisdiction. The county court has original and exclusive jurisdiction of all original civil actions not cognizable by a justice, and of certain statutory petitions; it has appellate jurisdiction in most cases cognizable by a justice where the matter in controversy exceeds $20 and in some cases where it is less than that sum; and it also has appellate jurisdiction in cases in the probate court and in the court of insolvency. There are also inferior courts; municipal and city courts, juvenile courts, and justice courts.

Days of Grace. None.

Depositions may be taken in the State by justices of the peace, notaries public, masters in chancery, judges and registers of probate, and by commissioners of other states residing in this State. They may be taken out of the State by commissioners appointed by a supreme court judge, or by the governor, and by officers who are qualified to take depositions in other states

Dower. Widow is entitled to one-third in value of real estate of deceased husband, unless barred in the manner specified in the statute by last will, by jointure, settlement, or when husband leaves no children or representatives of children; and when a widow is entitled to a homestead, her dower is diminished by an amount equal to it.

Executions. May be levied upon property not exempt from attachment. Personal property levied upon is sold by the officer at public auction. Real property is sold at public auction, but the debtor may redeem within six months. In cases in which the body is liable to arrest, the officer may for want of property take the debtor and commit him to jail.

Exemptions. Homestead, $500; necessary wearing apparel, household furniture and tools, one cow, one swine or meat of one swine, ten sheep, either one yoke of oxen or two horses (horses not to exceed in value the sum of $200), as the debtor may select, with forage for one winter, one sleigh, two sets of harness, two halters, and some other small articles. Ten cords of firewood or five tons of coal, twenty bushels of potatoes, the arms used by a soldier in the service of the United States, growing crops, ten bushels of grain, one barrel of flour, three swarms of bees and their produce in honey; 200 pounds of sugar, one sled or one set of trader's sleds, one tool-chest used by a mechanic, live poultry, not exceeding in value the sum of $10; one two-horse wagon or ox-cart, as the debtor may select, with whiffletrees and neck-yoke, two chains, one plow. Also a sewing machine and instruments and libraries of professional men to the value of $200.

Garnishment. (See Attachment.)

Holidays. (See Notes and Bills.)

Husband and Wife are competent witnesses for or against each other in all cases, civil and criminal, except that neither is allowed to testify against the other as to any statement, conversation, letter or other communication made to the other as to another person, and neither is allowed in any case to testify as to any matter which, in the opinion of the court, would lead to a violation of marital confidence.

Interest. The legal rate is 6 per cent per annum. Judgments bear legal rate. Only the excess paid is forfeited, and that may be recovered back or set up in reduction of claim.

Judgments do not of themselves create a lien on property but attached upon mesne process.

Limitations of Suits. Simple promissory notes are barred in six years, but notes signed in presence of an attesting witness are not barred until fourteen years next after the right of action shall accrue thereon. Accounts are barred after six years from the last credit; sealed instruments and judgments, after eight years. A verbal promise to pay will not revive a debt, but the promise must be in writing signed by the party to be charged. A partial payment will revive the debt; but, in case of a note, the payment can not be shown by the indorsement of the payment alone unless in the handwriting of the party making the payment.

Married Women. May dispose of property by will. May make contracts with any person other than her husband, and bind herself and her separate property, as if she was unmarried, and may sue and be sued as to such contracts made by her before or during coverture. But her husband must join in conveying her real estate, unless upon petition and cause shown permission is granted by court of chancery to convey by separate deed; and she can not become surety for his debts except by way of mortgage. All personal property and rights of action acquired by her before coverture, or during coverture, except by gift from her husband, are held to her separate use, and neither her separate property, nor the rents, issues, income, or products of it, are subject to the disposal of her husband or liable for his debts; but this provision does not authorize any claim by either husband or wife against the other for personal services. The husband is not liable for her torts unless committed by his authority or direction, nor liable for her debts contracted before the marriage, unless the marriage was before January 1, 1885. (See Husband and Wife—Divorces.)

Mortgages of real estate are foreclosed by bill or petition and writ of possession given after decree and failure to redeem. The usual time for redemption granted in the decree is one year, but it may be shortened upon cause shown. (See Chattel Mortgages.)

Notes and Bills of Exchange. On February 13, 1913, the uniform Negotiable Instruments Law went into effect.

Protest. (See Notes and Bills.)

Replevin. Replevin may be maintained for beasts distrained; for goods attached, and for the unlawful taking or detaining of goods.

Suits before the county court are brought in the county where plaintiff or defendant resides—if both are non-resident, then in any county. Actions of ejectment and trespass on the freehold must be brought in the county where the land lies, and actions of replevin where the goods are detained.

Taxes. Lands sold for taxes may be redeemed within one year on payment of the full sum for which they were sold, with legal costs and 12 per cent interest.

Wills. Every person of age and sound mind may dispose of his or her real and personal estate by will. The testator must sign in the presence of three witnesses, who must also sign at the request and in the presence of the testator and in the presence of each other.

THE LAWS OF VIRGINIA

Prepared and Revised by AGELASTO & MILLER, Attorneys at Law, Norfolk. (See Card in Attorneys' List.)

Acknowledgments. The certificate must be to the following effect:
State (territory, or district) of .....
County (or corporation) of ..... To-wit:
I .....(Title of Officer), in and for the county (or corporation) of ..... in the state (territory, or district) of ....., do hereby certify that .....whose name is signed to the writing above (or hereto annexed), bearing date on the ..... day of ....., has acknowledged the same before me in my county (or corporation) aforesaid.
Given under my hand this .....day of .....

(Title of Officer)

(Notary must give the date at which his commission expires.)

The clerk of the court in which any deed, contract, or other writing is to be, or may be recorded, shall admit the same to record in his office, as to any person, whose name is signed thereto, when it shall have been acknowledged by him, or proved by two witnesses as to him, before such clerk, or upon a certificate of his acknowledgment before the said clerk, or before the clerk of any court of record in this State or before the clerk of any court out of this State, but within the United States, or before a justice, a commissioner in chancery of a court of record or a notary, within the United States, or in the Philippine Islands, Porto Rico or in any territory, district or dependency of the United States, or a commissioner appointed by the governor of this State within the United States; or upon the certificate of the clerk of any court of record in this State or the clerk of any court out of this State and within the United States, that the said writing was proved as to him by two witnesses before such clerk or before the court of which he is the clerk, or upon the certificate under the official seal of any ambassador, minister plenipotentiary, minister resident, chargé d'affaires, consul-general, consul, vice-consul, or commercial agent appointed by the government of the United States to any foreign country, or of the proper officer of any court of such country, or of the mayor or other chief magistrate of any city, town or corporation therein that the said writing was acknowledged by such person or proved as to him by two witnesses before any person having such appointment, or before such court, mayor, or chief magistrate. A duly qualified deputy clerk may make any certificate that his principal may make hereunder.

When a person signs such writing in behalf of another person, or corporation, or in a representative capacity, a certificate of the acknowledgment of the person, so signing, shall be sufficient.

Administration of Estates. Executors and administrators, with the will annexed, must qualify in the court in which the will of the testator is probated. Administrators must qualify in the court in which the decedent's will would have been probated had he made a will. The assets of the decedent, after the payment of funeral expenses and the charges of administration, are applied as follows: 1. For articles furnished and services rendered during last illness, not exceeding $50, for claims: (a) By physicians. (b) By druggists. (c) By nurses. (d) By hospitals. 2. To pay debts due the United States and State of Virginia. 3. To pay taxes and levies assessed upon decedent previous to death. 4. To pay debts due as personal representative, trustees for persons under disabilities, guardian or committee, where the qualification was in this State, in which debts shall be included a debt for money received by a husband acting as such fiduciary in right of his wife. 5. All other demands, ratably, except those in the next class. 6. Voluntary obligations. The order of payment applies alike to resident and non-resident creditors. The surplus, after the payment of funeral expenses, charges of administration and debts, passes, if he die intestate, to his relations. (See Descent and Distribution.) The payment of legacies or the distribution of the personal estate of an intestate cannot be compelled until after one year from the date of the qualification of the first executor or administrator of the decedent, and only then when the legatee or distributee gives a refunding bond, with sufficient security, or when the court enters an order directing payment or distribution without refunding bonds.

Affidavits. Any oath or affidavit required by law which is not of such a nature that it must be made in court, may be administered by or made before a justice and certified by him, unless otherwise provided; and in any case in which an oath might be administered by or an affidavit made before a justice, the same may be administered by or made before a notary, a commissioner in chancery, a commissioner appointed by the governor, or a court, or a clerk of a court. An affidavit may also be made before any officer of another state or country authorized by its laws to administer an oath, and shall be deemed duly authenticated if it be subscribed by such officer and there be annexed to it a certificate of the clerk or other officer of a court of record of such state or country, under an official seal, verifying the genuineness of the signature of the first mentioned officer, and his authority to administer such oath. When such affidavit is made before a notary public of such other state or country the same shall be deemed and taken to be duly authenticated, if it be subscribed by such officer with his official seal attached, without being certified by any clerk or other officer of a court of record.

Aliens. Any alien not an enemy, may acquire, by purchase or descent, and hold real estate in this State, and the same shall be transmitted in the same manner as real estate held by citizens.

Arbitration. Persons desiring to end any controversy, whether there be a suit pending therefor or not, may submit the same to arbitration, and agree that such submission may be entered of record in any court.

Arrests. In aid of remedy in civil action arrest does not lie, but capias can be taken out against debtors about to quit the State. Before plaintiff can obtain this writ, he has to give bond with security, to pay costs and damages occasioned by arrest of the defendant.

Attachments may be upon real or personal property, and allowed as follows: 1. Against foreign corporations and non-residents having property in this State. 2. Against an absconding debtor in a suit removing, or intending to remove, his property out of the State. 3. Against a debtor who has removed, is removing, or intends to remove his property, whether the claim is due or not. 4. Against a debtor converting, about to convert, or who has converted his property, or some part thereof, into money, securities, or evidences of debt, with intent to hinder, delay, or defraud creditors. 5. Has disposed of, or is about to dispose of his property, or some part thereof, with intent to hinder, delay, or defraud creditors. 6. Against a tenant removing property from leased premises before rent is due. 7. Against vessels for materials and supplies furnished or work done thereon. 8. Against crops of tenants cultivating land. 9. Against crops of persons cultivating lands for advances made upon crops. 10. Against property claimed in action of detinue, when defendant is alleged to be insolvent.

Banks. The state corporation commission has the power to charter banks under the general corporation law with minimum capital stock, not less than $10,000, and to require reports and examinations and to exercise general supervision thereof.

Every such bank has power to prescribe by its board of directors bylaws regulating the manner in which its stock shall be transferred, its general business conducted, and the privileges granted to it by law exercised and enjoyed.

The affairs of such bank shall be managed by a board of directors, consisting of not less than five persons, a majority of whom shall be citizens of the State, and each director is required to own at least $100 of the capital stock of the bank of which he is director. The board of directors shall meet at least once a month. The directors shall be elected at the annual meeting of the stockholders. Any vacancy in the board of directors shall be filled by appointment by the remaining directors, and any director so appointed shall hold his place until the next election of directors. They are to elect from their number the president. The directors are required to make once in every three months an examination of the moneys of the bank, and a settlement of the accounts of the cashier. A statement of such examination and settlement shall be recorded with the proceedings of the board.

Every such bank may purchase, hold, and convey real estate for the following purposes, and no other:

1. Such as may be necessary for its immediate accommodation in the transaction of its business.

2. Such as may be mortgaged or encumbered to secure, or conveyed to it in satisfaction of debts previously contracted in the course of its dealings; or such as it may purchase at sales, under order of court, or deed of trust held by it, or to secure debts due to it but no such property, purchased or acquired under this head, shall be held for a longer period than ten years.

No dividend higher than 6 per cent on the capital stock paid in shall be declared by any bank until the bank has a surplus of 10 per cent of its capital, nor shall any dividend be declared by which such surplus fund is reduced below the said 10 per cent.

Every such bank must make statements to the state corporation commission, identically as the national banks are required to make to the comptroller of the currency, and must publish such statements in a condensed form, as published by said national banks, and the state corporation commission is required to call for such statements, whenever the comptroller of the currency calls on the national banks for such statements; and upon written application, by stockholders representing two-fifths of capital stock of the bank, the state corporation commission may make a special examination. There may, at any time, be an inspection of the books and examination into the proceedings of any bank by a joint committee of the two houses of the general assembly, or a committee of each house, or one or more commissioners appointed by the general assembly or by the governor.

Any banker, broker, or officer of any trust or savings institution, or of any state bank, or employee of any private banker, who shall take and receive money from a depositor with the actual knowledge that the said banker, broker, or bank, or institution is at the time insolvent, shall be guilty of embezzlement, and shall be punished by a fine double the amount so received and imprisoned in jail from fifteen days to one year, or from one to three years in the penitentiary in the discretion of the jury.

There are no laws restricting savings banks as to the class of bonds and securities in which their funds may be invested.

A bank examiner and assistant are provided for with full powers of frequent and rigid examination of state banks at the expense of the banks.

Chattel Mortgages and Deeds of Trusts. There may be mortgages or deeds of trusts upon personal or real property to secure the payment of money, and upon default of payment the property may be sold by the trustee without the intervention of court proceedings. The mortgage or deed of trust must be acknowledged, and must be recorded in the county or corporation wherein the property is situated. It is larceny to fraudulently dispose of personal property on which a deed of trust exists, without the consent of the trustee or beneficiary.

Checks. The death of the drawer of a check, presented within two weeks from date of death, does not operate as a revocation. Bank or bankers retain for a period of two weeks after notice of the death of a depositor money standing to his credit, and after paying thereout any checks which may be presented within said two weeks shall, upon demand, pay the residue to the persons entitled thereto in the manner prescribed by law. This applies only to checks made payable at a bank or bankers. (Acts 1906.) "It is made larceny to obtain, with fraudulent intent, money, or other property by means of a check, draft, or order and the failure to have on deposit, or to the credit of the maker, or drawer thereof, with the drawee sufficient funds to pay the same, when presented, is prima facie evidence of fraudulent intent."

Collaterals. No special legislation.

Conditional Sales. Every sale or contract for the sale of goods or chattels, wherein the title is reserved until the same be paid for in whole or in part, or the transfer of the title is made to depend on any condition, and possession to be delivered to the vendee, is void as to creditors of and purchasers for value without notice from such vendee unless such sale or contract be evidenced by writing executed by the vendor and vendee, in which the said reservation or condition is expressed, and until and except from the time the said writing is duly admitted to record in the county or corporation in which said goods or chattels may be. As to rolling stock, cars, etc., of railroad companies, contracts concerning them are to be recorded in the circuit or corporation court of the county, or corporation where the principal office of the company is located; if in Richmond city, in the Richmond chancery court, and a copy filed with the state corporation commission, and each locomotive, car, or other piece of rolling stock is to be plainly and permanently marked with the name of the vendor on both sides thereof, followed by the word "owner."

Contracts. Every contract not in writing, made in respect to real estate or goods and chattels, in consideration of marriage, or made for the conveyance or sale of real estate, or a term therein of more than five years, shall be void, both at law and in equity, as to purchasers for valuable consideration without notice and creditors.

Conveyances are made by deed which may be written, type-written, or printed, and must be sealed. The seal of a natural person may be a scroll, affixed by way of seal; but the impression of a corporate or an official seal on paper or parchment alone shall be as valid as if made on wax or other adhesive substance. The seal must be recognized as a seal in the body of the instrument, e. g.: "Witness my hand and seal." An attorney in fact may execute a deed, but the power of attorney must be under seal. No prescribed form is required for deed of a corporation, but it must be executed by duly authorized officers or agents. Any interest in or claim to real estate may be disposed of by deed, and any estate may be made to commence in futuro by deed. A deed conveying real estate, without words of limitation, passes the whole estate of the grantor, unless a contrary intention appears by the deed. A deed or will is necessary to convey an estate of inheritance or freehold for a term of more than five years, in lands; and a deed is also necessary for a voluntary partition of lands by coparceners having such an estate therein. A deed or will is also necessary to make a valid gift of goods or chattels, unless actual possession shall have come to and remained with the donee, or some person claiming under him. The deed must be acknowledged before an officer authorized to take acknowledgments. (See acknowledgments.) His official character and when his commission expires must appear in the certificate, and acknowledgment must be taken within his county or corporation. Deeds must be recorded in the clerk's office of the court of the county or corporation in which the land lies, or in which the goods or chattels may be, except in the city of Richmond, where all papers are recorded in the clerk's office of the chancery court. Neither the acknowledgment nor registry of a deed is necessary to make it valid between the parties thereto, except in case of a deed from husband and wife, which must be acknowledged and registered to convey wife's interest. But no deed can be registered unless properly acknowledged or proved by two witnesses.

Corporations. The state corporation commission, consisting of three members, is the department of government through which must be issued all charters and amendments or extensions thereof, for domestic corporations, and all licenses to do business in this State to foreign corporations: and through which must be carried out all provisions for the creation, visitation, supervision, regulation and control of corporations chartered by, or doing business in this State.

Costs. Non-resident plaintiffs may be required to give security for costs on motion of defendant to any officer of the court.

Courts. Their Organization and Jurisdiction. The supreme court of appeals.—This is the court of last resort in this State. Its sessions are held at three points in the State, viz.: At Richmond, Staunton, and Wytheville. It has original jurisdiction in proceedings by mandamus, prohibition, and habeas corpus. The appellate jurisdiction of the supreme court of appeals extends to all criminal cases, to all cases involving the constitutionality of a law, controversies concerning title or boundaries of land, the condemnation of property, the probate of a will, appointment of personal representative, etc., without regard to the amount involved, and in all other civil cases where the amount in controversy is $300, or more, exclusive of costs and interest accrued after judgment of lower courts. Circuit court.—There are thirty-one circuit courts, presided over by as many judges, having jurisdiction of all matters of law and equity where the amount exceeds $20. Justice courts have jurisdiction to extent of $100; but any action, if for over $20, may be removed to the circuit or corporation court, upon affidavit by defendant that he has a substantial defense, and appeals are allowed to said courts in all amounts exceeding $10, upon security being given. Corporation courts.—A city or town containing 5,000 inhabitants is entitled to a corporation court. These courts are given jurisdiction of both law and equity matters, and civil and criminal jurisdiction. Courts of the city of Richmond.—The circuit court of the city of Richmond (four terms a year) has within the city like jurisdiction of other circuit courts as above, except in chancery and criminal matters. The chancery court of the city of Richmond (four terms a year) is the court of record and probate for the city, and has general jurisdiction of chancery matters. The law and equity court of Richmond (four terms a year) has concurrent jurisdiction with the circuit and chancery courts of Richmond, except as to a few matters. The Hustings court (monthly terms) is the court of criminal jurisdiction within the city except as to small matters, which may be tried in the police court. It is the court of appeal for criminal matters which may be appealed from the police court. The police court of the city of Richmond has jurisdiction of criminal matters, such as may be tried by a justice of the peace. In cities of 45,000 or more there may be a civil justice court, presided over by a lawyer who has had five years' practice in this state. The court meets daily except on Sundays and legal holidays and cases may be heard upon five days' notice. The court has jurisdiction of claims less than $300 in value inclusive of interest. From any judgment of this court exceeding $20 exclusive of interest there may be an appeal as of right to any of the courts exercising common law jurisdiction in civil cases in such cities, but there can be no removal before trial. Richmond has such civil justice court.

Deeds. (See Conveyances, and Chattel Mortgages and Deeds of Trust.)

Depositions. Evidence in chancery causes is generally taken by depositions, while in common law cases it is generally oral, but depositions can be read in a common law case where the witness has died since his deposition was taken, or is out of the State, or is more than a hundred miles from the place of trial. The deposition of certain public officers, where the duties of the office prevent their attending court, may be taken and read. No commission is necessary to take a deposition, either within or without the State, except where an attesting witness to a will is unable, by reason of sickness, non-residence, etc., to give his testimony before the court in which the will is probated, except that when the depositions are to be taken in a state where a commission is necessary then the clerk of the court in this State where the suit is pending may issue such commission. Reasonable notice shall be given to the adverse party of the time and place of every deposition. In this State depositions may be taken by a justice of the peace or notary public, or a commissioner in chancery, except depositions in divorce proceedings, which the statute requires shall be taken in all cases before a commissioner in chancery. In the United States, but without this state, before any commissioner appointed by the governor of Virginia, or any justice, notary, or other officer authorized to take depositions in the state wherein the witness may be. In a foreign country, before any person that the parties may agree upon, in writing, or before certain officers of the United States.

Descent and Distribution of Property. Descent of Real Estate. When any person having title to any real estate of inheritance shall die intestate as to such estate, it shall descend and pass in parcenary to such of his kindred, male and female, as are not alien enemies, in the following course: 1. To his children and their descendants. 2. If there be no child, nor the descendant of any child, then to his father. 3. If there be no father, then to his mother, brothers and sisters and their descendants. 4. If there be no mother, nor brother, nor sister, nor any descendant of either, then one moiety shall go to the paternal, the other to the maternal kindred, in the following course: 5. To the grandfather. 6. If none, then to the grandmother, uncles, and aunts on the same side, and their descendants 7. If none such, then to the great-grandfathers, or great-grandfather, if there be but one. 8. If none, then to the great-grandmothers, or great-grandmother, if there be but one, and the brothers and sisters of the grandfathers and grandmothers and their descendants. 9. And so on, in other cases, without end, passing to the nearest lineal male ancestors, and for want of them to the nearest lineal female ancestors, in the same degree, and the descendants of such male and female ancestors 10. If there be no father, mother, brother, or sister, nor any descendant of either, nor any paternal kindred, the whole shall go to the maternal kindred; and if there be no maternal kindred, the whole shall go to the paternal kindred. And if there be neither paternal or maternal kindred, the whole shall go to the husband or wife of the intestate; or if the husband or wife be dead, to his or her kindred in the like course as if such husband or wife had survived the intestate and died entitled to the estate. Collaterals of the half-blood shall inherit only half so much as those of the whole blood, but if all the collaterals be of the half-blood, the ascending kindred, if any, shall have double portions. When those entitled to partition are all in the same degree of kindred to the intestate, they shall take per capita, but when those entitled to share in the estate are of different degrees of kindred, they take per stirpes.

Distribution of Personal Estate. When any person shall die intestate as to his personal estate, or any part thereof, the surplus (subject to certain exemptions), after the payment of funeral expenses, charges of administration and debts, shall pass and be distributed to and among the same persons, and in same proportions, to whom and in which real estate is directed to descend, except as follows: 1. The personal estate of an infant shall be distributed as if he were an adult. 2. If the intestate was a married woman, her husband shall be entitled to the whole of the said surplus of the personal estate. 3. If the intestate leave a widow, and issue by her, the widow shall be entitled to a third of the said surplus. 4. If the intestate leave a widow, but no issue by her, the widow shall be entitled absolutely to such of the personal property in the said surplus as shall have been acquired by the intestate by virtue of his marriage with her prior to the 4th day of April 1877, and remain in kind at his death; she shall also be entitled, if the intestate leave issue by a former marriage, to one-third; if no such issue, to one-half of the residue of such surplus.

Dower. A widow is endowed of one-third of all the real estate whereof her husband or any other to his use was at any time during the coverture seized of an estate of inheritance or entitled to a right of entry or action for such estate, unless her right to such dower shall be lawfully barred or relinquished. The right of dower may be relinquished by the wife uniting with her husband in conveying the real estate by deed of conveyance, etc., but no privy examination is now required. If wife, of her own free will, leave her husband and live in adultery, she shall be barred of her dower, unless he be afterward reconciled to her, and suffer her to live with him.

Executions may issue at any time within one year, and scire facias, or action to revive judgments within ten.

Exemptions. Bible, family pictures, and books to value of $100, pew in church, burial lot, beds and bedding for family, and also various articles of housekeeping, and sewing-machine; mechanic's tools to value of $100; seaman's or fisherman's boat to the value of $200; farmer, one yoke of oxen or pair of mules and farming utensils. A householder, the head of a family, is entitled to have, in addition real and personal property exempt from sale under execution to the value of $2,000, excepting for a debt incurred for the purchase of such real or personal property, rent, services rendered by a laboring person or mechanic, liabilities incurred by any public officer or officer of court, or any fiduciary or attorney for money collected, and taxes, for the legal or taxable fees of any public officer or officer of a court, or for any debt or liability on contract as to which the debtor has waived his homestead exemption. And in case of householder or head of a family, all wages not exceeding $50 a month are exempt. The homestead claimed to be exempt must be described in a writing signed by the householder and duly admitted to record in the county or corporation wherein the property claimed is located. Waiver, to be effectual, must be in writing.

Foreign Corporations. Foreign corporations, when they have complied with certain statutory requirements, have all the privileges and disabilities of domestic corporations.

Foreign Judgments. Action may be brought upon a judgment or decree of another state or country, unless barred by the laws of such state or country; but must be brought within ten years, if against a citizen who has resided ten years in this State.

Fraud. Every gift, conveyance, assignment or transfer of or charge upon any estate, real or personal, every suit commenced or decree, judgment, or execution suffered or obtained, and every bond or other writing given with intent to delay, hinder, or defraud creditors, purchasers, or other persons of or from what they are or may be lawfully entitled to, shall, as to such creditors, purchasers, or other persons, their representatives or assigns, be void. This section shall not affect the title of a purchaser for valuable consideration, unless it appear that he had notice of the fraudulent intent of his immediate grantor or of the fraud, rendering void the title of such grantor. Every gift, conveyance, assignment, transfer, or charge, which is not upon consideration deemed valuable in law, or which is upon consideration of marriage, shall be void as to creditors whose debts shall have been contracted at the time it was made, but shall not on that account, merely, be void as to creditors whose debts shall have been contracted, or as to purchasers who shall have purchased after it was made; and though it be decreed to be void as to a prior creditor, because voluntary or upon consideration of marriage, it shall not, for that cause, be decreed to be void as to subsequent creditors or purchasers.

Garnishment. By garnishment any money due the defendant upon claim reduced to judgment, may be collected and the proceeds applied by the court to payment of judgment against the defendant.

Husband and Wife. All real and personal estate to which any married woman is entitled at the time of the marriage, or which she may thereafter acquire or become entitled to during coverture, shall be and continue her separate estate. Such separate estate shall not be subject to the use, control, or disposal of her husband, or to his debts or liabilities incurred before or after marriage. A married woman has power to hold, control, and dispose of such estate as if she were unmarried. A married woman may engage in trade and carry on business (but not as a partner with her husband) for her separate use and benefit. She may make contracts as if sole in respect to such trade, and the profits therefrom shall be her separate estate. She may sue and be sued as an unmarried woman in the conduct of such business, and any liability incurred by her as such sole trader shall not render her husband or his estate liable for such debts.

Insolvency. (There is no special statute on the subject.)

Interest. Six per cent per annum; all contracts for a greater rate of interest shall be deemed to be for an illegal consideration as to the excess beyond the principal sum so loaned. If an excess beyond the lawful interest be paid in any case, the person paying the same may, in a suit brought within one year thereafter, recover it from the person with whom the contract was made; but where a bank or private individual has loaned money at a greater rate than 6 per centum and permits the maker of the note, bond, or other evidence of debt to renew the same at the rate of 6 per centum, the maker and endorsers shall be barred from the plea of usury, after twelve months from date of renewal A bank, licensed banker or broker, or corporation authorized to make loans, may take interest at rate of one-half of 1 per cent for thirty days, and may receive such interest in advance. Corporations cannot plead usury.

Judgments are liens on real estate possessed by debtor at or after the date of judgment, but no judgment shall be a lien on real estate as against a purchaser thereof for valuable consideration without notice until and except from the time that it is duly docketed in the clerk's office of the county or corporation wherein such real estate may be.

Jurisdiction. (See Actions and Courts.)

Liens. (See Judgments, Mechanics' Liens, and Supply Liens.)

Limitations of Suits. Upon an indemnifying bond, or bond of executor, administrator, guardian, curator, committee, sheriff or sergeant, deputy-sheriff or sergeant, clerk or deputy-clerk, or any other fiduciary or public officer or contract under seal, suit must be brought within ten years; on an award, contract, in writing (notes, etc.) signed by the party to be charged thereby, but not under seal within five years; accounts between merchant and merchant or for settlement of partnership, five years; on any other contract and on open accounts within three years. All real actions must be brought within fifteen years east of the Alleghany Mountains, and within ten years west of same. No new promise will take an obligation out of these periods unless in writing.

Married Women. (See Husband and Wife.)

Mechanics' Liens. Any person performing labor or furnishing materials for the construction, repair, or improvement of any property, building, or railroad, is entitled, under the law of Virginia, to a lien on the whole of the same, or sufficient thereof to cover the value of labor performed or materials furnished. An account showing the amount and character of the work done, or materials furnished, the prices charged therefor, the payments, if any, and the balance due, verified by affidavit, and describing the property on which the lien is claimed, is required to be recorded in county or corporation wherein the land lies, within sixty days from the time such building, structure, or railroad is completed or the work thereon otherwise terminated, and from the time such labor is last performed or materials furnished. Liens remain in force for only six months from the time the money to be paid is due, unless suit in equity to enforce the lien is instituted within the six months. The lien also inures to the benefit of persons to whom the general contractor is indebted for labor or materials, to the amount due to the general contractor by the owner of the property at the time the latter is notified in writing of the sub-contractor's claim. Crop liens must be recorded in the office of the clerk of the county.

Mines and Mining. Employes of a mining company are given a prior lien by statute for wages due.

Mortgages in general have been superseded by deeds of trust Mortgages on real estate must be recorded in office of clerk of county or corporation. Chattel mortgages can be made, but are void as to creditors and purchasers for value, without notice unless recorded. (See also Chattel Mortgages and Deeds of Trust.)

Notaries. (See Acknowledgments.)

Notes and Bills of Exchange. Virginia has enacted the negotiable instruments law, prepared by the commissioners on uniformity of legislation in the United States, and all former legislation in conflict with it is repealed.

Probate. (See Wills.)

Recordation. Contracts in writing, deeds, or mortgages conveying real estate, or goods and chattels, which are admitted to record within ten days from the day of its being acknowledged before a person authorized to certify the same for record, shall, unless it be a mortgage or deed of trust, not in consideration of marriage, be as valid as to creditors and subsequent purchasers as if such admission to record had been on the day of such acknowledgment and certificate.

Suits. (See Actions.)

Supply Liens. All persons furnishing supplies necessary to the operation of any railway, canal, or other transportation company have a prior lien upon the property of such company. The lien must be filed in the clerk's office of the county or corporation court, where the chief office of the company is located within ninety days after the last item of the bill becomes due and payable.

Taxes. Individuals and corporations are subject to the same taxation laws, but the legislature, by special enactment, may exempt a corporation from taxation. Corporations pay taxes at the same rate as is required of individuals, but the manner of assessment is not uniform. In some classes of corporations the taxes are assessed on the actual capital invested; in others, on the amount of capital stock. Most of the mercantile corporations are assessed on the capital invested. For some classes of corporations there are special provisions relating to taxes. (It is impossible to treat of this subject in a short space.)

Testimony. (See Depositions and Evidence.)

Wills. Every person may make a will, except, 1. A person of unsound mind. 2. A person under twenty-one years of age; but a minor may, by will, dispose of personal estate if eighteen years of age. No will shall be valid unless it be in writing and signed by the testator, or by some other person in his presence and by his direction, in such manner as to make it manifest that the name is intended as a signature; and, moreover, unless it be wholly written by the testator, the signature shall be made or the will acknowledged by him in the presence of at least two competent witnesses, present at the same time; and such witnesses shall subscribe the will in the presence of the testator, but no form of attestation shall be necessary. The will of a man or woman is revoked by his or her subsequent marriage, except a will made in exercise of a power of appointment, etc. Will is also revoked by subsequent will or codicil, or by testator's canceling, destroying, etc., the same, with intent to revoke. A will is construed as if made just before testator's death, unless contrary intention appear by the will. The circuit, and corporation courts shall have jurisdiction as to the probate of wills (and to hear and determine suits and controversies testamentary) according to the following rules, that is to say: In the county or corporation wherein the decedent has a mansion, house, or known place of residence; if he has no such house or place of residence, then in the county or corporation wherein any real estate lies that is devised or owned by the decedent; and if there is no such real estate, then in the county or corporation wherein he dies, or a county or corporation wherein he has estate, except that in the city of Richmond, the chancery court shall have such jurisdiction. It shall be the duty of the personal representative of the testator to cause a duly certified copy of any will, or of any authenticated copy so admitted to record to be recorded, in the clerk's office of the county or corporation court of each county or corporation, wherein there is any real estate whereof the testator died seized and possessed.

Actions. Every action must be prosecuted by the real party in interest; administrator, executor, guardian, or trustee of an express trust, may sue without joining the person for whose benefit the action is prosecuted. No action abates by the death, marriage, or other disability of the party, or by the transfer of any interest therein, if the cause of action survive or continue. Actions must be tried in the county in which the defendants, or some of them, reside at the time of the commencement of the action, subject to the power of the court to change the place of trial. Actions commenced by service of summons upon defendants, or by filing a complaint with the county clerk as clerk of the court; provided, that service must be had personally or commenced by publication within ninety days after such filing. Defendants to appear and defend within twenty days when served personally in the State, and within sixty days when served personally outside the State. When defendant can not be found summons may be published, after filing the complaint, once a week for six consecutive weeks, directing defendant to appear and answer within sixty days after first publication.

Administration of Estates. Any person having the custody of any will, or named as executor in any will, shall deliver said will into the superior court within thirty days after he shall have knowledge of the death of the testator or of his appointment as executor; wills shall be recorded within thirty days after probate; wills probated in any other state or country shall be admitted to probate in this State on the production of a certified copy of the original record of probate thereof, and a copy of such will. Letters of administration granted in the following order: 1. To surviving husband or wife. 2. To next of kin, in the following order: child or children, father or mother, brothers or sister, grandchildren, and, 3. To one or more of the principal creditors; provided that if the persons so entitled shall neglect for more than forty days after death of the intestate to apply for letters of administration, or shall waive their rights in writing then the court may appoint a suitable person. Executors or administrators must, within one month after appointment, make to the court a true inventory of the real and personal estate of deceased, appraised by three persons appointed by the court; a notice to creditors must be published four weeks, requiring all claims to be presented within one year after date of such notice; all claims not presented within the year specified shall be barred. Debts shall be paid in the following order: 1. Funeral expenses. 2. Expenses of last sickness. 3. Debts having preference by laws of the United States. 4. Wages due for labor within ninety days preceding the death. Taxes or any dues to the State. 5. Judgments rendered against deceased in his lifetime, and mortgages in the order of their date. 6. All other demands against the estate. A testator may provide in his will that trustees may manage and distribute his estate according to the will without reporting to the court, further than to probate the will and secure an order of court showing that the estate is solvent.

Affidavits. Affidavits may be taken before any judge of the supreme court, clerk, or deputy, judge of the superior court, clerk, or deputy justice of the peace, notary public, county auditor, or his deputy.

Aliens. The ownership of lands by aliens other than those who have declared their intention to become citizens, is prohibited, except where acquired by inheritance, under mortgage. In the collection of debts these provisions shall not apply to lands containing valuable deposits of minerals Every corporation, the majority of the capital stock of which is owned by aliens, shall be considered an alien.

Arbitration. Parties may arbitrate a disputed matter by selecting three arbitrators by an agreement in writing signed by both parties and the award of the arbitrators may be filed with the clerk of the Superior Court, judgment entered thereon and execution issued.

Assignments. No general assignment of property by an insolvent, or the benefit of creditors, shall be valid unless it be made equally for the benefit of all creditors. The debtor must annex to the assignment an inventory of all his estate and a list of his creditors; upon application of two or more creditors by petition, within thirty days from date of recording such assignment, the judge of the superior court shall direct the clerk to order a meeting of the creditors to chooose an assignee of the estate instead of the one named in the debtor's aassignment: a majority in number and value attending such meeting select one or more assignees, who, after giving bonds, file an inventory of the estate, publish notice to creditors, declare dividends pro rata to creditors, and close up the affairs. Upon the final report of the assignee, it appearing that the assignor has been guilty of no fraud, concealment, or diversion of property, that the estate has been made to realize the fullest amount possible, and that the expenses of the assignment have been paid, the court shall make an order discharging the assignor from any further liability on account of any debts existing prior to the assignment.

Attachment. A writ issued by clerk of court in which the action is pending at any time before judgment; but before the writ issues the plaintiff, or some one in his behalf, must make and file with such clerk an affidavit showing that the defendant is indebted to the plaintiff, and that the attachment is not sought to hinder, delay, or defraud any creditor and, also, showing that defendant is a foreign corporation, or a non-resident of the State, or conceals himself or has absconded or absented himself from his usual place of abode, or that he has removed or is about to remove any of his property from the State, or has assigned, secreted, or disposed of, or is about to do so, any of his property with intent to delay or defraud his creditors: or is about to convert his property into money for the purpose of placing it beyond the reach of his creditors; or that he has been guilty of fraud in contracting the debt, or for damages from commission of some felony or from the seduction of a female. The plaintiff shall file a bond in a sum not less than $300 in superior court, or less than $50 in justice court, and in all cases double the amount for which judgment is sought.

Banks. Capital Stock. Minimum $10,000 in villages of 1,000 inhabitants; and graded up to $100,000 in cities having 50,000 inhabitants, or more. Shares $100; at least 50 per cent of the capital stock shall be paid in cash before commencing business, and the remainder shall be paid in five months, and payments certified to the state bank examiner under oath; incorporators, or directors, not less than three. Articles executed in quadruplicate, and state bank examiner shall issue certificate after personal examination, authorizing the bank to transact business.

Responsibility. Stockholders are held individually responsible, equally and ratably, for all contracts, debts, and engagements of such association accruing while they remain stockholders, to the extent of the amount of their stock at par value thereof, in addition to the amount invested in such shares.

Powers. Banks exercise all the usual banking powers, loan money on real estate or personal security, and accept and execute trusts.

Duties. A bank combining commercial and savings business shall keep separate books and accounts for each kind of business. Deposits carried in names of two persons jointly, may, upon the death of one, be paid out on the receipt of the survivor. If bank pays raised or forged check, the depositor must make claim within sixty days. No officer, or employe shall loan to himself any of the bank's funds upon his own note, without first obtaining approval of directors, entered in its records. At least one-tenth of profits shall be carried to surplus until surplus amounts to 20 per cent of the capital stock.

Reports. State examiner shall make personal examination at least once each year. His fees, $25 for each examination, plus one-two-hundredth per cent of all deposits. Maximum charge not more than $200. Banks shall make at least three reports each year to the examiner, on days designated by the comptroller of the currency. Reports to be published once in a local newspaper. The examiner may take charge of banks and suspend the officers. Attorney-general may bring suit for receiver.

Misdemeanor and Felony. Misdemeanor to use the name "bank," "branch bank," "banking company," "savings," or "trust," on sign or stationery, unless duly organized and incorporated. (Private parties and firms may use the term "private bank.") Felony to fraudulently receive any deposit knowing that bank is insolvent. Fine not exceeding $1,000, and imprisonment not exceeding ten years in the penitentiary, or both. Misdemeanor to certify a check unless the amount actually to credit of the drawer. Felony to wilfully and knowingly subscribe, or make false statement or false entry in the books of bank or exhibit fictitious papers or securities with intent to deceive examiner.

No bank shall purchase its own stock, nor loan upon its stock, nor subscribe for stock in any other bank.

A bank establishing a branch bank, shall increase its own capital stock to an amount equal to the branch, and the branch also shall have the required capital according to population as above.

Stock of United States or state banks shall be assessed to the owners in the cities or towns where such banks are located, and not elsewhere.

Shares assessed at their full and fair value on March 1, in each year, after deducting from the capital of said bank the actual portion thereof invested in real estate, which real estate shall be assessed as other real estate, but such value shall not exceed the paid-up capital, surplus, and undivided profits as shown bythe books of the banks. Parties who appear from the records of the banks to be the owners of shares at the close of the business day preceding the first day of March in each year, shall be deemed the owners for the purposes of taxation of this section.

Checks, Drafts, Fraud. Drawing checks or drafts on a bank with intent to defraud when the drawer has not sufficient funds or credit at the bank is a felony. Penalty, one to five years in the penitentiary, or not to exceed one year in the county jail.

Banks, Foreign. Foreign banks or bankers commencing a banking business in the State after January 1, 1905, may loan money and buy and sell exchange, but shall not receive deposits either directly or indirectly. Every foreign bank shall maintain at its office in this State a capital not less in amount than that required for a national bank at the same place, and shall pay taxes on such capital, and shall not advertise in any manner a arger capital or surplus than that maintained in the State. Penalty for violation $1,000.

Chattel Mortgages. Chattel mortgages may be had upon all kinds of personal property, rolling stock of railroad machinery, boats, crops, portable mills and such property; they shall be signed and acknowledged in the same manner as deeds; they shall be void as against creditors of the mortgagor or subsequent purchaser, unless accompanied by the affidavit of the mortgagor that it is made in good faith and without any design to hinder, delay, or defraud creditors, and placed on record in the county in which the mortgaged property is situated within ten days from the time of execution thereof. If mortgaged property be removed from the county mortgagee in order to retain his lien as against all others, must, 1, record his mortgage in the county to which property has been removed, within thirty days after such removal; or 2, take possession of said mortgaged property within thirty days after such removal; or 3, record his mortgage in the custom house. A mortgage on any vessel or boat, over twenty tons burden, shall be recorded in the office of collector of customs, where such vessel is registered, enrolled, or licensed. Mortgages upon crops can not be made for more than one year in advance. Before the expiration of two years after the time such chattel mortgage becomes due, the mortgagee, his agent or attorney shall file an affidavit setting forth the amount due, and the effect of such affidavit shall be to preserve the lien of such mortgage for one year from date of filing; otherwise, said mortgage shall cease to be valid as against third persons. (See Execution.)

Collateral. Collaterals may be foreclosed by suit in equity; but where the collateral note provides for notice and summary sale, the collateral may be placed in the hands of the sheriff, who will post notices for ten days, and sell the same at auction.

Community Property. All property acquired by husband or wife or both, during marriage, otherwise than by gift, devise or inheritance is community property, the spouses each owning an undivided one-half interest therein and can only be conveyed or incumbered by an instrument in writing executed jointly by both spouses; except that the husband has the management and control of community personal property with power to dispose thereof, but he shall not devise by will more than one-half of same.

Conditional Sales shall be absolute as to purchasers, incumbrancers, and subsequent creditors in good faith, unless within ten days from taking possession by the vendee, a memorandum of the transaction be filed in the auditor's office of the county wherein the vendee resides. Consignment of goods for sale if recorded will be protected. Commission merchant liable to fine and imprisonment for wrongful conversion of consignments.

Contracts. In the following cases, contracts shall be void, unless made in writing and signed by the party to be charged therewith: 1, every agreement that by its terms is not to be performed in one year from the making thereof; 2, every special promise to answer for the debt, default or misdoings of another person; 3, every agreement, promise or undertaking made upon consideration of marriage, except mutual promises to marry; 4, every special promise made by an executor or administrator to answer damages out of his own estate. 5. An agreement authorizing or employing a broker or agent to sell or purchase real estate for compensation or a commission. 6. Sale of goods of value of $50 or over unless the goods are accepted and received, or part of them, or payment made to bind the bargain. When a contract for the personal services of a minor has been made with him alone, and those services are afterward performed, payment made therefor to such minor in accordance with the terms of the contract is a full satisfaction for those services.

Conveyances. All conveyances of real estate and encumbrance upon real estate, shall be by deed, in writing and duly acknowledged by the party making and signing it. The use of private seals to signature abolished; and the term "heirs" or other technical words of inheritance is not necessary to create and convey an estate in fee simple. (See Acknowledgments and Married Women.)

The statute prescribes short forms for "warranty" and "quitclaim" deeds.

Corporations. Corporations formed under general laws. No corporation, except those engaged exclusively in loaning money on real estate, shall commence business until the whole amount of its capital stock has been subscribed. Any two or more persons, desiring to form a corporation, shall subscribe articles of incorporation in triplicate, and acknowledge the same, and file one copy in the office of the secretary of state, and another in the office of the auditor of the county in which the principal place of business of the company is to be located, and retain the third. Said articles shall state the corporate name, the object, amount of its capital stock, time of its existence (not to exceed fifty years), number of shares of capital stock, number of trustees and names of those who shall manage the company, for a time designated (not less than two or more than six months), and name of principal place of business. When the articles shall have been filed, the corporation shall have power 1, to sue and be sued; 2, to make and use a seal; 3, to purchase, hold, mortgage, sell and convey real and personal property; 4, to appoint officers, agents and servants, such as their business shall require, to define their powers, prescribe their duties and fix their compensation; 5, to require of them security, and to remove them at will except in the case of trustees (upon a vote of two-thirds of all the stock any trustee may be removed) to make by-laws, not inconsistent with the laws of the State and the United States; and 7, to conduct all kinds of business within the objects of the company, as expressed in the articles of incorporation. Shall pay an annual license to the secretary of state of $15. Secretary of state shall strike from the rolls in his office the names of corporations not paying annual license for two years. But they may be reinstated upon application by paying all license fees and penalties due and further sum of $20 each year its name has been stricken from the rolls. Forbidden to blacklist employes. Penalties, $100 to $1,000, or imprisonment from ninety days to one year, or both fine and imprisonment. Corporations may subscribe for, buy, sell, and vote shares in any other corporation. Conflict of names through similarity is forbidden. Any officer who shall publish or consent to the publication, any wilfully untrue, or fraudulently exaggerated report, prospectus, or other ducument intended to give a greater value to the shares of the corporation than they possess, with a view to defraud, shall upon conviction, be punished by imprisonment in the penitentiary for not less than one or more than five years, or in the county jail not more than one year, or by a fine not exceeding $2,000, or by both.

Courts and Jurisdiction. The supreme court is vested with all power to carry into complete execution all its judgments, and in all matters within its jurisdiction; it shall have original jurisdiction in habeas corpus, and quo warranto and mandamus as to all state officers, and appellate jurisdiction in all actions involving $200 or more. The superior courts are always open, except on non-judicial days; they have appellate jurisdiction in cases arising in justice courts. They have original jurisdiction in all cases in equity and in all cases at law, which involve the title or possession of real property, or the legality of any tax, impost, assessment, toll, or municipal fine; in all other cases where the demand amounts to $100, in criminal cases amounting to felony, and of misdemeanor not otherwise provided for by law; of actions of forcible entry and detainer, insolvency, probate, divorce, annulment of marriage, and special proceedings not otherwise provided for; they have power to issue writs of mandamus, quo warranto, review, certiorari, prohibition and habeas corpus for any person in actual custody in their respective counties; and their process shall extend to all parts of the State. Justice courts jurisdiction less than $100, (except where the action includes the title to real property, the enforcement of a lien on real estate), or a suit against an executor, or administrator as such; a transcript of judgment, filed in the office of the county clerk becomes a lien upon real estate of the judgment debtor. Garnishment in justice courts.

Days of Grace are abolished by negotiable instruments law.

Depositions may be taken when the witness resides out of the State, or more than twenty miles from the place of trial, or is about to go more than twenty miles from the place of trial and is liable to continue absent when the testimony is required, or is sick, infirm or aged, so as to make it probable he will not be able to attend at the trial. They may be taken in the State before any judge of the superior court, justice of the peace, clerk of the supreme or superior court, mayor of a city, or notary, by serving on the adverse party or his attorney previous notice of the time and place of examination, which notice shall be served in sufficient time to allow time by usual route of travel to attend, and three days for preparation, exclusive of the day of service; they may be taken out of the State by any person authorized by a special commission from any court of this State, which shall be issued by the clerk under the seal of the court; the court shall settle the interrogatories, which shall be attached by the clerk to the commission, or may be taken on oral questions and answers out of the State; five days' notice must be given to witness to attend and commissioners shall have power to compel attendance of witness by petition to the court for an order upon witness to attend, and for punishment for contempt or refusal to comply. (See Evidence.)

Descent and Distribution of Property. Upon the death of either husband or wife, one-half of the community property shall go to, and title vest in, the survivor, without administration, subject to the cummunity debts, and the other half shall be subject to the testamentary disposition of the deceased husband or wife, subject also to the community debts. In case of no will, half of the community property shall descend equally to the legitimate issue of the deceased. If there be no issue living, or none of their representatives, then said community property shall all pass to the survivor, to the exclusion of collateral heirs. Every illegitimate child is an heir to the person who shall in writing, signed by a competent witness, have acknowledged himself to be the father of such child; and such child shall in all cases be considered as heir of his mother. If any illegitimate child shall die intestate without lawful issue, his estate shall descend to his mother. The kindred of the half-blood shall inherit equally with those of the whole blood. Posthumous children are considered as living at the death of their parent. If decedent leaves no husband, wife, or kindred, the estate shall escheat to the State for the support of the common schools in the county where the decedent resided during lifetime, or where the estate is situated. (See Community Property.)

Dower. Statutes in regard to community property, real and personal, have taken the place of dower and tenancy by courtesy, which are abolished. (See Community Property.)

Execution. Execution may issue any time within five years after judgment. Personal property may be sold on ten days' notice. Real property may be redeemed any time within one year after sale by paying the amount bid, with interest at 8 per cent, and any taxes or charges paid by the purchaser. The purchaser shall be entitled to receive the rents and profits of the property during the period of redemption, and upon redemption the amount of such rents and profits, over and above the expense of caring for, protecting, and insuring property, shall be a credit upon the redemption money to be paid, and the redemptioner shall be entitled to a sworn statement of the income and expenses of such property before redeeming it. If the property sold be farm land, the owner shall be entitled to possession of such property from the 1st of April to the 1st of December or to be reimbursed for his work and labor in preparing such property for crops, or caring for planted crops. If the property sold be a homestead, occupied for that purpose at the time of sale, the judgment debtor shall have the right of possession during year of redemption without accounting for rents or value of occupation. The sheriff shall deliver deed within one year from date of sale, provided such sale has been confirmed by the court and no redemption has been made.

Exemptions. To every householder, a homestead to the value of $2,000, if selected any time before sale, also household goods to value of $500, and provisions and fuel for six months, and certain domestic animals with six months' feed for same, to value of $250; to a mechanic, tools and material used in his trade, not to exceed $500; to a farmer, teams and farming utensils, not exceeding $500, 150 bushels of wheat and oats or barley, 50 bushels of potatoes, 10 bushels each of corn, peas, and onions for seed; to a physician, his library, not exceeding $500, horse, buggy, and instruments, and medicines, not exceeding $200; to attorneys, clergymen, ad other professional men, their libraries, not exceeding $1,000 and office furniture, fuel, etc., not exceeding $200; to teamsters and loggers, cattle, horses, and wagons, not exceeding $300, and provisions for same for six weeks; to any persons, all fire arms for family use, and boat with rigging, not exceeding $250; any pension money from the United States, and fire insurance money to the amount of exemption allowed upon property, and the proceeds of all life and accident insurance are also exempt. Wages of $100 per month, due to any person having a family to support, shall be exempt from garnishment. Except when the debt is for actual necessaries furnished to debtor's family, then wages to the amount of $10 per week for four consecutive weeks shall be exempt. No property is exempt from an execution issued upon a judgment for the purchase price thereof, or for any tax levied thereon. No property exempt from execution for clerks', laborers' or mechanics' wages earned within this State, nor for actual necessaries not exceeding $50 in value or amount furnished to the defendant or his family within sixty days preceeding the beginning of an action to recover therefor, or from execution issued on a judgment against an attorney or agent for money belonging to client or principal.

Fraud. Statutes are enacted in the following cases: Falsely representing bank to be incorporated; receiving deposits after bank is insolvent or in failing circumstances; obtaining money under false pretenses; fraudulent representation that labor or material is paid for; using weights and measures known to be false; use of foreign ores or misrepresentation in selling mines; interference with samples of ores, or making false samples of same, or altering certificate of assayer regarding same; wearing badge or button of G. A. R. without right; misrepresentation of pedigree of breeding animals or when selling animals; removing mortgaged chattels; to issue false warehouse receipt.

Foreign Corporations. Before doing business in the State, a foreign corporation must file with the secretary of state a copy of its charter or articles of incorporation, or certificate of incorporation certified to by the custodian of the same in the state or country of its domicile; also a certificate executed under its corporate seal, appointing a resident of the State, giving his name and address, as agent of the corporation, upon whom service of process can be made. No corporation, the majority of whose capital stock is owned by aliens, can acquire the ownership of any lands in the State, except lands containing valuable deposits of minerals, and necessary lands for mills and machinery to work said products, except lands acquired under mortgage, or in good faith in the ordinary course of justice in the collection of debts. Provided that every foreign building and loan association or savings and loan association doing business in this State prior to July 1, 1913, shall deposit and keep with the State Auditor, or with a duly chartered trust company approved by the State Auditor, all mortgages heretofore received by it in this State, and all mortgages taken in the usual course of its business in this State; and Provided, further, that on and after July 1, 1913, no foreign building and loan association or savings and loan association shall be permitted to commence and do business within the State of Washington, unless such associations have been engaged in such business within the State prior to said date. Any agent of a foreign corporation carrying on business contrary to the statutes, shall be guilty of misdemeanor, and upon conviction, may be punished by a fine not exceeding $200, or by imprisonment not exceeding three months, or by both fine and imprisonment.

Garnishment. Garnishment may be issued in the following cases: 1. When an original attachment has been issued. 2. Where the plaintiff sues for a debt, and makes affidavit that such debt is just, due, and unpaid, and that the garnishment applied for is not sued out to injure either the defendant or the garnishee. 3. On a judgment the writ shall be returnable within twenty days if served upon garnishee within the county where issued, or within thirty days if served in any other county in the State; should he fail to make answer within the time prescribed in the writ, the court may render judgment by default against the garnishee for the full amount claimed by plaintiff. On garnishment in Superior Court before judgment bond must be given to defendants in double amount of demand. No bond is required in justice court garnishments either before or after judgment.

Husband and Wife. A husband or a wife may give, grant, sell or convey, directly, each to the other, his or her community right, title, interest, or estate in all or any portion of their community real property; and every deed so made shall operate to vest the real estate therein recited as separate property. Either may make and execute powers of attorney for the sale, conveyance, transfer, or incumbrance of his or her separate estate without the other spouse joining in the execution thereof; and either may appoint the other his or her attorney-in-fact for the purposes before stated. (See Community Property and Married Women.)

Inheritance Tax. All property within the State which shall pass by will or inheritance, or by deeed, grant or gift intended to take effect after death, shall be subject to an inheritance tax on the value of said estate, over and above all just debts and fees, which tax shall be a lien on said real estate. In determining the gross value of the said estate where some of the property is located in other states, an appraisement certified to by the foreign court having jurisdiction thereof, shall be filed in the court of this State and the taxes shall be paid upon the true market value of the entire estate, less the indebtedness. On all sums above the first $10,000, where the same shall pass to father, mother, husband, lineal descendant, adopted child, or lineal descendant of adopted child, one (1) per cent; on all sums not exceeding the first $50,000, if the estate goes to the collateral heirs, including the third degree, 3 per cent, and where the estates goes to collateral heirs beyond the third degree, or strangers to the blood, 6 per cent: $50,000 to $100,000, 4 1-2 per cent to collateral heirs to the third degree, and 9 per cent beyond the third degree or strangers; on all sums above the first $100,000, 6 per cent to collateral heirs to the third degree, and 12 per cent to collateral heirs beyond the third degree, said taxes to be paid to the state treasurer. (Laws 1901, June 11th.)

All bequests and devises for charitable purposes are exempt from the inheritance tax.

Interest. The legal rate of interest is 6 per cent. Any rate not exceeding 12 per cent per annum, agreed upon in writing, is valid. All State warrants draw 5 per cent; all county, city, and school warrants draw not to exceed 8 per cent, and the public officers whose duty it is to issue warrants shall each month investigate the market value of warrants and fix the rate of interest on the same during the ensuing month. (See Usury.)

Judgments. A judgment is a lien for the period of six years upon the realty of a judgment debtor from the date of entry in the clerk's office, and no judgment can be revived or renewed. Judgments of state and federal court are liens in the county where entered and also where transcript is recorded.

Hunter's License. A resident to hunt in the county, $1; in the State, $5; a non-resident, $10; an alien, $50.

Liens. All vessels are liable for liens in following order for three years: 1. For services rendered on board. 2. For supplies furnished. 3. For work done or material furnished in this State for their construction, repair or equipment. 4. For their wharfage and anchorage in this State. 5. For non-performance of any contract for transportation. Liens for labor and material on all structures, railroads, mines, ditches, etc., to be filed in ninety days and suit brought in eight months; also liens for logs, lumber and farm products.

A blacksmith, wagon-maker, or boiler-maker may have a lien for material and labor expended upon a chattel. Notice of lien to be filed within ninety days after work done; suit to foreclosure must be had within nine months after filing, by notice and sheriff sale, as in chattel mortgages.

Limitations. One year—Action against sheriff or other officer for the escape of a prisoner arrested or imprisoned on civil process; against an executor or administrator for malfeasance or mismanagement of an estate, one year from discovery of same or from his final settlement. Two years—Action for libel, slander, assault and battery, false imprisonment; and for a forfeiture or penalty to the State. Three years—Contracts not in writing, open accounts, action for waste or trespass on real property, for taking or injuring personal property, for relief on round of fraud, for seduction and breach of promise. Five years—Action for the recovery of real estate sold by an executor or administrator; minors and other persons under legal disability to sue at the time when the right of action first accrued may commence action at any time within three years after the removal of the disability. Six years—Contracts in writing, judgment or decree of any court, or for rents, or profits of real estate. Ten years—Recovery of real property or the possession thereof; suits on street grade assessments.

Married Women. Married women have the same right to acquire, dispose of property, to contract, sue, and be sued, as if unmarried; not liable for the debts of husbands; may manage, devise, and convey her separate property. Wife must join with the husband in the conveyance of the community real property. If husband and wife be sued together, the wife may defend in all cases where she is interested. Expenses of the family and education of the children are chargeable on property of both husband and wife, or either of them, and they may be sued jointly or separately on such claims.

Mortgages. Mortgages are executed in same manner as deeds, they are not deemed a conveyance or transfer of title, but merely a lien for security, and the mortgagee, to gain title and possession, must proceed by foreclosure and sheriff's sale; upon default in the performance of any condition in the mortgage, the mortgagee may proceed in the superior court of the county where the land lies, to foreclose the same in a suit in equity. When there is an express agreement for the payment of the sum of money secured contained in the mortgage or any separate instrument, a deficiency judgment will be granted. Sale conducted as other sales on execution. If, before the final judgment, the defendant pay into court the interest due and any installment of principal then due, together with accrued costs, further proceedings shall be stayed until a default again occurs; sale of the property shall be made in parcel, if possible, and only so much shall be sold as will be sufficient to pay the judgment, with costs.

Notes and Bills. The negotiable instruments act is in force.

Powers of Attorney. Powers of attorney shall be executed and certified in the manner provided for the acknowledgment of deeds, and recorded as deeds. Husband or wife may give a power of attorney to the other spouse with full power to dispose of community property and any interest of the grantor. No limitations on powers conferred.

Probate Law. The superior courts have jurisdictions of all probate matters, with power to take proof of wills, grant letters testamentary and of administration, appoint guardians, settle estates of deceased persons, and the accounts of executors, administrators and guardians, and allow or reject claims against all said estates.

Protest. Notaries authorized to present bills of exchange and promissory notes, and protest the same, and to charge fees for noting, protesting, and mileage. No protest necessary on bills issued and payable within the State.

Redemption. At any time within one year from the date of sale on mortgage or other foreclosure of lien, or execution sale, the judgment debtor or his successor in interest may redeem the real estate by paying the judgment with the costs and 8 per cent interest thereon. Any subsequent judgment creditor or encumbrancer may likewise redeem. The purchaser is entitled to immediate possession, rents and profits from date of sale, except in the case of homestead or family residence; or in the case of agricultural land, the owner may retain possession, and the purchaser may have a lien on the crops raised or harvested, for interest on the purchase price at 6 per cent per annum, and for taxes.

Replevy. Affidavit shall be made by plaintiff or someone in his behalf, showing—1. That he is the owner of the property described, or is lawfully entitled to the possession thereof as set out by the facts respecting such possession. 2. That the property is wrongfully detained by defendant. 3. That same has not been taken for a tax, assessment, or fine, pursuant to a statute, or seized under execution or attachment, or, if so seized, that it is by law exempt from such seizure. 4. The actual value of the property claimed; he must also give bond in double the value of the property. The sheriff shall then take the property into custody, and, without delay, serve upon defendant personally a copy of the affidavit and bond, or, if he can not be found, then to his agent.

Taxes. Taxes shall be levied by the county commissioners at their meeting in October in each year, and all taxes, whether state, county, city, or school, are collected by the county treasurer and by him distributed to the proper funds. Taxes are due on the second Monday in January, and become delinquent on May 31, from which date interest at 15 per cent per annum is charged until paid; provided that if one-half of taxes be paid on or before May 31, then the time of payment of the remainder thereof shall be extended to November 30; but if said remainder be not paid on or before November 30, then such remainder shall be delinquent and shall draw interest as above from May 31 preceding. If taxes be delinquent six months any person may pay same and the county treasurer shall issue a delinquency certificate, the holder of which may bring suit in three years for sale and absolute title. If the taxes due in any year be paid on or before March 15 of said year, a rebate of 3 per cent shall be allowed.

Trust Companies. Seven or more persons may form a trust company: 1. The capital stock shall not be less than $100,000; except in cities of less than 25,000 inhabitants may organize with $50,000 capital, shares of $100 each, all of which shall be paid in cash before any trust company shall be authorized to transact any business. 4. Must make not less than two verified reports of resources and liabilities each year to the state bank examiner. Foreign Trust Companies. President and Secretary must file oath with secretary of State that capital stock is fully paid.

Warehouse Receipts. (See Bills of Lading.)

Wills. Every male person above twenty-one years of age, and every female person above eighteen years of age, of sound mind, may by last will devise his or her estate, real and personal. Every will shall be in writing, signed by the testator or by some other person under his direction and in his presence, and shall be attested by two or more competent witnesses subscribing their names thereto in presence of the testator. No nun-cupative will shall be good where the estate exceeds the value of $200, unless the same be proved by two witnesses who were present at the making thereof, and it be proven that the testator at the time of pronouncing the same did bid some person present to bear witness that such was his will, and that such nuncupative will was made at the time of the last sickness and at the dwelling-house of the deceased, or where he had been residing for ten days or more, except where such person was taken sick from home and died before his return; but mariners at sea and soldiers in the military service may dispose of their wages or personal property by nuncupative will; nuncupative wills must be offered for proof within six months after the speaking of the testamentary words.

Foreign wills legal if executed in form required by this state.

THE LAWS OF WEST VIRGINIA

Prepared and Revised by Messrs. BROWN, JACKSON & KNIGHT, Attorneys at Law, Charleston. (See Card in Attorneys' List.)

Acknowledgments. The clerk of the county court of any county in which any deed, contract, power of attorney, or other writing is to be, or may be recorded, shall admit the same to record in his office as to any person whose name is signed thereto, when it shall have been acknowledged by him or proved by two witnesses as to him, before such clerk of the county court. A clerk of the county court shall also admit any writing to record as to any person whose name is signed thereto, upon the request of any person interested therein, upon a certificate of his acknowledgment before a justice, notary public, recorder, prothonotary or clerk of any court within the United States, or a commissioner appointed within the same by the governor of this State, written or annexed to the same.

Actions. The common law forms are retained, modified by statute in some respects. Rules are held by the clerk on the first Monday and following Tuesday and Wednesday in each month at which parties file their pleadings at law and equity, take orders of publication and rules on opposite party to plead, etc.

Administration of Estates. Non-residents may qualify as personal representatives. Administrators may be appointed by the county court, which has general charge of all probate matters. Administration is granted to the distributees who apply therefor, preferring first the husband or wife, and then such of the others entitled to distribution as the court shall see fit. If any distributee fail to apply for administration for a period of thirty days after death of decedent, the court may grant administration to one or more of his creditors or to any other person. Bond is required for a penalty equal to full value of personal estate. If three months elapse without a personal representative being appointed, the court on motion may appoint the sheriff or any other county official who acts without giving additional bond.

Affidavits may be made before any officer of another state or country authorized by its laws to administer an oath, and shall be deemed duly authenticated if it be subscribed by such officer, and there be annexed to it a certificate of the clerk or other officer of a court of record of such state or country, under an official seal, verifying the genuineness of the signature of the first mentioned officer and his authority to administer an oath, and they may also be made before a commissioner appointed by the governor of this State.

Aliens. No disabilities attached to aliens, not enemies, in reference to purchase, enjoyment, conveyance, devise, or descent of property.

Arbitration. Parties to any controversy, whether there be a suit pending therefor or not, may submit the same to arbitration and agree that said submission may be entered of record in any court.

Arrests. Defendant in an action may be arrested on the following grounds:

(1) That he has moved or is about to move his property from the State with intent to defraud his creditors, or

(2) that he has or is about to convert his property into money or securities with like intent, or

(3) that he has assigned or disposed of his property or is about to do so with like intent, or

(4) that he has property or rights of action which he fraudulently conceals, or

(5) that he fraudulently contracted the debt for which the action is brought, or

(6) that he is about to leave this State and reside in another without paying the debt for which the action is brought.

Assignments and Insolvency. There are no insolvent laws in this State. Assignments are made by a deed of trust acknowledged as other deeds and recorded in the office of the county clerk of the county wherein the property assigned or any part thereof is situated, conveying the property to a trustee to realize on the same and distribute it among the creditors. The deed ordinarily states the amount of the commissions of the trustee, which are usually 5 per cent, but if not so stated are 5 per cent on first $300 and 2 per cent on the balance. The assignee is not required to give bond unless some of his cestui que trusts demands it, in which case he must give bond before the clerk of the county court in a penalty equal to the full value of the property before sale is made. If the trustee fail to give such bond for twenty days after notice given, his powers cease and another may be appointed. Sale of merchandise in bulk prohibited unless due notice is given to creditors.

Attachments. In any action at law or suit in equity the writ may issue when the defendant is a foreign corporation, or a non-resident, has left or is about to leave this State to defraud his creditors conceals himself so that summons cannot be served upon him, is removing or is about to remove his property from this State, is converting or is about to convert his property into money or securities with intent to defraud his creditors, or has assigned or disposed of his property with like intent, or conceals his property or rights of action or fraudulently contracted the debt for which the suit or action is brought. Plaintiff or agent must make affidavit that one or more of these facts exist and unless attachment is issued on first grounds, affiant must also state in affidavit the material facts relied upon.

Banks. It is necessary to obtain charter from Secretary of State, also certificate from Commissioner of Banking before commencing public business. The capital stock of a banking company shall not be less than $25,000 nor more than $500,000. The stockholders are personally liable to the creditors over and above the amount of stock held by them respectively, to an amount equal to their respective shares so held, and for all liabilities accruing while they are such stockholders. Trust companies doing business in this State must have capital of not less than $100,000 paid up and unimpaired. Foreign trust companies must obtain certificate from Banking Commissioner before doing business in this State.

Commissioner of Banking shall make an examination of each bank twice in each twelve months. Each bank shall make at least four reports annually to the Banking Commissioner, verified by oath of its president, or cashier. Each bank shall maintain on hand as a reserve an amount equal to at least 15 per cent of the aggregate of all deposits which are subject to withdrawal on demand.

Dividends may be declared annually, semi-annually, or quarterly, but before declaring any dividend a bank must carry one-tenth part of the net profit accrued to its surplus fund until the same shall amount to 20 per centum of its capital stock.

Chattel Mortgages and Deeds of Trust. The mortgage is practically unused in this State, the deed of trust having taken its place. Liens are taken upon chattels by a deed of trust acknowledged and recorded as other deeds of trust.

Conveyances. Deeds in West Virginia must be under seal, for which a scroll is sufficient in the case of a private person, and must be acknowledged or proven before two witnesses; when acknowledged witnesses are unnecessary. Any deed is void as to creditors and subsequent purchasers for a valuable consideration until and except from the time it is duly admitted to record in the county wherein the property conveyed is situated.

Corporations. They may be formed under general laws, but not created by special acts. Stockholders are liable to amount of their stock subscribed and unpaid. Cumulative voting. In absence of by-law, a majority of stock present constitutes a quorum. There must be at least five incorporators, who must pay in at least ten per cent of the capital stock subscribed, and two of the incorporators must make affidavit that said amount was paid in good faith. Corporations are not limited in the amount of their authorized capital stock. Corporations of other states are permitted to do business in this State by complying with certain regulations.

Courts, Terms and Jurisdictions. The jurisdiction of the circuit court is from $50 up. The jurisdiction of justices extends to all civil actions, provided the amount of money or damages, or the value of property claimed does not exceed $300, exclusive of interest and costs, excepting actions for false imprisonment, malicious prosecution, slander, breach of marriage promises, or seduction. Only five days are required to elapse between the service of the summons and the return day thereof, but the defendant upon making oath that he has a just defense to the action may have as a matter of right a continuance for one week.

Days of Grace. (See Negotiable Instruments.)

Depositions, without a commissioner, may be taken in or out of this State by a justice or notary public or by a commissioner in chancery or before any officer authorized to take depositions in the county or state where they may be taken, and if certified under his hand may be received without proof of the signature of such certificate. Reasonable notice shall be given to the adverse party of the time and place of taking depositions.

Descents and Distributions. Course of Descents. When any person having title to any real estate of inheritance shall die intestate as to such estate, it shall descend and pass in parcenary to his kindred, male and female, in the following course: 1. To his children and their descendants. 2. If there be no child, nor the descendants of any child, then to his father.. 3. If there be no father, then to his mother, brothers and sisters and their descendants. 4. If there be no mother, nor brother, nor sister, nor any descendant of either, then one moiety shall go to the paternal, the other to the maternal kindred, in the following course: 5. To the grandfather. 6. If none, then to the grandmother, uncles and aunts on the same side and their descendants. 7. If none such, then to the great-grandfathers' or great-grandfather, if there be but one. 8. If none, then to the great-grandmothers or great-grandmother, if there be but one, and and the brothers and sisters of the grandfathers and grandmothers, and their descendants. 9. And so on in other cases without end, passing to the nearest lineal male ancestors, and for want of them to the nearest lineal female ancestors in the same degree, and the descendants of such male and female ancestors. 10. If there be no father, mother, brother or sister, nor any descendant of either, nor any paternal kindred, the whole shall go to the maternal kindred; and if there be no maternal kindred, the whole shall go to the paternal kindred. If there be neither maternal nor paternal kindred, the whole shall go to the husband or wife of the intestate; or if the husband or wife be dead, to his or her kindred in the like course as if such husband or wife had survived the intestate and died entitled to the estate. 2. Collaterals of the half blood shall inherit only half so much as those of the blood. But if all the collaterals be of the half-blood, the ascending kindred, if any, shall have double portions 3. When the children of the intestate, or his mother, brothers and sisters, or his grandmother, uncles and aunts, or any of his female lineal ancestors, living with the children of his deceased lineal ancestors, male and female, in the same degree, come into the partition, they shall take per capita or by person; and where a part of them being dead and a part living, the issue of those dead have right to partition, such issue shall take per stirpes, or by stocks, that is to say, the shares of their deceased parents; but whenever those entitled to partition are all in the same degree of kindred to the intestate, they shall take per capita or by persons. 4. Bastards shall be capable of inheriting and transmitting inheritance on the part of their mother as if lawfully begotten. 5. If a man having had a child or children by a woman shall afterwards intermarry with her, such child or children, or their descendants, if recognized by him before or after the marriage, shall be deemed legitimate. 6. The issue of marriages deemed null in law, or dissolved by a court, shall nevertheless be legitimate. 7. Any person in ventre sa mere who may be born in ten months after the death of the intestate shall be capable of taking by inheritance in the same manner as if he were in being at the time of such death.

Distribution of Personal Estate. After payment of debts, etc. personal estate is distributed in the same manner as realty, with the following exceptions: 1. If the intestate was a married woman, and leave children surviving, her husband shall be entitled to one-third of the said surplus, and if she leave no children he shall be entitled to the whole thereof. 2. If the intestate leave a widow or children by the same or a former marriage, the widow shall be entitled to one-third of the said surplus, and if he leaves no children she shall be entitled to the whole thereof. To the State shall accrue all the personal estate of every decedent of which there may be no other distributee.

Dower. The widow is endowed of one-third of all the real estate whereof her husband or any other to his use was at any time during the coverture seized of an estate of inheritance, unless her right to such dower shall have been lawfully barred or relinquished.

Executions. In the circuit court can be issued after the close of the term, or the court, after the fifteenth day of the term, may make a general order allowing executions to issue after ten days from the date of the judgment or decree, although the term be not ended. For special cause an execution may issue at any time. In a justice court executions may be issued immediately after judgment is rendered. An execution is a lien on the personal property of the debtor from the time it is delivered to the officer. In a justice court a stay bond may be given by the defendant, which will stay execution for a length of time dependent upon the amount of the judgment, viz.: Not over $50, two months; $50 to $100, four over $1000, six months. The debtor may release property upon which an execution from the circuit court has been levied by giving a forthcoming bond, upon the forfeiture of which judgment may be obtained upon motion after ten days' notice, and an execution then issued, upon which no forthcoming bond is allowed to be given.

Exemptions. Any husband or parent residing in this State, or the widow, or the infant children of deceased parents, may set apart and hold personal property to the value of not exceeding $200, to be exempt, from execution or other process, except as hereinafter provided. And any mechanic, artisan, or laborer residing in this State, whether he be a husband or parent, or not, may hold the working tools of his trade or occupation to the value of $50 exempt from forced sale or execution. Provided, that in no case shall the exemption allowed any one person exceed $200. This exemption shall not apply to any claim for the purchase money of the personal estate in respect to which such exemption is claimed or to any proceeding for the collection of taxes or county or district levies. Such husband, parent, or infant children of deceased or insane parents may set apart a homestead of the value of $1,000, under certain regulations.

Garnishment. The plaintiff in an attachment, or a judgment creditor may, by an indorsement on the attachment order or by suing out a suggestion on his execution, as the case may be, designate any person as being indebted to or having in his possession the effects of the defendant or one of the defendants; and such person, upon service of the order and indorsement or suggestion upon him, is required to appear at the next term of the court, or if the action be before a justice upon the day ordered by the justice, and disclose under oath in what sum he is indebted to the defendant or judgment debtor, or what effects of the defendant or judgment debtor he has in his hands. The plaintiff or judgment creditor has a lien upon such indebtedness or property from the time of the service upon the garnishee.

Holidays. (See Negotiable Instruments.)

Interest. Legal rate is 6 per cent. Corporations may make special contract for a greater rate. Excess of interest above 6 per cent, if usury is pleaded, except in the case of corporations, can not be recovered.

Judgments. All judgments for money are liens upon the real estate of the debtor at, and after, their date, or if rendered by the circuit court, from the first day of the term at which rendered. To preserve the lien as against a purchaser, for value, without notice, an abstract of the judgment must be docketed in the office of the county clerk within sixty days after its date, or before a deed to such purchaser is recorded. A judgment of a justice, as against such purchaser, is a lien only when docketed. Judgment liens are enforced in chancery after two years from the date of the judgment or after the return of an execution. "No property found."

Limitations. Saving certain exceptions in favor of persons under disability no person shall make an entry on or bring an action to recover any land, but within ten years next after the time at which the right to make such entry or to bring such action shall have first accrued to himself, or to some person through whom he claims. Personal actions for the recovery of money founded upon an award, or any contract other than a judgment or recognizance, shall be brought within ten years after the right to bring the same shall have first accrued if upon a bond or other contract in writing; if upon any other contract, within five years, unless it be an action for a settlement between partner and partner, or upon accounts between merchant and merchant, in which case it must be brought within five years from the cessation of dealing. Suit upon a recognizance, not a recognizance of bail, or upon a judgment shall be brought within ten years after the right to bring the same shall have first accrued; and upon a recognizance of bail, within three years. Every action upon a judgment rendered in another state or country shall be barred, if by the laws of such other state or country such action or suit would be there barred, and no such action shall be brought against any person who has resided in this state more than ten years upon a judgment or decree rendered more than ten years before the commencement of such action. A claim may be removed from the operation of the statute by a promise in writing to pay the same.

Married Women. A married woman may take by inheritance, grant, gift, bequest, or devise, and hold as her sole and separate property, free from the control and disposal of her husband and from liability for his debts, real and personal property as if a femme sole, and may convey and devise the same, but unless living separated and apart from her husband or he be non compos mentis, can sell and convey real estate, only when her husband consents thereto by joining in the deed or other writing.

Mortgages and Deeds of Trust. Mortgages are but little used in this State. They are executed and acknowledged in the same manner as deeds. A decree of a court of chancery is required to enforce them; hence, deeds of trust, under which the trustee sells the property when required by the cestui que trust, after default in payment has taken place. Sale is made at public auction upon four weeks' notice by advertisement, and by posting a notice at the front door of the court house of the county in which the property is, if the property be over $300 in value, in the opinion of the trustee, and it be in his opinion less than $300 in value, by posting such notice thirty days prior to sale at front door of court house and in three other public places in the county (one of which, in the case of real estate, shall be as near the premises to be sold as practicable). In all cases notice must be served on the grantor in the deed, his agent or personal representative, if in such county, at least twenty days prior to sale.

Negotiable Instruments. Negotiable instruments must contain an unconditional promise or order to pay a sum certain in money on demand or a fixed or determinable future time to order of a specified person or to bearer, may be in installments and contain the provision that on any default the whole shall become due; may authorize the sale of collateral securities and confession of judgment; may be payable at fixed time after date or sight, or after certain specified event, but not upon a contingency; if it reads "I promise to pay" all signers are jointly and severally liable; absence or failure of consideration is a matter of defense as against any person not a holder in due course and partial failure of consideration is a defense pro tanto whether the failure is an ascertained and a liquidated amount or otherwise.

Every endorser who indorses without qualification warrants that on due presentation the instrument shall be accepted or paid and if dishonored and necessary proceedings on dishonor taken he will pay amount to holder or subsequent endorser who may be compelled to pay it; no days of grace; when maturity falls on Sunday or holiday payment is due on next business day, if due on Saturday, it must be presented on next business day, but if payable on demand holder may present same before noon on Saturday if entire day is not holiday.

Presentment not necessary to charge the person primarily liable, but if instrument is payable at special place ability and willingness to pay it there at maturity is equivalent to tender; if not on demand presentment must be made on day it falls due; when payable on demand presentment must be made within reasonable time after its issue, except bill for exchange may be presented within reasonable time after last negotiation.

Acceptance. An unconditional promise in writing to accept a bill before it is drawn is deemed an actual acceptance in favor of every person who, upon the faith thereof, receives the bill for value. Holder may refuse qualified acceptance and treat bill as dishonored; if he takes qualified acceptance drawer and endorsers are discharged unless they authorized same or assented thereto.

Protest. Foreign bills which are dishonored by non-acceptance must be duly protested by notary or any respectable resident when bill is dishonored in presence of at least two credible witnesses. When bill is lost, destroyed or wrongly detained from the person entitled to hold it, protest may be made on copy or written particulars thereof.

Promissory note is unconditional promise in writing to pay on demand or at fixed or determinable time a sum certain in money to order or bearer; where note is drawn to maker's own order, it is not complete until endorsed by him.

A check is a bill of exchange drawn on a bank, payable on demand, must be presented within reasonable time after its issue or drawer will be discharged from liability thereon to extent of loss caused by delay. Where holder procures acceptance or has check certified drawer and endorsers are discharged. Check does not operate as an assignment of funds to credit of drawer in the bank and bank is not liable to holder unless it accepts or certifies the check.

The West Virginia negotiable instrument law went into effect January 1, 1908, and was intended to establish a law uniform with the laws of other states on that subject.

Notes and Bills of Exchange. Every promissory note, or check for money, payable in this State at a particular bank, or at a particular office thereof for discount or deposit, or at the place of business of a savings institution, or savings bank, and every inland bill of exchange payable in this State, shall be deemed negotiable, and may, upon being dishonored for non-acceptance or non-payment, be protested, and the protest be in such case evidence of dishonor in like manner as in the case of a foreign bill of exchange; and every instrument which is made payable at a day subsequent to its date, and is otherwise in the form of a check, shall be deemed a bill of exchange. A bill or note which becomes due on a Sunday shall be payable, and may be protested, on the succeeding day; or, if that be Christmas day, or the first day of January, or the twenty-second day of February, or the thirtieth day of May, or the fourth day of July, or on Labor day, then on the succeeding Tuesday; and a bill or note which becomes due on a day after a Sunday which falls on either of the said named dates, or on a Sunday bearing either of said dates, shall be payable, and may be protested, on the succeeding Tuesday; and a bill or note which becomes due on a Christmas day, or the first day of January, or the twenty-second day of February, or the thirtieth day of May, or the fourth day of July, or on Labor day, or any national or State election day, or a day appointed or recommended by the governor of this State, or the president of the United States, as a day of thanksgiving, or for the general cessation of business, shall be payable, and may be protested, on the succeeding day; and if such succeeding day be Sunday, then on the succeeding Monday; and a bill or note which becomes due on a Saturday shall be payable before 12 o'clock, noon, of that day, and if not then, paid shall be payable, and may be protested, on the following Monday; or if that be a day after a Sunday which falls on a date hereinbefore named, then on the next day. And no days of grace shall be allowed or counted on any negotiable instrument, except where it is otherwise provided in such instrument. The sending of notice of protest or dishonor of any bill, note or other negotiable instrument, by mail properly addressed to the last known postoffice of any party, shall be deemed equivalent to personal service of such notice upon him. Upon a duly protested negotiable note or bill of exchange, whether payable in or out of the State, an action of debt or assumpsit may be maintained and judgment given against all liable thereon, or against any one, or any intermediate number of them. If a person make, issue or deliver to another for value a check or draft, and has not funds in the bank to pay the check, he is guilty of a misdemeanor if amount is under $20; if over $20, a felony.

Power of Attorney should be acknowledged or proven in the same manner as deeds.

Probate Law. The county court, composed of three county commissioners, is the probate court, with jurisdiction for hearing proof and admitting wills to probate, appointing personal representatives and guardians, etc.

Protest. (See Negotiable Instruments.)

Replevin. The action of replevin is abolished. The plaintiff, in an action of detinue, can have immediate possession of the property in controversy upon proper affidavit being filed and giving bond. The defendant can reclaim property so taken by plaintiff, pending the termination of the suit, by giving counterbond.

Taxes are assessed as of the first day of April in each year, and are liens on the real estate on which they are assessed from such time. Every year sales are held by the sheriff of each county of the lands delinquent for taxes of the preceding year. One year after sale is allowed for redemption. All lands, upon which no individual will bid the amount of the taxes, etc., charged thereon at such sale, are knocked off to the State, and, after the time of redemption has expired, are sold in proceedings by the school commissioner of each county, and the proceeds pass to the free school fund of the State. There is a tax of 2 1-2 per cent on collateral inheritances of $1,000 and over in value.

Transfer of Corporation Stocks. Such stocks are transferable on the books of the company under such regulations as the by-laws prescribe. Can not be transferred without consent of the board of directors, unless fully paid up, or satisfactory security given for payment of the residue.

Wills. To be valid, a will must be in writing, and unless wholly written by the testator must be signed or acknowledged by him in the presence of two competent witnesses present at the same time.

who in the presence of the testator and of each other shall subscribe the same. If a will be attested by a person to whom, or to whose wife or husband, any beneficial interest in any estate is thereby devised or bequeathed, if the will may not be otherwise proved, such person shall be deemed a competent witness; but such devise or bequest shall be void, except, that if such witness would be entitled to any share of the estate of the testator, in case the will were not established, so much of his share shall be saved to him as shall not exceed the value of what is so devised or bequeathed. If a will charging any estate with debts, be attested by a creditor, or the wife or husband of a creditor, whose debt is so charged, such creditor shall, notwithstanding, be admitted a witness for or against the will. No person shall, on account of his being executor of a will, be incompetent as a witness for or against the will. Where a will relative to estate within this State has been proved without the same, an authenticated copy and the certificate of probate thereof may be offered for probate in this State. When such copy is so offered, the court to which, or the clerk to whom, it is offered, shall presume, in the absence of evidence to the contrary, that the will was duly executed and admitted to probate as a will of personality in the State or country of the testator's domicile, and shall admit such copy to probate as a will of personality in this State; and if it appear from such copy that the will was proved in the foreign court of probate to have been so executed as to be a valid will of land in this State by the law thereof, such copy may be admitted to probate as a will of real estate.

THE LAWS OF WISCONSIN

Revised by BLOODGOOD, KEMPER & BLOODGOOD, Attorneys at Law, Milwaukee. (See Card in Attorneys' List)

(References are to sections of Wisconsin Statutes 1913 and the Laws of Wisconsin for 1915.)

Acknowledgments. All acknowledgments of the execution of conveyances may be before the following, to-wit:

1. Within the State: Judge or clerk of court of record, court commissioner, county clerk, register of deeds, notary public, justice of the peace, police justice, or United States court commissioner. The officer taking same shall endorse thereon, a certificate of the making thereof and the date under his hand and seal, if any. (Notaries public must state also date of expiration of their commissions.) Such acknowledgment may be in the following form.

State of Wisconsin, } ss.
..... County. }

Personally came before me this....day of...., 19..., the above (or within) named A. B. and C. B., his wife (or if an officer adding the name of his office), to me known to be the persons who executed the foregoing (or within) instrument and acknowledged the same.

(Insert designation of officer.)

2. Outside the State: Judge or clerk of a court of record, notary public, justice of the peace, master in chancery, or other officer authorized to do so, or commissioner appointed by the governor for such purpose or, if at a military post, before the commanding officer thereof, but, except as to specially appointed commissioner, the signature and the office held, by the acknowledging officer, must be certified to by certificate of a clerk of a court of record. Acknowledgments outside the State may be made on above or pursuant to the laws of such outside place.

Actions. The circuit and some county courts have general civil jurisdiction; justices of the peace of actions, (except as to some torts and action involving title to land) up to $200. In Milwaukee County a new civil court has been established with general civil jurisdiction up to $2,000. The practice is under a code. Non-residents must give security for costs on commencing suit if same is demanded, except in justice court, where it is always necessary.

Administration of estates is vested in the county courts. Notice by publication four consecutive weeks, or otherwise as directed by the court, must be given for proof of claims. Claimants have from six months to one year (generally six months) after order fixing time to file claims. All claims not filed within time limited are barred, unless the court shall grant an extension of time, provided that application is made therefor for good cause shown not later than sixty (60) days after the expiration of the time fixed as aforesaid. The time so extended shall not be more than two years from the date of the letters.

Administration of intestate is granted to

1. Widow, surviving husband or next of kin, or both, or such person as they may request, if suitable.
2. If above unsuitable, or if no request is made for thirty days after death, to one or more of principal creditors.
3. If neither in (1) or (2) willing or competent to act, then to such other person as the court thinks proper.
4. If neither (1) or (2) apply for sixty days after death, then any person in whose favor a cause of action exists, may obtain appointment.

Affidavits. (See Acknowledgments.) May be taken before any judge or clerk of a court of record, commissioner, county clerk, notary public, justice of the peace, United States court commissioner, or register of deeds. They may be taken in any other state or territory, before any judge, court commissioner, master in chancery, notary public, justice of the peace, or other officer authorized to administer oaths; but must have attached the certificate of a clerk or other proper certifying officer of a court of record of the county or district in which it was taken, under the seal of his office, that the person whose name was subscribed to the jurat was, at the date thereof, such officer as he is therein represented to be, and that he believes the signature of such officer to be genuine.

Aliens may acquire, transfer, and inherit property like citizens, except that non-resident aliens cannot acquire more than 320 acres of land by purchase. Alien women are not barred of dower. (See Descent, Dower.)

Arbitration. All persons, except those under disability, may, by agreement in writing, with one or more witnesses, submit any controversy, except claims to real estate, to one or more arbitrators, and, if stipulated, judgment may be entered on the award.

Arrests are permitted in certain actions based on tort or fraud and in actions for fine or penalty, and for recovery of personal property unjustly detained or concealed; undertaking must be given for costs and damages from arrests. No female can be arrested on any action except for willful injury to person, character or property.

Assignments for Benefit of Creditors may be made by an insolvent debtor to such person, being a resident of this State, as he elects, who must give bond in a sum not less than the present value of the assets. The assignee must file list of creditors and inventory within twenty days, and notify creditors who may prove their claims by affidavit filed with assignee or with clerk of circuit court of county where debtor lives. Proof of claim must be so filed within ninety days after assignee gives notice, or creditor is barred from dividend ordered and paid before claim filed. Debts to employes for wages, etc., earned within three months, are preferred by law, and the same for six months may be preferred by the assignment. All others must prorate, and other preferences avoid assignment.

Attachments. (See Garnishment.) May be had, on contracts, when indebtedness exceeds $50, for absconding from state or concealment in it, to avoid process; for fraudulent disposition or removal, actual or intended, of property; for fraudulent contraction of liability; for official defaults; or against a non-resident, or a foreign corporation. On torts, it may be had in the two latter cases. It may be had in justice court, when indebtedness exceeds $5.00, on the same grounds, and also for residence of defendant over 100 miles away and in another county of this State. The writ issues only upon affidavit of the ground for it and of the debt or tort, and (except in justice court) a bond for $250 must go with it. Attachment may be had on a debt not due, if bond is given for thrice the debt; but on failure to sustain the writ, the action too falls. Attaching creditors do not prorate. (See Assignment for Benefit of Creditors.)

Banks. State banks may be formed by any number of adult persons who are residents of Wisconsin, not less than five in number.

The aggregate amount of the capital stock of any bank shall not be less than ten thousand dollars in towns, villages or cities having less than fifteen hundred inhabitants; and shall not be less than twenty thousand dollars in towns, villages or cities having more than fifteen hundred and less than thirty-five hundred inhabitants; and shall not be less than twenty-five thousand dollars in any village or city having more than thirty-five hundred and less than five thousand inhabitants; and shall not be less than thirty thousand dollars in any city having more than five thousand and less than ten thousand inhabitants; and shall not be less than fifty thousand dollars in any city having more than ten thousand inhabitants, according to the last official census; provided that in a town of any population not having within its limits an incorporated or unincorporated city or village with a population of fifteen hundred inhabitants or more, this section shall not require a capital stock in excess of ten thousand dollars.

By recent acts the office of bank examiner has been created. A careful scrutiny of State banking is now provided for, the duties of the State bank examiner being in general analogous to those of the federal examiners of national banks. The State bank examiner must examine the affairs of each bank in the state at least twice in each year, and at any other time that he deems it necessary, and shall have free access to all records, books, securities and papers, and may examine on oath any officer or employe as to the business of the bank. At least five times in the year every bank shall report to the examiner upon a prescribed form, showing fully the condition of its business. Such reports shall be published in a newspaper in the county. The examiner shall publish annually, report showing statements by banks. No security but the individual liability of each stockholder to the amount of his stock is required from banks of deposit and discount only, but this liability remains for six months after disposal of stock, and by written declaration each stockholder may become individually liable for all debts of the bank.

It is made a misdemeanor by statute to issue a check with intent to defraud when the maker has no funds on deposit.

Bills of Sale. (See Sales.)

Chattel Mortgages must be filed in town or city clerk's office, or actual possession must be taken and kept by mortgagee, to make them good against third parties; and, when filed, they must be renewed by filing affidavit of amount unpaid within thirty days before the expiration of every two years from date. When such mortgage shall be of a stock of goods, wares and merchandise, or of fixtures pertaining to same, the mortgage shall in addition, be filed in the office of the register of deeds in the county in which town, city or village is situated, in the office of the clerk of which the mortgage is filed. If on household furniture or exempt chattels (see Exemptions), they are invalid without the wife's signature before two witnesses. If on stocks of merchandise, the mortgagor every sixty days must file a verified statement of amount sold, payments made, and new stock added; if this statement is not so filed, the mortgage becomes due between the parties and invalid as to third parties fifteen days afterward. Foreclosure sales cannot be had without mortgagor's consent, and the goods cannot be removed from the county within five days after seizure. On satisfaction of mortgage, certificate of mortgagee may be filed and original mortgage removed from files. Interest is limited to 10 per cent per annum; and all fees for renewals, etc., limited to 14 per cent per annum. There is no prescribed form of chattel mortgage.

Conveyances of any interest in land may be by deed signed, sealed and acknowledged by person conveying without any other ceremony, but no alienation by a married man of his exempt homestead shall be valid without the signature of his wife to the same. The following conveyances are sufficient to pass all estate grantor can lawfully convey and imply the usual covenants.

Corporations may be formed by at least three adult residents of state under written articles, stating business and purposes of corporation, name, location, capital stock, number of shares and par value. Articles must be recorded with secretary of state and in county where corporation is located. Until at least one-half of the capital stock is duly subscribed and at least 20 per cent thereof actually paid in, corporations cannot transact business with other than members. When a corporation is so organized, stockholders are liable to amount of stock subscription until same is fully paid. In case of banking corporations stockholder is further liable for debts of bank to amount of his stock, and similarly in other corporations for six months wages. Foreign corporations engaged in manufacturing within Wisconsin, shall, upon written request by any resident creditor, file within sixty days, and annually thereafter, a statement showing the amount of capital subscribed and amount thereof actually paid in, the full name of each of stockholders and amount of stock held by each, and the proportion of its capital stock represented by its Wisconsin property, and must pay to secretary of state upon such proportion over $25,000 one dollar for every $1,000. If corporation subject to license fees, such payment shall not exceed $25. (Chapter 399, Laws of 1901.) When these and all other provisions of statutes complied with, secretary of state issues license to corporation to transact business in State. Failure to file statement deprives corporation of right to carry on or transact business in Wisconsin.

Under the revision of 1898 is provided that no corporation, joint stock company, express company, or common law partnership, incorporated or organized otherwise than under the laws of this State, except corporations or associations created solely for religious or charitable purposes, insurance companies, and fraternal or beneficiary corporations, societies, orders, and associations furnishing life or casualty insurance or indemnity upon the mutual or assessment plan, shall transact business, or acquire, hold, or dispose of property in this State until such association, company, partnership, or corporations shall have caused to be filed in the office of the secretary of state a duly authenticated copy of its charter, articles of association or incorporation, or of co-partnership, and all amendments thereto which may be made while it shall continue to do business therein. Organizations complying with this rule shall be deemed to have appointed the secretary of state their attorney, upon whom all process may be made arising out of business transactions in this State, and the secretary of state shall mail a copy, thereof addressed to such organization. Violation of this rule subjects the organization to a penalty of $500, and invalidates all contracts made by any such organization failing to comply with this rule, but such contracts may be enforcible against it or them. Every foreign corporation transacting business in this State shall annually between January 1st and March 1st, file with the secretary of state a report sworn to by the president, secretary, treasurer or general manager containing: (1) Name location of principal office without this State and principal office or place of business within this State, if any. (2) Names and addresses of officers of said corporation, and name and address of agent or manager representing it within this State. (3) Nature of business done in this State during preceding year. (4) Capital stock in money, property, or services. (5) The proportion of the capital stock represented in the State of Wisconsin. (6) That such corporation shall comply with all the laws of the State in regard to foreign corporations. In case of failure to file such report in the time above stated, such corporation shall pay $25.00 as penalty if filed before May 1st. In case report not filed then, the license to said corporation shall be void.

Courts. (See Actions.)

Days of Grace are abolished by statute.

Depositions. The depositions of any witnesses residing within the state, may be taken, for use in the trial of an action, when such witness shall live more than thirty miles from the place of trial or hearing of the action, proceeding or matter in which his testimony is desired, or is beyond reach of the subpoena of the court, or when he shall be about to go out of the state, not intending to return in time for the trial or hearing, or when he is so sick, infirm or aged as to make it probable that he will not be able to attend at the trial or hearing, and for other grounds which are less important; such testimony may be taken by the party desiring to use the same, under commission, upon written or oral interrogatories, or it may be taken on ordinary notice without the commission.

Notice in writing shall be given to the adverse party, his attorney, or agent, that the deposition of the witness or witnesses named will be taken before the officer, naming him, at a time and place appointed therein, for one of the causes mentioned in the preceding paragraph, and three days' notice shall be given of the taking of such deposition, whether taken within or without the state, and additional time at the rate of one day for each three hundred miles, or fraction thereof, after the first ten miles from the place where the notice is served; provided, that one day's notice shall be sufficient to authorize the taking of depositions of additional witnesses desired to be examined, given during the course of the taking of any deposition.

Commissions may issue to any judge, master in chancery, notary or justice, or to any commissioner; no commission shall issue to any attorney who is the attorney for either party, except by express stipulation. All objections to the competency of witnesses or the propriety of any question put to him or the admissability of any testimony given by him, must be made at the time the deposition is produced, and unless so made is considered waived.

Descent and Distribution. Realty (except homestead, q. v.), undevised, descends to: 1. Children and their issue, if all are in the same degree; else by rigat of representation. 2. Widow or husband surviving. 3. Parents, or survivor of them. 4. Brothers and sisters, or if deceased, their issue by right of representation. 5. Other next of kin in equal degree. All realty owned in husband's life is subject to dower, unless barred by wife's assent to deed, or by a jointure or provision by will accepted in lieu of it; and all owned by wife at death and not devised by her or descended to issue by a former husband is subject to a tenancy by the curtesy. Acceptance by widow of jointure or provision is presumed unless she gives notice of refusal within one year. A non-resident wife is dowable only of lands owned by husband at decease. Tenancy by curtesy is independent of issue. Personalty is distributed by rule—widow entitled to same share as a child. If no issue, all property goes to surviving husband or wife. A Wisconsin law imposing inheritance taxes has been declared constitutional.

Dower and Curtesy. (See Descent and Distribution.)

Executions from justice court may be stayed by bond for periods varying with amounts; from a court of record only by security on appeal. There is no lien on chattels till levy and sale is on twenty days' notice. On realty, lien begins with docket of judgment or transcript from justice, or record court, in circuit court clerk's office of the county where the land lies; all papers or certified copy may be filed in county where land lies for enforcement of judgment. Sale is had on six weeks' notice, and sheriff's deed absolute issues after fifteen months without redemption. Supplementary proceedings lie after issue of execution, and after return unsatisfied. Execution is issued, as of course, in favor of judgment creditor or his assignee, within five years after judgment; after five years, only on authority from the court.

Exemptions. (See Homesteads.) Exempt chattels are clothing, bedding, stoves, cooking utensils and other furniture to value of $200; library; two cows, ten swine, two horses or mules (or one of either and a yoke of oxen), ten sheep and their wool, and a year's food for all exempt live stock; a wagon, a sleigh, a dray, a plow and $200 worth of other farm tools or tackle for teams; a year's provisions for debtor and family; tools and implements, or stock in trade, or both, up to $200; sewing machines for family use; printing materials and presses of a printer or publisher up to $1,500 (except that as to claims of laborers and servants for services, only $400 shall be exempt); patents, owned by the inventor; three months' earnings (not over $60 a month), if the debtor has a family to support; and all insurance money on exemptions. Most of these exemptions avail residents only. Corporations have no exemptions. Partners, however many, may take exemptions as individuals from joint assets. None of above property exempt from execution or attachment in action for purchase money of the same property. If husband does not select exemptions, wife may.

False Pretenses may be committed by word or writing, and are punishable by fine or imprisonment.

Garnishment. (See Attachment.) This remedy lies in any court, upon affidavit for it showing indebtedness and the debtor's lack of sufficient non-exempt assets to satisfy it. No undertaking is required. This is a common mode of testing an alleged fraudulent transfer or invalid assignment for creditors. All garnishees may be united in one summons, and be deemed severally proceeded against unless otherwise specified; money garnisheed must be paid into court; property garnisheed may be released on giving sufficient undertaking. Answer of garnishee is conclusive unless issue taken thereon. If so taken, security for costs may be demanded and trial had as in other actions, and examinations of garnishee allowed. Garnishment may be released by proper undertaking in lieu thereof.

Homestead. (See Exemptions.) Real estate not exceeding $5,000 in value and not over one-quarter acre in a city or village, or forty acres for agriculture in the country, is exempt to the actually resident owner. So, too, of its insurance, when burned, or its proceeds when sold and held not over two years for purchase of a new one. (Chapter 269. Laws of 1901.) But it is subject to mechanic's and mortgage liens, created with the wife's assent, and it cannot be conveyed without her signature (except that purchase money mortgage is good without wife's signature.) On death of owner (unless widow is otherwise provided for to her satisfaction) it goes to her for life or widowhood; then, as other realty, to the heirs. (See Descent.)

Interest. The legal rate is 6 per cent; maximum contract rate, 10. Usury (except in bottomry and respondentia bonds) forfeits the whole interest if not yet paid; if paid, treble the unlawful excess may be recovered by suit within a year. (See Chattel Mortgages.)

Judgments. (See Executions and Limitations of Actions.) Judgments in circuit court keep debts alive for twenty years, are liens on land when docketed for ten years, and bear legal interest. Judgments of foreclosure bear interest at rate stated in mortgage note, but shall not exceed the minimum rate of interest, i. e. 6 per cent. Transcripts of judgments recovered in justice court may be docketed in circuit court and thus become a lien. Judgments may be satisfied by attorney or judgment creditor within five years; afterward by judgment creditor only.

Liens. Mechanics have liens on personal property to the amount of repairs. Every innkeeper, hotel keeper, and every keeper of a boarding house or lodging house, whether individual, copartnership, or corporation, shall have a lien upon and may retain the possession of all the baggage and other effects brought into his inn, hotel, boarding house, or lodging house by any guest, whether the same is the individual property of such guest or under his control, for the proper charges owing such innkeeper. Livery stable keepers and persons pasturing horses, cattle, etc., have liens on property in their possession. Consignees and factors and brokers have certain liens for advances made by them.

Limitations of Action are these: On sealed instrument, when cause of action accrues within the State, twenty years; when it accrues without the State, or on equitable cause of action, or a foreign judgment, ten years; on a municipal bond or other contract even when sealed, on any unsealed contract or liability at law, or trespass, trover, or replevin, six years; on action against a sheriff or other officer for violation of duty, three years; on action for a penalty or forfeiture, for an injury to person or character, two years; on an action for equitable relief against fraud, within six years after discovery of the facts constituting the fraud; on an action for recovery of realty, ten years after the adverse possession begins, where occupant claims under a paper title; otherwise, twenty years. Whenever any land or any interest therein has been or shall hereafter be taken, entered upon or appropriated for the purpose of its business by any railroad corporation, electric railroad or power company, telephone company or telegraph company without said corporation or company having first acquired title thereto by purchase or condemnation, as statute requires, the owner of such land, his heirs, assigns and legal representatives shall have and are hereby given the right to at any time within twenty years from date of such taking, entry or appropriation, sue for damages sustained, in the circuit court of the county in which land is situated. Absence from state, after cause of action accrued, suspends running of statute as does part payment, infancy, insanity, or imprisonment. In case of injury to person, no action can be brought unless notice in writing given or complaint actually served within two years from time of injury, describing it and grounds on which claim is made. The time is limited to one year in actions against railway companies for fires and injuries to animals. In case of injury to person upon highway, notice must be served within fifteen days in case of a city or village and thirty days in case of a county or town.

Limited Partnerships. A uniform partnership act was passed by the Legislature of 1915.

Married Women. (See Chattel Mortgages, Homestead.) Have in general the same rights as other adults, except that they cannot become liable as sureties without an express charge of the debt on their separate estate. They can receive, hold, and convey property; transact business in her own name for herself; and may be sued and may sue in her own name as though she were unmarried and her husband or his creditors cannot reach her separate estate. A deed by a married woman without her husband's signature passes her entire estate in land, free of his tenancy by the curtesy. By statute she can deal with her husband in exchanging property, as with any other person. Women become of legal age at 21 years, but married women can make will and bar dower at 18.

Mechanics' Liens. Every person, firm or corporation, which, as principal contractor, architect, civil engineer, or surveyor, who performs any work or labor, or furnishes any material, plans or specifications in or about the erection, repair or removal of any dwelling house, building, bridge, wharf or dock, shall have a lien upon the interest of the owner thereof, and upon the land upon which it is situated, not exceeding forty acres, or if within the limits of a city or incorporated village, not exceeding one acre. Such lien shall be prior to any other lien which originates subsequent to the commencement of the construction, repairs or removal aforesaid, and shall also be prior to any unrecorded mortgage given before the commencement of such construction, repairs or removal.

Persons, firms or corporations, other than principal contractors, who perform any work or furnish any materials in the above cases, shall have a lien provided they shall give notice in writing within thirty days after performing the first work or labor, or furnishing the first materials to the owner of the property upon which such work is performed and materials furnished, by personal service on the owner, or his agent, or by letter addressed to such owner, or his agent, at the last post office address of such owner, or agent, with postage duly prepaid, to the effect that he has been employed to perform work or furnish materials, describing the real estate upon which the same is to be performed.

Every contractor, either principal or otherwise, at the time of the purchase of any materials, shall deliver to such materialmen a description of the real estate upon which the materials are to be used, and the name of the owner.

Every such firm, person or corporation, other than principal contractor, must within sixty days after the date of performing the last work, or furnishing the last materials, file in the office of the clerk of the Circuit Court of the county in which such real estate is situate, together with a copy of such notice, a claim for lien, setting forth his employment, with a statement of the labor and materials, and the amount owing, and that he claims a lien; and in all other cases not mentioned above, (this evidently means a principal contractor) the person or firm must, within six months from the date of the last charge of furnishing materials, file a claim for such lien in the office of the clerk of the Circuit Court of the county in which the lands affected thereby are situate, and must bring his action, and summons and complaint must be filed, within one year from such date, unless within thirty days next preceding the expiration of such year, the lien claimant shall make, and annex to the instrument on file an affidavit, setting forth the interest which lien claimant has by virtue of such lien. The effect of such affidavit shall not continue beyond one year from the time when such lien would otherwise cease to be valid. Other persons, as well as principal contractors, should likewise start their actions within one year from the date of the last charge for performing such work and labor or furnishing of materials.

Mortgages. (See Chattel Mortgages, Deeds.)

Negotiable Instruments. (See Promissory Notes and Bills.)

Probate Law. The jurisdiction of the county courts extends to probate of wills, granting of letters testamentary and of administration on the estate of all persons deceased, who were, at the time of their decease, inhabitants or residents of the same county, or had property in such county to be administered. Such jurisdiction also extended to appointment of guardians and trustees, and settlement and control of estates of minors and persons under guardianship. (See Administration.)

Promissory Notes and Bills. By chapter 356, laws of 1899, the so-called uniform negotiable instruments act became the law in Wisconsin. Its general effect is to strengthen decidedly the negotiable character of commercial paper. The following are the principal changes in the Wisconsin law: 1. Protest may be made but it is not necessary except in case of foreign bills of exchange. 2. If a place of payment is specified in the note it must be presented at that place. 3. The fact that a note is to be paid with exchange, with costs of collection, or with attorney's fees, or bears a seal, does not affect its negotiability. 4. A holder who derives his title through the holder in due course and who is not himself a party to any fraud, duress, or illegality affecting the instrument, has all the rights of such former holder in respect to all parties prior to such holder. 5. An instrument obtained by fraud, duress, force, or fear, or based upon an illegal consideration, is defective instead of void, but if the maker did not know the nature of the instrument, and could not have obtained such knowledge by the use of ordinary care, the title of the holder is absolutely void.

Warehouse receipts are negotiable unless expressed not to be. Municipal orders, bonds, etc., are not negotiable unless expressly authorized by law. Days of grace are abolished. Damages on foreign bills 5 per cent, with costs and charges of protest. One action may be brought against all parties liable on a note or bill. Negotiable paper maturing on Sunday or holiday becomes due on the next succeeding secular or business day. Acceptance must be in writing and signed by the drawer, and if acceptance is not written on the bill when requested, the bill may be treated as dishonored. Notes, bonds, or other contracts based in part or wholly upon money staked, lost or won on gambling are absolutely void.

Replevin. Specific personalty may be recovered by this action, but in cases where immediate possession of such specific personalty demanded, it must be on an affidavit by or for plaintiff showing his title or right of possession and defendant's wrongful detention or taking. The defendant can regain possession of the property pending the suit by due security in his turn. In case of contest, allegations of affidavit must be proved as questions of fact.

Sales are prima facie invalid, unless accompanied by immediate and continued change of possession. Unless the vendee proves his good faith this presumption is absolute. Installment leases and contracts for sale reserving title to vendor till full payment must be written and filed like chattel mortgages. Conditional sale contracts for furniture or household effects become chattel mortgages as soon as 50 per cent of purchase price has been paid, and right to redeem in case of seizure is given vendee. (See Chattel Mortgages.) "Futures" in grain, etc., are void if intended by both parties only as a wager on prices; else, valid

By chapter 463 of the laws of 1901, the sale of any portion of a stock of merchandise, in bulk or otherwise, than in the ordinary course of trade and business is presumed fraudulent and void as against creditors unless the seller and purchaser, at least five days before the sale, notify personally or by registered mail each of the seller's creditors of such proposed sale. By Chap. 549, Laws of 1911, the "uniform sales act" was adapted and went into effect January 1, 1912. It codifies the law on the question of sales, contracts, warrantees, rights of parties, and defines terms ordinarily used.

Supplementary Proceedings. (See Executions.)

Taxes are assessed as of May 1st and must be paid by the first day of January, or certain interest will be incurred. If taxes not paid, and land not previously redeemed, the land is returned delinquent to the county treasurer and sold on third Tuesday in May. The tax certificate therefor bears fifteen per cent (15%) interest, and after three years (unless sooner redeemed) a deed is issued to the purchaser, which is absolute and cuts off all prior title. As between grantor and grantee of land, where no express agreements, the grantee shall pay the taxes for the year in which the conveyance is made, if made before December 1st, but if after December 1st, then grantor to pay.

Transfer of Corporation Stock. Shares of stock are transferred by endorsement and delivered good in the hands of bona fide purchaser, or pledgee, for value as against all parties. The corporation may treat holder of record as holder in fact until transfer on record or new certificate issued, and courts will compel such record or issue.

Wills. Any person over twenty-one and a married woman over eighteen years, of sound mind, may make a will, which must be signed by testator, or in his presence and at his request, and also attested and subscribed by two witnesses in his presence and at his request, and in the presence of each other. Nuncupative wills under certain strict conditions are allowed. Revocation is by usual modes of destruction or by writing executed under the formalities of a will.

Workmen's Compensation Act. This act was passed by the 1911 Legislature and amended in 1913. It takes away some of the common law defenses of the master and provides for payment of a certain amount of the servant's wages during disability, and also in case of death. It has been held constitutional, and though comparatively new, meets with favor.

THE LAWS OF WYOMING

Prepared and Revised by KINKEAD & HENDERSON, Attorneys at Law, Cheyenne. (See Card in Attorneys' List.)

Acknowledgments must be made before a judge or clerk of a court of record, or before any county clerk, notary public, justice of the peace, or United States commissioner, within this State. If made out of the State, before any officer authorized, by the state or territory in which it is made, to take acknowledgments, before the clerk of any court of record, or before any commissioner appointed by the governor of this State for such purpose, provided that if such acknowledgment is not made before an officer having a seal, it must have attached thereto a certificate of the clerk of a court of record, or a county clerk of the same place, having a seal, certifying that the officer taking the acknowledgment is authorized to take the same, and that he believes that the signature appended to the acknowledgment is genuine. Every notary public, justice of the peace, and commissioner of deeds for Wyoming, who takes an acknowledgment to any written instrument to be recorded in any public office in Wyoming, shall add to his certificate the date when his commission or term of office expires. Conveyances must be signed in the presence of one subscribing witness.

Actions. The distinction between an action at law and a suit in equity is abolished and the district courts of the various counties have a general common law and equity jurisdiction. Justices of the peace have jurisdiction, except in cases where the title to land comes into controversy, to the amount of $200. Non-residents of the State are required to furnish security for costs if application is made for that purpose, or to pay the costs of the action as they accrue. (See also courts and suits.)

Administration of Estates. All probate jurisdiction is vested in the district court of the county of decedent's domicile, or in the case of a non-resident, of the place where his property or the greater portion thereof is situated. Administrators, executors and guardians are appointed on petition and notice, the surviving husband, or wife, having preference of appointment ordinarily. Administrators and executors are required to furnish security to an amount equal to double the value of the personal property and the rents, issues and profits of the real estate. Guardians are required to give bond in such sum as may be prescribed by the court. Foreign executors can act here upon filing proof of their appointment as executor, and of the admission of the will to probate in the foreign jurisdiction. Administrators and executors are entitled to possession of all real and personal property and the income of all realty, except the homestead, during the period of administration. Claims against the estate of a deceased person should be presented to the executor, or administrator, for allowance within six months from the date of the letters testamentary, or of administration, and if such claims are not presented for allowance within one year from the date of such letters, they are barred.

Affidavits. Affidavits may be made before any officer authorized to administer oaths.

Aliens. The State constitution provides that no distinction shall ever be made by law between resident aliens and citizens as to the possession, taxation, enjoyment and descent of property.

Arbitration. The law provides that all persons who have any controversy, except those relating to the possession or title to real estate, may submit such controversy to the arbitrament, or umpirage, of any person, or persons, to be mutually agreed upon by the parties, and they may make such submission a rule of any court of record in the State. The law further provides for process to compel the attendance of witnesses before the arbitrators, and for the enforcement of the award of the arbitrators when one is made.

Arrest and Bail. Arrest of the defendant in civil actions may be made on grounds very similar in character to those upon which a writ of attachment may be issued against the property of the defendant.

Assignments and Insolvency. An insolvent debtor may make an assignment in good faith to one or more assignees for satisfaction of creditors. No preference of creditors or payment of false or fraudulent claims is allowed. The assignment must be in writing, executed according to the laws of the State, and must be filed and recorded in the office of the county clerk of the county in which the assignor resides, or has his principal place of business if he be a non-resident of Wyoming. Within fifteen days after the execution of any such assignment the assignee shall file a certified copy of the assignment and schedule in the office of the clerk of the district court of the county in which the debtor resides, or does business, and shall, before entering upon the execution of his trust, make oath that he will faithfully execute the same, and shall at the same time file with a clerk a written undertaking to the State of Wyoming, with at least one sufficient surety, in a sum double the value of the property assigned conditioned for the faithful discharge of the duties of his trust.

Attachments may issue against the property of persons who are non-residents of this State or are about to become non-residents or a foreign corporation; or when the defendant has absconded with intent to defraud his creditors; or has left the county of his residence to avoid the service of summons; or so conceals himself that a summons cannot be served upon him; or is about to remove his property or a part thereof out of the jurisdiction of the court with intent to defraud his creditors; or is about to convert his property or a part thereof into money for the purpose of placing it beyond the reach of his creditors; or has property or rights in action which he conceals; or has assigned, removed, disposed of, or is about to dispose of his property or a part thereof with intent to defraud his creditors; or has fraudulently or criminally contracted the debt or incurred the obligation for which suit is about to be or has been brought. In order to obtain an attachment, the plaintiff, his agent or attorney, must make affidavit showing the nature of the plaintiff's claim, that it is just, the amount which the affiant believes that the plaintiff ought to recover, and the existence of any one of the grounds for attachment mentioned above, or that the affiant has good reason to believe and does believe that some one or more of said grounds (stating which ones) exists. The plaintiff must also give an undertaking with sufficient surety, who must be a resident property holder in the State, and be approved by the clerk of the court by whom the order of attachment is issued, in a sum equal to double the amount of the plaintiff's claim, to the effect that the plaintiff shall pay the defendant all damages which he may sustain by reason of the attachment if the order prove to have been wrongfully obtained. Garnishee process may be had in aid of attachment. A creditor may bring an action upon a claim before it is due and have attachment against the property of the debtor when a debtor has sold, conveyed, or otherwise disposed of his property with a fraudulent intent to cheat or defraud his creditors or to hinder or delay them in the collection of their debts; or is about to make such sale, conveyance, or disposition of his property with such fraudulent intent; or is about to remove his property of a material part thereof with the intent or to the effect of cheating or defrauding his creditors or hindering or delaying them in the collection of their debts; or where the defendant is about to become a non-resident of the State. An attachment authorized in case of a debt not yet due may be granted by the court in which the action is brought or by a judge thereof, but an affidavit and undertaking of the creditor similar to those required for attachment in case of a debt past due must be executed before the writ of attachment will be issued. In civil actions before a justice of the peace involving an amount not to exceed $200 when affidavit is filed showing that claim is just and is founded on contract express or implied and is not secured attachment will issue.

Banks. The legislature is prohibited from passing local or special laws, chartering banks, insurance companies, and loan and trust companies. There is in the law a provision that shares of stock in national and other banks are subject to taxation, and certain provisions in the civil code in relation to a course of procedure for the purpose of preventing a banking corporation or its trustees or directors from making an improper disposition of the funds or other property of the bank, or violating any franchise of the corporation. All banks except national banks are required to make full statements at the end of each quarter, showing, under appropriate heads and in details, their resources and liabilities. The quarters end on the last days of March, June, September, and December, in each year. The statement is required to be published once in nearest newspaper and copy of paper and statement filed within ten days in the office of the state examiner. In the case of a corporation, the report must be published in a newspaper. It is unlawful for a bank to receive deposits when insolvent.

Banks may act as executors or administrators, agents, trustees, etc. Provision is made under the state law for the organization, management, and control of banks, banking associations, savings banks, and loan and trust companies. It is made the duty of the state examiner to examine and report upon the condition of all banks incorporated under state law once a year.

Chattel Mortgages. Chattel mortgages are required by law to be executed and acknowledged in the same manner as mortgages of real estate. They are required to be filed, but not recorded, in the office of the county clerk of the county where the mortgaged property is situated. The lien of the chattel mortgage continues until the indebtedness thereby secured, or the last installment thereof, becomes due, and for six months thereafter. After that time it continues in force as between the parties thereto, but it ceases to be valid as against the creditors of the mortgagee and as against subsequent purchasers, or mortgagees, in good faith. The chattel mortgage may be renewed by filing, during the period of six months, an affidavit setting forth the amount still due and unpaid of the original indebtedness. This affidavit, when filed in the office of the county clerk, continues the lien of the mortgage in force for a period of one year, and a similar affidavit may be filed within six months after the end of the said period of one year, and each year thereafter, by means of which the lien of the mortgage is continued in force. Chattel mortgage may cover future advances where specific sum as ultimate amount to be secured, date prior to completion of advances and date on which last installment of indebtedness secured shall mature are stated.

Collaterals. There is no statute relating expressly to collaterals.

Conveyances. (See Acknowledgments and Mortgages.)

Corporations. Corporations may be formed by three or more persons for the purpose of carrying on manufacturing, mining, commercial, and other kinds of business, and also constructing wagon roads, railroads, telegraph lines, irrigating ditches, dealing in real estate etc., and the incorporators are required to sign and acknowledge before some officer competent to take the acknowledgment of deeds duplicate certificates in writing, in which shall be stated the corporate name of said company, the object for which the company shall be formed, the amount of capital stock of said company, the term of existence (not to exceed fifty years), the number of shares of which the said stock shall consist, the number of directors and their names, who shall manage the concerns of the company for the first year, and the name of the town and county in which the operations of said company are to be carried on. One of the certificates must be filed in the office of the county clerk of the county wherein the business of the company is to be carried on and the other in the office of the secretary of state. Within 30 days after filing articles, notice of its incorporation must be published for three weeks in one newspaper of general circulation in this state giving all the above information. If three or more persons desire to form a company the object of which shall be to aid in the industrial or productive interests of the country, but without any purpose of direct gain to itself, then, in such case, such company shall not have a capital stock, and the certificate of incorporation shall so state giving the reason therefor. The number of directors for a corporation is not less than three nor more than nine, and the directors st be stockholders in the company. The capital stock of domestic corporations shall not be taxed. Both foreign and domestic corporations must have resident agent under penalty of forfeiture of all its rights and franchises.

Costs. In justice court the costs of suit are ordinarily taxed against the losing party. In the district court, when the judgment is less than $100, unless the recovery be reduced below that sum by counter claims, or let off, each party shall pay his own cost; and in all actions for libel, slander, malicious persecution, assault and battery, false imprisonment criminal conversation, or seduction, action for nuisance, or against a justice of the peace for misconduct in office, when the damage assessed is under $5, the plaintiff shall not recover costs. When it is not otherwise provided by statute, costs shall be allowed, of course, to the plaintiff, upon a judgment in his favor, in action for the recovery of specific, real, or personal property. Costs shall be allowed, of course, to any defendant, upon a judgment in his favor in the actions mentioned in the preceding part of this paragraph. In other actions the court may award or tax costs and apportion them between parties, on the same or adverse sides, as it may adjudge to be right and equitable.

Courts. Terms and Jurisdistion. The supreme court holds two regular terms annually at the capital of the State. Its business is principally of an appellate character. District court is held twice a year in each organized county except in the counties of Goshen, Platte, Niobraria, Campbell. Hot Springs and Washakie, where but one term is held each year. Special terms may be called by the District Judge, however, on being petitioned therefor by the Board of County Commissioners of the respective counties. Said court has full common law and chancery powers. It has also exclusive jurisdiction in all probate matters and the administration, settlement, and distribution of the estates of deceased persons. Justices of the peace have jurisdiction in civil actions where the amount in controversy, exclusive of costs, does not exceed $200.

Days of Grace abolished by the negotiable instrument act of the legislature of 1905, being an act to establish a law uniform with the laws of other states on that subject.

Depositions. The code of civil procedure makes provision for taking depositions upon commissions to which are to be attached interrogatories and cross-interrogatories, but the law is not very specific in regard to the method of taking depositions in this way. Definite provision is made for taking depositions in actions pending in the district court upon notice to be served upon the opposite party, or his attorney of record. The notice must be served in time to allow the adverse party sufficient time, exclusive of Sunday, the day of service, and one day of preparation to travel, with the usual route and modes of conveyance to the place named in the notice, which must state the time and place of taking the depositions. Depositions may be taken before any officer authorized to administer oaths. The officer taking the depositions must annex thereto a certificate showing that the witness was first sworn to testify the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth; that the deposition was reduced to writing by some proper person, naming him; that the deposition was written and subscribed in the presence of the officer certifying thereto, and that the deposition was taken at the time and place specified in the notice. Depositions cannot be taken by a relative or attorney of either party to the case, or one who is otherwise interested in the event of the action or proceeding.

Descent and Distribution. In the case of parties owning property dying and leaving no will, distribution of the estate is made as follows: If such intestate leave a husband, or wife, and children, or the descendants of any children, him or her surviving, one-half of such estate shall descend to such surviving husband or wife, and the residue thereof to such surviving children and descendants of children, as limited by law; if such intestate leave a husband, or wife, and no child, nor descendants of any child, then the real and personal estate of such intestate shall descend as follows, to wit: All of said estate up to the sum of $20,000, after the payment of debts, descends to wife, and the balance if any, shall descend as follows, to wit: Three-fourths thereof to such surviving husband or wife, and one-fourth thereof to the father and mother of the intestate, or the survivor of them; provided, that if such intestate have a husband or wife and no child nor descendants of any child, or parent, or brothers or sisters, then the whole thereof shall descend to and vest in the surviving husband or wife, as his or her absolute estate, subject to the payment of the debts of the intestate. Except in cases above enumerated the estate of any intestate descends and is distributed as follows: First, to his children surviving and the descendants of his children, who are dead (the descendants, collectively, taking the share which their parents would have taken if living). Second, if there be no children, nor their descendants, then to his father, mother, brothers and sisters, and to the descendants of brothers and sisters who are dead (the descendants, collectively, taking the share their parents would have taken if living), in equal parts. Third, if there be no children nor their descendants, nor father, mother, brothers, sisters, nor descendants of deceased brothers or sisters, nor husband nor wife, living, then to the grandfather, grandmother, uncles, aunts, and their descendants (the descendants taking, collectively, the share of their immediate ancestors), in equal parts.

Dower. Under the territorial law formerly in existence and which has never been repealed, dower was abolished, and since the admission of Wyoming as a state no law has been enacted on that subject.

Execution may issue immediately after judgment rendered, and is returnable in sixty days from a court of record, and thirty days when issued by a justice of the peace. Provision is made for a stay of execution in justices' courts, for a period of thirty days on a judgment not exceeding $50, exclusive of costs, or a stay of four months on a judgment of $50 and not more than $100, exclusive of costs, and a stay of six months on a judgment in excess of $100, exclusive of costs. Provision is also made for a stay of execution in the district court for a period of six months from the time of the entry of judgment by the judgment debtor procuring one or more freehold sureties to enter into his recognizance, acknowledging themselves bail for defendant for the payment of the judgment, together with the interest and costs accrued, and to accrue. Provision is also made for a stay of execution in cases where an appeal or proceeding in error is taken to a higher court.

Exemptions. Household furniture, provisions, etc., for head of family residing with same, $500; tools, team, implements or stock in trade of mechanic, miner, or other person, kept for his trade or business, $300, except where debtor is adjudged a bankrupt either in voluntary or involuntary proceedings; library and instruments of professional man, $300; homestead actually occupied as such by head of family in country, of value of $2,500.00 but not exceeding 160 acres; in town, lot or lots in value, $2,500.00; necessary wearing apparel of every person to the value of $150. One-half of the earnings of a judgment debtor for his personal services, rendered at any time within sixty (60) days next preceding the levy of execution or attachment and due and owing at that time, where necessary to the use of a family supported wholly or in part by his labor, and residing in this State. No property is exempt for a person removing or absconding from the State, and all persons claiming exemption must be actual, bona-fide residents of the State. No article of property is exempt from attachment or sale on execution for its purchase price.

Fraud. A judgment may be vacated for fraud practiced by the successful party in obtaining it. It is not a ground for a judgment debtor to be excused for not answering in an examination in regard to his property. It is also a ground for attachment.

Garnishment. The laws relating to attachment and garnishment are similar in character and there is no provision for garnishment except when ground for attachment exists, and a bond must be furnished, to obtain a garnishment in the same manner as to obtain an attachment. Garnishee process may be had in aid of execution after judgment, without such bond, and without affidavit, except such as may be necessary to lay the foundation for an order by the district judge for the examination of the judgment debtor or any person or corporation indebted to him.

Husband and Wife. The husband is not liable for the debts of the wife contracted before marriage, without an assumption in writing of such debts, but the estate of the wife is liable for debts of that character. Separate deed of the husband conveys no interest in the wife's lands. (See Married Women.)

Interest. In the absence of express contract, all moneys, claims, or judgments draw interest at the rate of 8 per cent per annum. Any rate may be agreed upon in writing, not exceeding 12 per cent per annum. If any greater rate is agreed upon the lender forfeits all interest. Unsettled accounts draw interest after thirty days from the date of last item.

Judgments are a lien on debtor's real estate within the county from the first day of the term at which judgment is entered, but judgments by confession and judgments rendered at the same term at which the action is commenced bind the debtor's real estate only from the time of entry, which lien continues for five years. Judgments may be revived by statutory proceedings.

Liens. The law provides for liens of agistors and stable keepers, common carriers and warehouse men upon property entrusted to them to care for, and also for mechanics and material men for labor and materials furnished for the construction or repair of buildings, and also a lien for mechanics, artisans or other persons who may make, alter, repair or bestow labor upon any article of personal property at the request of the owner or party having possession thereof.

Limitations of Suits. On contracts not in writing, eight years, upon specialty or agreement in writing, ten (10) years; on all foreign judgments, or contracts made or incurred before debtor becomes a resident, within five (5) years after he establishes residence in the State; recovery of lands, ten years. Revivor: Part payment or acknowledgment in writing. Limited partnerships.

Married Women. A married woman retains her property, both real and personal, may make a will, carry on business, sue and be sued, and retain her own earnings in the same manner as if sole. She may also vote and hold office. There is no right of dower under the state law.

Mortgages must be attested by one witness, acknowledged and recorded in the manner provided by law for the execution and recording of deeds, and are foreclosed by action at law, or by advertisement for six weeks. Real property sold under foreclosure of mortgage, either by decree of court or by advertisement, may be redeemed in six months by mortgage from date of sale, upon payment of the amount for which the property was sold and ten per cent interest thereon, and within three months thereafter by any creditor.

Negotiable Instrument. The legislature of 1905 passed what is known as the uniform negotiable instrument law, being an act to establish a law uniform with the laws of other states on that subject.

Notes and Bills of Exchange are subject to a state law which substantially enacts the law merchant. The 1st day of January, the 12th and 22d days of February, the 30th day of May, the 4th day of July, the day appointed by the President of the United States or the governor of the State as a fast or Thanksgiving Day, the 25th day of December and the day in the spring appointed by the governor of the State as Arbor Day, and all days on which regular state and county elections are held are legal holidays.

Partnerships Limited. The law makes provision for special partnerships, which may consist of one or more persons, called general partners, and one or more persons called special partners Persons forming such a partnership must severally sign a certificate, stating, first, the partnership name; second, the general line of business intended to be transacted; third, the names of all the partners and residences, specifying which are general and which are special partners; fourth, the amount of capital which each separate partner has contributed to the common stock, and fifth, the period at which such partnership will begin and end. This certificate must be acknowledged and filed in the office of the county clerk and ex-officio register of deeds of the county in which the principal business of the partnership is situated. An affidavit of each of the partners, stating that the sum specified in the certificate of partnership, as having been contributed by each of the special partners, have been actually and in good faith paid, must be filed in the same office with the original certificate. The general partners in a special partnership are liable to the same extent as persons in a general partnership. The contributions of the special partner to the capital of the firm, and the increase thereof, are liable for its debts, but he is not otherwise liable, unless he has performed certain acts, specified in the statute, of a fraudulent nature or has willfully interfered with the business of the firm.

Powers of Attorney. When executed for the purpose of enabling the attorney in fact to convey real estate, powers of attorney must be executed with the same formalities as a deed, and they should be recorded in the office of the county clerk of the county in which the land conveyed by virtue of such instrument is situated.

Probate Law. (See Administration of Estates.)

Protest. Protest must be made by a notary public or any other officer authorized to administer oaths. It must be made by an instrument in writing giving a literal copy of the bill of exchange with all that is written thereon, or annexing the original, stating the presentment and the manner in which it was made, the presence, or absence of the drawee, or acceptor, as the case may be, the refusal to accept or pay, or the inability of the drawee to give a binding acceptance, and in case of refusal the reason assigned, if any, and finally protesting against all the parties to be charged.

Replevin. The action for replevin lies both in the district court and in the justice court for the purpose of obtaining the possession of specific personal property. In order to obtain a writ of replevin, it is necessary to file an affidavit showing a description of the property claimed, that the plaintiff is the owner of the property, or has an interest therein, and if the ownership, or interest is special or partial, the fact should be stated; that the property is wrongfully detained by the defendant and that it was not taken on process issued against the plaintiff, or if taken under such process that the property was exempt from execution, and that it is not held for any tax legally assessed, or levied against the plaintiff. In the district court the plaintiff is not required to give a bond until after the property has been taken by the sheriff, and if after the property is so taken the plaintiff fails to give the required bond within five days, then the property is returned to the defendant. The defendant may, within forty-eight hours after the property is taken, regain possession of it by giving an undertaking as provided by law, conditioned for the re-delivery of the property if adjudged. In the justice court the plaintiff is required to file a bond or undertaking, to the defendant in not less than double the amount of the value of the property, as stated in the affidavit of the plaintiff, before beginning his action.

Taxes become due and payable on the third Monday in September in each year, and the taxpayer should pay the entire amount of his taxes after that time and before the thirty-first day of December following. In all cases where the tax is not paid on the thirty-first day of December succeeding the levy thereof, the amount of the tax charged, against any taxpayer so failing to pay such tax shall become delinquent from that day. A penalty of 8 per cent on the amount unpaid is added to all taxes when they become delinquent. Delinquent taxes draw interest at the rate of 8 per cent per annum until paid or collected by distress and sale. Taxes upon real property are made a perpetual lien thereupon, and taxes due from any person upon personal property are a lien upon any real property, owned by such person. Both personal and real property may be sold for taxes in the manner provided by law. Real property may be redeemed from tax sale at any time within three years after the sale, by payment of the amount for which it was sold, 15 per cent of the same, interest on the whole amount at the rate of 10 per cent per annum, and subsequent taxes with 10 per cent per annum interest thereon, unless such subsequent taxes have been paid by the person redeeming.

Wills. Any wills to be valid must be n writing, or typewritten, witnessed by two competent witnesses, and signed by the testator, or by some person in his presence, and by his express direction, and if the witnesses are competent at the time of attesting the execituon of the will, their subsequent incompetency, from whatever cause it may arise, shall not prevent the probate and allowance of the will. No subscribing withess to any will can derive any benefit therefrom unless there be two disinterested and competent witnesses to the same, but if without a will such witness would be entitled to any portion of the testator's estate, such witness may still receive such portion to the extent and value of the amount devised. Wills are admitted to probate in the court of the proper county upon petition being filed, and after notice by publication for not less than ten, not more than thirty days from the production of the will. Every custodian of a will, within thirty days after receipt of information that the maker thereof is dead, must deliver the same to the district court having jurisdiction of the estate, or to the executor named in the will.

THE LAWS OF ALBERTA

Revised by Messrs. TAYLOR, MOFFAT AND MOYER, Calgary, Alta., Barristers, Solicitors and Notaries. (See Card in Attorneys' List.)

By chapters 41 and 42 of the acts of parliament of Canada for the year 1905, the Provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan were erected out of a portion of the Northwest Territories. By the acts creating these Provinces, existing territorial laws were continued until pealed or amended by the legislatures of the new Provinces.

Administration of Decedent's Estate. Probate of wills or letters of administration are granted by the district court in the judicial district where the deceased resided when he died; in case death was outside the Province, the district where there was any property of the deceased. Bond, with one or two sureties, is required from a person to whom letters of administration or guardianship are committed. Where probate or letters of administration granted in the United Kingdom or any dominion or British Province are produced to, and a copy thereof deposited with the clerk of the district court, they may under the direction of the judge, be sealed with the seal of the district court, and thereupon will have the same force and effect as if granted by that court. A judge has power, in his discretion, to order sale of an infant's estate. Real property descends as chattels, and becomes vested in the executor or administrator as personal property.

Affidavits. In matters in Court affidavits must be intituled in the cause or matter and must be drawn up in the first person and must state the name of the deponent in full, his description and true place of abode. Affidavits for use in Alberta when sworn outside the Province and in Great Britain and Ireland or any British possession, before a Judge of a Court of Record or before the mayor or chief magistrate of any city, borough or town under the common seal of such city, borough or town; or before a notary public or person lawfully authorized to administer oaths therein; and when in any foreign country before any of His Majesty's consuls or vice-consuls, a judge of any court of record or of supreme jurisdiction or before a notary public certified under his hand and official seal, or before commissioner authorized by the laws of Alberta to take affidavits in such foreign country, or before the mayor or chief magistrate of any city, borough or town corporate under the common seal of such city, borough or town.

Every person administering oaths shall express the time, when and the place where the affidavit is taken. All interlineations, alterations or erasures whether in the jurat or body of the affidavit shall be authenticated by the initials of the officer taking the affidavit. Accounts, extracts, documents, etc., referred to in the affidavit must be referred to as exhibits and must be marked by the officer taking the affidavit.

As to affidavits of execution see Deeds, etc., below.

Rules of Court, 1914, Sections 413-428, Alberta Evidence Act, 1910.

Aliens may acquire, hold, and dispose of real property as effectually as a natural born British subject.

On account of the state of war between the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and the German Empire and between the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and the Austro-Hungarian Monarchy an order in Council was passed on the 15th day of August, 1914, providing for the status of all persons in Canada of German or Austro-Hungarian nationality.

This order in Council provides that so long as such people quietly pursue their ordinary avocations they shall be allowed to continue to enjoy the protections of the law and shall not be arrested, detained or interfered with unless there are reasonable grounds to believe that they are engaged in espionage or engaging or attempting to engage in acts of a hostile nature or are giving or attempting to give information to the enemy or unless they otherwise contravene any law, order in council or proclamation.

Provision was also made for the arrest and detention of German or Austro-Hungarian officers, soldiers or reservists who attempt to leave Canada and of all subjects of the two countries mentioned above who attempt to leave Canada and in regard to whom there is reasonable ground to believe that their attempted departure is with a view to assist the enemy, and for the arrest and detention of all subjects of the nations mentioned above engaged in or attempting to engage in espionage or acts of a hostile nature.

See Canada Gazette, August 15, 1914.

Arrest. There is no provision made for arrest for debt.

Assignments and Insolvency. Assignment of property by any person at any time when he is in insolvent circumstances, or is unable to pay his debts in full, or knows that he is on the eve of insolvency, with intent to defeat or delay or prejudice his creditors, or one or more of them, or to or for a creditor with intent to give such creditor a preference over the others, or over any one or more of them, or that has that effect, is void. If assignment is attached within 60 days after the date thereof, it is sufficient to show that the assignment had the effect of preferring without proving the intent; but an assignment made by the debtor to the official assignee for the purpose of paying all his creditors rateably and proportionately and without priority, or any bona-fide sale of goods, or payment made in the ordinary course of trade to innocent purchasers, is valid.

All assignments made for the general benefit of any creditors to person other than the official assignee are null and void.

Attachment of Debts. Debts due or accruing due to a defendant or judgment debtor may be attached by garnishee summons either before or after the signing of judgment, upon affidavit of the plaintiff, his solicitor or agent, setting out the facts required. The clerk issues a garnishee summons.

After service upon the garnishee all debts due or accruing due are bound and must be paid into Court or to the Sheriff.

See Rules of Court, 1914.

Attachment of Goods. Property not exempt from seizure under execution may be attached after the commencement of an action wherein the claim is for the recovery of a debt of $100.00 or upwards.

An ex parte application grounded upon affidavit made by the plaintiff or by his agent having a personal knowledge of the matter, stating from what cause the claim arose and the amount thereof and that the deponent has good reason to believe (giving reasons therefor) that the debtor is about to or has absconded from Alberta leaving personal property liable to seizure under execution or has attempted to remove such personal property out of Alberta or to sell or dispose of the same with intent to defraud his creditors generally or the plaintiff in particular, or keeps concealed to avoid service of process; and stating also that the deponent verily believes that without the benefit of the attachment the plaintiff will lose his debt or sustain damage; and upon the affidavit of one other credible person that he is well acquainted with the defendant and has good reason to believe (giving such reasons) that the defendant is about to or has absconded or has attempted to remove his personal property out of Alberta or to sell or dispose of the same or keeps concealed to avoid service of process, must be made to the Judge who, if satisfied with the material submitted directs the Clerk of the Court to issue writ of attachment directed to the Sheriff authorizing him to attach and keep all the personal property of the defendant.

Where the debtor has actually absconded or is about to abscond from the Province leaving no wife or family behind no property of such debtor shall be exempt from seizure. The amount of the debt is stated in the writ of attachment and the Sheriff levies for the amount thereof and the costs of the action. A creditor who attaches a debt shall be deemed to do so for the benefit of all creditors of the debtor as well as for himself.

Vide Rules of Court, 1914, Sec. 666, sqq.
Statutes, 1910, Cap. IV. Secs. 4 and 5.

Banks. The subject of Banks is one which by the provisions of the British North America Act is expressly reserved for the Dominion Parliament. The Legislature of the Province has no power to deal therewith. The legislation on the subject is contained in the Bank Act of 1913, being Statutes of Canada, 3 and 4, George V, Chap. 9. For a resume of its main provisions see the synopsis of the laws of Ontario.

Bills of Exchange and Promissory Notes. Three days' grace is allowed on all notes and bills other than those payable on demand, etc. In case of dishonor the indorser is relieved from liability unless he has been given notice of dishonor. Bills and notes falling due on legal holidays are payable the day after. No stamps are required. The Bills of Exchange Act, 1890. See Revised Statutes of Canada, 1906, Chap. 119.

Bulk Sales Act. Whenever any trader, commission merchant, or manufacturer shall bargain for or purchase any stock of goods, wares or merchandise in bulk for cash or on credit, and shall pay any proportion of the purchase price, or execute or deliver to the vendor or his order or to any person for his use any promissory note or other document for or on account of the purchase price of any stock of goods, wares or merchandise in bulk, without first having demanded and obtained from the vendor or from his agent, or if the vendor is a corporation, from the President, Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer or Manager thereof, a written statement verified by the statutory declaration purporting to set forth the names, addresses and amounts of the indebtedness or liability due, owing, payable or accruing due by the vendor to each of his creditors, then such sale shall with respect to any action or proceeding within sixty days thereafter brought, had or taken against the purchaser to impeach or set aside such transaction be deemed fraudulent, and shall be absolutely void as against the creditors of the vendor, unless the whole or the proceeds of such sale, or sufficient thereof to satisfy the claims of all the creditors of the vendor is in fact actually accepted by the vendor on or towards the payment of all his creditors without giving any preference or priority to one over another such as is provided by law, or previous contract. This provision applies when goods are again re-sold for the purpose of evading the act, and the purchaser is held liable for the debts hereinbefore recited, unless he obtains the statutory declaration of all the accounts due, and either obtains a waiver from the creditors of their accounts or applies the purchase price on the payment of the same. Provision is made for payment of the purchase money to an official assignee for distribution pro rata among all creditors of the vendor.

See Bulk Sales Act, Statutes of Alberta, 1913, Chap. 10.

Caveats on Land. Any person claiming to be interested under any will, settlement or trust deed, or any instrument or transfer or transmission or under an unregistered instrument or under an execution where the execution creditor seeks to affect land in which the execution debtor is interested beneficially, but the title to which is registered in the name of some other person or otherwise howsoever in any land, mortgage or encumbrance, may cause to be filed on his behalf with the registrar a caveat in form W in the schedule to this act against the registration of any person as transferee or owner of, or of any instrument affecting, such estate or interest, unless such instrument be expressed to be subject to the claim of the caveator. Registration by way of caveat shall have the same effect as to priority as the registration of any instrument under the Act. The Registrar may allow the withdrawal of caveat and registration in lieu thereof of the instrument under which caveat filed if such instrument may be registered under the Act.

Land Titles Act, Statutes of Alberta, 1906, Chap. 24.
(See also Married Women.)

Chattel Mortgages. Chattel mortgages to secure debts require an affidavit of execution, and affidavit of bona fides to be made by the mortgagee or his duly authorized agent or the manager, where the mortgagee is a corporation (a copy of such authority to be attached to the affidavit) stating that such mortgage is given in good faith, that the mortgagor is justly and truly indebted to the mortgagee in the amount claimed, and that it is not given to defeat the creditors of the mortgagor. In the case of an incorporated company the affidavit may be made by the agent or manager, without the authority being attached. They must be registered within thirty days from execution with the registration clerk of the district in which the goods are situate and must be renewed within two years from date of registration and renewed thereafter every year. In case of goods being removed into a new registration district a certified copy of the mortgage, affidavits, etc., must be registered with clerk of new district within three weeks of such removal. Similar provisions also exist respecting chattel mortgages to secure endorsements and also future advances. (Bills of Sale, Ord. 1895.) No chattel mortgage intended to apply to or effect any growing crop or crop to be grown shall be valid so far as the said crop is concerned unless the same shall be made, executed or created as security for the purchase price and interest thereon of the seed grain.

Bills of Sale Ordinance.
(See also Seizures and Sale.)

Claims Against Estates of Deceased Persons. The executor, administrator or any creditor may apply to a judge in chambers for the administration of the estate of a deceased person, and for payment of claims against the estate.

Provision is also made for the appointment of an official administrator.

In the administration of the estate of the deceased persons simple contract debts and specialty debts rank equally. (Imp. Act, 32-33, Vic. Cap. 40.)

Conditional Sales. No sale or bailment of goods to the value of $15.00 or upwards, conditioned that the right of property or of possession shall remain in the seller or bailor, is good as against a purchaser or mortgagee from the buyer or bailee, or against judgments, executions, or attachments, unless the sale or bailment is in writing and signed by the buyer, bailee or their agent, and containing a description of the goods such that they may be known. The writing or a true copy thereof, accompanied by an affidavit of the seller, bailor, or his agent, stating that the writing truly sets out the agreement and that agreement is bona fide and not for the purpose of protecting the goods, must be registered in the registration district where the buyer or bailee resides within 30 days after actual delivery of the goods. If the goods are delivered in a district other than that in which the buyer or bailee resides registration must be made also within the same time in the district in which the goods are delivered. In the case of a subsequent removal registration must be made in the district into which the goods have been removed within 60 days of such removal. A seller or bailor repossessing must hold the goods for 20 days and give 5 days notice of sale.

(See Seizure and Sale.)

Corporations. Incorporation of a company for any lawful purpose to which the authority of the Legislative Assembly of the Province extends may be obtained under the Companies Ordinance of the Province by any number of persons not less than three in number.

Application is made by filing with the Registrar Memorandum of Association signed by the applicants, being not less than three in number, and otherwise complying with the Ordinance.

Companies may be limited by shares, by guarantee or may be incorporated as unlimited companies. Where limited by shares shareholders are only liable for unpaid balance on the shares subscribed for. Mining Companies may be incorporated under special provisions relating to such and if so provided in charter shareholders are not liable for more than the amount paid by them on shares. Companies may also be incorporated under the Dominion Companies Act.

By the Corporations Taxation Act, 1907, certain corporations are subject to special taxes to be paid to the Province.

No Foreign Company having gain for its object is allowed to carry on any part of its business in the Province until it is duly registered and cannot sue for any debt contracted until registered and is further liable to a fine, subject however to the proviso that the taking of orders by travellers for goods, wares or merchandise to be subsequently imported in to the Province to fill such orders, or the buying or selling of such goods, wares or merchandise by correspondence, if the company has no resident agent or representative and no warehouse, office or place of business in the Province, is not to be deemed to be carrying on business within the meaning of the Foreign Companies Ordinance. Foreign Companies may register under the statute relating to such Companies on paying the necessary fees and otherwise complying with the provisions of the Ordinance. Any such company must appoint an attorney resident within the Province.

Insurance Companies and Banking Companies must be incorporated under the acts of the Parliament of the Dominion of Canada.

Creditors, Relief of. There is no priority among execution creditors of any debtor. The Sheriff realizing moneys under execution must hold same for thirty days and in case of an absconding debtor for two months, and all creditors filing claims in manner prescribed within the times mentioned share any moneys in the hands of the Sheriff. Special provisions are made for filing of claims under particular circumstances.

Creditors' Relief Act, Statutes of Alberta, 1910.

Courts. There are two courts; supreme and district. The judges of the supreme court have jurisdiction in any judicial district in the Province. The judges of the district court only have jurisdiction in their respective judicial districts, but an action begun in one district may be transferred to another. The district court has jurisdiction in all cases, actions, matters, suits or proceedings, whether of debt, covenant, contract or damage or involving the validity of any will or settlement or in relation to land or any legal or equitable interest therein, or in actions seeking equitable relief or for a declaratory judgment, or to establish the right of a creditor to rank upon an insolvent estate, and generally in all matters which may be made the subject of a claim for relief whether legal or equitable, or to enforce any right whether legal or equitable where the debt, damage, claim or demand does not exceed $600. The district court has also jurisdiction in all probate matters. The supreme court has jurisdiction in all other matters.

Deeds—Acknowledgments, etc. This is an incorrect appellation under the existing ("Torrens") system of land transfer. Land is now conveyed by a transfer. Transfers, mortgages, etc., should be executed in the presence of one witness who can write, and for the purpose of registration an affidavit of execution must be attached or endorsed. General forms are provided by statute relating to registration. The affidavit of execution, if made in the Province, shall be made before the inspector of land titles offices, registrar or deputy registrar of the district in which the land is situate, or a judge, or a stipendiary magistrate, notary public, commissioner for taking affidavits, or a justice of the peace in and for the Province; if made in any province of Canada, before a judge or any court of record, any commissioner for taking affidavits in such province for use in any court of record in Alberta, or before any notary public under his official seal. In Great Britain or Ireland before a judge of the supreme court of judicature in Great Britain or Ireland, or of the court of sessions or judiciary court in Scotland, or a judge of any county courts within his county, or the mayor of any city or incorporated town under its common seal, or before any commissioner in Great Britain or Ireland for taking affidavits for use in Alberta, or a notary public under his official seal; or if made in any British possession or colony out of Canada, before a judge of any court of record, the mayor of any city or incorporated town under its common seal, or notary public under its official seal; if made in a foreign country, before the mayor of any city or town under its common seal, or the British consul, vice-consul, or consular agent therein, or before a judge of any court of record, or a notary public under his official seal. (Land Titles Act, Alberta.)

Depositions. Depositions in any case or matter pending in court may be taken out of the Province under commission. Application for same is made by way of Notice of Motion before a Judge or Master in Chambers.

Descent. The laws relating to both real and personal property are the same. If the intestate leaves a widow and any child or children, or descendant of any child, the widow shall take a third part. If intestate leaves no issue, his widow shall take all, provided that she has not left him and lived in adultery after leaving him. The husband of a married woman is entitled to the whole of her effects on her death intestate. If the intestate leaves a widow and child or children, two-thirds of his estate shall go to such child or children. The father of any person dying intestate without wife or children takes all intestate's property. The mother of any person dying intestate without wife, child, or father, takes all. In the distribution of the personal property of any woman dying intestate, her illegitimate children shall be entitled to the same rights as if they were legitimate. The mother of any illegitimate child dying intestate shall take all the personal property of such child. By Chapter 5 of the Statutes of Alberta, 1915, it is enacted that when any person dies intestate owning real or personal property and without leaving any next of kin or other person entitled thereto by the laws of Alberta such property shall immediately on his death vest in His Majesty in the right of Alberta. Provision is made by this statute for the Lieutenant Governor in Council granting any such property or any interest therein to any person having a legal or moral claim upon the deceased.

Distress. (See Seizure and Sale.)

Dower. There is no dower but by the Married Women's Relief Act, 1910, the widow of a man who dies leaving a will by the terms of which his widow would in the opinion of the Judge receive less than if he had died intestate may apply to the Supreme Court for relief and the Court on such application may make such allowance out of the estate of the deceased as he may deem just and equitable in the circumstances. (See also Married Women.)

Evidence. (See Testimony.)

Executions. Executions may be issued immediately on signing judgment unless the judge fixes a period for payment. Every writ of execution shall be issued against both good and lands of the debtor and shall remain in force so long as the judgment on which it is issued remains in force unless otherwise provided by any statute for the purpose of such statute.

Exemptions. The following are exempt from seizure under writs of execution: 1. The necessary and ordinary clothing of the defendant and his family. 2. The furniture, household furnishings, dairy utensils, swine and poultry belonging to the defendant and his family to the extent of $500. 3. The necessary food for the defendant's family during six months, which may include grain and flour or vegetables and meat, either prepared for use or on foot. 4. Three oxen, horses or mules, or any three of them, six cows, six sheep, three pigs and fifty domestic fowls, besides the animals the defendant may have chosen to keep for food purposes, and food for the same for the months of November, December, January, February, March, and April, or for such of these months or portions thereof as may follow the date of seizure, provided such seizure be made between the first day of August and the thirtieth day of April next ensuing. 5. The harness necessary for three animals, one wagon or two carts, one mower or cradle and scythe, one breaking plow, one cross plow, one set harrows, one-horse rake, one sewing machine, one reaper or binder, one set sleighs and one seed drill. 6. The books of a professional man. 7. The tools and necessary instruments to the extent of $200 used by the defendant in the practice of his trade or profession. 8. Seed grain sufficient to seed all his land under cultivation, not exceeding eighty acres, at the rate of two bushels per acre, defendant to have choice of seed, and fourteen bushels of potatoes. 9. The homestead of the defendant, provided that same be not more than one hundred and sixty acres; in case it be more, the surplus may be sold subject to any lien or encumbrance thereon. 10. The house and buildings occupied by the defendant, and also the lot or lots on which same are situate, according to the registered plan of the same, to the extent of $1,500.

Any article except for the food, clothing, and bedding of the defendant and his family, the price of which forms the subject matter of the judgment upon which execution issued, is not exempt.

In case of death, the exemptions may be claimed by the widow, children, executor, administrator, or other personal representative of the deceased.

Interest. Five per cent is the legal rate of interest if no other is agreed upon. Any rate not exceeding 12 per cent per annum may be contracted for on claims under $500, subject to provisions of Money Lenders Act and any rate on loans of $500 or over. Court may allow interest on debts.

Judgments. To be binding on land a writ of execution issued on the judgment must be registered in the Land Titles Office. Writs of execution issued prior to the first day of September 1914, must be renewed in Land Titles Office and shall then remain in force so long as the judgment on which it is issued remains in force. All writs issued subsequent to said date remain in force so long as judgment.

Liens, Mechanics'. Every mechanic, machinist, builder, miner, laborer, contractor, and other persons doing work upon and furnishing materials in respect to any building, erection or mine, or furnishing machinery or material in respect thereof, has a lien for the amount of such work or value of such material, machinery, etc., on said building erection or mine, etc., and the lands on which same are situate. He has thirty-five days within which to file statement of his account in the Land Titles Office and every lien in respect of which an affidavit has been filed against the title of the land shall be deemed to have lapsed after the expiration of sixty days after service upon the lien holder of a notice provided for by the Mechanics Lien Act unless before the expiration of the said sixty days the lien holder shall have taken proceedings in Court to enforce his lien and shall have filed in the Land Titles Office certificate of lis pendens.

Limitation of Actions. All actions for recovery of merchants accounts, bills, notes, and all actions of debt grounded upon any contract without specialty shall be commenced and sued within six years after the cause of such action arise, contracts under seal twenty years, judgments twelve years, except foreign judgments, for which the period of limitation is six years if the debtor appeared in or attorned to the original court, or was resident within its jurisdiction in which such foreign judgment was obtained. If he did not appear or attorn, or was not resident within the jurisdiction of such court, then such foreign judgment is really of no value, and claim in Alberta should be based upon the original cause of action, and the period of limitation will be governed accordingly.

Married Women. Real and personal estate of married women are free from husband's debts. She may convey to her husband and her husband may convey to her without the intervention of trustees. She has no dower in her husband's estate. She may carry on business separate from her husband as if she were a femme sole. Her husband is not entitled to any estate by curtesy in her real property. By the Married Women's Home Protection Act, Statutes of Alberta, 1915, it is provided that any married woman may cause to be filed on her behalf with the Registrar of the proper Land Titles Office a married woman's caveat forbidding the registration of transfer, mortgage or other instrument made by or on behalf of her husband affecting a homestead being the house and buildings occupied by such married woman as her home at the time of the filing of the caveat or which has been occupied by her as her home within six months prior to the time of the filing of such caveat. Provision is made for the withdrawal of such Married Woman's caveat and also for the husband applying to a Judge of the Supreme Court of Alberta to have the caveat removed.

Mortgages. Mortgages are executed in the form prescribed by the Land Titles Acts (Torrens' System). A mortgage does not operate as a transfer of land, but after default of payment the mortgagee can institute foreclosure proceedings which are carried on by direction of court. Mortgages must be duly registered under the provision of the Land Titles Act, and take priority in order of registration. The Mortgagor and all transferees are impliedly bound by the covenant for payment contained in the mortgage. (See Land Titles Act, Alberta.) Proceedings on mortgages are now fixed by an amendment to the Land Titles Act in 1915, such amendment being Section 63a of the said Act.

Partnership. All persons associated in partnership for trading, manufacturing, contracting or mining purposes in the Province must file in the office of the Registration Clerk of the District declaration in writing signed by the various members and giving particulars required by act. Registration must be made within six months after the commencement of the partnership.

Every person engaged in business for any of the purposes mentioned and who is not in partnership with anyone but trades under a name indicating a plurality of members shall file declaration setting out particulars.

The act provides for penalty for non-registration and also provides for the filing and publication of declaration of dissolution of partnership.

Proof of Claims. In all cases in which the party pleading relies on any misrepresentation, fraud, breach of trust, wilful default or undue influence and in all other cases in which particulars may be necessary, particulars shall be stated in the pleadings provided that if the particulars be of debt, expenses or damages and exceed three folios the fact must be so stated with reference to full particulars delivered or to be delivered. (Rules of Court, 1914.) If the claim is contested, claims may be proved by commission to take evidence abroad. If on judgment, exemplification of same is required. If the plaintiff resides out of the jurisdiction, defendant may demand security for costs which must be furnished within time fixed by court of, or action stands dismissed. The security usually ordered is a deposit of $200 or more or a bond with two resident responsible sureties in the sum of $200.

Protest. Protest must be made by a notary public or in absence of a notary then by a justice of the peace. It must be made by an instrument in writing giving a literal copy of the bill of exchange with all that is written thereon, or annexing the original, stating the presentment and the manner in which it was made, the presence, or absence of the drawee, or acceptor, as the case may be, the refusal to accept or pay, or the inability of the drawee to give a binding acceptance, and in case of refusal the reason assigned, if any, and finally protesting against all the parties to be charged.

Recording Acts. Registration of land in the Province of Alberta and registration offices are provided for by the Land Titles Act of Alberta. The registration districts are respectively North Alberta and South Alberta. Transfers, mortgages, assignments, and other instruments, to be in substance in forms given by act, which are of very simple character. It is further declared in act that no instrument till registered be effectual to pass any estate or interest in any land (except a leasehold interest for the period of three years or less), or render such land liable as security for payment of money, but when registered has full force and effect. An instrument before registry must be attested by a witness, who must make affidavit as to same. Instruments take priority according to time of registration. A certificate of title may be granted under the act, which is declared to operate as conclusive evidence that the person named in such certificate is entitled to the land included in such certificate for the estate and interest therein specified. An assurance fund is provided to compensate a party deprived of land by any fraud, error, omission or misdescription, in any certificate or title.

Redemption. (See Mortgages.)

Replevin. The plaintiff claiming that personal property was unlawfully taken and is unlawfully detained may obtain an order of replevin. Such order may be obtained from the Clerk on praecipe grounded on affidavit of the plaintiff or his agent stating description and value of the property and the right to possession and that the property was unlawfully taken or fraudulently got out of his possession within two months next before making the affidavit, etc.

Such order may also be obtained from a Judge on motion. Before the Sheriff replevies the plaintiff must give a bond to him in such sum as is prescribed by order or if no sum is prescribed in double the value of the property.

Rules of Court, 1914.

Review of Judgment. Appeal lies to the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court. Notice must be given within twenty days after formal judgment or order has been signed and entered. Leave to appeal is necessary where the amount in question on appeal is less than $200. Execution is not stayed unless specially ordered by the Judge. (See Rules of Court, 1914.)

Seizure and Sale. Every distress or seizure under any lien, attornment clause in real estate mortgage or agreement for sale, conditional sale, chattel mortgage, bill of sale, lien note, hire receipt, ware-house receipt or any other extra judicial process shall be made, levied and executed by the Sheriff, Sheriff's Bailiff or some person authorized in writing by the Sheriff, Assistant or Deputy Sheriff and by no other person whatsoever. No sale may be made without first obtaining leave of the Court.

Statute of Frauds. The fourth section of the Imperial Statute of Frauds is in force and is as follows: "That no action shall be brought whereby to charge any executor or administrator upon any special promise to answer damages out of his own estate; or whereby to charge the defendant upon any special promise to answer for the debt, default, or miscarriage of another person or to charge any person upon any agreement made in consideration of marriage, or upon any contract or sale of lands, tenements, or hereditaments, or any interest in or concerning them or upon any agreement that is not to be performed within the space of one year from the making thereof, unless the agreement upon which action shall be brought or some memorandum or note thereof shall be in writing and signed by the party to be charged therewith, or some other person thereunto by him lawfully authorized."

By the sale of goods ordinance a contract for the sale of goods of the value of $50.00 or upward shall not be enforceable by action unless the buyer shall accept part of the goods so sold and actually receive the same, or give something in earnest to bind the contract or in part payment, or unless some note or memorandum in writing of the contract be made and signed by the party to be charged, or his agent in that behalf.

No action shall be brought whereby to charge any person either by way of commission or otherwise, for services rendered in connection with the sale of any land, tenements, or hereditaments or any interest therein, unless the contract upon which recovery is sought in such action, or some note or memorandum thereof, is in writing signed by the party sought to be charged, or by his agent, thereunto lawfully authorized in writing.

Taxes. Taxes are lien on land. The local improvement act provides that where taxes are in arrears for two years land may be forfeited and redemption may be made within one year. School assessment Ordinance provides that land may be sold for two years' arrears of taxes after due notice in the Alberta Gazette and advertisement in local newspapers. Time for redemption in this case is one year.

The town Act and the Rural Municipalities Act provide for forfeiture of land for unpaid taxes and give one year within which redemption may be made.

Testimony. Witnesses are examined viva voce in open court but the judge may order that any particular fact may be proved by affidavit or that affidavit of any person may be read at the trial, or he may order that any witnesses whose attendance in court for some reason ought to be dispensed with may be examined by interrogatories or before a commissioner or examiner. Any evidence taken in one cause may by leave of the judge be read in any other cause or matter. Copies of all writs, records, pleadings, documents, etc., filed in court are, when vertified by clerk, admissible in any cause or matter to the same extent as the original would be. The provisions of the Canada Evidence Act apply to all criminal proceedings and to all civil proceedings and other matters respecting which the Parliament of Canada has jurisdiction in this behalf. The Canada Evidence Act also applied to the taking of evidence relating to proceedings in Courts out of Canada. (See Rules of Court, 1914.)

Alberta Evidence Act, 1910. Canada Evidence Act.

Trust Deeds to Secure Debentures. Provisions as to registration the same as in the case of chattel mortgages, q. v., except that renewal is effected by filing with the registrar of companies the by-laws authorizing the issue of debentures or a copy thereof certified under the hand of the president, or vice-president and the secretary and verified by an affidavit of the secretary, and a copy of the trust deed certified and verified as aforesaid.

Wills. Any wills to be valid must be in writing, or typewritten, witnessed by two competent witnesses, and signed by the testator or by some person in his presence, and by his express direction. The two witnesses shall attest and subscribe in the presence of the testator and if the witnesses are competent at the time of attesting the execution of the will, their subsequent incompetency, from whatever cause it may arise, shall not prevent the probate and allowance of the will. No subscribing witness to any will or the wife or husband of such witness can derive any benefit therefrom. Wills are admitted to probate in the court of the proper (district) upon petition being filed after lapse of seven days from death of testator.

Workmen's Compensation. Anyone engaging employees on, in or about a railway, factory, mine, quarry or engineering work or in or about any building which exceeds thirty feet in height and is either being constructed or repaired or demolished by means of scaffolding or on which machinery driven by steam, water or other mechanical power is being used for the purposes of the work is liable for personal injury by accident arising out of and in the course of the employment.

Before proceedings can be taken notice in writing of the accident must be given as soon as practicable after the happening of the accident and before the workman has voluntarily left the employment in which he was injured, and the claim for compensation must be made within six months from the occurrence of the accident or in case of death within six months from the time of death.

THE LAWS OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

Prepared by MATHESON & CARTER, Barristers, Vancouver.
(See Card in Attorneys' List.)

Acknowledgment of Deeds, Etc. (or proof by subscribing witness), for registry in British Columbia, if taken within the Province, may be before the registrar or deputy registrar of titles, a stipendiary magistrate or justice of the peace, a judge or registrar of a court having a seal, a commissioner for affidavits or a notary public. If taken or acknowledged without British dominions, may be before any British ambassador, chargè d'affaires, minister, consul, or consular agent appointed to reside in the country where the acknowledgment or proof is taken; any judge of any court of record having a seal, or any notary public practicing in such country, certified to be such by a British ambassador, chargè d'affaires, minister, consul, or consular agent, or by the governor or secretary of the State, province, or territory. The fact of the taking of such acknowledgment must appear by a certificate under the hand and official seal of the officer taking the same, endorsed upon or attached to the instrument. Such certificate must show that the person making the acknowledgment or proof (being either personally known to the officer or his identity proved by the oath or affirmation of a competent witness) has appeared before the officer (stating when) and acknowledged that he is the person mentioned in the instrument as the maker thereof, and whose name is subscribed as party thereto, that he knows the contents thereof and executed the same voluntarily, and that he is of the full age of twenty-one years. In the case of execution by a married woman, the certificate, in addition to the aforegoing must show that such married woman was first made acquainted with the contents of the instrument and the nature and effect thereof, and that she acknowledged, on examination apart from and out of the hearing of her husband, that she knows the contents and understands the nature and effect thereof; that she executed the same voluntarily, without fear or compulsion or undue influence of her husband, and that she is of full age and competent understanding and does not wish to retract the execution of such instrument. Deeds and instruments by corporations should be executed and acknowledged by the secretary; and the certificate of acknowledgment must state, in addition to such of the above matters as are applicable, that such secretary acknowledged that he is the person who subscribed his name and affixed the seal of the corporation, as the secretary, to such instrument, and that he was first duly authorized to subscribe and affix the said seal to the same and that the company is authorized to carry on business in the Province.

Actions are commenced by a writ of summons, and conducted, in the supreme court, under the judicature act and rules, and in the county courts under a system of practice closely analogous thereto. A defendant served with a supreme or county court summons in the province must enter an appearance within eight days, inclusive of the day of service. Where served out of the province (for which a judge's order must be had) the time limited for appearance is fixed by the judge, regard being had to the distance from British Columbia. Service beyond the jurisdiction may be also ordered in county court actions.

Administration of Estates of Deceased Persons. There are no separate courts of probate, but county courts have, within their respective districts, concurrent jurisdiction with the supreme court, to grant administration or otherwise act in probate matters, where the personal estate of the deceased does not exceed $2,500. In larger estates the supreme court has sole jurisdiction. Persons taking out administration must furnish security for the due performance of the trust by furnishing a bond with two sureties, in double the amount of the personal estate. Creditors rank equally upon estates of deceased persons (subject to any security they may hold), there being no priority of specialty debts over simple contract debts. Where a person dies intestate as to personal property, or having appointed an executor resident out of the province, administration may be granted to the official administrator. Claims against the estates of deceased persons should be presented to the executor or administrator, verified by affidavit or declaration made before a proper officer. (See Accounts, Affidavits.) The personal estate is primarily liable for the debts of the deceased, and must be exhausted before the real estate is available therefor. (See also Probate, Succession, Duties.)

Affidavits, Affirmations, and Declarations may be sworn or made abroad, for use in British Columbia, before a commissioner authorized to administer oaths in the supreme court of judicature in England; a judge of any of the superior courts of England, Ireland, or Scotland; a judge of any of the county courts of England or Ireland, within his county; a notary public, certified under his hand and official seal; the mayor or chief magistrate of any city, borough, or town corporate in Great Britain or Ireland, or in any British colony without Canada, or in any foreign country, certified under the common seal of such city, borough, or town corporate; a judge of any court of record or of supreme jurisdiction in any British colony or dependency without Canada, or in any foreign country; or before any British consul, vice-consul, or consular agent, exercising his functions in a foreign place. (See Evidence.)

Aliens have the same capacity as natural-born British subjects to take, hold, enjoy, recover, convey and transmit title to land and real estate of every description in British Columbia.

Arrest. In actions in the supreme or county court, the defendant may be arrested in the first instance on a writ of capias, where the claim is for debt or damages amounting to $100 or upward. Such writ issues on a judge's order, upon the plaintiff filing an affidavit showing a cause of action against the defendant to the amount of $100 or upward, or that he has sustained damages to that amount, and that there is probable cause for believing that the defendant is about to quit the Province unless forthwith apprehended.

Assignments for Benefit of Creditors. Preferential assignments are void. A deed executed by any person, conveying property to a trustee for the purpose of paying all the creditors of such person, ratably and without preference or priority, their just debts, shall be good and valid if its construction and effect accord with its expressed purpose; and after execution by the debtor shall not be set aside or defeated on any account except actual fraud. An assignment for the benefit of creditors binds all property of the debtor in the province, and takes priority over all judgments, attachments, and executions not completely satisfied by payment. Creditors must furnish particulars of their claims, proved by affidavit or declaration (See Affidavits.

Accounts), stating what securities, if any, are held for their claims, together with such vouchers as the nature of the case admits of. Wages. All persons employed by the debtor at the time of, or within one month, before, the assignment are entitled to be paid three months' wages or salary in full (if owing) in priority to claims of general creditors, and may rank on the estate for any balance as ordinary creditors. Payments (excepting wages, rent, taxes or water rates) made by the debtor within ten days before the assignment, may be recovered back by the assignee.

Attachment. (See Courts, Garnishee.)

Banks and Banking are not within the jurisdiction of the provincial legislature, but are dealt with by the Canadian federal parliament, and the law is the same for all the provinces. (See Nova Scotia, same subject.)

Bills of Exchange and Promissory Notes. The law on this subject is governed by the Canadian federal parliament, and is the same for all the provinces. (Canada Bills of Exchange act, 1890.) Bills and notes are negotiable, and the general law is almost identical with that of England, and much the same as in most of the United States of America. Three days' grace are allowed on all bills and notes, except when payable on demand.

Bills of Sale and Chattel Mortgages. Every bill of sale, whether absolute or conditional and every schedule or inventory annexed, and every attestation of the execution, together with an affidavit of the time of such bill of sale being made or given and a description of the residence and occupation of the person making or giving the same (or the person against whom process shall have issued if given under execution of process), shall be registered in the office of the county court registrar of the district wherein the goods affected are situate; where the goods are situate in the same town or place as the county court registry, the bill of sale must be registered within five days after execution; in other cases, within twenty-one days. The time for registration may be extended by a judge on good cause being shown. An affidavit of the transferee or mortgagee in the statutory form, must also be filed at the same time, stating that the instrument is given and taken bona fide, non-compliance with these requirements renders the bill of sale void as against creditors, sheriff's officers, or subsequent purchasers or mortgagees in good faith. The holder of a registered bill of sale or chattel mortgage must, within fifteen days after service of demand by a creditor, furnish such creditor with a sworn statement showing the state of accounts secured by the bill of sale or mortgage, otherwise the bill of sale or mortgage is void as against such creditor.

Bulk Sales. (See Sale of Goods in Bulk.)

Chattel (and other) Mortgages given by incorporated companies must be registered with the Registrar of Joint Stock Companies at Victoria, within twenty-one days after execution.

Companies may be incorporated by special act of the legislature, or (except railway and insurance companies) under the general "companies act, 1897," in the latter case by the execution (by not less than five persons) and filing of a memorandum of association, according to the requirements of the act. Extra-provincial companies incorporated in Great Britain and Ireland, or in any province of Canada, may be licensed to do business in British Columbia. Extra-provincial companies incorporated elsewhere than as above mentioned, before doing business in British Columbia, must be registered. Extra-provincial companies can only be licensed or registered in the province where by their charter they have authority to carry on business in British Columbia. Where this is lacking the best course is to be reincorporated in this province, the cost being the same as above stated. Extra-provincial companies registered or licensed in British Columbia have the same privileges and are subject to the same liabilities as if incorporated in the Province. Any extra-provincial company carrying on business in British Columbia without having been licensed or registered is liable to a penalty of $50 per day for the time during which business is so carried on, and is incapable of enforcing any contract relating to such business.

Mining Companies (no others), whether incorporated, licensed, or registered, may entitle themselves to issue their shares below par, as "fully paid up and non-assessable," and holders of such shares are not liable for assessments beyond the amount actually paid thereon. Companies may be wound up under the Canadian Federal Winding-up act (Revised Statutes of Canada, 1886, Ch. 129), or under the British Columbia "Companies Winding-up Act."

Deeds given by Companies. (See Acknowledgments; see also Powers of Attorney.)

Conditional Sales of Goods. Receipt notes, lien orders, or hire receipts must be filed within twenty-one days in the office of the county court registrar of the district in which the goods are situate, otherwise they are void as against subsequent purchasers or mortgagees. A copy of the receipt-rate, lien order or hire-receipt must also be left with the vendee. Goods held under a conditional sale agreement are subject to distress for rent due by the purchaser, to the extent only of the interest of such purchaser in the goods.

Contracts. (See Frauds, Statute of.)

Conveyances. (See Acknowledgments, Deeds.)

Corporations. (See Companies.)

Costs, Security for, must be given in supreme and county court actions, if demanded, where the plaintiff resides outside British Columbia, or is an extra-provincial corporation, unless the plaintiff is the owner of real estate in the province. (See Companies.) The amount is fixed by a judge in each case, but $150 is the least amount usually ordered in supreme court actions, and $25 to $50 in the county court.

Courts and Their Jurisdictions. Small debts courts (presided over by police and stipendiary magistrates) have jurisdiction within their districts, concurrently with the county courts and supreme court, in actions of debt, where the demand does not exceed $100, but have no jurisdiction in tort nor where the title to land comes in question. County courts have jurisdiction, concurrently with the supreme court, in personal actions for debt or damages, up to $1,000; in ejectment where the value of the premises does not exceed $2,500; in replevin where the goods do not exceed $1,000 in value; equitable jurisdiction (including trusts, foreclosure, specific performance, injunctions, accounts, etc.) up to $2,500; jurisdiction in probate matters where the personal estate does not exceed $2,500. In the county court, as in the supreme court, execution may issue only against goods, but the judge may order defendant's lands to be sold where judgment is over $100. (See Execution.) An appeal lies, with or without special leave according to the nature of the judgment, to the court of appeal, from any judgment or order of a county court, whether interlocutory or final. The supreme court has jurisdiction over all actions civil and criminal, arising in the province, and is vested with all the powers of the courts of common law, chancery, and probate. An appeal lies to the court of appeal from any order or judgment of a judge. An appeal lies from the judgment of the court of appeal to the supreme court of Canada, at Ottawa, and to the judicial committee of the privy council, England. (See also Actions, Arrest, Costs, Evidence, Execution, Garnishee, Judgments, Probate, Replevin.)

Deeds, Mortgages, and Registration. Deeds, mortgages, and other transfers and charges affecting lands need not necessarily be under seal, except in the case of bodies corporate, but it is advisable to so have them. They must be registered in the registry office of the district wherein the lands to be affected lie, in order to be valid and mortgages executed by incorporated companies must also be registered with the Registrar of Joint Stock Companies within twenty-one days after execution. Priority of registration creates priority of title, and purchasers, for valuable consideration, of registered real estate or registered interest therein are not affected by notice, express, or implied, of any prior unregistered title affecting the same, save only leasehold interests in possession for a term not exceeding three years. Want of consideration alone will not invalidate a registered voluntary conveyance executed in good faith. A will cannot be registered until probate thereof has been granted. The execution of instruments requiring to be registered must be first proved or acknowledged before the proper officer. (See Acknowledgments.)

Descent of Real Property. The real property of a person dying intestate descends directly to the heirs, and is only made available for creditors of the deceased by special application to the court. Undevised real estate is subject to the widow's dower. (See Dower.)

Dower. The widow of a deceased person is entitled to dower out of any land which he shall not have absolutely disposed of in his lifetime, or by will. Unless a contrary intention appears by the will a devise to the wife of any land which would ordinarily be subject to dower bars her right to dower out of all lands of the deceased. Dower is subject to any conditions or restrictions declared by the will. A bequest of personal estate does not bar dower unless a contrary intention is declared, and a legacy bequeathed to the wife in lieu of dower takes priority over other legacies. Land may be absolutely disposed of and the wife's right to dower barred by the husband, by deed, without the wife joining in the execution. Not more than six years arrears of dower may be recovered.

Execution. In the supreme or county court, where judgment is for non-payment of a sum of money or costs, or for the recovery of land, execution against goods, or for delivery of possession of the land, as the case may be, may issue forthwith. On judgments of a different nature than above specified, unless otherwise ordered, fourteen days must elapse before execution. There is no execution against lands, but where a judgment has been recovered exceeding $100, the judgment may be registered against lands of the defendant, and a judge may order the same sold by the sheriff to satisfy the judgment. Judgments registered against lands affect the lands from time of the registration of the judgment, and bind the same for two years; they may be renewed for a further period of two years, and so from time to time. (See Judgment.) An execution binds goods from the time of actual seizure thereunder.

Executors and Administrators. (See Administration, Probate, Succession Duties.)

Exemptions. The goods and chattels of any debtor, at his option, to the value of $500, are exempt from forced seizure or sale by any process of law or equity (save distress for rent or taxes). This does not extend to goods taken in satisfaction of a debt contracted for or in respect of such identical goods, nor to the stock in trade of a trader. Lands, duly registered as a homestead, are exempt to the value of $2,500. (See Homesteads, Garnishee.)

Frauds, Statute of. Leases, or estates in land, not in writing and signed by the party creating the same, have the force of estates at will only, except leases not exceeding three years. The following must also be in writing: Promise by an executor or administrator to answer damages out of his own estate; promise to answer for the debt, default or miscarriage of another person; agreement made upon consideration of marriage or upon any contract or sale of lands or of any interest therein; agreement which is not to be performed within one year; declaration or assignment of trust; acknowledgment of debt, to bar the operation of the statute of limitations (except where such acknowledgment takes the form of a payment on account of principal or interest); ratification or promise made after full age to pay a debt contracted during infancy; representation or assurance concerning the character, credit, ability, etc. of another person, in order that such person may obtain credit. No contract for the sale of goods valued at $50 or upwards is binding, unless the buyer accept and actually receive part of the goods sold, or give something in earnest to bind the bargain or in part payment, sign a memorandum of the sale.

Garnishee. In all courts of the province, debts owing to the judgment debtor may be attached by the judgment creditor, upon an ex parte application supported by affidavit showing that judgment has been recovered and is still unsatisfied, and to what amount, or that an action is pending, verifying the debt, and stating that any other person is indebted to the judgment debtor, and is within the jurisdiction of the court. Debts due to defendant may be thus attached before judgment, as well as after. In small debts courts, wages due defendant are exempt from garnishee up to $40, where defendant is married or the mainstay of others, and $20 in other cases, except where the plaintiff's claim is for board or lodging. In the county court a similar exemption may be allowed by the judge, not exceeding $40.

Homesteads. Lands may be registered as a homestead, up to the value of $2,500, upon the owner filing in the registry office a notice thereof and a declaration disclosing assets equal to that amount, or to the value of the homestead, where it is worth less than $2,500.

Insolvency. There is, at present, no general insolvency or bankruptcy law in force in the provinces of Canada. (See Assignments.)

Interest. The legal rate of interest is 5 per cent, where no other rate is stipulated, but any rate may be agreed upon between the parties there being no usury law at present in force in Canada; banks, however, cannot lawfully recover more than 7 per cent on loans and money lenders are prohibited from charging more than twelve per cent on loans of less than $500. Unpaid bills of exchange and promissory notes bear interest at 5 per cent from maturity, whether so expressed or not.

Judgments of the supreme and county courts are valid for twenty years. They bind lands and interests therein of every description for two years from the time of registry thereof in the land registry office of the district wherein the lands lie, and affect lands acquired by the judgment debtor after, as well as before, registration of the judgment. Judgments must be registered before lands can be sold thereunder. (See Execution.) Registration may be renewed from time to time for a further period of two years. Foreign Judgments: Judgments recovered in any court outside of British Columbia are foreign judgments, and this includes judgments of courts of the other provinces of Canada. A final judgment of a foreign court having jurisdiction over the parties and subject matter of the suit is conclusive between the parties, on the merits; and in an action brought in British Columbia upon such a judgment no defence can be given which might have been given in the original action, if the defendant was served with or had notice of the process in such original action, and an opportunity to answer it. Suit can be brought in British Columbia upon a foreign judgment within the time limited for actions upon judgments by the laws of such country.

Leases must be in writing, and signed by the lessor, except leases for terms not exceeding three years. They need not be under seal, except in the case of incorporated companies, but it is advisable to so have them, as consideration is then presumed. Leases for three years or more should be registered, and must be first proved or acknowledged. (See Acknowledgments, Land Registry.)

amount of $20 or upwards, to be done upon any building, wharf, bridge, mine or other work, and any person furnishing materials to be used in the construction or alteration of such building, etc., has a lien thereon and on machinery and fixtures therein, and on the materials furnished therefor, and the lands and premises occupied thereby, for the price of such work or materials. The lien must be registered within thirty-one days after the work is completed, or the claimant has ceased to work thereon (except in the case of miners, who are allowed sixty days), and an action in the county court to enforce the same must be begun and a lis pendens filed, within thirty-one days after registration of the lien. Persons claiming liens for materials must give notice of their claim before delivery or within ten days after delivery.

Liens of Woodmen. Any person performing labor or services in connection with any logs or timber in the Province, has a lien thereon, and on the lumber manufactured therefrom, for the amount due him, taking precedence over all charges except government tolls thereon. The lien must be filed within thirty days after the last day of such labor or services, and proceedings to enforce the same taken in the supreme or county court (according to their respective jurisdictions) within thirty days after filing the lien.

Limitations of Actions. Actions upon simple contracts notes, bills, accounts, libel, trespass to lands, detinue, replevin, and for seamen's wages, must be brought within six years; for assault, battery, wounding, or false imprisonment, within four years; and for slander and penalties fixed by statute, within two years from the time the cause of action respectively arose. Actions upon judgments, bonds, mortgages, or instruments under seal, or to recover lands must be brought within twenty years. Where the plaintiff is under any disability, such as infancy, coverture or lunacy, or the defendant is beyond seas, the limitation does not begin to run until the removal of the disability. Acknowledgments to bar the statute of limitations must be in writing. Foreign Limitations. An action cannot be maintained in British Columbia, on a cause of action arising beyond the Province, where it is barred by any statute of limitations of the country in which it arose.

Married Women, Property and Status of. A married woman may acquire, hold, and dispose, by will or otherwise, of any property, real or personal, as her separate property, in the same manner as if she were a femme sole, independently of her husband, and without the intervention of a trustee. She may contract in respect to her separate property, and sue and be sued without joining her husband, either in contract, tort, or otherwise; any damages or costs recovered by her are her separate property and if recovered against her are payable out of her separate property. Husband and wife may sue each other, except in tort, and give evidence against each other.

Mining Laws. Mineral Quartz Mines. Every person or corporation, before engaging in prospecting or mining for any minerals or ore, other than coal, must take out a free miner's certificate, and the same must be constantly kept in force thereafter or all rights (short of a Crown grant) will be forfeited. Certificates may be taken out by individuals for one or more years, on payment of the fee therefor, but certificates of joint stock companies can only be taken out or renewed for one year at a time. All certificates expire May 31st in each year The foundation of the right of a free miner to enter and mine is the fact that the right to the minerals does not ordinarily pass by the grant, but is reserved to the crown and its licenses; and such right to minerals found in lands of other persons exists only where they have been so reserved. A full size mineral quartz claim is 1,500 by 1,500 feet, but fractional claims may be located. All transfers of mining property or interests must be in writing and duly recorded. Mining partnerships may locate a claim for each partner, and each partner must hold a free miner's certificate. Placer mining claims are 100 feet long, varying in breadth according to whether "creek," "bar," "bench," "dry," or "hill" claims. The statutory requirements as to location and record must be strictly observed. Coal Mining. A license may be obtained for one year (renewable for further terms of one year as long as prospecting is actually carried on) to prospect for coal or petroleum over a tract of land not exceeding 640 acres, after performance of the statutory requirements as to location posts, publication of notice, etc., a fee of $100 per year. If coal is discovered the licensee may obtain a lease for five years. At the expiration of the term, if mining has been continuously carried on, a Crown grant of the lands may be obtained at $5 per acre. All coal raised, whether under lease or grant, is subject to a royalty to the crown of 5 cents per ton, petroleum 1 cent per barrel. Mines are subject to government inspection and regulation.

Partnerships are either general or limited, the latter consisting o one or more general partners associated with one or more special or silent partners, who contribute to the firm capital. General partners are each liable for all the partnership debts; special partners are not liable beyond the amount contributed by them to the capital, but are not allowed to transact business and sign for the partnership, or bind the same in any way, though they may examine the state and progress of the partnership concerns and advise as to the management. Special partners interfering further than this thereby become general partners, and are liable accordingly. Persons forming limited partnerships for trading, mining, or manufacturing business, within the Province, must register a certificate and publish notice thereof, and any renewal, change in members or objects, or dissolution must be similarly registered and published, otherwise the partnership is treated as a general one. General partnerships must also be registered and a certificate filed on their formation, dissolution, or any change in firm name or membership, or removal of any member from the province, otherwise a penalty is recoverable against the parties.

Probate. (See Administration, Courts, Deceased Persons, Descent, Succession, Duties, Wills.)

Promissory Notes. (See Bills of Exchange.)

Redemption. Mortgaged property may be redeemed up to time of actual sale, under power of sale or decree of court, upon payment of all arrears of principal and interest, together with costs of proceedings. Lands, sold for taxes may be redeemed within one year, if within incorporated municipalities, and two years in unincorporated communities, upon payment of arrears, interest, and costs.

Replevin. When goods, chattels, papers, or any other personal effects have been unlawfully distrained, taken or retained, the person complaining thereof may bring an action of replevin to determine the rights, and have the property restored to him under a writ of replevin, pending the result of the action. Before obtaining the writ, or a return of the property thereunder, he must furnish a bond to the sheriff, in double the value of the property, conditioned to prosecute the action with the effect and without delay, and to return the property, if so adjudged. The sheriff then replevies or seizes the property, and restores it to the complainant, pending the result of the action, which is carried on in the same manner as other actions.

Sale of Goods in Bulk. Purchasers of stocks-in-trade of goods in bulk must, before making any payment or giving any promissory note, etc., on account, obtain from the vendor an affidavit showing the names and addresses of the vendor's creditors in respect of the goods, with amounts of their claims, or else a written waiver of such requirement, signed by the creditors; otherwise the sale is void as against such creditors.

Succession Duties on Estates of Deceased Persons are not charged on estates of less net value (after payment of all debts) than $5,000, nor on estates of less value than $25,000, where the property passes to the father, mother, husband, wife, child, grandchild, daughter in-law, or son-in-law of the deceased. Save, as above mentioned, duty is charged ranging from 1 per cent to 10 per cent, depending on the value of the estate and the degree of relationship of the inheritors.

Taxes are levied by the provincial government, and also by the various cities, towns, and district municipalities within their respective limits.

Provincial. An annual poll-tax of $3 is levied on male persons over eighteen years of age. All lands, improvements on lands, personal property and income in the province (except land and improvements in municipalities, which are taxed by the municipality) are subject to provincial taxation, with certain exemptions.

Municipal Taxes. Cities and other municipalities levy taxes on land and improvements thereon, and by way of business licenses and road tax. Land is assessed at its actual cash value and improvements at 50 per cent of the value, but municipalities may exempt improvements in whole or in part, and, in Vancouver, they have been wholly exempt from taxation for several years. Municipal taxes on land and improvements are subject to a rebats of 1–6, if paid before December 1st. Commercial travelers for firms not having a permanent place of business in the municipality and selling goods at retail are subject to a business license tax in municipalities, the amount of which is fixed by the respective municipalities, but may not exceed $50 for six months. Real estate sold for taxes may be redeemed within one year in municipalities, and two years elsewhere, on payment of the amount paid therefor by the purchaser at such sale, with interest. Taxes constitute a lien on property, prior to all other liens, save that of the Crown (if any).

Transfer of Corporation Stock must be effected in the manner fixed by the by-laws of the corporation.

Wages. (See Assignments, Executions, Infants, Liens.)

Wills must be in writing, and signed at the foot by the testator, or by some other person in his presence and by his direction; and such signature must be made and acknowledged by the testator in the presence of two or more witnesses, present at the same time, who shall attest and subscribe in the presence of the testator. No form of attestion is necessary. Any property or interest in property may be disposed of by will, and a will speaks from the time of the testator's death, not from its execution. Infants cannot make a valid will. A gift to an attesting witness is void, but does not otherwise affect the will, or the competency of such witness to prove the execution. An executor may be a witness. A will is revoked: By marriage (except where made in exercise of a power of appointment; by a subsequent will or codicil, or some writing declaring an intention to revoke the same, and executed in the manner required for a will, or by the destruction of the will. Where real estate is devised without any words of limitation, such devise will pass the fee simple or other the whole estate of the testator therein, unless a contrary intention appear. Gifts to children or other issue, who have died leaving issue at the testator's death, do not lapse, but descend to such issue. A will must be duly proved in a court having jurisdiction in probate before it can be registered.

THE LAWS OF MANITOBA

Prepared and Revised by Messrs. RICHARDS, SWEATMAN, KEMP & FILLMORE, Barristers, Winnipeg. (See Card in Attorneys' List.)

Acknowledgments. (See Deeds.)

Actions. In the county court a defendant served within the Province with a writ for a liquidated claim or debt must within ten days from service upon him file a dispute note, otherwise judgment by default may be signed against him and execution may be issued against his goods six days after judgment. In the king's bench the defendant has sixteen days to file his defense if served within the Province, four weeks if served in any other Province or in the United States, eight weeks if within the United Kingdom or Newfoundland, and twelve weeks if within any other country, otherwise judgment may be signed and execution issued immediately, provided the plaintiff's claim is a liquidated one. If the defendant enters a defense to such a claim, a plaintiff may apply for leave to sign final judgment after filing an affidavit made by himself or any other person who can swear positively to the cause of action, and stating that in his belief there is no defense to the action. Every debt or chose-in-action rising out of a contract is assignable at law by any form of writing.

Administration of Estates. (See Probate.)

Affidavits. For use in provincial courts affidavits and declarations may be made in the province before any notary public or commissioner for taking affidavits for use in any of the courts or before any judge, clerk of any county court, registrar, district registrar or his deputy. A statutory declaration may be made attesting the writing of any instrument or the truth of any fact or account if made in Canada, otherwise an affidavit must be used. Affidavits, declarations, etc., made out of Manitoba for use here may be made before: 1. Any commissioner for oaths appointed by the Lord Chancellor under Sec. 1 of "The commissioners for Oaths Act. 1889," or any amendment thereto. 2. Any notary public certified under his official seal. 3. The mayor or chief magistrate of any city, borough, or town corporate in Great Britain or Ireland, or in any of His Majesty's dominions within Canada, or in any foreign country certified under the corporate seal. 4. A judge of any court or superior jurisdiction in His Majesty's dominions without Manitoba with the seal of the court affixed. 5. A consular agent of His Majesty exercising his functions in any foreign place. 6. Any commissioner for taking affidavits for use in this Province.

Aliens. Real and personal property of every description may be taken, acquired, held and disposed of as if a natural born British subject, and title to real and personal property may be derived from or in succession to an alien.

Arrest. No one can lawfully be arrested or held to bail for debt or non-payment of money.

Assignment and Insolvency. There is no bankruptcy or insolvency law in force in this Province; but debtors may make assignments under the assignment act in trust for the general benefit of their creditors. Such assignments take precedence of all attachments, judgments, registered certificates of judgment, and of all executions not completely executed by payment, subject to the lien, if any, of execution creditors for their costs. Notice of an assignment must be published in the Manitoba Gazette and at east twice in a local newspaper. The assignee must, within five days from the date of assignment, convene a meeting of all creditors, as shown by reference to the debtor's books, for the appointment of inspectors and the giving of directions with reference to the disposal of the estate. He must also call a meeting to be held within twelve days after receiving a request for the same from a majority of the creditors. The creditors' claim must be proven by affidavit within a limited time. All questions discussed at meetings of creditors are decided by the majority of votes and for such purpose the votes of creditors shall be calculated as follows: Every claim of over $100 and under $200, one vote; every claim of over $200 and under $500, two votes; every claim of over $500 and under $1,000, three votes; for every additional $1,000 or fraction thereof, one vote. At any meeting the creditors may vote in person or by proxy authorized in writing. Workmen's wages, not exceeding three month's salary, are to be paid in priority to claims of ordinary creditors. The assignee is to pay a dividend within six months of the date of the assignment and thereafter every six months until the estate is wound up. Inspectors may require assignee to pay dividends more frequently. Each creditor is entitled to a copy of dividend sheet as soon as same is prepared. The accounts of the assignee are, at all times, to be accessible to creditors.

Attachments. An order for attachment may be obtained in an action commenced by statement of claim, against any benefit, estate or interest in any real or personal property not exempt from seizure under execution or from liability to answer a judgment upon such cause of action in the following cases: 1. When any debtor or other person, being an inhabitant of Manitoba, shall depart therefrom with intent to defraud his creditors or to avoid arrest or service of process, or shall conceal himself therein with like intent. 2. When such debtor or other person, not being a resident of the Province, shall be indebted or liable to a resident of the Province upon contract or for damages. 3. When said debtor or other person, whether resident or non-resident, is about to remove any of his property out of the said Province, or has assigned or secreted any of his property therein with intent to defeat, delay or defraud creditors. No bonds are required to be given by plaintiff. Remedy by garnishee process given by statute to creditors or persons having a cause of action against another, may be had at the commencement of or at any time during the pendency of suit, or after judgment. A judgment requiring a person to do or abstain from doing anything except the payment of money may be enforced by mandamus.

Collaterals. There are no statutory provisions on this subject in Manitoba.

Contracts. All persons are capable of contracting except minors, persons of unsound mind, and persons deprived of civil rights. Minors are persons under the age of 21 years. All contracts may be oral, except such as are required by statute to be in writing, namely: 1. Any agreement whereby to charge an executor or administrator upon a special promise to answer damages out of his own estate. 2. Any promise to answer for the debt, default, or miscarriage of another. 3. Any agreement made upon the consideration of marriage. 4. Any agreement for the sale of real estate or any interest in or concerning it. 5. Any agreement not to be performed within a year. This does not apply to leases for less than three years in pursuance of which the leased premises have been or shall be actually accepted by the lessee or any person claiming under him during any part of such term. No agreement for the sale of personal property of the value of $50 or upward shall be good unless the buyer shall receive part of the property sold or give something to bind the bargain or in part payment or unless some memorandum in writing of such agreement is signed by the parties to be charged or their agent. Wagering contracts and claims for intoxicating liquors sold over a bar and consumed on the premises are void. All fraudulent conveyances of lands or personal property made with the intent to defeat, delay, or hinder creditors in the recovery of their claims are void as against such creditors, if attacked within sixty days, or if assignment is made for the benefit of creditors within sixty days, are presumed prima facie to have been made with fraudulent intent, notwithstanding pressure.

Corporations are created by act of parliament or under the general acts relating to the incorporation of joint stock companies by letters patent, or under the "Manitoba Joint Stock Companies Act." Shareholders are limited in liability to the amount of their shares subscribed, and when paid in full they are discharged from any further liability. On application of one-fifth in value of the shareholders a judge may appoint an inspector to investigate the affairs and management of the company and to report to the judge thereon. Insolvent companies are wound up and assets distributed under the provisions of the Winding-Up Act, by the court of king's bench. In the case of incorporated banks, shareholders are liable for double the amount of the stock. Foreign corporations are required to register and obtain licenses from the provincial government, when they shall have the same powers and privileges in Manitoba as if incorporated for the purposes mentioned in their acts or charters so far as they are within the jurisdiction and control of the legislature of Manitoba, and may then hold lands. Corporations doing business in the Province have to pay a tax as provided in the corporations taxaction act, and must have an agent within the Province authorized under power of attorney to act in all legal proceedings on behalf of the corporation.

Courts. The court of king's bench is the supreme court of Manitoba, and has an original jurisdiction both at law and in equity. A court of appeal has recently been constituted to dispose of appeals from the court of king's bench and other courts in the Province. Its judges are ex-officio judges of the court of king's bench. There are four terms a year for the hearing of appeals from a single judge. County courts have jurisdiction up to $500.00 in contract and $500.00 in tort, except claims in the nature of seduction, breach of promise of marriage, and a few others which are confined exclusively to the king's bench. An appeal lies from the county court fo a single judge of the court of appeal, when the amount in dispute is not less than $20 and not more than $50; and to the full court of appeal when the amount in question exceeds the sum of $50.

Deeds. Deeds of land, or of any interest in land, in this Province may be executed in the presence of a single witness. For the purpose of registration, an affidavit must be made by the witness of the due execution by the grantor, which affidavit, if made within the Province, may be made before any commissioner for taking affidavits in the king's bench, the registrar or deputy registrar of the district in which the lands lie, a judge of any of the superior or county courts, or any justice of the peace; if made in any other province of the Dominion it may be made before a judge or prothonotary of any of the superior courts of law or equity, or any notary public certified under his official seal; if made in any state of the union, it may be made before the mayor of any city or corporate town and certified under the common seal of such city or town corporate, any consul, or vice-consul of his majesty resident therein, or a judge of a court of record or a notary public, certified under his official seal. No witness or affidavit is necessary in cases of execution by a body corporate, provided the corporate seal is affixed to the instrument and same signed by two of the principal officers. No acknowledgment is necessary if the due execution of the instrument is proven as above. It is not necessary for a wife to join in a conveyance by the husband of lands held in his own name, as dower does not attach during the life-time of the husband. The Torrens System of land transfers has been introduced in the Province, but registration under the act is optional with the owners. When once brought under the operation of the act, however, all subsequent transfers or conveyances must be in the manner laid down and according to the forms prescribed by the statute. The Registrar General has established a rule that no typewritten documents are to be received in any Land Titles Office in Manitoba. In very unusual cases he will give his fiat allowing the registration of such an instrument.

Depositions. The court or a judge may at any time order a commission to issue for the examination of witnesses (under oath) who are outside the jurisdiction of the court, by interrogatories or otherwise. In case of a commission from a competent foreign court to take evidence, or examination in discovery of persons resident in Manitoba, for use in suits outside the Province for the court of king's bench may order the attendance of witnesses, production of documents, and give directions in accordance with the tenor of commission.

Distribution of Intestate's Property. If an intestate die leaving a widow and child, or children, one-third of his real and personal estate goes to his widow, and two-thirds to his child or children in equal shares and in case of decease of his children to such as lawfully represent them. There is no distinction between males and females, or between children of half-blood or whole-blood, and posthumous children share equally with children born during the lifetime of the intestate. If no issue, the whole estate, real and personal, goes to the widow. If issue and no widow, the whole to the issue. If no widow or issue, to his father; if no widow, issue, or father to his mother, brothers and sisters, in equal shares; if no widow, issue, father, brothers, or sisters to his mother; if no widow, issue, father or mother, to his brothers and sisters in equal shares; or if any of his brothers or sisters be dead their children take the parent's share; all these failing to his next of kin, but in no case are representatives admitted among collaterals after brothers' or sisters' children. The separate property of a married woman dying intestate is to be distributed in the same manner as the property of a husband dying intestate. Real estate vests in the personal representatives since July 1, 1885, in the same manner as personal estate.

Executions issue from the king's bench in all cases as of course against the goods of the judgment debtor at any time within six years from the date of recovery of judgment, and bind the goods from the date of receipt by sheriff as against the debtor or purchaser with notice or from date of seizure as against purchaser for value without notice, and must be renewed every two years. Lands are bound by the registration of a certificate of judgment in the registration division where the lands are situated, which must be renewed every two years. Executions from the county court remain in force for twelve months, and bind goods only, but may be renewed and may be exchanged for a king's bench execution after being returned as uncollectable by the county court bailiff. All executions in the hands of the sheriff at the date of seizure, or which are received by him within three months after such seizure, share ratably in the distribution of the amount realized. All shares and dividends of stockholders in any incorporated bank or other company in Manitoba having transferable joint stock and the interest of a mortgagee in any property mortgaged to him may be attached, seized and sold.

Exemptions. The following personal and real property are free from seizure under any writ of execution issued by any court in the Province: 1. Beds and bedding in the common use of the judgment debtor and his family, and also household furniture and effects not exceeding in value $500. 2. The necessary and ordinary clothing of debtor and his family. 3. Twelve volumes of books, books of a professional man, one axe, one saw, one gun, six traps. 4. The necessary food, if in possession of the debtor at the time of seizure, for himself and family for eleven months. 5. Three horses, mules, or oxen, six cows, ten sheep, ten pigs, fifty fowls, and feed for the same during eleven months. The exemption as to horses over the age of four years shall apply only in case they are used by the judgment debtor in earning his living. 6. The tools, agricultural implements, and necessaries used by debtor in practice of his trade, profession, or occupation to the value of $500. 7. The articles and furniture necessary to performance of religious services. 8. The land upon which debtor and his family actually reside, or which he cultivates or uses, provided the same does not exceed 160 acres, if outside the limits of any city or town. 9. The houses, stables, barns, and fences on debtor's farm, subject as aforesaid. 10. All necessary seeds or roots for the cultivation of eighty acres. 11. The actual residence of any person, other than a farmer, in any city or town, provided the same does not exceed in value $1,500; if it exceed the above value, before it can be sold, the said amount must be paid or secured to the debtor. The above exemptions only apply to debts contracted since May 2, 1885. All debts due or accruing due prior to that date are governed by the exemption act in force at the time such debts were contracted, and which was not as liberal to the debtor as the present law. Any agreement by debtor to abandon or waive exemption is null and void. Partnership firm can claim only one exemption. Remedy against real property is now more generally by registered judgments, under which no proceedings may be taken against 8, 9, 11, so long as the land is affected by the conditions recited.

Garnishment. All debts, obligations, and liabilities due, owing, or accruing due to a debtor may be attached to answer the claim of his creditor. Debts may be garnished both before and after judgment. In the court of king's bench a garnishing order can not be obtained until an action has been commenced; in the county court the garnishee proceedings and the action may be commenced together. Any debts due to a mechanic, laborer, servant, clerk or employee for wages or salary shall be exempt to the extent of $25 per month, or if less than one month be due, at the rate of $25 a month. Garnishee must reside within this Province.

Interest. The legal rate is 5 per cent. Parties may contract for any rate, except banks, which are prohibited from charging more than 12 per cent. Money lenders cannot contract for a higher rate of interest than 12 per cent. Interest is computed on judgments from date of entry at 5 per cent per annum. Rests not allowed unless there is a contract in writing. Accounts bear interest at legal rate from date of demand of interest or notice that it will be charged.

Judgments remain in force ten years. Suit can be brought upon foreign judgment, but defendants can set up any defense which could have been set up in the foreign court to the original cause of action, even though he was personally served with process of the foreign court and appeared and pleaded thereto. No action or suit can be brought upon a judgment recovered upon a judgment. (See Executions.)

Liens. Parties erecting or repairing building or furnishing material for building have a lien on such land and building to the value of their work, provided a statement of the claim, verified by affidavit, is filed in local registry office within thirty days of completion or of furnishing of material. Proceedings must be taken in the county court up to $500 or in king's bench over this amount to enforce lien within ninety days from completion of work, otherwise lien lapses. Proceedings are governed by the mechanics' and wage earners' liens act, which is practically the same as in Ontario.

Limitation of Suits on contract, not under seal, written or parol, within six years after cause of action accrued. Upon specialties, within twenty years after cause of action accrued. If party entitled to sue is under disability or beyond seas, then within six or twenty years from date of removal of disability, as the case may be. Recovery of real estate, ten years. Case taken out of statute, by part payment or acknowledgment in writing.

Married Women since 14th day of May, 1875, retain all property owned by them at date of marriage, or subsequently acquired for their own separate use, free from the debts or control of husband, but such property is liable for their own separate debts and contracts, and may be sold to satisfy same. In every respect, wife is considered separate from her husband; she may carry on business in her own name, and deal with her property, and sue and be sued in the same manner as if she were unmarried. Her property is not liable for any of the ordinary or necessary expenses of the family, unless specially charged by her. A man may convey land to his wife, and vice versa, without the intervention of a trustee.

Mortgages are executed in the same manner as deeds and are governed by same laws as to registration in the local registry offices, and as to priorities. Tacking prohibited by statute. Foreclosure or sale proceedings taken in the king's bench: there is no redemption after final order for foreclosure or sale. Chattel mortgages and bills of sale must be filed within twenty days from the date thereof, with the clerk of the county court of the judicial division within which the goods are situate, before they have any effect as against execution creditors, or purchasers for value without notice, or subsequent chattel mortgages. They require to be renewed within thirty days before the expiration of two years from the date of filing, by filing a statement verified by the affidavit of the mortgagee or his agent, showing the amount due upon the mortgage and exhibiting his interest therein; unless so renewed, they are absolutely void as against the creditors of the mortgagor. Chattel mortgages, etc., on rolling stock, etc., of railroads are registered only in office of provincial secretary.

Notes and Bills of Exchange. Bills of exchange, promissory notes, and checks are the ordinary forms of commercial paper used in this Province. It is not necessary that notes or bills of exchange be made payable at a bank or other particular place within the Province. Three days of grace are always allowed except when payable on demand. In case a bill or note falls due on a bank holiday (i. e., Sunday, New Year's Day, Christmas Day, Good Friday, Easter Monday, Arbor Day, 24th May, 1st July, Labor Day, the King's birthday, and Thanksgiving Day) it must be presented on the following day; when properly presented and protested, and notice given, the indorsers are liable; otherwise they are relieved. The production of the protest in any court within the Province proves presentment and notice of dishonor without further evidence. No stamp duty is now required on commercial paper within the Dominion of Canada.

Probate Law. The Province has four surrogate courts: of the eastern judicial district, of the central judicial district, of the western judicial district, and of southern Manitoba. The seats of the courts are Winnipeg, Portage la Prairie, Brandon, and Morden, respectively. Grants of probate made in any other province in Canada, the United Kingdom or any British province may be re-sealed in this Province by producing the grant of probate or administration, or exemplification thereof, purporting to be under the seal of the court by which the same has been granted, and the necessary affidavits. If probate or administration has been granted in any other country than Canada, the United Kingdom or a British province, ancillary probate or administration must be taken out. Ancillary probate or administration may be obtained by producing the foreign probate or administration or exemplification thereof (a certified or notarial copy is not sufficient), purporting to be under the seal of the court by which the same has been granted, and the necessary affidavits. Executors are not required to give security, but an administrator must furnish, usually, two securities, each in double the value of the estate. Where an applicant can not find sureties he may apply to have the official administrator or a trust company, such as National Trust Company, Limited, appointed.

Sale of Merchandise in Bulk. The Bulk Sales Act, Chapter 23 Revised Statutes of Manitoba, 1913 prohibits the sale of goods, wares or merchandise in bulk for cash or on credit unless 60 per cent in number and in amount of the creditors of the vendor consent to the same in writing. Any sale made without such consent is under this Act fraudulent and void against the creditors of the vendor.

There is, however, a provision that in the event of the written consent not being obtained, the purchaser can pay the money over the Official Assignee or to a Trust Company for distribution pro rata amongst the creditors of the vendor. The Act applies to sales by traders and merchants, but these classes are given a very wide interpretation by the Act and include commission merchants and manufacturers.

Suits. (See Actions, Courts.) There are two superior courts, the court of appeal and the court of king's bench, which have all the powers possessed by the various courts of law and equity at Westminster, together with the probate and divorce, admiralty and ecclesiastical courts of England, as they stood on the 15th day of July, 1870, including power to grant injunctions. All suits must be commenced by statement of claim entitled in and under the seal of the court from which issued, and such statement must be served on defendants within six months from date. Provision is made for substitutional service of process by publication or otherwise.

Taxes. Lands may be sold for taxes, when in arrears for two years, or upward, by the treasurer of the municipality within which the lands lie, and may be redeemed at any time within two years from date of sales upon payment of the sum paid by purchaser, with 10 per cent interest if redeemed within one year, or 20 per cent interest if redeemed within two years from date of sale. If not so redeemed purchaser may within one year from the expiry of the said two years apply to the land titles office for absolute title, but owner has a further six months from date of service of notice of such application upon him to redeem through the district registrar.

Trust Companies. These may do business in Manitoba subject to certain restrictions and supervision by the government. They are much favored on that account where the courts desire to safeguard the interests of estates, and recourse is now generally had to them in all cases where their services can be availed of. Companies now doing business as such in Manitoba are the National, the Royal, the Toronto General, the Standard, the Northern.

Wills. Every person over the age of 21 years, of sound mind, may dispose of his real and personal estate by will. Subsequent marriage operates as a revocation. A married woman may dispose of her separate estate by will without the consent of her husband, and may alter or revoke the same in like manner as if she were a femme sole. Her will must be executed in like manner as other wills. Every will must be in writing, and every will other than a holograph will must be executed and attested as follows: 1. It must be subscribed at the end thereof by the testator or by some person in his presence and by his direction. 2. The subscription must be made or acknowledged by the testator in the presence of two attesting witnesses present at the same time. 3. The said witnesses shall attest and subscribe the will in the presence of the testator, but no form of attestation shall be necessary. A holograph will wholly written and signed by the testator himself is valid in this Province. Such a will is subject to no particular form and requires no attesting witness or witnesses. Any soldier being in actual military service or any mariner or seaman, being at sea, may dispose of his personal estate by parol, according to the common law. Bequests to a witness or the wife or husband of a witness are absolutely null and void, although such person is competent to prove the will.

THE LAWS OF NEW BRUNSWICK

Revised by M. & J. Teed, Barristers, St. John, N. B.
(See Card in Attorneys' List.)

Absconding Debtors. If any person severally, or persons jointly indebted in the sum of $50.00 depart from or keep concealed within the Province, with the intent to defraud creditors, a creditor may make affidavit of the departure or concealment, which must be verified by affidavit of two witnesses, of whom the creditor may be one, stating reason for their belief of such departure or concealment.

The Judge may thereon issue a warrant to one or more sheriffs directing them to seize all the estate, real and personal of such party. Such warrant shall have priority over all other processes not actually executed. If the debtor does not return within 60 days and satisfy his creditors, a meeting of the creditors is called, and the property may be sold and distributed to the creditors, who prove their claim by affidavit.

Acknowledgments. Before the registry of any deed, conveyance, mortgage, certificate of discharge of mortgage, assurance, lease, or power of attorney, or other instrument affecting any interest in or title to land, the execution of the same shall either be acknowledged by the person executing the same or be proved by the oath of a subscribing witness. If such acknowledgment is to be taken or made out of the Province, it may be taken or made before. Any notary public certified under his hand and official seal; the mayor or chief magistrate of any city, borough, municipality or town corporate, certified under the common or corporate seal of such city, borough, municipality or town corporate, or the seal of such mayor or chief magistrate; any judge of the high court of Great Britain or Ireland; any judge or lord of session in Scotland; any judge of a court of supreme jurisdiction in any British colony or dependency; any British minister, ambassador, consul, vice-consul, acting-consul, pro-consul or consular agent of His Majesty, exercising functions in any foreign place; the governor of any state; the handwriting and certificate of any such judge or lord of session being authenticated under the seal of a notary public, and the taking of any such acknowledgment before such minister, ambassador, consul, vice-consul, acting-consul, pro-consul, consular agent or governor being certified respectively under his hand and seal of office. If the proof of the execution of such instrument be taken out of the Province the same shall be taken before any commissioner for taking affidavits and administering oaths under chapter 36 of the consolidated statutes; any notary public, certified under his hand and official seal; the mayor or chief magistrate of any city, borough, municipality, or town corporate, under the seal of such mayor or chief magistrate; any judge of the high court of justice of Great Britain or Ireland; any judge or lord of session in Scotland; any judge of a court of supreme jurisdiction in any British colony or dependency; the handwriting of any such judge or lord of session being authenticated under the seal of a notary public; any British minister, ambassador, consul, vice-consul, acting-consul, pro-consul, or consular agent of His Majesty exercising his functions in any foreign place; the governor of the state; such proof being certified under the hand and seal of office of such minister, and ambassador, consul, vice-consul, acting-consul, pro-consul, consular agent, or governor.

Administration of Estates. In case of any deceased person being at the time of his death an inhabitant of any county in the Province or not being an inhabitant of the Province leaving assets in any county thereof, the judge of probates of such county may take probate or grant administration and shall in either case have exclusive jurisdiction over all the estate of such deceased person in the Province. Letters testamentary or of administration are granted on application to the judge by petition of the party entitled by law or one or more of the creditors of the deceased. Probate or administration will not be granted (except it be made to appear that the estate is being wasted, or for other good reason) until after the lapse of ten days after the death of deceased. Caveats must declare the interest of the caveator and give his address, or the address of his attorney. Before administration is granted a bond is taken from the applicants with two sureties to the satisfaction of the judge, the penalty of the bond being double the value of the personal estate. An administrator may, instead of obtaining two sureties, give bond of a guarantee company licensed to do business in the Province. Unless further time is allowed by the judge it is necessary to file an inventory of the estate within one month, and an account of the administration must be rendered within eighteen months. Where the witnesses to a will reside out of the Province a commission may be had to take their testimony. If the personal estate is insufficient to pay the debts of the deceased the executor may within ten years from his appointment, or a creditor after one year and before expiration of the ten years obtain a license or order from the judge for the sale of the real estate or any part thereof. Where an infant's estate does not exceed $5,000, the judge of the probate may appoint a guardian for the person and estate of the infant. Claims against an estate for debts due by the deceased must be certified by affidavit, and filed with the executor or administrator, and no debt shall be paid or action brought therefor until this has been done. (See Succession Duty.)

Affidavits. Affidavits sworn out of the Province before any person appointed commissioner for taking affidavits in and for the courts in the Province of New Brunswick or before any of the several officials and persons authorized to take acknowledgments out of the Province (see Acknowledgments) are valid in all matters in which they would be valid if sworn before a competent official within the Province.

Aliens. Real and personal property of any description, except British ships, may be held and transmitted by aliens as by subjects. May be naturalized after residence of three years.

Arrest. In the supreme and county courts. Any person not having privilege may be arrested and held to bail or committed to prison on mesne process in any cause of action within the jurisdiction of the supreme or county courts. Where the cause of action is a debt certain an affidavit must first be made of the debt and that the arrest is not made for the purpose of vexing and harassing the debtor, or if for other than a debt certain a judge's order must be obtained on an affidavit setting out the cause of action. Where the affidavit is made without the Province it may be sworn before any person authorized to take affidavit for use in this Province in the country or place in which such affidavit is made. After judgment defendant making default may be committed to prison, for a term not exceeding one year by order of the court or judge, if it be shown that defendant has the means or obtained credit under false pretenses, or has fraudulently disposed of his property, or is about to leave the Province. If a defendant arrested on mesne process at a hearing before a commissioner of which notice has previously been given to the plaintiff discloses the actual state of his affairs on oath and the commissioner is satisfied that the disclosure is a full one and that the defendant has not transferred any property intending to defraud the plaintiff, or since his arrest given any preference to any other ereditor, the defendant may be discharged. In the city court of Saint John and in magistrates' courts arrest may be had in the first instance for debt where the amount is not less than $2 and does not exceed $80, and after judgment defendant may be again arrested on execution, but if he has no property and there has been no fraud or preference he may be discharged by commissioner on hearing after notice. In case judgment is under $400 and it is shown that debtor is in position to pay by installments the judge may, in his discretion, order payment by installments. Disobedience of the order renders debtor liable to attachments as for contempt of court. (See Courts.)

Assignments in Trust for Benefit of Creditors. An act of the legislative assembly, intended to prevent preferences by an insolvent, provides that all transfers and payments made by an insolvent with intent to give any creditor an unjust preference, or to prejudice any creditor, are void as against the creditors injured. In case an assignment be made, or suit brought within sixty days after the transfer or payment, the presumption is against the validity of such transfer or payment, whether the same be made voluntarily or under pressure. The above provisions, however, do not apply to bona fide sale or payments in ordinary course of trade or business, nor to a transfer in consideration of any present actual bona fide payment in money or by way of security for any advance of money, or which is made in consideration of any present sale and delivery of goods or other property, provided same is bona fide and for fair value. Assignments are made in the first instance to the sheriff, or fo some resident of the debtor's county named by a majority of the creditors having claims of $100 and upward. A new assignee may be substituted on vote of like majority. All judgments and all executions not completely executed by payment are superseded by an assignment. Claims against estate must be proved within three months after notice to prove is given. Claimants must furnish particulars of the claim proved by affidavit and such vouchers as the nature of the case admits of, and the affidavit should also state that the claimant holds no security for the claim or any part thereof, and if negotiable paper is held, should state that it is not under discount. If security is held, or the paper is under discount, state all facts fully.

Chattel Mortgages and Bills of Sale. Every mortgage or conveyance of goods and chattels which is not accompanied by an immediate delivery and an actual and continued change of possession of the property mortgaged is void as against subsequent purchasers or creditors, unless the same or a true copy thereof is filed with the registrar in the county in which the maker resides, or if non-resident of the Province in the county in which the things are, within thirty days from the execution thereof, with an affidavit of the subscribing witness of the due execution and an affidavit of the mortgagee or his agent that the mortgagor is justly and truly indebted to the mortgagee in the sum mentioned in the mortgage, and that it was executed in good faith and for the express purpose of securing payment and not for the purpose of protecting the property mentioned therein against the creditors of the mortgagor, or of preventing them from obtaining payment of any claims against him. Future advances may be secured where agreement therefor is recited in the mortgage. Every sale of goods and chattels not accompanied by an immediate delivery and followed by an actual and continued change of possession, must be in writing and accompanied by an affidavit of a subscribing witness thereto of the due execution and an affidavit of the bargainee or agent authorized in writing to take the conveyance, a copy of which authority shall be attached to the conveyance that the sale is bona fide and for good consideration, and not for the purpose of holding or enabling the bargainee to hold the goods against the creditors of the bargainor, and the conveyance must be registered as in the case of a chattel mortgage.

Conditional Sale of Chattels. Receipt notes, hire receipts, and orders for chattels given by bailee of chattels where the condition of the bailment is such that the possession passes without ownership being acquired until payment of the purchase money, shall only be valid against subsequent purchasers for value without notice in good faith when it is evidenced in writing signed by the bailee or his agent, and a copy of such writing is filed with the registrar of deeds of the county in which the bailee resides, within fifteen days from the execution of the receipt note or other instrument evidencing the bailment. The head office within the Province of any incorporated company, whether incorporated under the laws of the Province or otherwise, shall, within the provisions of this act, be deemed the domicile or place of residence of the company within the Province.

Corporations. Five or more persons may obtain letters patent for incorporation for ordinary business purposes by petition to the lieutenant governor on payment of a small fee regulated by amount of capital stock.

Claims Against Estates of Deceased Persons. (See Administration of Estates.)

Courts. Magistrates courts and other like inferior courts, including city courts, have jurisdiction in actions for tort to real or personal property, and in actions of debt for small amounts, the highest jurisdiction in tort being $32 and in debt $80. The county court has jurisdiction to the amount of $200 in tort and $400 in debt. Supreme court has jurisdiction in all matters, as well as concurrent jurisdiction with other courts. Security for costs may be required in all courts where plaintiff resides out of the Province.

Days of Grace. Where a bill or note is not payable on demand three days of grace are allowed. If the last day is non-juridical the next business day is allowed.

Descent and Distribution of Property. Real estate of an intestate is divided equally to and amongst his children or their representatives, or, if no children, then to the next of kindred and their representatives, including those of the half-blood and their representatives; but children advanced by settlement or portions not equal to the other shares shall have so much of the surplusage as shall make the estate of all equal, reserving the widow's right of dower. The surplusage of the personal estate of the intestate shall be distributed by the judge of probate in manner following, that is to say, one-third of it to the widow, and the residue in equal portions to and amongst his children and such persons as legally represent them. Any child receiving any advancement of real estate in the life time of the intestate in excess of his share of the real estate shall have the value of such excess taken into account in the distribution of the personalty. If there be no children nor any legal representatives of them, one molety of such surplusage shall be allowed to the widow, and the residue be distributed equally amongst the next of kindred of the intestate in equal degree, and those who legally represent them, but there shall be no repsesentation among collaterals after the brothers' and sisters' children; and if there be no widow, all such surplusage shall be distributed equally amongst the children, and if no child, to the next of kindred, in equal degree, of the intestate and their representatives; and if after the death of the father any of his children shall die intestate, without wife or children in the lifetime of the mother, every brother and sister and their representatives shall have equal share with her. (See Married Women.)

Dower. Besides common right of dower the widow is entitled in equity to dower out of any lands to which her husband was beneficially entitled at the time of his death, whether such interest be wholly equitable or partly legal and party equitable, and where the husband had right of entry or action in any lands in which his widow would have had dower had he recovered possession thereof, she shall be entitled to dower out of the same if such dower be sued within the period within which such right of action or entry may be enforced.

Executions. In the supreme and county courts execution may issue upon signing final judgment and bind property, real and personal, from the time it is delivered to the sheriff to be executed. In inferior courts may issue against goods and chattels or the body. Memorials of judgment duly registered in the county registry of deeds bind any lands of defendant or his interest therein for five years when they may be renewed with like effect. (See Assignments in Trust.)

Exemptions. Wearing apparel, bedding, kitchen utensils, and tools of trade or calling to the value of $100, are exempt from levy and sale under execution.

Garnishee. A judgment creditor for an amount exceeding $80, where the debt exclusive of costs, exceeds $40, may garnishee debts due and owing judgment debtor, except wages not exceeding $20.

Holidays. In all matters relating to bills of exchange, notes, etc., the following are the legal holidays: Sundays, New Year's, Good Friday, Easter Monday, Christmas Day, the birthday (or the day fixed by proclamation for the celebration of the birthday) of the reigning sovereign, or if such birthday is Sunday then the following day, the first day of July (Dominion Day), and if that is a Sunday then the second day of July, and any day appointed as a holiday for Canada by proclamation, and the day next following New Year's Day and Christmas Day when those days respectively fall on Sunday.

Interest. Legal rate 5 per cent.

Judgments in the supreme and county court bind lands of the debtor from the time execution is delivered to the sheriff to be executed. (See Executions and Assignments in Trust.)

Liens. Mechanics, machinists, builders, laborers, and all other persons doing work upon or furnishing materials to be used in the construction, alteration or repair of any building, or erection or erecting, furnishing or placing any machinery at any time in, upon or in connection with any building, erection or mine, have a lien for the price of the work, machinery or materials upon the building or mine and the lands occupied thereby to the extent of the interest of the employer or purchaser therein. The lien of wage earners is for wages not exceeding thirty days or a balance equal to wages for thirty days. A claim for lien specifying particularly the name and residence of claimant and employer or purchaser, the time at which the work was done, the nature of the work and materials, description of the property and period of credit, if any, verified by affidavit, may be registered. Claim for wages must be registered within thirty days after last day of labor and other claims may be registered before the commencement or during the progress of the work or within thirty days from completion thereof, or from supplying or placing machinery. Registered liens good for only ninety days, unless proceedings are taken to realize within that time, in which case lien may be continued.

Limitations. Actions on judgments of courts of record, recognizance bonds or other specialties, or for recovery of real property, must be brought within twenty years. In assault, battery, wounding, imprisonment, or words, within two years All other personal actions within six years. Adverse possession against the Crown must be sixty years to bar title of Crown.

Married Women. The married woman's property act of 1895 provides that a married woman shall be capable of acquiring, holding, and disposing, by will or otherwise, of any real or personal property as her separate property in the same manner as if she were a femme sole, without the intervention of a trustee, and that she may contract and sue and be sued as a femme sole. The separate personal property of a married woman, dying intestate, goes to her husband to the exclusion of the next of kin if no children, but if she leave children, her surviving, by a former husband, the surviving husband is entitled to one-third and her children, including those by the surviving husband, are entitled to the remaining two-thirds. If there are children by the surviving husband only, the husband is entitled to one-half and the children to the other half. If no children the husband takes all.

Mortgages. Mortgages must be proved or acknowledged in the same manner as deeds. (See Acknowledgments.) And to be effectual against creditors and bona-fide purchasers must be recorded. Are foreclosed by proceedings in chancery or under a power of sale, if any therein. May be discharged by a certificate of the satisfaction of the mortgagee, his representatives or assigns, acknowledged or proved and duly registered; or the mortgagee may acknowledge satisfaction on the margin of the registry book against the registry of the mortgage in the presence of the registrar or his deputy.

Notes and Bills of Exchange governed by statute of the Dominion of Canada, embodying mercantile law and legal decisions in the form of statutes. Notice of dishonor mailed to place at which the note on its face purports to have been made is sufficient.

Protest. Protest is required in case of non-acceptance or non-payment of a foreign bill appearing on its face to be such. In case of inland bill subject to due notice of dishonor, it is not necessary to note or protest

Succession Duties Act. A succession duty is levied by the Province upon certain estates of deceased persons. The act does not apply to estates which do not exceed $5,000, or any property given for religious, charitable or educational purposes, to be carried out in New Brunswick, or property going to father, mother, husband, wife, child, grandchild, brother, sister, daughter-in-law or son-in-law, where the estate does not exceed $50,000, or to any legacy to any one person not exceeding $200. Save as above estates are subject to a duty as follows: (1) Estate above $50,000, passing to father, mother, husband, wife, child, grandchild, brother, sister, son-in-law or daughter-in-law, $1.25 on each $100 up to $50,000, and $2.50 on each $100 of excess. (2) Where estate above $200,000, 5 per cent. (3) Where estate exceeds $10,000, so much as passes to grandfather, grandmother or other lineal ancestor, except father or mother, or to any descendant of a brother or sister, or to a brother or sister of the father or mother of the deceased, or to any descendant of such last mentioned brother or sister, or to a grandchild or other descendant of the deceased, except a son or daughter, 5 per cent. (4) Where the estate exceeds $5,000, so much as passes to any person in any other degree of collateral consanguinity than above mentioned, or to a stranger, 10 per cent. If the beneficiary resides out of the Province, the amount of duty is double the amounts above mentioned. Where deceased had life insurance, whether payable to himself or any other person, same shall be deemed part of his estate for the purpose of this act.

No foreign executor or administrator shall assign or transfer any debentures, bonds, stocks, or shares of any bank or other corporation, whatsoever, having its head office in New Brunswick standing in the name of the deceased person, or in trust for him, which are subject to succession duty until such duty is paid or until security is given as required by the Act and any such bank or corporation allowing a transfer of any debentures, bonds, stocks, or shares contrary to this section shall be liable for such duty.

Transfer of Corporation Stock. Stock is deemed personal estate. No share is transferable until all calls due have been fully paid or where the holder is indebted to the company if the directors object. Shares of deceased member may be transferred by his representative. No transfer unless made under execution or decree of court is valid until entry upon the transfer book of the company.

Wage Earners. Preference to the extent of three months' wages is given to prsons in the employment of the debtor at the time of or within one month prior to: (1) Assignment for benefit of creditors. (2) Winding up under Provincial act. (3) Decease. (4) Seizure under execution. (5) Seizure under absconding debtors' act. (6) Foreclosure of railway trust mortgage. (See also Liens.)

Wills must be in writing, signed at the foot or end thereof by the testator or some other person in his presence by his direction, and such signature must be made or acknowledged in the presence of two witnesses present at the same time, who shall attest and subscribe in the presence of the testator and of each other. No form of attestation is necessary.

THE LAWS OF NOVA SCOTIA

Prepared and Revised by ALFRED WHITMAN, ESQ., Barrister, Halifax. (See Card in Attorneys' List.)

Accounts. An account does not carry interest except by special contract in writing or custom of trade.

Acknowledgments. (See Deeds.)

Actions. In the supreme and county courts actions are regulated by the judicature act, which is practically the same as the English judicature act. The judges have made rules thereunder practically the same as the English rules of practice and procedure. Plaintiff resident without the Province may be compelled to give security for costs, either by payment into court, or by bond approved by defendant, or a judge.

Administration of Estates. Letters of administration are granted by the probate courts of which there is one for each county of the province. Administration shall be granted to some one or more of the persons hereinafter mentioned, and they shall respectively be entitled thereto in the following order: 1. The widow or next of kin, or both, as the judge of probate may think fit. 2. If the deceased was a married woman, to her husband except in certain specified cases. 3. If the persons so entitled as above do not take out administration within ten days after the return day of the citation, the judge of probate may commit it to one or more of the principal creditors. If the deceased leaves no known living relative in the province, or any who can be readily communicated with, administration may be granted to the Attorney-General.

Affidavits. Affidavits may be sworn abroad for use in Nova Scotia, before any judge of a court of record, British consul, a vice-consul exercising his functions, notary public, certified under his hand and official seal, mayor or chief magistrate of any incorporated town, or a commissioner authorized to administer oaths out of the Province, duly appointed by the government of the Province.

Aliens may take, hold, convey, and transmit real estate, and trust companies or corporations having a legal status in any foreign state may hold real estate by way of mortgage or otherwise in furtherance of any trust they may assume in connection with any enterprise or undertaking within the province of Nova Scotia, with full power to such companies or corporations to convey and transfer the same.

Arbitration is regulated by "The arbitration act," which provides for arbitration under submission and for references under order of the supreme court: A submission, unless a contrary intention is expressed therein, is irrevocable, except by leave of the supreme court or a judge thereof: The report of an official or special referee may be adopted wholly or partially by the court or a judge.

Arrest before Final Judgment. Where plaintiff, by affidavit, proves to the satisfaction of a judge, or commissioner, that plaintiff has a good cause of action to an amount which brings action within the jurisdiction of county, or supreme court, as the case may be, and that deponent has probable cause for believing, and does believe, that the defendant unless he is arrested is about to leave the Province, the judge without inquiring into the ground of belief, will make an order directing that such defendant be arrested and held to bail.

Arrest under Judgment. Under "The collection act" a creditor may obtain a warrant for the arrest and imprisonment of the debtor, upon an application to an examiner, supported by an affidavit of himself, his solicitor, or agent, setting forth the judgment and date of the recovery thereof, the amount due on the judgment, the deponent's belief that the debtor is about to leave the Province, and without stating the ground for such belief. Where an order to pay by installments has been made against a debtor, and such debtor fails to make any of the payments directed to be made by such order, execution may issue for his arrest, upon an affidavit setting forth such order and the non-compliance therewith. Any person arrested under such execution may apply for relief under the provisions of "the indigent debtors' act."

Assignments. (See Insolvent Laws.)

Attachment. In suits against absent or absconding debtor, the writ of summons shall be in the usual form, and may describe the defendant as absent or absconding. The plaintiff may sue out a writ of attachment to take defendant's property or he may issue a summons to any agent having money or credits due defendant, on making an affidavit showing a cause of action for an amount within the jurisdiction of court, stating the amount of debt or damage sustained, and that defendant is absconding or absent out of the Province. The sheriff shall levy for the amount indorsed on the writ with $120 for probable costs, in actions to recover $80 and upwards, and $28 in actions for less. Goods exhibited to sheriff as defendant's goods are appraised by sworn appraisers; defendant's goods are not bound by the attachment until levy is made. Perishable goods may be sold under an order of the court, unless defendant's agents give security, for the value within three days after their appraisement.

Banks. The legislation respecting Banks and Banking is contained in the act of the Parliament of Canada (Chapter 9, of the Statutes of Canada, A. D. 1913). The Provisions of the act apply to the twenty-four Banks mentioned in Schedule "A" to the act, and to every bank incorporated after the first day of January A. D., 1912. The act continues the Charters or Acts of Incorporation of said Banks until the first day of July A. D., 1923, subject however to forfeiture by reason of insolvency or non-performance of the conditions of the Act or by any other reason.

The provisions for the incorporation of Banks are largely similar to the provisions of Law respecting the formation of other Corporations. A Bank cannot commence business without previously obtaining permission from the Treasury board to do so. The Capital stock of a Bank may be increased by resolution of the share-holders and approval of the Treasury Board. A full statement of the affairs of the Bank showing the liabilities and assets must be laid before the shareholders at their annual meeting. A Bank must hold not less than 40 per cent of its cash reserves in Dominion Notes, if not it incurs a penalty of $500.00 for each violation. No Bank can issue a note for less than $5.00 or for any sum which is not a multiple of $5.00. The payment of the notes is a first charge on a bank's assets. Existing banks must make a deposit with the minister of finance equal to five per cent of the note circulation. Notes of the Banks are payable at Par throughout the Dominion of Canada.

Banks are authorized to hold real estate such as is required for their own use, but all other real estate howsoever acquired must be sold within seven years from the date of the acquisition thereof, to make advances in aid of building ships and taking security therefor, to lend money upon the security of standing timber, and upon the security of natural products or live or dead stock of a wholesale dealer, and to take warehouse receipts as collateral security and similar business. Banks are also authorized to lend money to farmers upon the security of their threshed grain grown upon the farm. They are obliged to make returns to the finance minister showing their assets and liabilities, and giving the names of their shareholders in detail. Several penalties are provided for the enforcement of the various provisions of the Act. The stock of a Bank is transferable at its head office.

Bills of Exchange and Promissory Notes. The law is much the same as in the United States. A demand draft is without days of grace. A sight draft is entitled to three days of grace. Notice of honor is necessary to hold the indorser but not the maker. A bill or note falling due on a legal holiday (Sunday, Christmas Day, New Year's Day, Good Friday, birthday of sovereign or any day made a holiday by royal proclamation) is payable on the following day. The subject of bills of exchange and promissory notes is by the constitution within the powers of the federal parliament, and consequently, the law on the subject is the same in all the Canadian provinces, excepting certain enactments relating exclusively to the Province of Quebec

Bills of Lading are negotiable. Every consignee of goods named in a bill of lading to whom the property in the goods therein mentioned passes upon or by reason of such consignment or indorsement, shall have transferred to and vested in him all right of suit and be subject to the same liabilities in respect of such goods as if the contract contained in the bill of lading had been made to himself.

Bills of Sale. Bills of sale, as against purchasers and creditors have effect from time of filing only. The statute prescribes forms of affidavits of bona fides, which must be followed. A renewal statement and affidavit shall be filed within 30 days next preceding the expiration of the term of three years from (a) the filing of every bill of sale or copy, and (b) the filing of every renewal statement and affidavit or amended renewal statement, otherwise such bill of sale shall cease to be valid as against creditors of the grantor and subsequent purchasers. A form of renewal statement and affidavit is prescribed by statute, which must be followed.

In addition to the above enactments, two classes of bills of sale are dealt with by statute: 1. Bills of sale given to secure the grantee, (a) re-payment of any advances to be made by him under an agreement therefor; or (b) against loss or damage by reason of the indorsement of any bills or promissory notes; or (c) against loss or damage by reason of any other liability incurred by the grantee for the grantor; or (d) against loss or damage by reason of any liability to be incurred, under an agreement by the grantee for the grantor. These must fully set forth by recital or otherwise the terms, nature, and effect of the transaction and be accompanied by an affidavit of the truth of the recital and of bona fides. 2. Every hiring, lease, or bargain for the sale of personal chattels, accompanied by an immediate delivery and followed by an actual and continued change of possession, whereby it is agreed, (a) that the property in the personal chattles; or (b) in case of a bargain for sale, a lien thereon for the price thereof or any portion thereof, shall remain in the person letting to hire, the lessor, the bailor or bargain or, until the payment in full of the hire, rental, or price agreed upon by future payments or otherwise. These must be evidenced by instrument or instruments in writing, showing the terms of such agreement, and be signed by the person to whom such personal chattels are hired, the lessee, bailee, bargainee, or his agent thereunto duly authorized in writing, and shall have written or printed therein the postoffice address of the person letting to hire, lessor, bailor or bargainor, and a true copy or true copies of such instrument or instruments shall be filed within ten days from delivery of the chattels accompanied by an affidavit of bona fides.

Chattel Mortgages. (See Bills of Sale.)

Collaterals. Bills of exchange, promissory notes, warehouse receipts, and bills of lading, etc., may be given as collateral security.

Conveyances. (See Deeds.)

Corporations are formed by special charter, act of parliament, or under joint stock companies acts. Foreigners can form a joint stock company for the purpose of carrying on business in Nova Scotia. All corporations, whether domestic or foreign, must hold a certificate of registration before they can legally do or carry on in Nova Scotia any part of their business. Stockholders are liable for the full amount of the stock subscribed. This latter does not apply to banks, as stockholders under the bank act are liable to double the amount of the stock subscribed.

Costs. Costs in action are in the discretion of the judge, but generally are allowed to successful litigant.

Courts. The supreme court, county court, city courts and municipal courts have a civil and criminal jurisdiction. The first two have an appellate jurisdiction. The judges of the supreme court, consisting of a chief justice and six associate judges, hold circuit courts throughout the province. The county court is divided into districts and each judge holds court in his own district. The jurisdiction of the supreme court in actions for debt or liquidated demand is from $20 upward; of the county court from $20 to $800.

Days of Grace. Where a bill is not payable on demand, the day on which it falls due is determined as follows: Three days, called days of grace are, in every case, where the bill itself does not otherwise provide, added to the time of payment as fixed by the bill, and the bill is due and payable on the last day of grace. When the last day of grace falls on Sunday or legal holiday in the Province, then the next day following shall be the last day of grace.

Deeds. Deeds within the Province may be proved upon the oath of a subscribing witness to the execution thereof taken before the registrar, a judge of the supreme court, a notary public, a justice of the peace, a barrister of the supreme court, a commissioner of the supreme court, or upon the personal acknowledgment by the parties under oath of the due execution thereof. Deeds may be proved out of the Province, as well in foreign countries as in British dominions, by the oath of a subscribing witness or the acknowledgment by the parties under oath. Such oath to be administered by a commissioner appointed to take affidavits without the Province, by a judge of any court of record, by the mayor or recorder of any city or incorporated town, by a minister, consul, vice-consul or consular agent of His Majesty, or by a notary public, residing respectively at or near the place where the deed is proved, and such attestation with the date shall be certified in writing on the said deed by such public functionary. All deeds and mortgages shall be under seal and executed in the presence of at least one witness and unless registered shall be ineffective against any subsequent purchaser or mortgagee for valuable consideration, and without notice, who shall first register his deed or mortgage of such lands.

By Chapter 2 of Acts of 1912 short forms are provided for a deed, lease and mortgage and the covenants in each respectively, and the act declares the legal effect of such forms to be the same as certain standard long forms as set out in the schedules to the Act.

Depositions. In an action, the court or a judge, upon sufficient cause shown by affidavit, may order a commission to issue for the taking of the deposition of witnesses residing outside the Province, in such manner as the court or a judge may direct. Parties to a cause may consent in writing to examine a witnesses residing abroad.

Descent of Real and Personal Estate. Real Estate. When a person dies intestate, any real estate to which he may be entitled at the time of his death shall descend as follows: 1. In equal shares to children and issue of deceased children according to the right of representation. If no child of the intestate living at the time of his death to the other lineal descendants of such intestate, who shall share equally if in same degree, otherwise according to the right of representation. 2. If no issue one-half to father, one-half to widow in lieu of dower; if no widow, the whole to father. 3. If no issue or father, one-half to widow, other half in equal shares to mother, brothers, and sisters, and the children of deceased brother and sister, by right of representation; if no widow, whole to mother, brother and sister, and children of any deceased brother or sister, by right of representation. 4. If none of foregoing in equal shares to his next of kin of him in equal degree, excepting where two or more collateral kindred in equal degree, but claiming through different ancestors shall be preferred, but in no case shall representatives be admitted among collaterals of the brother's and sister's children. 5. If person deceased unmarried and under age, estate inherited from either parent goes to children of same parent and issue equally, if of same degree, otherwise according to right of representation; if no children of same parent, to all the issue of the other children of the same parent equally, if in same degree; otherwise according to right of representation.

Personal property descends in the same way, except that after the payment of debts, funeral expenses, etc., one-half of the residue goes to the widow, if any, provided that the intestate shall leave no lawful issue. If he leaves issue, one-third of such property shall go to his widow; and if the intestate shall leave no kindred, the whole of such residue shall go to his widow.

Dower. A wife is entitled to dower out of all lands (with a few exceptions, of which her husband was seized at and after their marriage) in which she did not bar dower during his lifetime; but a husband can only be tenant by the curtesy of such of his wife's land as she died seized of.

Execution. Writ of execution (fieri facias) may issue upon a judgment or order for the payment of any moneys or transfer of real or personal property, and, if unexecuted, shall remain in force for one year only from its issue, but may be renewed at any time before date of expiration from date of renewal, and so on from time to time. No writ of execution shall bind the goods of the defendant but from the time the writ is delivered to the sheriff to be executed, and a levy may be made under it at any time, and after levy and due advertising the property shall be sold, subject to the provisions of "the Creditor's Relief Act" (3 Edw.VII., Ch. 14). There shall be no priority among creditors in the distribution of proceeds of personal property taken under execution from the supreme court or county courts. Execution against lands may issue at any time within six years from the signing of judgment. A judgment does not bind real estate of the debtor until it has been registered in the registry of deeds for the county or district in which said lands lie, for one year, and after such period the judgment creditor may order execution to be levied on said lands.

Exemptions. The necessary wearing apparel, beds, bedding and bedsteads of the debtor and his family, one stove and pipe therefor, one crane and its appendages, one pair of andirons, one set of cooking utensils, one pair of tongs, six knives, six forks, six plates, six teacups six saucers, one shovel, one bible, six chairs, one milk-jug, one teapot, six spoons, one spinning wheel, one weaving loom, one sewing machine, if in ordinary domestic use, ten volumes of religious books, one water bucket, one axe, one saw, and such fishing nets as are in common use, the value of such nets not to exceed $20; all necessary fuel, meat, fish, flour and vegetables, actually provided for family use, not more than sufficient for the ordinary consumption of the debtor and his family for thirty days, and not exceeding in value the sum of $40, one cow, two sheep, and one hog and food therefor for thirty days, tools and implements of, or chattels ordinarily used in the debtor's occupation to the value of $30.

Frauds. No action shall be brought whereby to charge any executor or administrator upon any special promise to answer damages out of his own estate, or whereby to charge any defendant upon any special promise to answer for the debt, default, or miscarriage of another person, or whereby to charge any person on an agreement made upon consideration of marriage, or upon any contract or sale of lands or any interest therein, or in any mining areas, or upon any agreement that is not to be performed within the space of one year from the making thereof, unless the agreement upon which the action shall be brought, or some memorandum or note thereof, shall be in writing, signed by the party to be charged therewith, or some other person authorized by him. Promise to be answerable for the debt of another not invalid for want of statement of consideration. No contract for the sale of goods for the price of $40 or upwards shall be good unless the buyer accept part of the goods so sold, and actually receive the same, or give something in earnest to bind the bargain or in part payment, or that some note or memorandum of the said bargain may be made and signed by the party to be charged therewith or his agents thereunto authorized.

Garnishment. The court or a judge, upon the ex parte application of any person who has obtained a judgment for the payment of money, upon affidavit of himself or solicitor stating that judgment has been recovered, and it is still unsatisfied, and to what amount, and that any other person is indebted to such debtor, and is within the jurisdiction, order that all debts owing from such third person (the garnishee) to such debtor shall be attached to answer the judgment. Wages up to $40 cannot be garnisheed, also debts due from the government.

Husband and Wife. (See Divorce and Married Women.)

Interest. Legal rate, 5 per cent. A contract may be made in writing for any rate when the security is real or chattel real, or for any rate where the security is personal property or personal responsibility, except in the case of banks, who may not charge more than 7 per cent. judgments bear interest at 6 per cent.

Judgments. (See Executions.)

Jurisdiction. (See Courts.)

Limitations on all contracts not under seal, six years; judgments and contracts under seal, twenty years. No arrears of dower, nor damages on account of such arrear, shall be recovered or obtained by any action or proceeding for a longer period than six years next before the commencement of such action, or suit; and no arrears of rent, or interest, or money charged on or payable out of land, or in respect to any legacy, or any damages therefor, shall be recovered after six years from date when due, or from acknowledgment of the same in writing.

Married Women's Property Act. Under this act married women may acquire hold, and dispose of, by will or otherwise, any real or personal property as their separate property, in the same manner as if they were femme sole, and without the intervention of any trustee. Married women, by registered declaration, or consent of husband, may carry on separate business. Married women having separate estate may sue and be sued as femme sole.

Mechanic's Lien. Every mechanic, machinist, laborer, builder, contractor, or other person doing work upon or furnishing materials to be used in the construction of any building, road, railway, wharf, pier, bridge, mine, well, excavation, sidewalk, pavement, drain, or sewer has a lien for the price of his work thereon to the extent of the owner's interest. A claim for lien must be filed in the registry of deeds for the registration district in which the lands lie, within thirty days after the completion of the work or the supplying of materials, else the lien will cease. Proceedings to enforce registered liens must be commenced within ninety days after the completion of the work, services, or furnishing of supplies, etc Unregistered liens shall cease to exist on the expiration of time limited for registration, unless in the meantime an action is commenced to realize the claim.

Mortgages must be under seal. A mortgage is foreclosed by an action in the supreme court, and is discharged by a release in which reference is made to the registry of the mortgage, and same must be under seal, executed and recorded as an ordinary deed, and a marginal note made on the registered mortgage that the same has been released.

Notaries are appointed by the government of Nova Scotia and have power to take protests.

Notes and Bills of Exchange. (See Bills of Exchange and Promissory Notes.)

Partnerships may be general or limited. Limited partnerships are created under statute, and there must be at least one general partner. Declaration of partners, showing interest of special partner, amount of his liability, names of partners, duration of partnership, and the like, must be filed in the registry office and published in newspapers. "The Partnership Act" of 1911 deals with the nature of partnerships the relations of partners to persons dealing with them, and to one another, and also with the dissolution of partnership and its consequences. This act is copied from the English partnership act and is about of the same effect.

Powers of Attorney to execute a document under seal must be under seal. Where conveyances of land are executed under power of attorney, it must be registered with the conveyance.

Probate Law. (See Administration and Descent of Property.)

Protest. Delay in giving notice of dishonor is excused where the delay is caused by circumstances beyond the control of the person giving notice. Where an inland bill (one which on the face of it purports to be both drawn and payable within Canada, or drawn upon some person resident therein) has been dishonored, it may be noted and protested for non-acceptance or non-payment, as the case may be. Where a foreign bill has been dishonored for non-acceptance it must be duly protested for non-acceptance. If it is not so protested the drawer and endorsers are discharged.

Replevy. An order for replevin may issue after plaintiff makes affidavit that he is entitled to property, that it is detained unjustly, and setting forth the value of it. The sheriff, before replevying, may require a bond from plaintiff to save him harmless, before proceeding to replevy.

Service of Summons must be personal, except in special cases, where judge may order substituted service.

Taxes are levied on real and personal property by the municipalities and collected by them. Outside the city of Halifax a tax is levied on income.

Wills must be in writing, signed at the foot or end thereof by the testator or by some other person in his presence and by his direction, and such signature shall be made or acknowledged by the testator in the presence of two or more witnesses, present at the same time; and such witnesses shall attest and subscribe the Will in the presence of the testator and in the presence of each other, but no form of attestation shall be necessary. Executors are competent witnesses. Wills of minors are invalid.

THE LAWS OF ONTARIO

Prepared and Revised by RYCKMAN & MACKENZIE, Barristers, Toronto. (See Card in Attorneys' List.)

The law throughout Canada is uniform on the following commercial matters: 1. Currency and coinage. 2. Banking, incorporation of banks, and issuing of paper money. 3. Savings banks. 4. Bills of exchange and promissory notes. 5. Interest. 6. Legal tender. 7. Bankruptcy and insolvency. 8. Patents. 9. Copyrights. There are other matters exclusively within the jurisdiction of the Dominion, but they are not commercial. The provinces can not legislate on the above matters, although they have general jurisdiction in matters of property and civil rights. The laws in the different provinces on the subjects within their jurisdiction vary. There is an analogy between this division of jurisdiction between the Dominion and the provinces and that between the United States and the respective states. The difference between the two systems is that all unenumerated powers in Canada belong to the Dominion. In the United States all unenumerated powers belong to the respective states.

Acknowledgment. To take a debt out of the statute of limitations a payment on account or an acknowledgment in writing is required. This acknowledgment must be in such terms as to amount to an admission of the existence of the debt, and promise to pay same.

Actions. All actions are commenced by a writ of summons indorsed with a statement of the nature of the claim made, or the relief or remedy sought. If the claim is for a liquidated demand in money arising out of contract, express or implied, for example, on a bill of exchange, promissory note, check, account, or any simple contract debt, the writ is specially indorsed with the particulars of the claim or amount sought to be recovered. A defendant, if served within Ontario, must enter an appearance within ten days after service, inclusive of the day of service. If served out of Ontario, further time is given, according to distance. If the writ is specially indorsed, and the defendant does not appear, judgment may be signed in default of appearance without any further proof of claim, and execution issued forthwith. Should the defendant enter an appearance, pleadings will have to be served, and the action take its ordinary course.

Where the writ is specially endorsed the defendant shall with his appearance file an affidavit that he has a good defense and showing nature of the defense. This may be treated as a statement, defense by the plaintiff, and pleadings may be closed, by serving the defendant within five days with a twenty-one days' notice of trial.

Where the defendant appears to a specially endorsed writ and files his affidavit as above, the plaintiff may cross examine on such affidavit and move for judgment, and if the court is satisfied that a good defense upon the merits is not shown or that such facts as entitle the defendant to defend or that such facts have not been disclosed, judgment may be given for the plaintiff. Where a defendant who has appeared and filed his affidavit as above does not file a statement of defense within the time limited, his affidavit shall stand as his defense and notice of trial may be at once served.

Where writ is not specially endorsed and defendant fails to appear, plaintiff may sign interlocutory judgment, directing an assessment of damage, or a reference.

Inferior jurisdiction is exercised by the division or county courts. Division courts are held in the different counties throughout the Province, and have jurisdiction in: 1. All personal actions where the amount claimed does not exceed $60, or $100 when agreed to by the parties. 2. Claims and demands of debt, account, or breach of contract, or covenant or money demand where the amount or balance claimed does not exceed $100. 3. Claims for debt or money demand not exceeding $200 and interest, where the amount, or original amount, is ascertained by the signature of the defendant or person whom, as executor or administrator, he represents, provided in the case of an unsettled account the whole account does not exceed $600. No costs are recoverable in the division court as a general rule, only court fees, which are not large. County courts have jurisdiction in: 1. All personal actions where debt or damages claimed do not exceed $500. 2. In all suits relating to debt, covenant, and contract to $800, if ascertained by act of both parties or signature of the defendant, or in any similar case to any amount, if the parties by writing submit to the jurisdiction of the court. 3. Recovery of land or damages for trespass thereon where its value does not exceed $500. 4. Partnership accounts where stock or capital is not over $2,000. 5. Legacies not above $500 out of an estate not exceeding $2,000. 6. Claims on mortgages where sum claimed does not exceed $500. 7. Actions for redemption or equitable relief where sum does not exceed $500. 8. Contestation of creditors' claims on an estate where amount of claim does not exceed $500. They can not try: 1. Title to land where the value of the land is over $500. 2. The validity of any devise or bequest over $200 where the estate is over $2,000. 3. Actions for libel or slander, or crim. con. or seduction, or against a justice of the peace, if the justice by writing objects thereto within six days after the notice of action which is required to be given in such actions is served upon him. In all these latter cases and in all actions above the limit of the county courts, the Supreme Court of Ontario has jurisdiction. If suits are brought in the wrong court, the parties may be deprived of costs. Priority of judgments is regulated only by the time of the delivery of the writ of execution into the hands of the sheriff, and not by the time of obtaining the judgments, and judgment creditors share equally with other creditors, gaining no priority or advantage, except that their costs are added to their claim. (See Assignments.)

Administration of Estate. Administration is granted by the judge of the surrogate court of the county in which the deceased had his last place of abode, or in which he leaves property. It is granted to the next of kin. A creditor may apply for administration. Letters cannot be granted until after an interval of fourteen days from the death. The administrator must reside in the province.

Affidavits. Affidavits made in the United States or any foreign country, to be used in any of the courts in Ontario, may be made before a notary public, certified under his hand and official seal, or before a commissioner residing in such foreign country, duly authorized to take affidavits, etc., to be used in Ontario, or before the mayor or chief officer of any city or town or before British consul or vice-consul.

If made before the mayor of a city or town they must be certified under the common seal of the municipality.

Agreements where Possession Passes without Ownership. In case of an agreement for the sale or transfer of merchandise of any kind to a trader for the purpose of re-sale, possession to pass but not ownership, any such provision is void against creditors, mortgagees or purchasers without notice, unless the agreement is filed in the office of the county court clerk within ten days of the execution of the agreement. This provision does not affect purchases in ordinary course of business, or sales of manufactured articles bearing the maker's name.

Alien Enemies. All rights of alien enemies are suspended during the present war, and all trading with alien enemies is prohibited. Alien enemies include neutrals trading in enemy countries. Aliens residing in Canada are required to register and have certain rights under Royal Proclamations. These may be suspended at any time. The various statutes of limitations continue to run against alien enemies.

It has been held in Ontario that the suspension of rights extends to Canadian companies whose shareholders are alien enemies. The contrary has been held in England, and the Ontario decision is probably wrong. The charters of such companies may, however, be suspended by the Government. No case has yet been reported as to companies of neutral countries whose shareholders are alien enemies. It seems likely that the suspension of rights would extend to such companies.

Aliens. Every kind of real and personal property may be held, bought and sold by aliens as freely as though they were natural-born subjects. Although not resident in Ontario, they may be sued by being served with notice of process. Any person not resident within the Province who brings an action in its courts, is bound, upon application made therefor, to give to the opposite party security for the costs which may be incurred in the action, generally to the extent of $400, or by payment into court of $200. In the county courts, security is required to the extent of $200, or by payment into court of $100. In cases where debt is ascertained by the signature of the defendant, the security required is $50 on motion for speedy judgment. (See also Judgments.) R. S. O. C. 65, Appeals. (See Alien Enemies.)

Appeals. Appeals from all the Ontario courts are heard at Toronto by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court of Ontario, whose decision is final unless the amount in dispute exceeds $1,000, or unless future rights, the title to real estate, or the validity of a patent are involved, in which cases a further appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada at Ottawa is allowed. If future rights are involved or if the amount in dispute exceeds $4,000, the appellant, instead of going to the Supreme Court of Canada, may, at his option, appeal to the Judicial Committee of His Majesty's Privy Council at London, Eng. The Privy Council will not hear appeals from the Supreme Court of Canada unless some constitutional question or some important principle is involved.

Arbitrations. Arbitrations are now governed by the revised statute respecting arbitrations. A submission is irrevocable, unless there is a contrary expression therein, except by leave of the court. Arbitrators are allowed three months to make their award. The court has power in certain cases to appoint an arbitrator.

Arrest. One foreigner can not follow another into Ontario and have him arrested for a debt contracted abroad, but any creditor whose claim is $100 or over may obtain the arrest of his debtor upon showing by affidavit that the debtor is about to leave the Province, with intent to defraud his creditors. A married woman is not liable to arrest for debt.

Assignments. There is no insolvent or bankruptcy act in force in Canada now. In Ontario voluntary assignments by debtors supersede attachments, executions, judgments, except judgments for alimony duly registered in registry office against the lands of the defendant, and executions in the hands of the sheriff not completely executed by payment subject to the first execution's lien for costs. Garnishee orders, receiving orders by way of equitable execution are also superseded by an assignment. A preference made by a debtor which has the effect of defeating any creditor is presumed to be fraudulent and void if attacked within sixty days, or if followed by an assignment by the debtor within sixty days. If attacked after sixty days, the intent to prefer must be proved. If proved, the transaction is set aside, unless it is shown to have been made under pressure by the preferred creditor. (See Wages.)

Attorneys in the states sending claims for collection to Ontario are recommended to read carefully this summary of the jurisdiction of the Ontario courts over claims in Ontario, as mistakes and disputes constantly arise, owing to American attorneys not being aware that the costs on claims vary with the amount of the claim. In division courts no costs at all are allowed, only court disbursements, and, therefore, a litigant in that court, even if successful, has to pay his own costs. The tendency of legislation has been to extend the jurisdiction of the inferior courts.

Attachment. A resident in Ontario who, being indebted to any other person in a sum exceeding $100, departs or absconds from this Province with intent to defraud his creditors, or to avoid arrest or service of process, and at the time of his so departing is possessed to his own use of any real or personal property, is deemed an absconding debtor, and his property may be seized and taken by a writ of attachment, for which a judge's order must be obtained upon affidavits setting forth the necessary facts.

Banks. The subject of banks and banking is one which, by the Canadian constitution, is committed to the parliament of Canada. The legislature of the Province has no power to deal with the subject. The legislation respecting banks and banking is contained in the Statutes of Canada (1913) 3-4 Geo. V. C. 9, and cited as the Bank Act.

Bills of Exchange and Promissory Notes. A war tax stamp duty of 2 cents is required to be paid on bills, notes or checks and all paper negotiated through a bank. Three days grace are allowed. (See Days of Grace.) Presentment for payment should be made when due, and notice of dishonor given or mailed within one day, in order to hold the indorser or drawer, but these steps are not necessary in order to hold the acceptor of a bill or maker of a note. In case a bill or note falls due and is payable on a legal holiday, it must be presented the day after such holiday. The legal holidays as fixed by statute, in all matters relating to bills or notes, are Sundays, New Year's Day, Good Friday, Easter Monday, Christmas Day, Victoria Day (24th May), Dominion Day (1st July), Labor Day (1st Monday in September), King's Birthday, and any special days appointed by proclamation for public holidays, fasting or thanksgiving. The legal rate of interest is now 5 per cent. If a bill is dishonored abroad, in addition to interest and expenses of noting and protest, holder is entitled to re-exchange with interest to date of payment. (See R. S. C., 1906, C 119.)

Bills of Lading are now negotiable. Every bill of lading in the hands of a consignee or indorsee for valuable consideration representing goods to have been shipped on board a vessel or train, is conclusive evidence of such shipment as against the master or other person signing the same, notwithstanding that such goods or some part thereof may not have been so shipped, unless such holder of the bill of lading has actual notice at the time of receiving the same that the goods had not in fact been laden on board, or unless such bill of lading has a stipulation to the contrary, but the master or other person so signing may exonerate himself in respect to such misrepresentation by showing that it was caused without any default on his part, and wholly by the fraud of the shipper, or of the holder, or of some person under whom the holder claims. Every consignee of goods named in a bill of lading to whom the property in the goods therein mentioned passes upon or by reason of such consignment or indorsement, shall have transferred to and vested in him all right of suit and be subject to the same liabilities in respect of such goods as if the contract contained in the bill of lading had been made to himself.

Bills of Sale and Chattel Mortgages must be filed in the office of the clerk of the county court of the county where the goods are situated, within five days from the date of execution. An affidavit of good faith showing that the bill of sale or chattel mortgage is not made for the purpose of defrauding creditors must be made by the vendee or chattel mortgagee before the bill of sale or chattel mortgage can be filed. Renewal statements verified by similar affidavit filed during the last month of each year of their currency are required to preserve their effect. When a chattel mortgage is made to a company the affidavit of good faith must be made by the president, vice-president, manager, assistant manager, secretary or treasurer, or other officer, duly authorized by resolution of the directors. An officer or agent must state that he has "personal knowledge of the facts deposed to."

Claims against Estates of Deceased Persons. Where a person dies intestate, letters of administration may be granted by the surrogate court. (See Administration of Estate.) In administering the estate, no difference is made as to judgment or other debts, all are to be paid ratably. Claims are enforced by suing the executor or administrator. Wills are proved in the surrogate court of the county where the testator had his last place of abode, or if testator lived out of Ontario, in the city where the property devised is situate. Real and personal property both devolve upon an administrator. Security is required before administration granted. (See Descent.)

Collaterals. Chattel mortgages are frequently given as collateral security for advances. In dealing with collaterals parties must be careful not to prejudice their main or original security. They are expected to realize on the main security to the best advantage before proceeding on their collateral security.

Contracts. Contracts for the sale of lands or an interest in land must be in writing, signed by the party to be charged. The provisions of the statute of frauds are in force in Ontario, modified by the act respecting written promises and acknowledgments, which extends the statute of frauds in cases of contracts for the sale of goods of the value of $40 and upward to contracts for goods to be delivered at a future time.

Corporations are created by act of parliament, special charter, or under the general acts relating to the incorporation of joint stock companies by letters patent. Shareholders are liable only to the amount of their shares, and when these shares are paid in full, they are discharged from any further liability, except that the directors of the company remain personally liable to the company's servants for wages incurred or earned while such directors have been in office, to the amount of one year's wages. Provision has been made for the winding up of joint stock companies.

Costs, Security for. (See Aliens.)

Days of Grace. Where a bill is not payable on demand, the day on which it falls due is determined as follows: Three days, called days of grace, are, in every case where the bill itself does not otherwise provide, added to the time of payment as fixed by the bill, and the bill is due and payable on the last day of grace. When the last day of grace falls on Sunday or legal holiday in the Province, then the next day following shall be the last day of grace.

Deeds. All deeds should be in duplicate, so that one may be registered while the other is returned certified, and must be registered in order to be valid against subsequent purchasers for value or mortgagees. Common forms of deeds may be used, but the statute provides a short form, with covenants and bar of dower. All deeds must be under seal. A wafer, sealing wax, or other adhesive substance will answer for a seal, but a scroll is not a seal. In conveying the estate of a married woman it is usual, although not absolutely necessary for safety, that the husband should be a party to the deed, but no acknowledgment or separate examination of the wife, apart from her husband, is required. Proof of all deeds, mortgages, etc., for registration, is made by an affidavit by the subscribing witness, in any foreign country—before the mayor of any city, borough, or town corporate, certified under the common seal, or before any British consul or vice-consul resident in such country, or before a judge of a court of record, or a notary public, certified under his official seal. When different parties sign before different subscribing witnesses, each such witness must make a similar affidavit as to the execution by the parties whose execution he attests, or the deed can not be registered. One credible person, male or female, who can read and write, will suffice as a witness. (See Lands Titles.) The short forms of deed and affidavit of execution are as follows:

Depositions. Witnesses examined under a commission from a court must be examined under the directions given by the commission. In ordinary cases depositions may be taken before a notary public, and will be signed by the party, and his signature will be verified by the notary.

Descent. When no issue, a widow is entitled to $1,000 part of the net value of her deceased husband's real and personal property. In respect to the residue, real estate descends like personality—one-half to the widow or widower and one-half to all the next of kin in equal degree, where there are no children. Where there are children, one-third to the widow and two-thirds to the children and the legal representatives of children who predecease the intestate. A widow is entitled to elect whether she will take her dower or a distributive share of the estate, according to the rules of devolution of personal estate. (See Dower.)

Distress. (See Exemptions.)

Dower. When there is no issue of the marriage surviving the father, the widow is entitled, in case of intestacy, to $1,000 of her husband's estate and over that amount to her share in the residue. Under the Devolution of Estates Act, R. S. O. (1914) C. 119, a widow is always entitled to elect whether she will take her interest under this act or her dower (i. e., a life interest in one-third of her husband's real property—free from his debts, and in all cases she is allowed to take a sum in gross or distribute share instead of her common law dower, being one-third of the estate where there are children, and one-half where there are no children, after payment of debts.

Evidence. In all civil proceedings no person is disqualified as a witness on the ground of interest, as a party or otherwise. Husbands and wives are competent and compellable witnesses, save as to communications made during their marriage and proceedings consequent upon adultery. In actions by or against representatives of any deceased persons, or by or against a lunatic, an opposite or interested party to the suit can not have judgment upon his own evidence as to any matter occurring before the death, unless such evidence is corroborated. An affirmation or declaration may be made by a witness if the presiding judge be satisfied that an oath would not in conscience have any binding effect.

Executions are issued by the division, county, and high courts within their respective jurisdiction. Writs against goods and lands are concurrent and run for three years, and can then be renewed. A land writ can only be issued where the judgment is $40 or upwards. Patent rights may now be sold under execution. Rights under trade marks are apparently not saleable under execution.

Exemptions. The following goods and chattels of a judgment debtor are exempt from seizure under writs of execution, or distress warrants for rent or taxes: The bed and bedding, and the necessary and ordinary wearing apparel of the debtor and his family, certain chattels, not exceeding in value $150, necessary fuel and food, not exceeding in value the sum of $40, stock in all not to exceed in value $100.00, and feed therefor for thirty days, tools and implements of, or chattels ordinarily used in, the debtor's occupation, to the value of $100; and of bees fifteen hives. Lands acquired under the Free Grant and Homestead Act are exempt from seizure and sale for debt for a period of twenty years from location of land being made by locatee or his widow, heirs, or devisess.

Foreign Corporations. Foreign corporations cannot as a rule do business in Ontario without payment of a license fee and complying with the laws of the Province or of the Dominion as to corporations. Contracts of foreign corporations are adjudicated upon in the same manner as if they were the contracts of domestic corporations. (See Revised Statutes of Ontario (1914) C. 179. (See Alien Enemies.)

Foreign Judgments. (See Judgments.)

Fraud vitiates everything. Reasonable diligence after discovery of fraud is required in order to prosecute a claim successfully.

Garnishment. In the high court and county court garnishment is effected by attachment of debts under order of court. In the division court garnishment is effected by service of the original summons upon the garnishee. Wages are protected from garnishment unless the sum be for wages amounting to $25, and then only to the extent of the excess. If the debt is for board or lodging, and the debtor is an unmarried man, or if married and the judge thinks the exemption unnecessary, then there is no exemption.

Holidays. In Ontario the legal holidays are Sunday, New Year's Day, Good Friday, Easter Monday, Victoria Day (24th May), Dominion Day, Labor Day, King's Birthday, Thanksgiving Day. Where the time allowed for doing any act expires, unless otherwise provided, on a holiday, it may be done on the next day succeeding.

Interest. Five per cent is the legal rate, except as to securities in force on 7th July, 1900. Banks can not recover more than 7 per cent for interest or discount. Parties may agree between themselves as to any rate of interest, but, where no rate has been agreed upon, the legal rate only is recoverable. But see the Dominion Moneylenders act (R. S. C. Chap. 122) limiting rate of interest to 12 per cent per annum on negotiable instruments contracts, or agreements concerning loans of money under $500, and to 5 per cent after judgment.

Judgments. Foreign judgments are all judgments recovered against any person outside of the Province, even though it be in any other province of the Dominion. A defendant sued in the courts of the Province on a foreign judgment of a court, to the jurisdiction of which he was subject, can not set up as a defense thereto any defense which he set up, or might have set up, to the original action if he was personally served with the process in such original action, or appeared or pleaded thereto, otherwise foreign judgments may be attacked for fraud or want of jurisdiction in the court in which judgment was obtained. In the case of actions on judgments obtained in the province of Quebec, if the service was not personal any defense may be set up which might have been made to the original judgment. (See Alien Enemies.)

Jurisdiction. (See Actions.)

Lands Titles System. Lands in Ontario may be under the Land Titles Act, R. S. O. (1914) C. 126., within the "lands titles system" of transfer, which is by certificate instead of deed. A mortgage is called a charge. Each holder of land gets a certificate from the office for the county—on that certificate are indorsed all transfers. No seal is necessary. Where papers are sent to the United States for execution, under this system, special directions will be required.

Limitations. All actions upon simple contracts, notes, bills, accounts, and all instruments not under seal and money demands, must be commenced and brought within six years from the time the cause of action arose or accrues, or from last payment thereon or written acknowledgment. Actions upon a bond or other specialty within twenty years. When the plaintiff is under any disability, such as infancy, coverture, or lunacy, the statute of limitations begins to run from the removal of the disability. Non-resident plaintiffs have no longer time than if they were resident. As against a non-resident defendant or when the cause of action did not accrue before he left Ontario, the action may be brought within time limited after return of defendant to Ontario. All actions to recover land and real estate must be brought and commenced within ten years from the time when the right of action first accrued. Judgments remain in force for twenty years and can be kept renewed. Actions on insurance policies must be brought within one year from death, or a further period of six months.

Married Women. A married woman can acquire, hold, and dispose of, by will or otherwise, any real or personal property, including any property acquired by her in any employment which she carries on separately from her husband, or by the exercise of any literary, artistic or scientific skill, as her separate property, and as though she were a femme sole, without the intervention of any trustee. She may enter into any contract, and be sued, either in contract or tort, and be liable as if a femme sole, and her husband need not be joined as a party. All damages and costs recovered against her in an action shall be payable out of her separate estate. No husband or wife shall be entitled to sue the other for tort in a civil action. A married woman may devise or bequeath her property by will. A wife is entitled to dower out of all the lands of which her husband was seized at and after their marriage in which she has not barred her dower. The husband can only be tenant by curtesy out of such lands as his wife may die seized or possessed of. Woman attains her majority at twenty-one years.

Mechanics' Liens. Every mechanic, machinist, laborer, builder, contractor, or other person doing work upon, or furnishing materials to be used in the construction of any building, or erecting, furnishing or placing machinery on or in connection with any building, has a lien for the price of the work, on such building, and the lands therewith, to the extent of the owner's interest. Payments made in good faith to contractors to the extent of 80 per cent (in the case of contracts of $15,000 or over, 85 per cent) are a discharge of the liens pro tanto. A statement of claim must be filed in the registry office of the county where the lands lie, within thirty days after the completion of the work, or the supplying of the materials, else the lien will cease. Proceedings to enforce the lien must be taken within ninety days from the completion of the work, in the Supreme Court of Ontario. Special laws are made as to reduction of legal expenses in these cases. Mechanics are entitled to a lien upon a chattel for work done thereon, and may sell the chattel after three months if the work is not paid for. If the chattel is delivered to the owner, the lien ceases.

Partnerships. All partnerships, for trading, mining, or manufacturing purposes, must be registered in the registry office of the registry division in which they intend to carry on business. The declaration must set out the full names, occupations, and residence of the partners, the business they propose to carry on, and for how long their partnership has existed or is to exist, and that the persons named in the affidavit are the only members of the partnership. This declaration must be filed within six months after the formation of the partnership. A penalty of $100 may be imposed in case of non-compliance with the act. A similar declaration shall be filed when and so often as any change in the partnership takes place.

Power of Attorney. May be general or special. If intended to affect land, must be verified by affidavit of execution in the same way as a deed, and must be capable of registry in the registry office. If intended to convey a particular parcel of land, such parcel must be described. A general power to convey lands would be registered in the general registry.

Probate Laws. A will is proved in the surrogate court of the county in which the deceased has his last place of abode. Affidavit of execution of will, death, place of abode, inventory, valuation, etc., must be produced. If no executor is named in will, administration is granted with will annexed. Trust companies frequently act as executors, the original executors named in the will renouncing in their favor.

Proof of Claims. (See Affirmations.)

Protest. Delay in giving notice of dishonor is excused where the delay is caused by circumstances beyond the control of the person giving notice. Where an inland bill (one which on the face of it purports to be both drawn and payable within Canada, or drawn upon some person resident therein) has been dishonored, it may be noted and protested for non-acceptance or non-payment, as the case may be. Where a foreign bill has been dishonored for non-acceptance, it must be duly protested for non-acceptance. If it is not so protested, the drawer and endorsers are discharged.

Redemption. The mortgagor is entitled to redeem the property so long as he is not barred by statutes of limitation or by sale made under powers contained in the mortgage.

Replevin. Replevin is now extended to all cases in which property is unlawfully taken or detained. A bond is required from the person replevying that the property shall be forthcoming in the event of the proceedings failing.

Succession Duties—R. S. O. 1914, Cap. 24 and amendment, 5 years V. C. 7. No duty shall be leviable on any estate, the value of which does not exceed $5,000. Where the aggregate value of the property of the deceased exceeds $25,000 and passes to the grandfather, grandmother, father, mother, husband, wife, child, son-in-law, or daughter-in-law of the deceased.

(a) Where the said aggregate value exceeds $25,000 and does not exceed $50,000, 1 per cent. For larger amounts, from 2 to 10 per cent.

Where the value exceeds $100,000 and the amount passing to any one person above mentioned exceeds the amount next mentioned, a further duty.

(b) Where the whole amount so passing to one person exceeds $100,000 and does not exceed $200,000, 1 per cent. For larger mounts, from 1½ to 5 per cent.

Where the aggregate value of the property of the deceased exceeds $5,000, and does not exceed $50,000 so much thereof as passes to lineal ancestor of the deceased except the grandfather, grandmother, father and mother, or to any brother or sister of the deceased, or to any descendant of such brother or sister, or to a brother or sister of the father or mother of the deceased, or to any descendant of such last mentioned brother or sister, 5 per cent, and larger amounts from 10 to 12½ per cent.

Where the value of any dutiable property exceeds $50,000 and the amount passing to any one person last mentioned, except grandfather, grandmother, father and mother, exceeds the amount next mentioned, a further duty shall be paid.

(c) Where the whole amount so passing to one person, exceeds $50,000 and does not exceed $100,000, 1 per cent. For larger amounts, from 1½ to 5 per cent.

Where the aggregate value exceeds $5,000 and does not exceed $10,000 and any part thereof passes to any person in any other degree of collateral consanguinity to the deceased than is above described, or to any stranger in blood to the deceased, save as is above provided for, the same is subject to a duty of 6 per cent of the value: exceeds $10,000 and not $50,000, 10 per cent; exceeds $50,000 and not $1,000,000, 15 per cent, and over $1,000,000, 20 per cent.

The Succession Duty Office assumes to tax property of non-residents in the province at a rate fixed by the total value of the estate.

Suits. (See Actions, Affidavit, Appeal, Arrest, Attachment, Commission, Evidence, Execution, Exemption, Garnishment, Judgment, Replevin.)

Taxes. The rate for the year is fixed by the council of each municipal corporation, and lands are charged therewith. Lands may be sold for taxes when they are in arrears for three years. The owner may redeem within one year after sale on repayment of amount of purchase money paid by purchaser at tax sale with 10 per cent added.

Transfer of Shares. A tax of 2 cents must be paid by the transferor in money or stamps for every $100 or fraction thereof of the par value of the stock of a company upon every change of ownership by sale, transfer or assignment of shares or debenture stock made or carried into effect in Ontario.

Wages. Upon an assignment for the benefit of creditors, a seizure under execution, or the administration of an estate, the wages of all persons in the employ of the assignor, execution debtor, or deceased are paid in priority to the claims of ordinary or general creditors to the extent of three months wages, and such persons rank as ordinary creditors for the remainder, if any, of their claims.

Wills must be in writing, and signed, but need not be sealed, by the testator or by some person in his presence and by his direction, such signature to be made or acknowledged by the testator, in the presence of two witnesses, both present at the same time, who shall sign their names as such witnesses, in the presence of the testator, and in the presence of one another. A common form of attestation clause is as follows:

"Signed and declared by the above-named A. B., as and for his last will and testament, in the presence of us, both present at the same time who, at his request and in his presence, have hereunto subscribed our names as witnesses.

C. D., of Toronto, clerk.

E F., of Hamilton, merchant. (Signed) A. B."

The gift to a witness, or to the husband or wife of a witness, is invalid. A will to pass personal property need only be in conformity with the law of the country in which the testator had his domicile. To pass real estate, however, the will must be valid and effectual for such purpose according to the law of the country where the real estate is situated. Change of domicile subsequently to the execution of a will, does not affect the validity of the will. A will, no matter how long executed before the death of the testator, is construed as if it had been executed immediately before his death. Hence, property acquired between the date of the will and the time of the testator's death may pass by the will.

THE LAWS OF

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND

Prepared and Revised by Messrs. McLeod & Bentley, Barristers, Charlottetown. (See Card in Attorneys' List.)

Acknowledgments. All deeds executed in the Province, must before registry, be either acknowledged by the party, or proved on oath by subscribing witness before a commissioner for proving deeds, or before the registrar. Deed executed abroad may be acknowledged by the parties, or proved on the oath of witness before the mayor of any city of the country where the deed is executed and certified under common seal of such city, or before any British consul, vice-consul, or consular agent, or before a judge of a court of record, or a notary public, certified under his official seal, or before a commissioner authorized by the government of the Province to take affidavits abroad in a court of record in the Province or to take acknowledgments of deeds abroad, or may be proved on the oath of subscribing witness before a justice of the peace in country where executed, the handwriting and official character of the justice to be certified under hand and seal of a notary public. (See Husband and Wife.)

Administration of Estates. There is one surrogate and probate court of the Province with office at Charlottetown. In this court letters of probate and administration are granted and estates of deceased persons usually administered. In cases of intestacy administration may be granted to the widow or next of kin; or if they neglect applying for letters of administration for thirty days after the death of the intestate, administration may be granted to a creditor after first citing the widow and next of kin and their refusing to administer. Claims should be proved against the estate within eight months after letters testamentary have been taken out, as after that time the executor, on being sued, may plead specially that he had no notice of the debt, and that he has applied the assets in his hands in payment of the debts proved against the estate and of which he had notice. If the personalty is insufficient to pay debts, executor or administrator may, by leave of the surrogate, sell the real estate. Estates of deceased persons may also be administered in the court of chancery, in which court lands are assets for the payment of debts in the event of the personal property of the deceased being insufficient. (See Taxes.)

Affidavits. Affidavits to be made abroad, to be used in this Province for any purpose for which affidavits might be used if made within the Province, may be sworn before a judge of a court of record, or of a superior court, or of a county court, or before a British consul, vice-consul, or consular agent, or before the mayor of any city or town, or before a notary public, provided the signature and official character of person before whom taken be certified under the hand and seal of a notary public, or under hand of a judge, clerk, or prothonotary of a court of record or of a superior or county court, and the seal of such court: or under hand of the mayor of any city or town, and the corporate seal of such city or town: or under the hand and official seal of a British ambassador, envoy, minister, charge d'affaires, and secretary of embassy or legation exercising his functions in any foreign country, a British consul-general, consul, vice-consul, acting consul, pro-consul, and consular agent exercising his functions in any foreign place. The person before whom oath taken may certify to his own official character and qualification under his hand and official seal.

Aliens. Previous to confederation (A. D. 1873), aliens might hold real estate not exceeding 200 acres. Now, by Dominion statute, aliens may hold real and personal property of every description the same as natural-born British subjects, and succession may be traced through aliens; but an alien is not eligible for any public office. Aliens may be summoned to defend suits in this Province in certain cases. (See Courts.)

Arbitration. If in any suit in supreme court matter in dispute consists wholly or in part of matters of mere account, which can not conveniently be tried in ordinary way, court or judge may order such matter wholly or in part to be referred to an arbitrator appointed by the parties or to an officer of the court.

Arrest. A resident debtor can not be arrested by process out of supreme court, except by judge's order, to be made on affidavit on proof of debt, and showing facts and circumstances to satisfy judge that there is good and probable cause for believing that debtor, unless forthwith apprehended, is about to quit the Province with intent to defraud creditor or creditors. Non-resident debtor, if found in the Province, may be arrested upon an affidavit of debt being made showing that he is a non-resident. Capias from county court may issue for any sum over $8 and not over $150, upon an affidavit being made of amount of debt and of belief that debtor is about to depart from the Province to evade payment of his debts.

Assignments. (See Insolvency.)

Attachments. The property of an absent or absconding debtor may be attached upon affidavit being made of the debt and of the fact that debtor is so absent or absconding. Property of a resident debtor, except debts, etc. (see Garnishment), can not be seized or attached until after judgment.

Banks. The agent or manager of any bank established abroad carrying on business in this Province is to be assessed and taxed on the average volume of business done here. (See Interest, Corporations.)

Bills of Exchange and Promissory Notes. No days of grace are allowed on bills payable on demand, or on presentation, or in which no time for payment is expressed. Three days of grace allowed on bills payable at sight, or at a fixed period after sight, or after date, or on or at a fixed period after the occurrence of a specified event certain to happen. If last day of grace falls on legal holiday, then day next following not being such holiday shall be last day of grace. In all matters relating to bills and notes, following days are legal holidays: Sundays, New Year's Day, Good Friday, Easter Monday, Victoria Day (May 24th), Christmas Day, The Birthday (or the day fixed by proclamation for the celebration of the birthday) of the reigning sovereign, and if such birthday is a Sunday, then the following day, 1st of July, and if 1st falls on Sunday, then 2d of July), any day appointed by proclamation for a public holiday, general fast, or general thanksgiving, Labor Day (the first Monday in September), day following New Year's, Victoria Day, or Christmas if these days fall on Sunday. Foreign bills must be protested, but inland bills do not require protest.

Brokers. Stock brokers are liable to pay an annual tax to the Provincial Treasurer and are also required (under penalty) to file with the Provincial Treasurer of the Province a copy of the charter and regulations (or proposed charter and regulations) of, and an affidavit or statutory declaration giving certain information, concerning every Company whose debentures, bonds, stocks or shares are about to be sold or purchased or offered for sale or purchase by such stock holder.

Chattel Mortgages and Deeds of Trust. Absolute bills of sale or transfer of chattels are void (except as between grantor and grantee) unless grantee forthwith upon execution thereof take actual possession of chattels and grantor ceases to have possession. Chattel mortgage requires to be registered and to have an affidavit indorsed made by the grantee or his agent to the effect that grantor is really indebted to the grantee in the amount expressed in the mortgage, or that a consideration of nature and amount therein expressed really and truly exists, and that to the best of his knowledge and belief the mortgage was not executed for the purpose or with the intent of protecting the property therein described from creditors of the grantor, or of defrauding the creditors of the grantor or any of them. Statutes of Elizabeth (13 Eliz. chap. 5, and 27 Eliz. chap. 4) are in force. Chattel mortgages or other conveyances or transfers (except such as are given for a present actual bona fide payment or advance of money, or made in consideration of any present actual bona fide sale or delivery of goods or other property) are void if given by a debtor in insolvent circumstances with intent to give an undue preference over other creditors or to prejudice or delay any of his creditors.

Contracts required to be in writing are: 1, negotiable instruments; 2, any promise by an executor or administrator to answer damages out of his own estate; 3, any promise to answer for the debt, default, or miscarriage of another person; 4, any agreement made upon consideration of marriage; 5, any contract of sale of lands or any interest in lands; 6, any agreement not to be performed within a year from the making thereof; 7, agreement for sale of goods, wares, and merchandise of value of $32 and upwards, unless accompanied by acceptance and receipt of goods by buyer, or his giving something in earnest to bind the bargain or in part payment. Leases for three years and under may be made verbally. A promise made after full age to pay a debt contracted during infancy must be in writing and signed. A representation as to character, credit, etc., made to enable another to obtain money or credit is not actionable unless in writing and signed by the party to be charged therewith. Contracts against public policy or morality are void. Persons incapacitated from contracting are infants, lunatics, persons of unsound mind. Married women may by contract bind their separate estates.

Corporations may be created by special Dominion or Provincial statute, or by letters patent issued under the Dominion or Provincial companies acts. The liability of shareholders is usually limited to the amount of shares subscribed, and when the shares are paid in full shareholders are discharged from further liability. Certain taxes are imposed upon foreign insurance and other companies transacting business within the Province.

The Statute further provided that such Company should transmit to the Provincial Secretary in the month of January in each year a statement showing all changes in the Directors, officers and agents of the Company that have taken place during the preceding year.

It has recently been decided by the Supreme Court of this Province that the statute of April 24, 1913 governing corporations was passed to protect the Public in dealing with such Companies, and that such Companies were prohibited from doing business in this Province until the statement required by the Act had been filed. Consequently any business transacted by such Company without having filed the required statement was illegal and no action could be brought in respect to it. The statute referred to was repealed on the 24th April, 1915 by the Companies Tax Act but the repealing statute preserves the penalties incurred by such Companies during the time they were in default and the business carried on in the Province in the two years during which the statute was in force by such companies as failed to comply with the requirements of the Act would thus appear to be invalid.

By the Companies Tax Act passed on the 24th April, 1915 certain taxes are imposed upon companies doing business in the Province. By this statute every Company liable to pay taxes is required, before carrying on business in the Province, to file with the Provincial Treasurer:

(1) A true copy of the charter and regulations of the company verified in manner satisfactory to the Provincial Treasurer and showing that the company by its charter has authority to carry on the business being carried on or about to be carried on in the Province, and if any instrument included in the aforesaid is not written in the English language, a notarially certified translation thereof; and shall also at the same time, and on the first day of April in each year thereafter, without any notice or demand therefor file with the Provincial Treasurer:

(2) An affidavit or statutory declaration that the company is still in existence and legally authorized to transact business under its charter, and containing information showing:—(a) The corporate name of the company; (b) How and under what special or general Act the company was incorporated: (c) Notice of the place where the head office without the Province is situate; (d) Notice of the city, town and county in this Province where the head office of the company in this Province is situate or proposed to be situate; (e) The amount of the authorized capital stock of the company; (f) The number of shares into which it is divided; (g) The names, addresses and occupations of each of the directors and officers of the company, and of the agent or person in charge of the company's business in this Province; (h) The time of the existence of the company if incorporated for a limited period; (i) In the case of a limited company, that the company is limited; (j) The amount of stock subscribed or issued and the amount paid up thereon; (k) In the case of an insurance company a copy of the last balance sheet and auditor's report thereon.

This last mentioned statute declares that non-compliance with its provisions as to filing such affidavit, declaration or document subjects the Company to liability for payment of a fine but does not prohibit the Company from carrying on business.

Costs. No attorney's costs or counsel fee are payable or can be recovered against a debtor on any action brought in the county courts. (See Courts.)

Courts. For the recovery of debts county courts have jurisdiction where debt does not exceed $150. Judge tries all cases without a jury, and no solicitors' or attorneys' fees are allowed. Sixteen circuits are established throughout the Province, at each of which a court is held in August, October, December, and March. A judgment in the county court can not affect land or title to land. Supreme court has jurisdiction in all actions at common law (except that no action can be brought for debt when amount is under $32). All actions are commenced by writ of summons. When claim is for a liquidated amount or debt, summons may be specially indorsed, and if defendant (resident in Province) fails to appear within eight days after service judgment by default may be entered and execution may issue in twelve days after last day for appearance. Summons may be served on a British subject residing out of the Province in respect of a cause of action arising within jurisdiction or in respect of the breach of a contract made within the jurisdiction. Proceedings in like cases may be brought against any person residing out of Province though not a British subject, but instead of a summons being served upon him he is served with a notice of the summons having been issued. In these cases time for appearance will be regulated according to distance from Province. Upon a minute of a judgment in supreme court being filed such judgment binds all interest in land then held by defendant and also such as he may acquire until judgment is paid. Such judgment will take priority over a subsequent deed or mortgage, and against a previous deed or mortgage, but registered subsequently. A chancery court also exists having full equitable jurisdiction.

Creditors' Bills. There is no statute authorizing a creditors' bill for general discovery and in aid of common law execution, but statutes enable a judgment creditor to examine the judgment debtor on oath before a judge touching his estate and effects and as to the disposition he has made of his property since the debt on which judgment was recovered was contracted, and as to what property he still has and what debts may be owing to him. Proceedings to annul fraudulent conveyances by a debtor may be taken by bill in equity under the English statutes of Elizabeth. Conveyances and securities made or given by a debtor in insolvent circumstances with intent to give a preference to one or more creditors over other creditors may be impeached and annulled under a Provincial statute. A creditor may also file a bill in equity for administration of the estate of a deceased debtor. (See Insolvency.)

Deeds, Mortgages, and Conveyances of real property must be made under seal and should be registered in order to prevent a later grantee or encumbrancer from obtaining priority by prior registration. The execution of deeds must be proved before registry by the acknowledgment of the grantee or by the oath of a witness before the proper officer, and his certificate of such acknowledgment indorsed thereon. Commissioners for taking such acknowledgments to deeds are appointed and where there is no such commissioner the execution of the deed may be proved before a notary public, certified under his official seal. (See Acknowledgment.) A married woman of full age may convey her interest in land by deed executed with her husband and a proper acknowledgment apart from her husband before a justice of the peace or a notary public that same was signed by her of her own free will and consent had without any compulsion, and that she was aware of the nature of the contents thereof. Any separate property of a married woman acquired since 1896 may be disposed of by her as if she were not married. Powers of attorney executed by a married woman authorizing another to convey land must describe the land to be conveyed with a sufficient certainty. No more than one witness is necessary to the execution of any deed unless same is executed in pursuance of a power of appointment specially directing more than one witness to be necessary. A wife should join her husband in conveying land in order to bar her right of dower. (See Dower.)

Depositions may be made by oath or by affirmation or solemn declaration. Witnesses abroad may have their evidence in an action taken by commission before a commissioner to be appointed by the judge or court who grants the order for commission. Witnesses within the Province who are sick, aged, or infirm, may give evidence in an action on commission on a proper application being made for the purpose. (See Affidavits.)

Descent and Distribution of Property. In cases of intestacy land (subject to widow's right of dower) is divided among all children or their legal representatives in equal shares, and in case there be no children or their representatives then to the next of kin in equal degree, but no representation admitted among collaterals after brothers' and sisters' children. If after death of a father, any of his children die intestate without wife or child in the lifetime of the mother, every brother and sister of the intestate shall have an equal share with her. When a brother and sister of the whole blood and a brother and sister of the half-blood shall be such next of kin, the distribution shall be confined to the brother and sister of the whole blood. When the next of kin shall be a brother or sister and a grandfather or grandmother, distribution shall be confined to the brother or sister or the representatives of them. The father may be heir to his child dying without issue, and shall be preferred as heir to such child before a brother or sister of such child. Personal estate (after payment of all debts) is distributed as follows: One-third to widow and residue in equal proportions amongst children and those legally representing them; if no children or representatives, then one-half to widow and residue amongst next of kin. No representation among collaterals after brothers' and sisters' children.

Dower. A wife is entitled to dower by the common law, and by statute the right is extended so as to attach to the husband's equitable estate of inheritance in possession and to estates partly legal and partly equitable. She is also entitled to dower when the husband was entitled to a right of entry or action in any land in which she would have had dower had he recovered possession thereof. Where a wife of unsound mind has a right of dower in her husband's land, the land may be sold freed from her dower by order of a judge of the supreme court.

Executions. Goods of defendant are bound by an execution out of supreme court from time same is placed in sheriff's hands. An execution from county court does not affect defendant's goods until same are actually levied on. Land may be sold under an execution issued out of supreme court after six months notice of such sale in manner provided by statute.

Exemptions. The wearing apparel and bedding of debtor and his family, and the tools and implements of his trade, one cooking stove and one cow, in all amounting to $50, are exempt from seizure under county court execution. The goods exempt from seizure under an execution out of supreme court are the necessary wearing apparel and bedding of debtor and family and the tools and instruments of his trade or calling, $16 in money and his last cow.

Foreign Judgments. The record of a judgment against a resident of this Province, obtained in any other province or country, is not conclusive evidence, in any suit to be brought on such judgment within this island, of the correctness of such judgment, but the defendant may dispute the facts or cause of action upon which such judgment is founded as fully as if such foreign judgment had never been given.

Fraud. Deeds obtained by fraud may be annulled by the court of chancery if impeached in due time and before innocent purchasers, for valuable consideration without notice of the fraud, have acquired rights. Judgments may also be set aside where obtained by fraud. (See also Insolvency.)

Garnishment. All sums of money, whether liquidated or unliquidated, payable to a debtor for any cause of action other than personal torts or wrongs, can be attached by a creditor either before or after judgment

Insolvency. Although the Dominion parliament has jurisdiction to pass a general law applicable to the provinces in cases of bankruptcy or insolvency, no such law now exists. By a statute of the Province, when a debtor is in insolvent circumstances or unable to pay his debts in full, or knows himself to be on the eve of insolvency, and voluntarily confesses a judgment in favor of a creditor, or makes any gift, conveyance, assignment, transfer, delivery, or payment of goods or chattels, or of bills, shares, or other property, real or personal, with intent to defeat, hinder, delay, or prejudice any of his creditors, or with intent to give any of his creditors an unjust preference over his other creditors, such confession of judgment deed, gift, conveyance, payment, etc., shall, as against his creditors who are prejudiced, delayed, or injured, be utterly void; such transaction, it impeached within sixty days, shall be presumed to be made with such intentions, if the effect of such transaction is to give to a creditor a preference over others and whether the grantee has any knowledge of the grantor's insolvency or of his intent or not. This does not, however, invalidate any gift, conveyance, assignment, or delivery of any property or any security executed bona fide for a present actual bona-fide payment in money, or for a present actual bona-fide sale or delivery of property, if the money or property so paid, sold, or delivered bear a reasonable value to the consideration therefor. A debtor may make a general assignment for the general benefit of his creditors, ratabl and without prejudice.

Interest. Parties may contract to pay interest at any rate agreed on. If no rate is mentioned, bills and notes carry interest after maturity at the rate of 5 per cent; but as to liabilities existing on and prior to July 7, 1900, the legal rate of interest, unless otherwise agreed, is 6 per cent. "Moneylenders" are prohibited from charging over 12 per cent per annum and interest shall be reduced to 5 per cent from the date of any judgment recovered for any amount lent.

Jurisdiction. (See also Courts.) The county courts have jurisdiction in all actions ex contractu and ex delicto where the debt or damage claimed does not exceed $150, except in the following actions: Detinue, replevin, or ejectment, or where the title of lands is brought in question, or in which the validity of any devise, bequest, or limitation is disputed; criminal conversation or seduction, breach of promise of marriage, actions against an executor or administrator, (but executors or administrators may bring actions in the said courts), or any action against a justice of the peace for anything done by him in the execution of his office, or any action upon a judgment in the supreme court. The supreme court has jurisdiction in all actions for $32 and upwards.

Liens. Lien notes and hire receipts given for manufactured goods or chattels (except "household furniture," which, however, does not include pianos, organs, or other musical instruments) are not valid against subsequent purchasers or mortgagees without notice for valuable consideration, unless at the time possession is given to the bailee the name and address of the manufacturer, bailor, or vendor of the same is printed, stamped, or engraved thereon, or otherwise plainly attached thereto. But this does not invalidate any note, receipt, or instrument evidencing the bailment or conditional sale, which is filed within ten days from its execution with the prothonotary of the court in the county in which the bailee or purchaser resides.

Limitations. On simple contracts, suits must be commenced within six years from time the debts fall due, or from the date of the last payment on account of such debt. A promise or acknowledgment in writing, signed by the debtor, is sufficient to take simple contracts out of the statute, and time will then begin to run from the date of such written promise for acknowledgment. Actions to recover any sums of money secured by any mortgage, judgment or lien, or otherwise, chargeable out of any land, must be brought within twenty years next after a present right to receive the same shall have accrued to some person capable or giving a discharge for the same, unless in the meantime some part of the principal money or interest thereon shall have been paid or some acknowledgment of the right thereto shall have been given in writing by the person by whom the same shall be payable, or his agent, and in such case within twenty years from the last of such payments or acknowledgments.

Married Woman is capable of acquiring, holding, and disposing of any real or personal property in the same manner as if she were a femme sole, and may enter into contracts, and may render herself liable in respect and to the extent of her separate property.

Notaries Public are appointed for the Province by the lieutenant governor, and have authority to take acknowledgments of married women, prove the execution of documents, protest bills of exchange and ships' protests, etc.

Replevin. When goods or chattels have been unlawfully distrained for rent, or taken or detained, an action of replevin will lie, by which the goods are returned by the sheriff to the party from whom they have been taken, on his entering into a bond with sureties that he will prosecute for damages. This action is seldom adopted, except in cases of illegal distraint for rent.

Stock-brokers. (See brokers.)

Taxes. The real and personal property of a deceased person if exceeding $3,000, are subject to a succession duty varying from 1 1-2 per cent to 7 1-2 per cent, according to the amount of the estate, and to what parties it passes. Stockbrokers with head office without the Province doing any business here will be taxed $150 a year. (See Banks.)

Wills. Wills must be signed in presence of two witnesses present at the same time, who shall in presence of the testator and in the presence of each other sign their names as witnesses. A witness to a will can take no benefit under it, but an executor named in will may be a witness.

THE LAWS OF QUEBEC

Revised by MESSRS. BROWN, MONTGOMERY & MCMICHAEL, Advocates, Montreal. (See Card in Attorneys' List.)

Acknowledgments. The proof of real estate instruments is made by affidavits of witness to execution. (See Affidavits.)

Actions may be brought in the courts of the province by any party, whether a resident or not, who has a civil right to enforce, or who seeks a remedy for an injury suffered. A married woman must be authorized by her husband before she can institute an action, and when she is sued, her husband must be also made a party to the action in order to authorize her to defend the suit. A minor is always represented by his tutor (guardian) except when he brings suit for the recovery of his wages, a person interdicted for insanity, prodigality or drunkenness by his Curator. The inhabitants of the province may be sued there for the fulfilment of obligations contracted by them in foreign countries, even in favor of a foreigner (civil code, art. 28). Non-resident plaintiffs may be required to give security for costs ranging from $15 to $400, and to file a power of attorney authorizing the solicitors to institute the action. The names in full of the plaintiffs and their places of residence and occupation, and the residence of the defendant must be given in writs, as also the partnership name when a firm is concerned. In the matter of corporations, the principal place of business should be mentioned. Married women and widows may be described as defendants under the surnames of their husbands or deceased husbands respectively, adding the words "wife of" or "widow of" and a sufficient designation of the husband. Any service upon the heirs of a person deceased within the previous six months may be made upon them collectively, without mentioning their names or residences, at the former domicile of the deceased.

Affidavits. Within the province must be taken before a judge or officer of the court, or a mayor, or a commissioner of the superior court for the province or a notary public. In Great Britain and Ireland, before the mayor, a Quebec commissioner, a commissioner appointed by the lord chancellor to receive affidavits in England, or a notary public. In British possessions, before the mayor, a Quebec commissioner or a judge of a superior court. In a foreign country, before the mayor or chief magistrate of any city, borough, or town under the common seal, or a British consul or consular agent, or a Quebec commissioner. They can only be taken in connection with judicial proceedings, or in cases especially provided by statutes, otherwise officer receiving them is criminally liable. Solemn declarations before any such functionary have the same force and effect in any but judicial proceedings.

Aliens have a right to acquire and transmit property (except shares in British ships) in the same manner as British subjects. Although not resident in Canada, they may sue or be sued in its courts for the fulfilment of obligations contracted toward or by them, even in foreign countries, provided a legal service can be effected upon them within the province. (See Actions.) They cannot, however, hold any public office nor exercise the franchise. They may be naturalized after a residence of three years. (See Actions, Corporations.)

Arrest. Arrest for debt does not exist in this province. But vide Capias and Attachment.

Assignment and Insolvency. An insolvent trader cannot give one or more creditors a preference over his other creditors. No voluntary abandonment of property can be made in the absence of capias or a demand of assignment unless with the consent of all the creditors Every trader who has ceased his payments, may be required by any unsecured creditor for a sum of $200 or upward, to make an abandonment of his property for the benefit of his creditors. The court appoints a curator, after taking the advice of the creditors, at a meeting called for that purpose, and the property is sold for the benefit of the creditors, amongst whom its proceeds are divided ratably, after payment of privileged claims. This abandonment only discharges the debtor to the extent of the amount which his creditors have received on account of their claims. The winding-up of insolvent banks, insurance companies, and trading corporations is regulated by the revised statutes of Canada, 1906, Ch. 144.

Attachment and Capias. A person may, even before judgment, upon affidavit, attach the property of his debtor, whether in the hands of such debtor himself, or of third parties, or arrest his person, on the ground of secretion of property, absconding with intent to defraud, and in the case of insolvency, of his refusing to assign. A capias for the arrest of a debtor cannot be issued for a sum less than $50, but his property may be attached before judgment for a debt of $5. To justify a capias, the debt must be a personal one, and created or payable within the provinces of Quebec or Ontario. A previous order from a judge is required if the capias is demanded for unliquidated damages Women, priests or ministers, and septuagenarians are not liable to be capiased, except after judgment in specified cases.

Banks. Banks are created by act of parliament of Canada and governed by federal law only (the bank act R. S. Canada 1906, Ch. 29.) The minimum capital is $500,000, and that amount must be subscribed and $250,000 paid in to minister of finance before it can obtain a certificate to do business. The latter amount is returned less $5,000 retained to secure the note issue. Majority of directors must be British subjects Shareholders are liable to creditors for an amount equal to the sum unpaid on their shares plus a further sum equal to the par value of their shares. Dividends are payable quarterly or half yearly. No dividend shall exceed 8 per cent until bank has a reserve fund equal to 30 per cent of paid up capital. Notes issued are in sum of $5.00 or in multiple of $5.00, and total issue shall never exceed amount of unimpaired paid up capital. Notes of $1.00, $2.00 and $5.00 are issued by the government. Banks may not advance on mortgages of land, or ships, or upon security of its own stock, or goods, wares, and merchandise. Banks are not allowed to recover more than 7 per cent for interest or discount.

Chattel Mortgages do not exist in Quebec. Movable property is not susceptible of hypothecation except as provided for shipping (See Deeds and Mortgages, and Liens and Privileges.)

Corporations are created by act of the parliament of Canada or of the legislature of Quebec, by special charter, or under the companies' acts of Canada, or of the province of Quebec. Share holders, except in case of banks, are only liable to the amount of their shares, and when these shares are paid in full, they are discharged from further liability, but directors are liable for wages of employes within certain limitations. Provision has been made for the winding up of joint stock companies under the winding-up act. (R. S. Canada 1906, Ch. 144.) Aliens can hold stock and are eligible for directors in any joint stock company. Foreign commercial corporations may transact business, sue, and be sued here. Foreign insurance companies are required to deposit with the government a certain amount in bonds or cash before they are permitted to do business in the Dominion. Corporations chartered outside of the province are required to obtain a license before carrying on business in the province and for such license a fee is payable based on the capital. They can hold real estate to the same extent that domestic corporations can and must be registered in the same manner as partnerships (see that word) under penalty.

Courts. The circuit court has original jurisdiction where the amount demanded is less than $100; the superior court where it is $100 or upward. Generally an appeal can be taken to the court of review in cases over $100 or court of king's bench in cases over $500. An appeal can also be had from the court of king's bench to the supreme court of Canada in all cases over $2,000, and to his majesty's privy council, in England, in all cases over $5,000, and in cases for smaller amounts to both courts, if questions of titles to land or if future rights are involved, or if a fee due to his majesty is claimed by the action.

Deeds or Conveyances. There is no special form required in the drafting of deeds or conveyances except in regard to real estate. No seal is necessary. If the parties can sign their names no witnesses to the signatures are necessary. The general rule can be laid down that deeds affecting chattels or moveables when executed outside of the Province should be executed in the form required by the law, where they are so executed. In relation to the conveyance of real estate when the deed is passed in the Province, it must be executed before a notary public who keeps the original and delivers copies which are accepted as proof of the contents thereof and signatures to the original deed, without any extrinsic proof. When deeds relating to the conveyance of real estate are executed outside the Province, they should be executed before one or two witnesses, and accompanied by an affidavit as to the execution of the deed, which affidavit must be attested according to the rules herein laid down. (See Affidavit, Mortgages and Registrations.)

Dower. Legal dower which results from marriage when no contract to the contrary, consists of the usufruct or life interest for the wife and the ownership for the children, of one-half of the immovables which belonged to the husband at the time of the marriage, and of one-half of those which accrued to him during marriage from his father or mother or other ascendants. This right opens only at the death of the husband, unless the contract of marriage provides for dower, being exigible on separation of property. Conventional dower exists on movable or immovable property when provided for by the marriage contract. It should be registered; in the case of legal dower registration of the marriage certificate, with description of the immovable subject to it, should be made. In the case of conventional dower, registration of the contract of marriage is also required.

Execution may, in all cases, be issued after fifteen days from the rendering of the judgment. In summary matters the delay is only eight days. It may, however, be taken before the expiration of these delays upon causes which would justify an attachment before judgment. Except for taxes, executions cannot issue against immovables unless the judgment is for a sum amounting to or exceeding $40, without costs.

Exemptions from Seizure. The debtor may withdraw from seizure, the bed, bedding, and bedsteads in use by himself and family; their ordinary and necessary wearing apparel. Two stoves and their pipes, one pot-hook and its accessories, one pair of andirons, one pair of tongs, and one shovel. All cooking utensils, knives, forks, spoons, and crockery in use by family, two tables, two cupboards or dressers, one lamp, one mirror, one washing stand with its toilet accessories, two trunks or valises, the carpets or matting covering the floors, one clock, one sofa and twelve chairs, to the extent of $50.00. All spinning wheels and weaving looms intended for domestic use, one axe, one saw, one gun, six traps, fishing nets, lines, and seines in common use, one tub, one washing machine, one wringer, one sewing machine, two pails, three flat irons, one blacking brush, one scrubbing brush, one broom. Fifty volumes of books, and all drawings executed by himself and family for their use; fuel and food sufficient for three months. One span of plough horses or a yoke of oxen, one horse, one summer vehicle and one winter vehicle, and the harness used by a carter or driver for earning his livelihood, one cow, two pigs, four sheep, the wool from such sheep, the cloth manufactured from such wool, and the hay and other fodder intended for feeding the said animals; one plough, one harrow, one working sleigh, one tumbril, one hay-cart with its wheels and all harness necessary and intended for farming purposes. Books relating to the profession, art, or trade of the debtor to value of $200. Tools and implements, or other chattels ordinarily used in his profession, art, or trade to value of $200. Bees to the extent of fifteen hives. The following are unseizable: Consecrated vessels and things used for religious worship. Family portraits. Immovables declared by a donor or testator or by law, to be exempt, and money or objects given upon condition of their being exempt. Alimentary allowances granted by a court, and sums of money or pensions given as alimony, even though the donor or testator has not expressly declared them to be exempt; they may, however, be seized for alimentary debts. Vessels, boats, and other fishing craft, tackle nets, seines, lines, or other fishing apparatus, and provisions belonging to any fisherman, and necessary for his subsistence and that of his family and for his fishing operations; such effects may, however, be seized and sold for their purchase price, but not between the first day of May and the first day of November. Pay and pensions of persons in the army or the navy. Pensions granted by institutions to their employes, by means of retiring funds or pension funds established among the said employes and instalments paid or to be paid to form such pension funds and to give a right to the benefits arising therefrom. Contingent emoluments and fees due to ecclesiastics and ministers of worship for current services and the income of their clerical endowment. Old age annuities created by the act of parliament of Canada, 7-8 Edw. VII., C. 5. Salaries of public officers, except for public officers and employes of the province, are seizable for: (a) One-fifth of monthly salary not exceeding $1,000 per annum. (b) One-fourth of every monthly salary exceeding $1,000, but not exceeding $2,000 per annum. (c) One-third of every monthly salary exceeding $2,000 per annum. Salaries of municipal officers and employes and of city or town assessors in incorporated cities or towns, except as to the proportions mentioned above. Four-fifths of the salary, remuneration or earnings of members of the corporation of pilots for and below the harbor of Quebec for the pilotage of vessels. All other salaries and wages, for: (a) Four-fifths when they do not exceed $3 per day. (b) Three-quarters when they exceed $3 but do not exceed $6 per day, and (c) Two-thirds when they exceed $6 per day.

Husband and Wife. Parties may before marrying remove themselves from the effect of the general laws of the province governing their property, as regards rights created by marriage, by entering into a marriage contract, which must be made in notarial form and is irrevocable. In this contract they may bind themselves by all kinds of agreements not contrary to public order or good morals. They cannot in any way after marriage, depart from the contract, even to confer benefits on each other, except that the husband may insure his life for the benefit of his wife or children, and such insurance can neither be seized by nor assigned to anybody else unless both husband and wife join in an assignment. If no marriage contract was entered into, the law of the matrimonial domicile governs. If when marrying, the husband's intention was to settle in this country and make his domicile here, and he does so, the law of this province would govern. When there is no antenuptial contract of marriage, there exists, community of property, which is in the nature of a partnership, and of which the husband is the head and has the sole control. Immovable property belonging to either consort before marriage, or inherited from father, mother, or other ascendant during marriage, remains the private property of such consort, and is excluded from the community. A married woman cannot become a public trader without the authorization of her husband. With this authorization she may obligate herself for all that relates to her commerce, and in such case she also binds her husband, if there be community between them. A wife, who is not a public trader, cannot bind herself either with or for her husband, otherwise than as being common as to property. Separation as to bed and board, which does not dissolve the marriage tie, is obtained from the tribunals for cause. It involves separation as to property. Divorce is only granted by special act of parliament. Every married person carrying on business must register the particulars of the financial relations between him and his wife, and whether they are common or separated as to property.

Interest. Any interest may be charged which the parties may lawfully agree upon. However, in loans of less than $500, by a professional money lender wherein the interest charged is more than 12 per cent per annum, the court may reopen the transaction and reduce the amount, and, in any event, give the debtor a delay to pay the interest. Money-lenders charging more than 12 per cent interest are liable to one year's imprisonment or $1,000 penalty. If there is no agreement upon rate, the law fixes the rate of interest at 5 per cent. Corporations, except home and British insurance companies, and those constituted for religious, educational, and charitable purposes, in the provinces of Ontario and Quebec, cannot receive more than 6 per cent. Banks are not subject to any penalties for usury, but cannot recover more than 7 per cent.

Judgments are valid for thirty years. In regard to movables, executions thereon may issue in eight or fifteen days and sale effected in short delays. The registration of a judgment against the immovable property of the debtor operates as a mortgage claim thereon in the creditor's favor. It takes about a week to obtain judgment in either the superior or circuit court if the action be not contested.

Legislature (meeting of). According to Section 86 of the British North America Act, 1867, there shall be a session of the Quebec Legislature once at least in every year, so that twelve months shall not intervene between the last sitting of the Legislature in the province in one session and its first sitting in the next session. No special date for the regular meeting of the Legislature is fixed by law; it usually sits in the month of March.

Liens and Privileges. In cases of insolvency, the unpaid vendor of a thing has two privileged rights: A right to revendicate it, and a right of preference on the proceeds of the sale; but these rights must be exercised within thirty days from the date of delivery. But, if the debtor is not insolvent, the creditor can only revendicate subject to the conditions: that the sale is not made on credit, that the thing sold is still intact and in the same condition, that it has not passed into the hands of a third party who has paid the price, that the revendication be exercised within eight days of the delivery, or thirty days in case of insolvency. He has also the right to demand the dissolution of the sale, for non-payment of the price, if the thing sold remain in possession of the buyer: but in case of insolvency, this right can only be exercised during the thirty days next after delivery. Sale is complete by the consent alone of the parties, and before delivery. The seller is not obliged to deliver the thing if the buyer does not pay the price, unless a term has been granted for the payment of it, nor, in the latter case, if the purchaser, since has become insolvent. A promise of sale, accompanied by actual delivery, is equivalent to a sale. The right of stoppage in transitu may be exercised when the goods are in possession of third parties as agents for their delivery.

Limitation of Actions. Judgments and registered titles to and claims against real property can only be prescribed by thirty years, but possession under a translatory title as proprietor, and in good faith, of an immovable for ten years, covers defects of title. Actions in restitution of minors for lesion, in rectification of tutors' accounts, and in rescission of contracts for error, fraud, violence, or fear, are prescribed by ten years. After the same delay architects and contractors are discharged from warranty of work done or directed. Actions on bills of exchange, promissory notes, accounts, and generally all claims of a commercial nature, are prescribable by five years. Prescription of corporate movables takes place after the lapse of three years, reckoning from the date of possession, in favor of a possessor in good faith. There are also certain short prescriptions of two years, and one year, and statutory limitations. Prescription may be renounced or interrupted.

Married Women. (See Husband and Wife.)

Mortgages and Registration. The common law mortgage does not exist but has its equivalent in the "hypothec" which constitutes a charge or lien on immovables giving to the creditor the right to bring the property to judicial sale and to be paid by preference on the proceeds. The deed creating the hypothec must be passed before a notary public in this Province. Other deeds affecting lands if executed in the Province should be passed before a notary public to allow of their registration in a convenient manner. If executed elsewhere, such other are valid if executed according to the laws of the place where they are passed, but the signatures to the same must be properly authenticated to admit of registration. Where the lands are held in free and common socage, such deeds may be passed, either before a notary, or before two witnesses, one of whom makes affidavit to the signatures, in order to prove their authenticity. To take effect from the time they were made, they must be registered within thirty days, otherwise, they do not take effect, as regards third parties, until registered. Hypotheca can only be granted on real estate; they can not be given on movables or chattels except as provided in the special statutes respecting shipping and banking. Effects may, however, be pledged by being placed in the hands of a creditor to secure his debt, the lien created by the pledge exists only so long as the thing remains in the hands of the creditor, or of a third party agreed upon by the creditor and debtor. Judgments give liens only on the real property against which they are registered.

Notes and Bills of Exchange. Bills of exchange and promissory notes must be made payable in money, and must be unconditional and absolute. They are transferable by indorsement and delivery, or, when payable to bearer, by delivery only. When a particular place of payment is mentioned, not necessarily a bank, presentment must be made there, and if not paid, the note must be protested for non-payment in order to hold the endorsers liable. If payable at a bank, presentment may be made either within or after usual banking hours. When payable generally, i. e., when no place of payment is mentioned in the instrument, presentment must be made to the party primarily liable, either personally, or at his domicile, or office, or usual place of business. If he be dead, or absent from the Province, presentment may be made at his last known residence or place of business. In the case of insolvency, all current paper of the insolvent becomes immediately due and exigible. The place of payment of a bill of exchange may be fixed by the acceptor in his acceptance. The commercial law of Quebec is founded mainly on the French law, but a great many details thereof come from the old English law. Three days of grace are allowed on all bills and notes except those payable on demand. If the day on which they would otherwise become due is a legal holiday, the delay is of right extended to the next day. Payment must include interest from the last day of grace and all expenses of noting and protesting and notices legally incurred In the case of bills payable elsewhere than in Canada and Newfoundland, damages are also allowed equal to the costs of exchange and re-exchange. Indorsers and other parties secondarily liable are only held by protest and notice.

Partnerships must be registered, as also must all persons carrying on business alone, under a name different from their own, in the office of the registrar and the prothonotary in each county and district where they carry on business. Joint stock companies must be registered in the same manner. Persons doing business under name of another, the word "registered" must be added. The laws applicable to commercial partnerships are derived from the French and English commercial laws. Partnership property must go to payment of firm debts in preference to debts of a partner, and in case such property be found insufficient for the purpose, the private property of the partners or of any one of them is also to be applied to the payment of the debts of the partnership; but only after the payment out of it of the separate creditors of such partners or partner respectively. Partnerships may be limited or general. If limited, the following declaration must be registered: 1. The name or firm of the partnership. 2. The general nature of the business. 3. The names and residences respectively of all the general and special partners. 4. The matrimonial status of the partners. 5. The amount of capital contributed by each. 6. The period at which the partnership commenced and that of its termination. The general partners in a limited partnership are jointly and severally liable for debts, but the special partners are only liable to the extent of the amount they concontributed. If above statement not registered all partners are jointly and severally liable. In general partnerships all partners are jointly and severally liable.

Succession. In case of intestacy children or their descendants succeed to their ascendants without distinction of sex or primogeniture, and whether the issue of the same or different marriages. If no descendants, the parents get half the estate and the remainder goes to the brothers, sisters, nephews, and nieces in the first degree. If no brothers, sisters, nephews, or nieces in the first degree, the parents divide the estate equally between them, and if no parents, the succession is divided equally between the nearest ascendants of the paternal line and the nearest ascendants of the maternal line. If the parents have previously died, the brothers, sisters, nephews, and nieces in the first degree exclude the other ascendants and collaterals. The division is made equally among them if they all be born of the same marriage, but, if not, an equal division is made between the two lines of the deceased, paternal and maternal, those of the whole blood sharing in each line, and those of the half blood sharing each in his own line only. If there be brothers, sisters, nephews, and nieces on one side only, they exclude all the relations of the other line. If the deceased have left no issue, nor father nor mother, nor brothers nor sisters, nor nephews, nor nieces, in the first degree, and only ascendants in one line, the nearest ascendant takes one-half of the succession, and the nearest collateral relation on the other side gets the other half. If no ascendant, the nearest collateral relation of the paternal line gets one-half, and the other goes to the nearest of the maternal line. Relations beyond the twelfth degree do not inherit, and, in that case, the succession belongs to the surviving consort. In default of a surviving consort it falls to the crown. These different persons represent the deceased, and claims against his estate should accordingly be made against them.

Wills. Wills may be made in three different forms: 1. In authentic form, to wit, passed before a notary public and two witnesses, or before two notaries public. The original will, made in authentic form, remains with the notary, who furnishes certified copies thereof. 2. In holograph form, to wit, wholly written and signed by the testator; these wills require no witnesses, and a will so made in a foreign country disposing of property in the Province of Quebec would be valid in the latter, provided the testator has his domicile in the Province, or that the law of the country where the will is made recognizes this form of will. 3. In the form derived from the laws of England to wit, before two witnesses, who attest and sign the will immediately in presence of the testator and at his request, and in the presence of each other. Wills made in authentic form need no probate, but those made in the other forms must be probated. Any one can dispose absolutely, and without restriction, of the whole of his property, movable or immovable, by will. Executors appointed under a will have possession of the movable estate of the testator, and are allowed a year and a day to carry out the provisions of the will. They can be given the most absolute powers by the testator, and their seizin may be extended by the terms of the will to immovables and beyond the year and the day allowed by law. Wills executed in a foreign country are void in the province of Quebec, unless executed according to the laws of Quebec, or according to the forms required by the laws of the country where they are made.

THE LAWS OF SASKATCHEWAN

Compiled by CROSS, JONAH, HUGG & FORBES, of the Saskatchewan Bar, Regina, Saskatchewan. (See card in Attorneys' List.)

Note. The laws existing in the Northwest Territories prior to the formation of the two Provinces are still in force with alterations made by the Provincial Statutes.—Editor.

(Revised to July 1st, 1915.)

Generally all laws and all orders and regulations made thereunder, so far as they are not inconsistent with anything contained in this Act, or as to which this Act contains no provision intended as a substitute therefor, and all courts of civil and criminal jurisdiction, and all commissions, powers, authorities and functions, and all officers and functionaries, judicial, administrative and ministerial, existing immediately before the coming into force of this Act in the territory hereby established as the Province of Saskatchewan, shall continue in the said Province as if this Act and the Alberta Act had not been passed; subject, nevertheless, except with respect to such as are enacted by or existing under Acts of the Parliament of Great Britain, or of the Parliament of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, to be repealed, abolished or altered by the Parliament of Canada, or by the Legislature of the said Province, according to the authority of the Parliament or of the said Legislature. 4-5 Ed. VII. c. 42, s. 16 (part), the Saskatchewan Act.

Assignments for the benefit of creditors must be made to a trust company authorized to act under the provisions of the Assignments Act. An assignment of "all my personal property and all my real estate, credits and effects which may be seized and sold under execution" or words to the like effect is a sufficient assignment and vests the property in the assignee except such as is exempt under execution. Provision is made by statute for a pro rata distribution between creditors of the property assigned, and the act applies to an assignment, whether expressed to be made under it or not. Meetings of creditors are provided for by the statute. All questions at meetings are to be decided by a majority of votes calculated as provided by statute. Creditors in proving claims must state whether they hold security. If the security be on the estate of the debtor, or on the estate of a third party for whom the debtor is secondarily liable, the creditor must value the security, and the creditors may consent to his ranking, after deducting such valuation; or an assignment may be required of the security at an advance of ten per cent, to be paid out of the estate as soon as the assignee has realized the security, and the creditor in such case may rank for the difference. If the creditor claims on a negotiable instrument on which the debtor is only indirectly or secondarily liable, and which is not mature or exigible, such creditor is to value the liability of the person primarily liable; but after the maturity of the liability and its non-payment, the creditor may amend and re-value his claim. Claims must be proved by affidavit and vouchers must be furnished. A creditor holding a claim not accrued may prove and vote. Interest is to be deducted in fixing the amount of such a claim. The law of set-off applies to claims against the estate. Employees are paid three months' wages in priority to other claims. A landlord has a preferential lien for rent on distrainable effects. The preference is restricted to arrears of rent due during the period of three months next preceding and for three months following the execution of the assignment. His right to rank as ordinary creditor for unexpired term of lease is restricted to rent for six months following execution of assignment if he has no preferential lien for any period subsequent to the assignment, and if he has any such preferential lien then to the difference between the period for which such lien exists and said six months.

Attachment. Of Debts. The plaintiff in any action for a debt or liquidated demand before or after judgment, and any person who has obtained a judgment or order for the recovery or payment of money may issue a garnishee summons, which is issued upon the plaintiff or judgment creditor, his advocate or agent filing with the clerk an affidavit showing the nature and amount of the claim or judgment, and swearing positively to the indebtedness and stating to the best of the deponent's information and belief the proposed garnishee (naming him) is indebted to such defendant or judgment debtor. Service of such garnishee summons shall bind any debt due or accruing due, from the garnishee to the defendant or judgment debtor. No debt due or accruing to a mechanic, workman, labourer, servant, clerk or employee for or in respect of his wages or salary, shall be liable to seizure or attachment unless the same exceeds $25, and then only to the extent of the excess. This exemption of $25 does not apply to debts for board and lodging. If the garnishee disputes his liability he shall enter a statement to that effect with the clerk; otherwise twenty days after service judgment may be signed against him.

Bills of Sale and Chattel Mortgages. Bills of Sale and Chattel Mortgages not accompanied by an immediate delivery and an actual change of possession of the things sold or mortgaged, must be registered within 30 days from execution, with an affidavit of execution and an affidavit of bona fides, which varies according to the circumstances of the case. They take effect from the date of registration only. In case they are not registered as provided for, or in case the consideration for which they are made is not truly expressed, they are null and void as against creditors, and subsequent purchasers, and mortgages in good faith for valuable consideration. No mortgage, bill of sale, lien, charge, incumbrance, conveyance, transfer or assignment intended to operate or have effect as a security in so far as it assumes to bind or affect any growing crop, or crop to be grown, shall be valid, unless the same be as security for the purchase price of seed grain. There are special provisions relating to seed grain mortgages. Mortgages filed cease to be valid as against creditors, etc. after two years, unless renewed. Further renewals after first renewal must be yearly. Renewal is made by statement in form prescribed, which shows interest of mortgagee, assignee, etc., full statement of amount due, all payments on account, with affidavit of truth of the statement. In case of removal from one district to another three weeks are allowed to file copy of mortgage in office for district to which goods are removed. Notice of intention to remove must be given to the mortgagee twenty days prior to removal. Any person failing to give such notice is liable to a penalty not exceeding $100.00.

In the event of the permanent removal into the province of goods and chattels subject to a mortgage or bill of sale made without the Province, from a place where such goods and chattels were when such chattel mortgage or bill of sale was given, a copy of such chattel mortgage or bill of sale, and of the affidavits and documents and instruments relating thereto verified as compared copies, must be filed with the Registration Clerk of the district to which such goods and chattels are removed within three weeks of such removal.

No chattels covered by any chattel mortgage may be seized or sold except by the Sheriff of the Judicial District within which such chattels, are situated or some other person duly authorized by him for the purpose.

Bills of sale and chattel mortgages given by railway companies, covering cars, equipment, rolling stock, etc., are not required to be filed with the Registration Clerk, but the same or sworn copies thereof may be filed with the Registrar of Joint Stock Companies within the prescribed time for filing chattel mortgages, and from the date of such filing shall have priority without renewal, affidavit of execution or of bona fides. (Vide Exemptions.)

Book Debts, Accounts or Debts to be Incurred. Assignments of these by retail trader or merchant must be executed, attested and registered as chattel mortgages.

Bulk Sales. Whenever a sale of stock in bulk, i. e., out of the usual course of vendor's trade or business or of the entire stock in trade or of an interest in the vendor's business or trade, the purchaser must demand and receive from the vendor a verified statement showing the names, addresses, and claims of all creditors before paying to the vendor any part of the purchase money or giving any notes or security therefor. One of the following provisions must be complied with (1) the vendor must deliver to the purchaser a written waiver of the Act from creditors representing not less than 60 per cent in number and amount of claims as shown by said statement or (2) the purchaser must pay the whole purchase price and deliver all notes and securities for same to a trust company authorized to act as assignee under The Assignments Act for distribution among creditors as shown by said statement. If provisions of the Act not complied with, sale is fraudulent and void against creditors unless all creditors paid in full.

Decedent's Estate. An officer known as the Official Administrator is appointed for each Judicial District, or such part thereof as may be desirable, who administers the estate if no application be made for probate or administration within one month after decease of any person. He also takes possession of any neglected property of deceased. Application is made to a judge in chambers for an order for executor, administrator or official administrator, to advertise for creditors, notice to send in claims is given by advertisement, which must be verified by stautory declaration, also stating securities held and value thereof. Distribution is made after time named in the order. Claimants not filing within time limited do not share in the distribution, but may follow property into hands of person receiving same. Administrators and official administrator must pass accounts before the judge within two years after grant of letters.

In administration simple contract and specialty debts rank equally, but judgment debts have a priority.

Devolution of Estates. Both real and personal property descend and are distributed in the same manner. The property of any man dying intestate leaving a widow but no issue shall belong to such widow absolutely, provided that prior to his death she has not left him and lived in adultery after leaving him.

If he dies intestate leaving widow and child or children, the widow takes one-third and child or children take remainder in equal shares.

The father of a person dying intestate without leaving a wife or child is entitled to the whole estate subject to payment of debts.

The mother of any person dying intestate without a wife, child or father shall be entitled to the whole. In the distribution of both real and personal property of any woman dying intestate, illegitimate children shall have the same rights as if legitimate. In the event of an illegitimate child dying intestate and without issue, mother takes both real and personal property.

If a married woman die intestate same rules apply as of husband dying intestate.

If under will husband or widow takes less than if deceased had died intestate leaving children, husband or wife may apply to supreme court for relief. Application must be made within six months.

Dower. No Transfer, Agreement for Sale, lease or other instrument intended to transfer or convey any interest in a homestead (i. e., the home) shall be effectual for such purposes and no Mortgage or encumbrance intended to charge any homestead with the payment of a sum of money shall be valid unless the same is signed by the owner and his wife if he has a wife. The wife must appear before one of several officers named in the Act separate and apart from her husband and have the instrument explained before signature by her and such official must give a certificate in the form prescribed by the Act. Knowledge on the part of a transferee, mortgagee, encumbrancee, or lessee that the land described in such instrument is the homestead and that the party executing the instrument has a wife who is not a party thereto, is fraud and in an action by the wife such instrument or any Certificate of Title issued thereon to any person affected by such fraud may be set aside and cancelled. On the death of the owner of a homestead no instrument signed by the personal representative shall be effectual to pass any estate or interest in the same or render it liable for the payment of any sum of money unless the same is executed by the wife as aforesaid so long as the homestead is exempt from seizure under execution. (Vide Exemptions as to circumstances in which homestead is exempt from seizure after death of owner.)

Examination of Judgment Debtor. When a judgment or order is for the recovery or payment of money, the party entitled to enforce it can obtain an ex parte order for the examination of the debtor, or in the case of a corporation, of any officer thereof, as to whether any and what debts are owing to the debtor, and whether the debtor has any and what means of satisfying the judgment or order. The examination is for the purpose of discovery only, and no order is to be made on the evidence given. It may be used on any subsequent proceedings between the same parties, or between the execution creditor, and any transferee of the property and effects of the execution debtor, or in any proceeding to obtain payment directly or indirectly, whether by attachment of debts, equitable execution or otherwise.

Execution. May issue immediately after judgment. An Execution expires in two years unless renewed. Execution may be stayed on special grounds on motion to a judge, who may impose terms as to security, etc.

Exemptions. The following real and personal property of an execution debtor and his family are free from seizure by virtue of all writs of execution:

1. The necessary and ordinary clothing of himself and his family.
2. Furniture, household furnishings, dairy utensils, swine and poultry to the extent of five hundred dollars.
3. The necessary food for the family of the execution debtor during six months, which may include grain and flour, or vegetables and meat, either prepared for use or on foot.
4. Four oxen, horses or mules, or any four of them, six cows, six sheep, four pigs, and fifty domestic fowls, besides the animals the execution debtor may have chosen to keep for food purposes, and food for the same for the months of November, December, January, February, March, and April, or for such of these months, or portions thereof, as may follow the date of seizure be made between the first day of August and the thirtieth day of April next ensuing.
5. The harness necessary for four animals, one wagon or two carts, one mower or cradle and scythe, one breaking plough, one cross plough, one set of harrows, one horse rake, one sewing machine, one reaper or binder, one set of sleighs, and one seed drill.
6. The books of a professional man.

7. The tools and necessary implements to the extent of $200 used by the execution debtor in the practice of his trade or profession.

8. Seed grain sufficient to seed all his land under cultivation not exceeding 80 acres, at the rate of two bushels per acre, defendant to have choice of seed, and fourteen bushels of potatoes.

9. The homestead, provided that the same be not more than 160 acres; in case it be more the surplus may be sold subject to any lien or incumbrance thereon the execution forms a lien or charge on the homestead, but sale cannot be enforced under the execution.

10. The house and buildings occupied by the execution debtor, and also the lot or lots on which the same are situate according to the registered plan of the same to the extent of fifteen hundred dollars.

Any person who has executed a chattel mortgage on any of the chattels mentioned in paragraphs 4 or 5 shall in case of a seizure under such mortgage have the right to claim as exempt from such seizure and from sale any such chattels covered by said mortgage which cannot be so seized or sold without depriving the mortgagor of the number or part of the number of the kind of such chattels as he might hold free from seizure by execution. A person cannot contract not to take the benefit of this provision.

The debtor is entitled to choice from the greater quantity of the same kind of articles. None of the above articles except food, clothing and bedding, when their price forms the subject matter of the judgment upon which the execution is issued, are exempt from seizure. No exemptions in case of execution issued upon a judgment or order for the payment of alimony, nor when debtor has absconded or is about to abscond from Saskatchewan leaving no wife or family. In case of death of the execution debtor, the exemptions may be claimed, if the property is in the use and enjoyment of the widow and children, or widow, or children, of the deceased, and is necessary for their maintenance and support.

Fraudulent Conveyances. A judge may order the examination of an execution debtor and any transferee of any of his property before an examiner. The creditor can then proceed by a summons in chambers and use the examinations as evidence.

Insurance. Every person of the full age of 21 years has an unlimited insurable interest in his own life and may effect insurance of his person for the whole or any part of his life for the benefit of himself, his estate or any other person. If premiums paid on such insurance are paid with intent to defraud creditors, they may receive out of insurance money an amount not exceeding the premiums so paid and interest thereon.

Insurance may be effected by a parent upon the life of his child under 21 years of age provided the child is at least one year of age at the time the insurance is effected. If the child dies under the age of ten years the total amount of all insurance moneys payable on the death is limited by a scale set forth in the Act.

A person not of the full age of twenty-one years but of the age of 15 years or upwards may effect insurance on his own life for his own benefit, for the benefit of a preferred beneficiary, or of a father, brother or sister.

Preferred beneficiaries constitute a class and include the husband, wife, children, grandchildren and mother of the assured.

The assured may designate the beneficiary by the contract of insurance or by an instrument in writing attached to or endorsed on it or by an instrument in writing including a will otherwise in any way identifying the contract and may in the same way from time to time appoint or apportion the insurance money or alter or revoke the benefits or add or substitute any beneficiary or divert the insurance money wholly or in part to himself or his estate but not so as to alter or divert the benefit of any person who is a beneficiary for value nor so as to alter or divert the benefit of a person who is of the class of preferred beneficiaries to a person not of that class or to the assured or his estate.

If one of several beneficiaries dies in the life time of the assured and no apportionment or other disposition is subsequently made, the insurance shall be for the benefit of the surviving beneficiaries in equal portions if more than one. If all beneficiaries so die and no other disposition is made, the insurance forms part of the assured's estate.

Where it is stated in the contract or declaration that the money is for the benefit of the wife, or wife and children, or children, the words "wife" and "children" refer to all those of the class living at maturity of the contract and also children living at maturity of the contract of any child of the assured who predeceased him and the last mentioned children take the share their parent would have taken if alive. If a contract of insurance is declared to be for the benefit of a wife only designated by name, it shall be deemed to be for the benefit of the wife living at the maturity of the contract and all children of the assured living at such time as if the contract had been declared to be for the benefit of wife and children generally.

Where one or more designated preferred beneficiaries dies in the lifetime of the assured whether an apportionment has been made or not, the assured may provide that the share or shares of the person so dying shall be for the benefit of the assured or his estate or any other person. In the absence of such declaration the share of any person so dying shall be for the benefit in equal shares of the survivors of such designated preferred beneficiaries except where the person dying is a child of assured leaving children, in which case such children take share their parent would have been entitled to.

Interest. The legal rate is 5 per cent, but any rate may be agreed upon.

Justices of the Peace. These officials have jurisdiction through the Province. They have a limited civil jurisdiction in matters between masters and servants, and in regard to trespass of animals and estray animals and in recovery of debts not exceeding $100.00.

Judgments. Where the claim is for a debt or liquidated demand, and no appearance is entered within the time limited, which varies, plaintiff can enter final judgment for claim and costs. Appearance may be struck out on a four-day summons if defendant has no defence on the merits. No judgment can be obtained except by issuing writ and giving defendant opportunity to defend.

Liens. Where goods over the value of $15 are sold upon condition that the right of proprty or possession shall not pass until the payment of the purchase price, a copy of the agreement of sale with affidavit of bona fides must be filed in the registration district within which the purchaser resides, within thirty days, or the seller cannot set up his right against subsequent purchasers, mortgagees or creditors. There must be a sufficient description of the goods sold so that they may be readily and easily known and distinguished. In case the vendor repossesses the goods he must retain the same for twenty days before selling, during which time the purchaser may redeem, and he must also give purchaser notice of the sale eight days before it takes place.

Manufactured goods, having at the time of delivery thereof, to the buyer or bailee the manufacturer's or vendor's name painted, printed or stamped thereon or plainly attached thereto by a plate or similar device, are not within the provisions of the Ordinance if such manufacturer or vendor (being the seller or bailor of such goods or chattels) keeps an office in the Province where inquiry may be had and information procured concerning such sale or bailment, and if such manufacturer or vendor, or the agent thereof gives such information within five days of request therefor made in person or by registered letter.

Goods comprised in a lien note or conditional sale may not be removed into another registration district unless notice of intention to remove is given to vendor not less than 20 days before removal. Any person violating this provision is liable to a penalty not exceeding $100.00. (See also Mechanics Liens.)

Limitation of Actions. All actions for the recovery of merchants' accounts, bills, notes, and all actions of debt grounded upon any lending or other contract without specialty shall be commenced within six years after the cause of such action arose.

The provisions of The Real Property Limitation Act, 1874, being chapter 54 of the Statutes of the Imperial Parliament, passed in the 37th and 38th years of Her Majesty's reign, are declared to be in force, and to have been in force since the pasing thereof.

Judgments outlaw in twelve years, and contract under seal in twelve years.

Married Women. They have all the rights and are subject to all liabilities of a femme sole, and may in all respects deal with land as though unmarried.

Mechanics' Liens. The Mechanics' Lien Act gives a contractor, mechanic, labourer and material man a lien for work done or material furnished upon the interest of the owner in the erection, building, land, etc.

A labourer cannot sign away his right to a lien.

The lien created by the Act has priority over all judgments, executions, assignments, attachments, garnishments and receiving orders, recovered, issued or made after such lien arises and over all conveyances or mortgages registered after registration of such lien.

The owner of the building, etc., upon which the work is being done must retain 20 per cent of the cost for 30 days after completion thereof.

Every mechanic or labourer whose lien is for wages shall to the extent of 30 days' wages have priority over all other liens.

A claim for lien may be filed in the Land Titles Office of the Land Registration District, in which the land is situated.

(a) By a contractor or sub-contractor during the performance of the contract or within 30 days after completion.

(b) For services during the performance of the services or within 30 days after completion.

(c) For wages during the performance of the work or within thirty days after last day's work.

(d) For materials at any time before or during the furnishing or within 30 days after the furnishing of the last material.

Failure to file a lien within the times above mentioned or to commence an action within such times to enforce such lien defeats such lien as against intervening parties becoming entitled to a lien or charge upon the land whose claim in respect of said land is registered prior to the registration of such lien and as against an owner in respect of payments made in good faith to a contractor after the expiration of said period of 30 days and before any claim of lien is filed or notice thereof given to an owner.

Once a lien is filed it remains in force until withdrawn or otherwise removed by proceedings under the Act.

The taking of security or recovery of a personal judgment does not merge the lien.

Proceedings to enforce a lien are taken in the District Court.

Real Estate. The Torrens System has been in force in the Territories since the 1st January, 1887, and is continued in force in the Province. A certificate of title is issued to the owner, which is binding upon all persons including the Crown, declaring that the owner is entitled to the estate mentioned in the certificate in the lands therein described subject to the liens, encumbrances and interests mentioned in the certificate. The certificate is conclusive evidence. Whenever any dealing takes place in regard to the land the certificate must be produced, and a memorial of the dealing endorsed upon the certificate. No instrument is of any effect until registered, and cannot be registered without the production of the certificate. Persons entitled under unregistered instruments, or to equitable estates, etc., can protect their interests by caveat.

The whole matter is set out in "The Land Titles Act," c. 41. Revised Statutes of Province of Saskatchewan, 1909.

Wills. Every person may dispose of by will all real and personal property including future and contingent estates to which he is entitled either at law or in equity at the time of his death. No will made by any person under the age of 21 years is valid. No will is valid unless it is in writing, and signed at the foot or end thereof by the testator, or by some other person in his presence and by his direction; such signature shall be made or acknowledged by the testator, in the presence of two or more witnesses present at the same time, who shall attest and shall subscribe the will in the presence of each other and of the testator, but no form of attestation is necessary.

Devise (other than a charge for the payment of a debt) to a witness, or the husband or the wife of a witness, is void, but the witness may prove the execution of the will. No will, codicil, or any part thereof, shall be revoked otherwise than by marriage, or by another will or codicil executed as above described, or by some writing declaring an intention to revoke the same, and executed in the manner in which a will is required to be executed, or by the burning, tearing, or otherwise destroying the same, by the testator, or by some person in his presence and by his direction with the intention of revoking the same.

THE LAWS OF CUBA

Prepared and Revised by ALEXANDER W. KENT, Attorney at Law, Havana. (See card in Attorneys' List.)

Actions. All actions in Cuban law may be generally grouped as follows:

1. Verbal actions, brought in the municipal courts, and comprising all suits the amount involved in which does not exceed $300.
2. Actions of lesser quantity, including those the amount involved in which is greater than $300 and does not exceed $1,500.
3. Actions of greater quantity, in which the amount involved exceeds $1,500, or the value of which can be determined only by suit. These actions of greater quantity also include all questions as to political and civil rights, personal exemptions and privileges, paternity, divorce, as well as those concerning the civil status and condition of persons.
4. Executory action, so called because the suit begins by the execution or attachment of the property of the defendant debtor.

Besides this general classification there are special actions for ejectment, insolvency, bankruptcy, adoption, injunction, general average, judgment by arbitration, etc., etc., but the procedure in these special actions is governed almost entirely by the rules of the four general divisions.

Affidavits. Affidavits as commonly used in the United States, are unknown in Cuba. They cannot be used in any court proceeding. All sworn statements of fact must be made before a competent court and not before notaries public.

Aliens. Aliens resident in Cuba and doing business there enjoy the same civil rights as natives.

The Law of Civil Procedure provides for a foreigner's bond, but this may be demanded only when the native defendant proves that in the country of domicile of foreign plaintiff such a bond, to secure costs, is required of Cubans.

Arrest. There is no imprisonment for debt, either on actions of contract or tort, except in cases of bankruptcy and insolvency in which indications of fraud may have been shown. Courts are authorized, however, in all actions in which parties litigant have proceeded with recognized temerity either as parties plaintiff or defendant, to order the arrest on failure to pay costs caused by such temerity.

Attachments. Attachments, before or at the time of filing actions, as distinguished from foreclosure proceedings after judgment, are as follows:

1. Attachment at the time of filing executory proceeding. This attachment may be issued only by the Court on presentation of a document which in itself is a confession of debt, to wit: (a) A public document, i. e. one which has been duly executed before a competent notary public. (b) Any private document, the signature of which has been identified under oath before a competent judge, by the signer. (c) Confession of debt before a competent judge. (d) Bills of exchange properly accepted and protested, provided that the accepter does not deny the authenticity of the acceptance at the time of protest for non-payment. (e) In certificates to bearer or lawfully registered certificates which represent matured obligations as well as the matured coupons of such certificates. (f) Original mercantile contracts made before a public agent or broker signed by the contracting parties and by such agent or broker, provided that the same are found to be identical with the records of such public broker and have been legally executed.

On presentation of any one of the foregoing documents execution will issue against any of the property of the debtor sufficient to cover the amount of the claim, and such attachment will endure until judgment unless debtor gives bond to release the same.

2. Preventive Attachments: These are attachments which may be granted before filing suit, but before the order may issue it is necessary: (a) That with the petition there be presented a document from which the existence of the debt is apparent. (b) That the debtor, the attachment of whose property is requested, be in any one of the following circumstances: first, an unnaturalized foreigner; if a native or a naturalized foreigner, that he have no known domicile or any real property, or an agricultural, industrial or mercantile establishment in the place where sued; or that even should none of the foregoing circumstances appear, if he has disappeared from his domicile or establishment, leaving no person in charge of the same or should the person in charge of it not know of his whereabouts, or that there is some rational reason to believe that he will conceal or sell his property for less than its true value to the prejudice of his creditors; second, if the document presented be a public document (see (a) of section 1) the attachment may issue immediately, but if it be private the attachment will issue only at the risk of the creditor who may give a bond; third, by Military Order Number 141 of 1900, it was provided that any merchant might secure the attachment of the property of any other merchant provided that the debt was the result of mercantile operations and that the person requesting the attachment should file a bond of not to exceed one-third of the amount of the claim. Suit must be filed within twenty days after the issuance of this attachment or the same will ipso facto vacate; fourth, captains or consignees of vessels also are entitled to an attachment on their cargoes to secure payment of the freight. All cargo is subject to the lien of the vesse during a period of twenty days after discharge, for payment of freights.

Chattel Mortgages. Chattel mortgages are not known in Cuban law and foreigners doing business in Cuba would do well to make note of this fact.

Personal property can be affected only by a contract of pledge, which is in substance the old Roman pignoratio virtually a contract of pawn. By this contract the possession of the chattel must be in the creditor, or in a third person named by the creditor.

Property in the physical possession of the debtor and on which money has been loaned by the creditor is given to said creditor in pledge and a third party is appointed by the creditor who is supposed to have actual possession of the property, the property remaining in the meantime in the physical possession and use of debtor. This particular form of contract has not yet been tested in the courts, but it is probable that if properly executed it would stand.

Claims Against Estates of Deceased Persons. There is no fixed period within which claims against the estate of deceased persons must be presented provided such claims have not prescribed. If such claims are not presented during the period of administration of an estate they will still hold good against the heir unless such heir shall have accepted the inheritance under the benefit of inventory, in which case he cannot be held to pay debts which exceed the value of the property inherited by him; if the heir accepts the inheritance without the benefit of inventory he is liable both with the property inherited and all of his own property for all of the debts of the estate.

The debts of the deceased not specially secured by mortgage, pledge, or otherwise, must be paid by the executor, administrator, or the heir in the following order: (1) Debts preferred in favor of the Province or Municipality. (2) Judicial expenses. (3) Funeral expenses of the debtor and those of his wife or of such of his children as are dependent upon him if these last have no property of their own. (4) The expenses of last illness of said persons caused in the year prior to the death of the debtor. (5) Wages and salaries of clerks and domestic servants during the year prior to his death. (6) Advances made to the debtor or to those of his family dependent upon him either in food or clothing and within the same period. (7) Claims admitted by notarial instruments or approved by the judgment of a competent court. All other claims against the estate shall be paid only after the foregoing have been satisfied.

Corporations. The only Corporation Law in force in Cuba (with the exception of the Railroad Law passed by the Government of Intervention of 1902) is the Code of Commerce of Spain of 1885, which was made extensive to Cuba by Royal Decree of January 28, 1886; hence its provisions will be readily understood to be antiquated and not to cover modern developments of the Corporation.

The corporation may be formed by two or more persons by public document executed before a Notary Public. This document must comprise the following requirements: Names of the organizers; name of the Company; capital stock, with a statement of the value given to the property brought in to the Company apart from cash; the number of shares into which the capital stock will be divided; term and conditions under which Treasury stock may be distributed, the form of disposing of same and the person or persons entrusted and authorized to dispose of it; term for which the Company is organized; objects of the Company; manner and form, and time of meeting of the General Stockholders Meeting, and manner and form of holding Special Meetings; statement of quorum necessary to decide on all questions.

Besides these provisions, the Articles of Incorporation, which are, in fact, the By-Laws of the Company, may contain such other stipulations as the organizers may introduce. Stockholders are liable only for the value of stock paid for or subscribed by them.

These Articles of Incorporation, once executed before the Notary Public, are recorded in the Mercantile Registry and also with the Department of Agriculture, Commerce and Labor. There is no fee for Incorporation, but there is a Treasury tax equal to one fourth of one per cent (¼%) on the value of all stock actually issued and paid for without reference to the authorized capital stock.

Corporations organized to operate railroads are subject to special Railroad Law in Military Order 34 of 1902.

There is no State Charter nor any public functionary who may pass on the form of the Articles of Incorporation, nor is there, generally speaking, any inspection exercised by the Government over Corporations.

Corporations, as such, pay no annual tax other than the municipal license, with the exceptions of banks, steamship and insurance companies, which are required to pay a tax on their net annual income.

There is no provision for resident or native directors, hence all of the Directors of the Company may be foreigners if desired.

The rights and privileges of stockholders are determined by the provisions and by-laws of the company, and not by law.

A corporation is required to keep a minute-book, journal, ledger, and book of inventories and balances, and a book in which shall be copied letters and telegrams, all of which books must be stamped before being opened, by the municipal court.

This provision has been found in most cases to be impracticable owing to the use of modern loose-leaf ledgers. There is no penalty attached to it, except that the books not kept in conformity with the laws may not be used as evidence in the courts in favor of the Company.

Foreign corporations having a branch office in Cuba are required by law to record in the Mercantile Register a copy of their charter, amended charter, if such there be, and by-laws. There is no tax attached to this other than a nominal fee for the Mercantile Register. Once recorded, they are on an equal plane with native corporations.

There are special provisions requiring bonds from foreign insurance companies doing business in the Republic.

All stock companies doing business in Cuba, whether native or foreign, must record in the Mercantile Register power of attorney granted to the manager of the company, showing specifically the powers granted.

Stock possessed by foreigners in native stock companies is not subject to reprisal in case of war.

Deeds. All documents in Cuba are either public or private.

Public documents or deeds are those authorized by a notary or competent public official, with the solemnities required by law.

They are divided as follows:

1. Public documents executed before a notary public.
2. Certificates issued by agents of the stock exchange and commercial brokers with reference to the records in their care.
3. Documents issued by public functionaries with reference to matters under their supervision.
4. Minute-books, by-laws, regulations and other documents found in the existing public archives.
5. Birth, death and marriage certificates by the public registrar or by parish priests.

Documents executed in foreign countries have the same value and force as those executed in Cuba, provided they comply with the following requirements. (a) That the subject matter of the contract be licit and permitted by Cuban law. (b) That the contracting parties are qualified and have the legal capacity required by the laws of their own country. (c) That the forms and solemnities required by the laws of their own country have been complied with. (d) That the document shall have been legalized by a Cuban diplomatic or consular agent in the country where executed.

Acknowledgment of deeds is unknown in Cuba. Deeds are executed before a notary public and not merely acknowledged. The entire document is prepared by the notary public in longhand and the original remains for thirty years in his archives and is then filed in the general archives of the State. Deeds may be executed only before notaries public and in accordance with the notarial law; deeds so executed are binding evidence of their contents and may not be questioned by the signing parties.

All transfers of real property, or contracts affecting real property or real rights, all powers of attorney, articles of incorporation, and all documents of whatever nature which must be recorded as a notice to third persons must be executed by and before a notary public.

Depositions. Depositions are used in Cuban practice only in the case of witnesses resident without the jurisdiction of the court.

They are taken by "exhortos" or judicial commissions, which are called letters rogatory when addressed to foreign countries and may be issued only to judges of regular courts. Cuban law has no provision for commissioners to take depositions.

The interrogatories and cross-interrogatories of the exhorto are contained in the exhorto and arranged previously by consent of the parties.

In no action may an exhorto or commission issue without written interrogatories.

Oral examination does not exist in Cuba in civil matters.

Descent and Distribution. All property real and personal not devised descends as follows:

1. To decedent's lineal descendants without distinction of sex or age, and whether children by first or subsequent marriages. If lineal descendants are all of equal degree of consanguinity they inherit equally; if unequal degree they receive the portions which their parents, if living, would have received.

2. In default of the lineal descendants property goes to parents in equal portions, and in default of parents to grandparents. If there be but one parent he inherits the entire estate.

3. In default of both descendants and ascendants the estate descends to natural children who have been legally recognized.

4. In default of all of the foregoing the estate passes to collaterals in the following order: (a) If the deceased leaves full brothers and sisters, these inherit in equal parts. (b) If there are brothers or sisters and nephews or nieces, children of full brothers, such nephews and nieces take the shares which their parents if living would have received. (c) Half brothers receive one half of the share of full brothers. (d) In default of brothers or sisters and nephews or nieces, the entire estate passes to the surviving spouse. (e) If there is no surviving spouse, the entire estate goes to the other collateral relatives. (f) If there be none of the foregoing persons all property reverts to the State.

There is no distinction in the laws of descent between personal and real property.

Notwithstanding the above provisions, the surviving spouse has the following rights in the property:

If there be but one son, or issue of one son, the surviving spouse shall have the usufruct of one third of the property during lifetime.

If there be more than one son, the surviving spouse shall have the usufruct during lifetime of a share of the property equal to that acquired by one of the children.

If there be no descendants, but only ascendants, the surviving spouse shall have also the right to one third of the property in usufruct.

If there be neither descendants or ascendants, the spouse shall acquire the usufruct of one half of the estate.

Divorce. There is no divorce from the bonds of matrimony.

The marriage may be declared null and void in the following cases: When contracted by persons who are legally disqualified, as (1) males under fourteen and females under twelve years of age. (2) Persons non compos mentis. (3) Impotent persons. (4) Members of religious orders who have bound themselves to chastity. (5) Those persons who are already married. (6) Ascendants and descendants, whether by consanguinity or affinity. (7) Collaterals within the second degree. (8) The adopter with the adopted person. (9) Those who have been convicted as principals or as accomplices for the death of a former consort.

The marriage may be annulled also if contracted by error or by force, or between abductor and abducted.

The only divorce known to the law is the divorce a mensa et thoro, which can be decreed on the following grounds: (1) Adultery of the wife in all cases, and that of the husband when it produces a public scandal or the humiliation of the wife. (2) Assault and battery, or abusive language when carried to excess. (3) Violence used towards the wife by the husband to force her to change her religion. (4) Attempt of the husband to prostitute his wife. (5) Attempt of either consort to corrupt the children. (6) A sentence of life imprisonment for either consort.

Divorce may be applied for only by the innocent party.

The divorce carries with it the liquidation and division of the communal property and the separate administration by each consort of his or her own property.

A divorce bill somewhat similar to the law of France to-day has been presented to the Cuban Congress and has already passed the House of Representatives. It is expected that it will become a law by the end of this year.

Dower. Dower or curtesy as an estate in property during coverture does not exist.

The only rights of the surviving consort are those mentioned under Descent and Distribution.

Evidence. The different classes of evidence which may be used are as follows:

1. Public documents, which are those executed before a notary or competent public officer, with the formalities prescribed by law. Such documents, as to date and transaction covered by them, may not be disputed and are regarded as absolute evidence. They may not be attacked or impugned by the party executing them as to statements made by him in said documents.

2. All private documents, which include letters, correspondence, books, photographs, telegrams, and all documents not executed before a notary public or other competent public functionary. These documents are valueless as evidence until their authorship is proven. If the signature of a private document be denied by the signer it must be proven by experts, unless the court personally examines same and satisfy itself as to the authenticity of the signature.

3. Confession or a deposition of the party litigant. This confession or deposition, although given technically under oath, does not bind the deponent to tell the truth, as there is no penalty attached to false swearing by an interested party. The examination of such litigant is conducted by means of an interrogatory or list of questions prepared prior to the examination and filed with the Court, generally in a sealed envelope. The oath may be either decisive or indecisive. In the former case all statements made by the litigant in answer to interrogatories propounded by his adversary are binding on the said adversary; in the latter case such adversary may accept such statements as are beneficial to him and reject those prejudicial.

4. Personal examination by the court. This mode of proof is resorted to as a general rule only in those cases which treat of lands, titles or objects, the conditions of which do not change and which it will not be possible to produce in Court.

5. Expert testimony. This class of evidence is mainly relied on to prove signatures, handwriting and values. Expert evidence may be given only by persons holding degrees from the University of Havana or the Provincial Institutes, qualifying the holder as an expert. Such experts are usually appointed by mutual consent, one being named by each party, and the third by the court in case of dissension. Their testimony is not binding on the court, which may accept the same at its own discretion.

6. Witnesses. No party litigant may be examined in his own behalf, nor may his parents, children or relatives by marriage within the second degree testify for him.

The testimony of the following persons, while permitted, will not be taken into consideration by the Court unless substantiated by other evidence: (a) Relatives of the party litigant presenting them, within the fourth degree either of blood or affinity. (b) Partners, employes or servants of the litigant presenting them as witnesses. (c) Persons having a direct or indirect interest in the suit or in another similar suit. (d) Persons who may have been convicted of perjury. (e) Intimate friends or known enemies of either of the litigants.

The evidence of witnesses is taken by means of writing interrogatories prepared and filed in the Court at the time the evidence is proposed. The opposing litigant may file cross-interrogatories based on the interrogatories, at any time after the latter have been presented and prior to the examination of the witness.

There is no oral examination of witnesses.

These interrogatories are propounded to the witnesses by the Court and his replies reduced to writing. As a general rule, testimony of witnesses unsupported by documentary evidence is not considered sufficient by the Courts to substantiate a claim.

Executors and Administrators. Executors named under the will, if competent to act under the law, may perform all the duties of their office without the intervention of any court. They take possession of the property on the death of the deceased without any formality of letters testamentary. All persons capable of contracting may be executors, excepting married women, who may act only with the consent of their husbands, and minors, who in no case may act.

Executors have all of the powers conferred upon them by the testator provided same are not contrary to law. If the testator has not specified the powers of the executors, they shall have the following powers: (a) To pay the funeral expenses of the defunct according to the dispositions of the will, and should there be no such dispositions, according to custom. (b) To pay all legacies which consist of cash with the consent and acquiescence of the heir. (c) To see that the testamentary dispositions are carried out, and, if necessary, to appeal to the courts to sustain such provisions in the will. (d) To take such precautions as may be necessary to preserve and care for the property, and to do this with the intervention of the heirs; if there should not be enough money in the estate to pay the funeral expenses and legacies, and the heirs should not furnish sufficient money, the executors shall appeal to the court for permission to sell personal property, and if such should not be sufficient, real property. All of this should be effected with the acquiescence of the heirs. If any minors, absent persons, corporations or public institutions are interested in the will all sales of the property shall be made by public auctions and with the authorization of the court.

If no term be fixed for the executor he shall complete his work within the term of one year from the time of taking charge of the estate or from the conclusion of all litigation concerning the validity of or nullity of the will or any of its dispositions. The executor must render an exact account to the heirs of his operations and if no heirs have been appointed he shall render an account to the court of the disposition made by him of the property. In case of resignation or incapacity of the executor named in the will or if such executor named should refuse to accept the position the heirs shall see that the provisions of the will are carried out.

If no executor be named in the will the heirs therein named may with or without the intervention of the court take charge of the property and comply with the testamentary provisions.

If no executor be named in the will the heirs named therein may without the intervention of the court act as administrators thereof; however, testamentary proceedings may be instituted by any of the heirs or legatees named in the will, the surviving spouse, or any creditor, provided he shall present some written document in proof of his claim, and such heirs or legatees may not request testamentary proceedings when the testator has prohibited it expressly in the will, nor may creditors whose claims are secured either by property or by bond given by the heirs institute such proceedings. In case of testamentary proceedings all of the property of the testator is brought into court, all of the parties interested in the estate are judicially summoned, and the court appoints an administrator. The inventory of the property and the distribution of same under the provisions of the will as well as the payment of all debts are effected by authority of the court and account is rendered to the court by the administrator.

In case of intestacy and at the request of ascendants, descendants, collaterals, or creditors, of the deceased the court takes temporary charge of the estate appointing immediately an executor-dative whose duties are to take charge of the funeral and interment of the defunct, take possession of all his books, papers and correspondence and make an inventory of all the property, which property is placed in the charge of an administrator who shall give such bond as may be satisfactory to the court.

The surviving spouse, if such there be, is entitled to the appointment of administrator of the property, and if there be none the court will appoint an administrator generally from among those proposed by the relatives or creditors.

The administrator having been appointed and the primary steps taken to secure the property left by decedent, the declaration of heirs at the request of interested parties is made by the court, and the declaration of heirship having been approved, the administrator is ordered by the court to render an account to them and to turn over to such heirs all of the property, books and accounts of the estate, the intervention of the court ceasing at this time. The court may continue to intervene in the matter at the request of any of the heirs, of the surviving spouse, or when any of the heirs are minors or at the request of creditors.

The administrator as such represents the estate in all matters judicial and extrajudicial but must have the authorization of the court in order to dispose of any of the property of the estate, and such property, if of a value of more than one thousand dollars may be sold only by public auction unless all of the heirs and creditors interested consent to a private sale. The administrator renders his account to the court at such periods as the court previously fixes upon.

Both executors and administrators are allowed a compensation proportionate with the value of the property administered and the income upon the same.

The powers of the executor and administrator extend not only to property within the jurisdiction of the court but to all the property real and personal of the deceased whether located in Cuba or in foreign countries. The executor and administrator may delegate their powers in persons residing in foreign countries, or persons interested in the estate may request the appointment of a special foreign administrator to take charge of the property situated in foreign countries.

Exemptions. Salaries of public employes, pensions paid by the State, the Province or Municipality, may not be attached.

Otherwise, attachment may be levied on salaries not exceeding $1,000 for the one-fourth part of same; when from $1,000 to $2,250 the third part may be attached; and from $2,250 up, one half may be attached.

The bed of the debtor, and those of his wife and children, the wearing apparel of the same, and the tools used in his trade or occupation, are exempt from attachment.

No other property is exempt.

Infants. The age of majority is 23 years, of both men and women, although persons of 21 years of age or more may engage in commerce provided that they are not subject to parental authority and have the free disposition of their property.

Insolvency and Bankruptcy. The Cuban law distinguishes between these two classes of insolvent debtors, providing a special procedure for insolvents not merchants and another for insolvent merchants, the latter being known as bankruptcy.

A decree of insolvency may be requested either by the debtor or by creditors who must show that at least two unsatisfied executions are pending against the debtor. The declaration of insolvency by the Court ipso facto renders the debtor incompetent to administer his property or to hold any public office, and such incompetency continues until the conclusion of the proceedings. If he be found guilty of fraudulent insolvency he is subject to the criminal law. During the proceedings his property is administered by receivers appointed by the creditors. These receivers take entire charge of the assets and liabilities of the debtor under the supervision of the Court, allowing claims in the order of precedence fixed by law. They also issue a verdict qualifying the insolvency as accidental, culpable or fraudulent, which verdict once approved by the court becomes final.

A declaration of bankruptcy (referring to merchants only) may be requested either by the debtor or by creditors. Such declaration or decree has the following effects. (a) The arrest and imprisonment of the bankrupt, unless he furnish bond fixed by the court. (b) Judicial seizure of the property of the bankrupt, his books, papers and documents. (c) The appointing of a temporary receiver, who is placed in charge of the property seized by the Court and remains in charge until permanent receivers are appointed. (d) Publication of the bankruptcy in the "Official Gazette" and local papers. (e) Retention of the correspondence of the bankrupt.

Bankruptcy is divided into three classes. 1. Fortuitous, or that brought about by a succession of events foreign to the will of the debtor. 2. Culpable bankruptcy, or that brought about through gross negligence, yet without apparent fraud. 3. Fraudulent bankruptcy. However qualified, the bankrupt loses by the declaration of bankruptcy his civil and political rights until they may be restored to him by a decree of the court. Fraudulent bankruptcy, as well as fraudulent insolvency, is punished severely by the Penal Code.

The decree declaring bankruptcy ipso facto matures all outstanding obligations of the debtor. All acts of ownership exercised by the debtor which in any way tend to dispose of or affect his property, committed subsequent to the date when the court decides him to have failed are null and void.

The following contracts made within thirty days preceding the date of bankruptcy may be annulled: (a) Transfers of real property made without sufficient consideration. (b) Dowries given to his daughters in consideration of their marriages. (c) Transfer of real property in payment of debts not yet due at the time of the decree of bankruptcy. (d) Mortgages given either for money loaned or for merchandise delivered, the delivery of which was not made in fact at the time of the execution and in the presence of the notary and witnesses subscribing the deed of mortgage. (e) Donations inter vivos made subsequent to the last balance drawn prior to the bankruptcy, provided such balance show the liability to be greater than the assets.

Creditors may also demand and obtain the annulment of all transfers of real property made in the month preceding the declaration of bankruptcy, of dowries given to daughters of the bankrupt from property belonging to the bankrupt and his wife, or any other transfer of the property of the couple without a sufficient consideration.

Interest. There is no usury statute nor any limit to the rate of interest which may be charged legally. In civil contracts, if no rate of interest is mentioned none can be collected, except from the date of filing suit until that of collection.

In mercantile obligations, failure to pay at maturity makes the debtor liable for interest from the date of maturity of the obligation at the rate of either that mentioned in the contract or, no interest being fixed, the legal interest of 6 per cent. If no date is fixed for the fulfillment of a contract interest begins to run unless specified in the contract, from date of protest or filing of suit.

Licenses. Practically every profession, industry or trade must pay an annual license tax to the municipality and to the province for the privilege of doing business. These taxes are fixed in the case of the principal trades and professions by the central government, while those of minor importance are regulated by the municipalities themselves. Some of the annual taxes for the City of Havana are as follows: bankers, $1,250; importers and exporters, wholesale, $1,250; coal dealers, $1,250; shipyards, $1,500; consignees of vessels, $375; insurance agents, $250; money changers, $187.50; brokers, $125; tobacco manufacturers, $625; forwarding agents, $37.50; etc., etc. Foreign commercial travelers pay no licenses.

Liens. Liens, as understood in English common law, do not exist in Cuba except with reference to vessels. There is no lien of mechanics, laborers or builders, although these persons have a preferential right against the owner of the property for such amount as he may be owing the contractor; but should the owner of the property dispose of the same before satisfying obligations due these persons and before they have obtained attachment of the property there exists only a personal liability and creditors may not follow the property.
(See Attachments.)

Limitations of Actions. Bills of exchange, drafts and promissory notes outlaw at three years from date of maturity; real actions on personal property, at six years; real action on real property, at thirty years; personal actions, or the action on mortgages, at twenty years; all personal actions which have no fixed term, at fifteen years.

The following actions outlaw in five years:
(a) For the payment of income for support.
(b) For the payment of rents, whether derived from rural or from town property.
(c) That of any other payments which should have been made annually or in shorter periods.

The following outlaw in three years:
(a) For the payment of judges, lawyers, registrars, notaries public, experts, agents and clerks for their charges and fees and the expenses and disbursements incurred by them in the discharge of their duties or offices in the matters to which the obligations refer.
(b) For payments to apothecaries for medicines which they have supplied; to professors and teachers for their salaries and stipends for the instruction they have given, or for the exercise of their profession, art or trade.
(c) For the payment of mechanics, servants and laborers the amounts due for their services, and for the supplies or disbursements they may have incurred with regard to the same.
(d) For the payment of board and lodging to innkeepers, and to traders for the value of goods sold to others who are not traders, or who, being such, are engaged in a different trade.

The time for the prescription of actions referred to in the three preceding sections shall be counted from the time the respective services have ceased to be rendered.

The following actions outlaw in one year:
(a) Actions to recover or retain possession.
(b) Actions to demand civil liability for grave insults or calumny, and for obligations arising from fault or negligence.

Married Women. Persons on contracting marriage may make their own agreements as to the management and administration of their property, but should they fail to make such provision they are understood as having married under the community agreement, by which husband and wife become equal owners in the property acquired by the couple during coverture, and each has a right to one half of said property at the time of the dissolution of the marriage bond, whether from death or other cause.

The husband is the representative of the wife, and without his permission she may make no contracts, even regarding her own property.

The wife's property is divided as follows:
(a) Her dot, which is composed of property given the wife because of her marriage, and such property acquired by her thereafter by gift, inheritance or bequest, provided that it be given as a part of the dot.

(b) Paraphernal property, which is that property held by the wife at the time of her marriage, not included in the dot, and that which she acquired thereafter through her own labor or with her own capital. The husband may not dispose of this paraphernal property nor may he exercise any act with reference to it without the consent of the wife. The wife has the legal administration of such paraphernal property, but, without the consent of her husband, may not either dispose of it nor encumber it, nor appear in legal proceedings regarding it without the permission of her husband unless by special Court authorization.

While the husband is the legal representative of the wife, he may not dispose of the property constituting her dot without securing her fully as to any loss.

In cases of separation, the wife may acquire the sole disposition and control of her dot, her paraphernal property and her one half of the capital of the community property.

Mortgages, Registry of Deeds, Land Leases, Etc. All transactions regarding real property are governed by the Mortgage Law, which provides a plan of registration similar in essence to the Torrens system. All sales of real property or real rights, leases for a period of more than six years, all mortgages, and all rights in such property, as easements, servitudes, liens, encumbrances, usufructs, and the extinction or cancelation of such rights, in order to prejudice third persons, must be recorded in the Registry of Property for the judicial district in which the realty is situated.

The registrars are empowered to examine all documents submitted to them for registry, and may suspend the inscription of or reject such as in their opinion do not comply with the law. From these decisions there lies an appeal to the civil courts.

Registrars are appointed for life or during good behavior, are under heavy bond, must be attorneys at law, are paid solely by fees, and are responsible for their errors.

Defects in title not apparent in the registry do not affect innocent purchasers, hence the registry is an absolute guarantee.

All mortgages and all documents subject to registry must be executed under seal of a notary public; and must pay the government transfer tax before being recorded.

Foreclosure proceedings:
The mortgage must contain a clause fixing a sum as the value of the property in case of foreclosure. With this deed and a certificate from the Registrar to the effect that the mortgage is still in force, the creditor makes application to the court for the sale of the property by public auction. Notice is served on the debtor if his residence is known; if not, he is served by notice on the person in care of property, and he is allowed thirty days within which to pay debt and costs. At the expiration of said thirty days the property is advertised for sale in the "Official Gazette," the sale taking place twenty days thereafter. If there are no bidders, the mortgage creditor may bid in the property.

Notaries Public. Notaries public are appointed by the President, not to exceed one for every five thousand inhabitants; they must be attorneys at law, and their appointments are for life, unless removed for misconduct. They are required to furnish heavy bond and are liable for errors due to carelessness, gross ignorance or wilful fault.
(See Documents, Deeds, Notes and Bills of Exchange.)

Notes and Bills of Exchange. Cuban law is absolutely technical on notes and bills of exchange.

A draft, or bill of exchange, in order to be regarded as such in court, must comply with all of the following requirements: (1) Place, day, month and year on which drawn. (2) Date when due. (3) Name of payee. (4) Amount. (5) Consideration, either of value received, value on account or value understood. (6) Name of the person from whom the amount of the draft is received or to whose account it is charged, if such person be other than the payee. (7) Name of the person on whom drawn, as well as his domicile. (6) Signature of the drawer, or that of his duly authorized agent.

If the draft lacks any of the foregoing requirements it will be considered as a promissory note in favor of the holder, and for the account of the drawer.

There are no days of grace.

Endorsement:
Endorsement must contain: (1) Name of endorsee. (2) Consideration. (3) Name of person or firm from whom consideration is received or to whose account it is charged — if such person should be other than the one to whom the draft is endorsed. (4) Date. (5) Signature of endorser, or of his duly authorized attorney in fact.

If all of the requirements in endorsement are complied with, but date is omitted, the title does not pass, but endorsee holds draft as collecting agent.

Blank endorsements, i. e. those endorsements which have nothing other than the signature, and those endorsements in which the consideration is omitted but which contain all of the other requirements, transfer title to the draft.

Foreign banks and merchants dealing with Cuba would be wise in observing the law strictly. Note that the draft contains all of the legal requirements and, especially, that the endorsement is full. As has been said, the blank endorsement transfers title, but Cuban courts have been in some considerable controversy over this point and it is safer to insert all details as above indicated.

Drafts not issued to order cannot be endorsed nor those which have matured and are dishonored.

An accepted draft properly protested is considered by Cuban law as an executory document, i. e. a document on which attachment may be levied by the creditor without presenting bond prior to filing suit.

Power of Attorney. Powers of attorney must be special and specific. A general power of attorney to "act for me and in my place and stead, to perform all acts and things," etc., is valueless.

The power must show: (1) Name, age (adult or minor), personal status (married or single, and, if married, to first or second wife), occupation, and residence of grantor. (2) Name and residence of agent. (3) A specific statement of powers conferred upon agent, designating same separately.

A power to sell and mortgage and "otherwise dispose of or deal with property" does not include power to lease; one to sign does not include endorsing; a power to collect does not cover power to sue, etc., etc.

In the case of a power of attorney given by a partnership, the document must of itself show the following: (1) That the partnership is lawfully organized according to the laws of its domicile. (2) That the person executing the power of attorney in the name of the firm is an active partner at time of signing power, and possesses, in accordance with the partnership articles of agreement the legal authority to sign the firm's name and bind it by his acts as partner.

In the case of a power of attorney executed by a stock company, the document must show: (1) As in all other powers, the name and description of person executing document in representation of Company. (2) His official capacity. (3) His authorization by the Board of Directors for the execution of the document,— generally shown by inserting in the power a literal copy of the minutes of the meeting in which he was authorized to execute it. (4) The powers of the Board of Directors to manage the business and affairs of the Company,— i. e. the insertion in the document of those clauses of the by-laws or articles of incorporation which entrust the management to the board. (5) That the meeting of the Board or Executive Committee or other functionaries charged with the company administration, in which the resolution was passed authorizing the execution of such power of attorney by one of its officials, was properly called, that the necessary quorum was present and that the directors acting were elected such according to law. (6) That the company was organized in accordance with the laws of its domicile and is in existence on the date of execution of the power of attorney. (7) Specific statement of powers granted to agent.

The document must be executed before a notary public and the signature and seal of the notary authenticated by a Cuban consul before it may be effective in Cuba.

The Code of Commerce provides that all powers of attorney to agents or managers of merchants shall be recorded in the Mercantile Registry.

Wills. All persons of either sex of fourteen years of age or more, with the exception of those not in possession of their mental faculties, may dispose of their property by will. Insane persons may do so in lucid intervals on certificate of two physicians to the temporary sanity of testator.

Wills may be either holographic, open or sealed, or special, such as military, marine or foreign.

The holographic will is that written by the testator personally, setting forth day, month and year, and his signature. Only adults may make a holographic will. Such a will must be filed with the Court of First Instance of testator's last domicile or residence within five years after decease or will not be valid.

The open will is that executed in the presence of a notary public and of three witnesses who must sign together with testator.

In case of imminent danger of death this will may be executed in the presence of five witnesses but without the notary.

The sealed or closed will may be written by the testator or any other person, the date and place being expressed. If written in testator's handwriting he will paraph each page and sign at end; if written by another, his full signature must appear on each page. This will once signed is placed in an envelope and so sealed that its contents may not be read except by breaking the seal; and is then taken to a notary public who, in the presnece of five witnesses, receives the deposition of testator that such sealed package contains his will, and writes on the envelope this statement, also that all of the legal formalities have been observed. The will is then returned to the testator, the notary retaining a copy of the statement made by testator.

Military and marine wills may be made before officers of the Army and Marine.

Cubans resident in foreign countries may execute their wills either before Cuban diplomatic or consular authorities in accordance with Cuban law, or may observe the laws of the country in which they reside as to the form of will.

Persons having descendants or ascendants living, or husband or wife, may not dispose of such portion of their property as by operation of law vests in such descendants or ascendants on their decease.

Children and legitimate descendants are entitled to two thirds of the property of the parent, who may, therefore, only dispose truly of the remaining one third.

If there be no children but only ascendants, their legal portion, of which the will may not deprive them, is one half the hereditary estate.

The widow or widower, who on the death of his or her spouse is not divorced (separated), shall have a right to a portion in usufruct equal to that corresponding by way of legal portion to each of the legitimate children or descendants; if there be only one surviving child or descendant the surviving spouse shall have the usufruct of one third of the estate; and the same portion in case there be no descendants, but only ascendants; if there are neither descendants nor ascendants the survivor receives one half of the estate in usufruct as his or her legal portion.

The law also makes special provision for natural children who may have been acknowledged.

Probate:

The open will needs no probate nor judicial sanction, unless attacked. The holographic will must be filed with the Court of First Instance of testator's last domicile or residence, and on proof of testator's decease is opened by the court in the presence of the family and relatives who shall be notified. The evidence of three witnesses who knew testator's handwriting, or in default of same of handwriting experts, if satisfactory will be sufficient to prove will.

Closed wills must also be probated. The proceeding being similar to that employed in case of holographic wills. The notary and witnesses before whom testator declared said closed packet to contain his will are examined, if alive, and if not or if not found other witnesses acquainted with testators. On approving will the court orders it filed, after being opened and read, with a notary public.

There are no further probate proceedings except in cases of contest.
